"The Somerland Discipline Team!"

The old man was stunned.

Then, he turned his head slowly to see a young man standing behind him with a hand on his shoulder

The old man felt as though this hand was a mountain pressing on him.

He could not move the part of his body below his shoulders at all. Upon hearing that this was the Somerland Discipline Team, the martial artists below started to panic before scattering to run away.

Unfortunately, David was prepared. Several of the staff halfway to God Rank in the discipline team who were responsible for this area were already in place. Those who escaped were also thrown back. David only used his hand which was on the old man's shoulder to pat him lightly before the old man felt a sharp pain overwhelming him. Before he could let out a sound, David hit him, and he passed out on the platform.

The eyes of thousands of people were focused on David as he stood on the platform.

David sighed slightly in his heart. It was still too difficult to isolate martial artists from ordinary people.

After all, dozens of hidden families and sects were now resurfacing.

Hence, contact between the two sides was inevitable.

However, deliberate avoidance would give these people a chance to influence society.

Therefore, he should just say it directly and openly.

David looked at the thousands of people on the scene and said, "Hello, everyone. I am Captain David Lidell of the Somerland Discipline Team.

"You can think of this discipline team as being one rank higher than the police. The police manage the affairs of ordinary folk while we manage the affairs of martial artists.

"Martial artists exist, but it's not as easy as you think to become one.

“You have to start training systematically since young, and it also depends on your talent.

“It might be difficult for some people to become a martial artist even after training their entire lives. Moreover, once you’re above 18 years old and become an adult, it will be hard for you to achieve anything even if you’re talented. “You will not become a martial artist by performing a few moves in your 60s or 70s just like what you’re doing now. “Furthermore, even if you’re a martial artist, you won’t be invulnerable, nor will your life be prolonged “We’re made from flesh and blood. If we get shot or get stabbed by a knife, we’ll die too. As for prolonging your life, it’s even more impossible. Martial artists might even live shorter than ordinary folks.

“Since we’ve been training very hard since we’re young, some people will have hidden injuries if they don’t train properly. These injuries can be very hard to cure and it will reduce our lifespan.

“Thus, I can tell you with certainty that you’ve been lied to.

“The people who lied to you are people who harbor evil intentions, and they will commit any imaginable misdeed they want. Not only do they want you to be separated from your family and to destroy your family, but they also want to shake the very foundations of Somerland.

“You people are the foundation of Somerland, and you’re the most important part of our country. Once you waver, the entire country will be on the verge of collapse.

“We’ve been after these evil martial artists for a long time and we have finally captured them.

“Now, they will be facing severe punishment according to Somerland law. They might not even be released in this lifetime.

“Lastly, I want to tell you that the most important thing to a human is love, be it between family, friends, or romantic love. You will only find a place in this world if you have love. If you lose this, then what’s the meaning of life?

“Go back to your original lives. Your wife, children, and parents are waiting for you, along with your friends. That’s where you belong.”

When David said that, he laced his words with his strong mind power.

It could penetrate these people's bodies and reach the deepest part of their hearts. Their brainwashed thoughts were slowly being replaced by what David said. With that, they gradually came back to their senses.

A lot of them hugged their families and started crying. The man who just slapped his daughter also came back to his senses. As he looked at his daughter whose face was red from his slap just now, he slapped himself a few times across the face.

Then, he knelt in front of his wife and daughter to apologize to them.

In the end, he got the forgiveness of his wife and daughter before the three of them held each other and cried.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 766

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 766

The words that were laced with mind power could be said to have penetrated the hearts of all these people.

They jolted the people present back to their senses.

Everyone in the plaza was crying.

When they came back to their senses, they realized what they had been doing in recent days.

They wanted to abandon their wives, children, and even parents.

Furthermore, they even wanted to abandon their happy family. They came here every day to follow the so-called teacher and perform these movements that were similar to the radio calisthenics of elementary school students.

Could they become martial artists who were untouchable, invulnerable to all diseases, and prolong their life by doing so?

All normal people would know that it was impossible.

It was a pity that they were already bewitched by the villains at that time, so they would not listen to anyone's persuasion.

Fortunately, they were rescued by Somerland's law enforcement, otherwise, they would definitely fall deeper into the scam and it would be too late to feel regret when they had nothing left in the future. "Thank you for your help!" The man from the family of three who was almost taken away just now knelt on the ground and said sincerely to David. "Thank you for rescuing my daddy, Sir, and reuniting us as a family once again," the little girl also knelt and said.

"Thank you for your help!"

"Thank you for your help!" "Thank you for your help!" More and more people knelt to thank David on the platform.

By the end, thousands of people at the scene were kneeling. David stood on the platform and looked down at these ordinary people. He was even more determined to eliminate these illegal martial artists and never let them do whatever they wanted in Somerland. He wanted to protect the pure land of Somerland. A martial artist had strength that seemed incredible to ordinary people. Coupled with some brainwashing techniques, it was really difficult for ordinary people to resist them.

He was able to wake up these thousands of people with just a few words, but it was not because of how convincing his words were.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

Instead, it was because his words were laced with his powerful mind power, which was the most important thing.

If someone else said these words, not only would they not wake up these people, they might even be insulted and attacked.

"Everyone, get up. Don't be so humble, you are the foundation of Somerland, so you will naturally be protected by our country. Go home and live your ordinary life well, as becoming a martial artist is not as simple as you think. Moreover, the world of martial artists is not as carefree as you think."

After David finished speaking, he disappeared from the platform. Inside a luxurious villa on the outskirts of Fragrant City.

David was sitting in the living room.

Sitting next to him was the cabinet minister of Mt. Fragrant Province Seamus Rogan. Benedict and the other halfway to God Rankers were sent by David to continue the investigation “Mr. Rogan, don’t you think you should give me an explanation?” David said indignantly.

He was furious.

There were so many martial artists in Fragrant City confusing ordinary people.

Seamus, the cabinet minister of Mt. Fragrant Province, not only did not go to investigate, but he also stayed at home and rested peacefully?

This made him want to slap Seamus to death.

The scene he just saw at the plaza in the southern district just now definitely happened in other places throughout Fragrant City.

If he did not take the time to solve it, it would soon spread to the entire Mt. Fragrant Province, and even the entire country.

It would be difficult then.

Somerland’s billions of ordinary people were no joke.

“Captain Lidell, sorry, I don’t know what you mean,” Seamus replied innocently. “Oh? You don’t know what I mean? Are you sure?” David asked again.

“I genuinely have no idea,” Seamus replied with certainty. David tilted his head to look at Seamus.

At this point, he was a little suspicious.

Seamus was just a provincial cabinet minister who was also a beginner Dragon Ranker, so how would he dare to talk to David like that?

It seemed that the matter in Fragrant City were not as simple as he thought. David dispersed his mind power and used it to envelop the surroundings.

Finally, he found out where the problem was.

‘I see!

He understood now.

“Then let me tell you, there are so many martial artists in Fragrant City who act recklessly and violate the laws of Somerland. Not only did they contact ordinary people, but they also deceived them and bewitched them. They asked the ordinary folks to abandon their original lives and follow them to practice martial arts. They even claimed that they could become a martial artist in a short time. They claimed that not only could they become untouchable, but they would also be invulnerable to all diseases and prolong their life, you don't know that?"

"I don't know," Seamus said, taking a sip of tea. "Then do you still want your job as the cabinet minister of Mt. Fragrant Province?" "Captain Lidell, whether I'm the cabinet minister of Mt. Fragrant Province or not has nothing to do with your discipline team, right? And I've been sick, so I've been at home recently, and it's only normal that I don't know what you're saying," Seamus laughed and said.

"Mr. Rogan, since you say so, then I will now announce as a member of the Somerland Parliament that you are no longer the cabinet minister of Mt. Fragrant Province. As a member of the Somerland Parliament, I have the right to dismiss a provincial cabinet minister," David also said with a smile.

As Seamus heard David's words, the smile on his face gradually faded.

Of course, he knew David's identity.

He was not just the captain of the Somerland Discipline Team, he was also an MP of the Somerland Parliament.

If David wanted to dismiss him as the cabinet minister of Mt. Fragrant Province, as an MP of the Somerland Parliament, he could indeed do that.

If he lost the position of cabinet minister, his value would be greatly reduced.

He could not let this happen!

What the other side valued was his position as the cabinet minister of Mt. Fragrant Province.

Not him as a beginner Dragon Ranker. "Captain Lidell, MP Lidell, I advise you to take back what you just said. Otherwise, this day will not end well," Seamus said gloomily. "Oh? Seamus, I'm actually very curious. Since you know my identity and you are a beginner Dragon Ranker, why do you dare to talk to me like this? Aren't you afraid of death? With what you are doing now, as in letting the martial artists recruit ordinary people in Fragrant City and shaking the very foundation of Somerland, I have grounds to immediately kill you right here," David asked, pretending to be puzzled. "Hahaha!"

Seamus burst into laughter. Then he quickly stood up and stepped aside, distancing himself from David and said, "David, since you have found out, I am not afraid to tell you that it was a mistake for you to come here today. I have been waiting for your discipline team for a long time.” Immediately after, Seamus said loudly, “Sirs, please show yourselves.” Three people suddenly appeared in the hall, surrounding David in the middle. A middle-aged man and two old men.

They were all God Rank guardians. After David expanded his mind power, he discovered the existence of these three people. Thus, he was not surprised either. They were just beginner God Rankers, so they were no different from the three ants in front of him. He could just destroy them at will!

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 767

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 767

“Are you three the root cause of this turmoil in Fragrant City?” David asked calmly.

“David, since you dared to kill the heir of the Dominic family at the grand event of the chosen ones, you are destined to be hunted to death by the Dominic family! Now... Do you have any regrets for the Dominic family?” The middle-aged man said.

“You are from the Dominic family?”

“Your family are just stray dogs now. Who gave you the courage to jump out and shake the foundations of Somerland?”

“What a joke! Stray dogs? These are just tactics the Dominic family are using to waste time. If the Dominic family wants to do something, there is nothing we dare not do. Somerland's era is almost over, and your good days are coming to an end, David. Today is your day of death, and this is what we want to tell the world. If you offend the Dominic family, no matter what your identity is, you will still meet a dead end,” the middle-aged man said with a cackle.

“Are you sure you'll definitely kill me?” David asked lightly.

“David, you don't need to brag anymore, we already know your strength clearly. Since you ran into the three of us today, you will surely die. Although I admit that you are indeed a genius and that if we let you continue growing, you will be another Mason

Stefani. Unfortunately, you have no chance to continue growing because there are too many people who want you to die.”

“No wonder Seamus dares to side with the evildoers in such a way. It turns out that he’s relying on the Dominic family. Seamus, you know the law, but you still chose to break it, so you’re even more guilty. I will grant you the death penalty now.”

David ignored the people from the Dominic family and looked at Seamus, the cabinet minister of Mt. Fragrant Province.

“Haha! David, you should only say that if you can defeat those three. A talented person chooses a patron of integrity and should constantly strive to make progress. Somerland is finished, so I naturally want to find a strong backer,” Seamus said with a laugh.

In his opinion, David would definitely die today.

That way, no one would know that he was relying on the Dominic family. He could continue to be the cabinet minister of Mt. Fragrant Province and rely on help from the Dominic family in secret.

“Really? Sorry, you won’t be able to see the day Somerland collapses.”

After David finished speaking, with a quick flick of his fingers, a silver needle flew across a distance of tens of meters at a lightning-fast speed and plunged into Seamus’ heart. David also added a little bit of the vibrational power from the Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine to the silver needle.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

When it reached Seamus’ heart, it did not penetrate the heart directly, but instead, it shattered the heart with its vibration.

It was true that doctors could both save and kill.

Since David had mastered the art of Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine, it could be said that he knew the human body like the back of his hand.

He had more ways of killing now compared to before. He was no longer limited to brute force. Seamus only felt a pain in his chest. Immediately after, the severe pain of a broken heart swept through his whole body. All his strength began to slowly disappear. “You…”

Seamus clutched his chest in pain. He pointed at David like he wanted to say something. Sadly for him, his strength was dissipating faster and faster, and his vision was also getting darker.

He only had time to say the word 'you' before he slowly slipped to the ground, closed his eyes, and stopped breathing.

'What?

'What's going on?' The three God Rank guardians of the Dominic family looked at Seamus, who suddenly fell to the ground and stopped breathing, with bewildered expressions. 'Did David just do something? 'Why did Seamus suddenly fall to the ground?' They were from the Dominic family and their family specialized in hidden weapons. They had been exposed to such things as hidden weapons since they were young. It could be said that no one in the world was more familiar with hidden weapons than the Dominic family.

Even so, even they could not determine how David killed Seamus.

This was unbelievable.

They had been staring at David from the moment they appeared, for fear that he might fly into a rage and hurt someone or run away. After all, he was a God Rank guardian. However, David never left his seat, and they did not notice any aggressive moves from him.

Seamus was killed by David right under their noses. Impossible!

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 768

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 768

David could not have done that.

According to the detailed information they got, David, like them, was just a beginner God Ranker.

The speed of a peak God Ranker with which David used to cast the silver needle was not something that the three beginner God Rankers could understand.

The difference between them was too great.

Furthermore, David also wrapped the silver needle with his powerful mind power.

Thus, they could not see it at all. "Who's there? Please show yourself," the middle-aged man shouted. He did not believe that Seamus was killed by David.

Someone else must have done that.

The whole hall was silent.

No one responded to the middle-aged man's words.

"Do you know the consequences of offending the Dominic family? If you come out now, the Dominic family can let this go, otherwise don't blame us for being rude," the middle-aged man added after not getting an answer. "Okay, stop yelling, I killed Seamus." David put his feet on the table and said condescendingly.

"You? What did you kill him with?" The middle-aged man asked. "A hidden weapon, of course," David replied with a grin. "Hidden weapon? Haha... Is there anyone in this world who knows more about hidden weapons than the Dominic family? There is no person in the world who can use hidden weapons to kill in front of us without us noticing it," the middle-aged man said arrogantly.

"I don't understand hidden weapons as well as you, but I can use them faster than you. As long as the speed is fast enough, a needle can destroy a planet." "Fast? How fast can you be?"

As soon as the middle-aged man said that, he suddenly felt a sharp pain in his chest.

He lowered his head and looked at his heart. An extremely small round hole in his shirt caught his attention.

He could clearly feel that his heart had been damaged. 'When did this happen?' His heart had actually been pierced by a hidden weapon. Plus, this small hidden weapon also had vibrational power. 'What kind of hidden weapon is this?'

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

As a family of hidden weapons, he who had studied hidden weapons all his life had never heard of it.

They could actually use a hidden weapon like this.

The hidden weapons used with this method could do much more damage than the hidden weapons used alongside ordinary methods. Even without poison, it could cause huge damage. He looked up again at the other two God Rank guardians.

He saw that they were also in the same state.

They were covering their hearts with their hands, showing pain on their faces. Simultaneously sending out three small hidden weapons with violent vibrations while avoiding their perception?

Straight into their hearts too?' "How's it? Is that fast enough?" David asked playfully. "You... Impossible! Impossible! No one can kill me with a hidden weapon." The middle-aged man could not accept this.

Unfortunately, his heart had shattered.

Therefore, even if he was a God Rank guardian, he could only accept the fate of death. The three God Rank guardians followed in Seamus' footsteps. They fell to the ground slowly and stopped breathing. As a family that specialized in hidden weapons, they also died from hidden weapons. If they didn't want to take it as humiliation, they could regard it as fate.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 769

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 769

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 769

David stood up with a gloomy face and left the hall.

As for these four corpses, someone would come to take care of the aftermath.

David did not expect the provincial cabinet minister to be roped in by the Dominic family.

However, he regarded killing the three God Rank guardians of the Dominic family as a means of venting his anger.

Even if they could not shake the foundation of the Dominic family, it would at least hurt them a lot.

These three God Rank guardians could not be killed by just anyone, even though they were all in the beginner stage.

What David did not know was that of the three God Rank guardians, only two were from the Dominic family, while one was sent by the Haran family.

The purpose of working with the Dominic family was to create chaos in Somerland first.

Since the three God Rank culprits had been put to death, then it would be much easier to carry out their missions.

David continued to lead the discipline team to eradicate all the martial artists in Fragrant City who violated the law.

In the end, a total of three God Rank guardians, five halfway to God Rankers, and more than ten Dragon Rankers were killed.

Under David's speech which was laced with mind power, tens of thousands of ordinary people in Fragrant City came back to their senses and returned to their original lives.

Although things in Fragrant City had been resolved, the situation across the country was not optimistic.

Similar things started to happen in many places.

David could not be at two places at once, so he eventually had to go back to Capital City and update Mason about Somerland.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

At the same time, he would ask Mason if there was anything he could do.

Mason was now at a critical period. Seeing that the plan was about to succeed, he had to wait for the Haran family to lead the team to attack, so he could not reveal himself yet.

He could only send Dirk, Abraham, and the other seven halfway to God Rankers from Somerland to David to join the Somerland Discipline Team.

David divided the discipline team into three teams. He, Abraham, and Dirk, the three God Rank guardians, would each lead a team to carry out a nationwide clean-up operation.

However, after what happened in Fragrant City, the representative forces, the Dominic family and Star Alliance, became smarter too.

They did not go head-on against the Somerland Discipline Team anymore.

Once the Somerland Discipline Team showed up, they would give up immediately and look for somewhere else to go.

Plus, they would not develop in provincial cities anymore as they would go to some municipal cities or even counties.

The entire Somerland consisted of 66 major provinces, 66 provincial-level cities, hundreds of municipal cities, and thousands of counties.

Since this was the case, the Somerland Discipline Team had no clear direction to work toward.

They followed them around the country, but the effect achieved was somewhat modest.

David also felt troubled.

Since he was lacking manpower, he could only borrow personnel from the major hidden families and sects.

However, right now, most of the sects and families had begun to refuse to send their people to join the discipline team, citing various reasons.

Now, the situation was becoming clearer.

The interior of Somerland was being disturbed by the Dominic family and Star Alliance.

Outside, the Haran family had united with the world's major forces to prepare to attack.

Facing this kind of internal and external troubles, everyone was trying to preserve their strength to deal with the impending chaos.

The Dominic family and Star Alliance alone had rendered Somerland helpless. Once the Haran family united with the world's major forces, how would Somerland resist?

Almost everyone felt that Somerland's time was coming to an end.

Capital City.

The courtyard where Mason lives.

David and Mason were sitting opposite each other.

"Old Master Stefani, don't wait anymore. Let's just expose it! If you don't frighten these punks and continue to wait like this, Somerland will really be thrust into chaos, and it will be difficult to clean up then," David sighed and said.

He now felt as if he had nowhere to showcase his strength.

If he could find the Dominic family and Star Alliance, he wanted to go straight to them and destroy them all.

It was a pity that these two forces were like two rats, and they could not pinpoint where their burrows were located.

Moreover, doing so was bound to affect Mason's plans.

The Dominic family and Star Alliance both had powerful late God Rankers. If they could destroy them, the Haran family would not dare to come anymore.

"Sigh, I didn't expect the Haran family to be so tolerant. They really learned to be smart and know how to damage us from the inside first," Mason said.

"Old Master Stefani, now is not the time to care about the Haran family. The situation in the country is already very serious. Ordinary people are learning more and more about martial artists, and they beginning to yearn to be like them. Even if the Haran family eventually shows up and you deter all the forces with your strength, you won't be able to hide the matter regarding the martial artists anymore," David said with some worry.

"David, if we can't hide it, just let it be. The catastrophe is coming. In the end, the world won't be able to hide the existence of martial artists. Now, it's fine as long as they don't wreak havoc. When the time comes, publish a statement about martial artists in the name of the Somerland government."

"Old Master Stefani, what is the catastrophe? So many people say that the catastrophe is coming, but no one can explain it," David asked.

"I don't know either. It may be a plague that will sweep all mankind, it may be the seventh world war in human history, or it may be a species invasion. In short, this is a catastrophe about the life and death of humankind. No one can escape it."

"Is it that scary?" David asked in disbelief.

"Yes."

"Isn't it a prophecy from the people of ancient times? It may be wrong, right? After all, this kind of prophecy didn't happen just once or twice before."

"This time is different. Alright, let's not talk about this anymore. Although the catastrophe will definitely come, no one can determine the exact time. It might even come in a hundred years, but we should pay attention to the present," Mason said, changing the subject.

“Then what should we do now? With such a large area and so many cities in Somerland, our discipline team simply doesn’t have enough manpower,” David said helplessly.

“Hold on for three more days. If the Haran family doesn’t come with the team after three days, I will go directly to the Haran family and declare my return with the Haran family’s destruction,” Mason thought for a while and said.

“Why not now?” David asked.

“Because the Haran family is not my target and they are nothing to worry about, but if there is really no way, they can only be used to deter other forces.”

“Alright, I’ll hold on for three more days.”

After David talked to Mason, he left Capital City at once.

He did not even have time to go to Celia.

After doing some calculation, he knew that Celia’s period was long over.

Even though he wanted to stay overnight, when he thought about how many ordinary people would be bewitched until their families fell apart and were destroyed if he delayed for even one day, David held himself back.

He should finish his business first.

It was just three days.

Three days later, Mason would show his strength and Somerland would be stable again.

When the time came, he would definitely unwind properly.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 770

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 770

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 770

Capital City.

The residence of the King family.

There was an ongoing debate between the core of the family.

The focus of the debate was whether to continue sending people to join the Somerland Discipline Team to support Somerland and stabilize the domestic situation.

Now, most of the King family had come out of hiding and had come to Capital City.

This was where they had chosen to resurface.

As the most powerful family among all the hidden forces, they naturally had to choose the most prosperous place to resurface.

Only a small number of people stayed in the hidden world to take care of the elders of the family.

Now, the ones gathered here were the core of the King family.

“News has arrived from the Somerland Discipline Team. They hope that all the hidden families and sects will continue to send people to support them. Tell me, what are your opinions?” Delmont King, the patriarch of the King family, asked.

However, the room was quiet, and no one stepped forward to comment.

After a while, Delmont spoke again, “Cameron, Augustus, you two go first.”

Augustus and Cameron were the pillars of the King family today.

They were also strong contenders to become the next patriarch.

When they heard the old man call their names, Augustus stood up and said, “Father, I think now is the time Somerland most needs our help. As a Somerland family, we should continue to send people to support them. The King family and Somerland have always had a good cooperative relationship so we can’t break it like this. If Somerland collapses, I don’t think we, the King family, will be safe either.”

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

“Augustus, you’re wrong. We have given Somerland a lot of help. Of all the hidden families and sects, we have contributed the most. Even if we no longer send people to support them, Somerland can’t fault us for that. Given the current situation, it is difficult for Somerland to survive, and what we need to do now is to preserve our strength so that we can protect ourselves in the future,” Cameron King immediately retorted.

“Cam, providing help in someone’s hour of need will make others more grateful than gilding the lily. Now is the time when Somerland needs help the most. We must continue to support them. Somerland is powerful, so I doubt that they are lacking hidden means. Perhaps this is just one of their traps laid out with the intention of dealing the first one to step out of line a painful blow.”

“Augustus, those are just your assumptions. Is the current situation in Somerland not clear enough?”

Even if Mason is not dead, he is already on the verge of death and he can only fight one more battle at most. That will be the time when he uses up his last burst of strength. Even if he can resist the first wave of probing, what about the second wave and the third wave? What can Somerland do to resist? If Somerland wants to get through this catastrophe safely, it will need another supreme peak God Rank powerhouse, but is that even possible? Obviously not! Our family can’t be tied to the same boat as Somerland. Instead, we have to find a way to save ourselves. We have sent so many people so we, the King family, can say we have done our best.”

“Cam, don’t forget the ancestral teachings. They want us to win over the one at all costs. David, the captain of the Somerland Discipline Team, performed brilliantly at the grand event of the chosen ones and was also unanimously recognized as the number one among the younger generation in Somerland.

According to the news from our fifth brother, he has become a God Rank guardian at a young age, and he is very likely to be the one. Hence, now is the best time to win him over. We cannot miss it.”

“Augustus, you said that it is just likely, and it is not certain that David is the one. I admit that his talent is indeed out of this world, but in the face of the current situation in Somerland, a beginner God Ranker like him can’t do anything much. The major forces in the world will no longer give him a chance to grow. Once we get David on our side, we will likely become the target of several major forces. You are pushing our entire family to the brink of death!”

Augustus and Cameron were arguing fiercely.

They both expressed different opinions.

Both were the best among this generation of the King family.

One hoped that the family would continue to support Somerland to gain Somerland’s favor and win over David, who might be the prophesized legendary one.

On the other hand, another hoped that the family would give up supporting Somerland and save its strength for self-protection.

To be honest, both of them were very reasonable.
