"I see, it's Lord Bourne! We're lacking in perception and offended you. I hope you can forgive us for being rude, Lord Bourne."

Marlon immediately stood up, put his hands together, and said respectfully.

"I also beg Lord Bourne to forgive us for being unreasonable," Kaiser also said respectfully.

The two learned of Bourne's strength and quickly admitted their mistake.

This powerhouse who had surpassed the peak God Rank was not someone they could offend.

It would be easy for this person to kill them right here and right now.

Both of them could only respectfully admit their mistakes.

They did not know that Bourne was not truly back to his prime and thus did not want to take action.

Otherwise, the Chris family could directly destroy all the powerful families in the world and dominate the world.

Would they continue to spew nonsense here just to rope in these two families?

more powerful than the peak God Rankers.

It was just that Bourne had just woken up and after four hundred years. He cherished his life more than them, so he would only fight if he had absolutely no choice.

Once he did, the damage to his body would be irreversible even if he won.

It would also reduce his lifespan.

For Bourne who had just woken up, nothing was more important than his life.

During this time, he was also collecting various supplements every day to nurse his health.

“Alright, you two will follow me from now on. Since I have awakened, I will rewrite the world. As long as you follow in the footsteps of the Chris family, I will naturally not treat you badly,” Bourne said.

His voice seemed to have a kind of magic and it excited the two of them.

“Yes, Lord Bourne, I will definitely lead all the members of the Mosley family to follow in the footsteps of the Chris family in the future. We will take the Chris family as our only guide,” Marlon replied with a bow.

“Me too! I will definitely lead the Oxis family to follow in the footsteps of the Chris family and take the Chris family as our only guide,” Kaiser also said.

“Good. That’s all for today, you two can leave. Integrate the families. Our first goal is the Underworld Alliance. After we incorporate this force, we will go to Somerland to see how mysterious and powerful this country actually is.”

Three days later, David had completely recovered.

Hence, he went back to Somerland along with Pearl..

Pearl continued to head to Springfield to handle all the matters of East League Capitals.

Meanwhile, David returned to Capital City and immediately went to see Mason.

This was because Mason had called David and told David to go and see him once he came back to Capital City.

It just so happened that David also wanted to ask Mason about something.

Inside the residence where Mason lived.

David sat in place while Mason kept staring at him.

“Old Master Stefani, please don’t stare at me like that. It’s not the first time you’ve seen me,” David said with a wry smile.

“I’d never imagined this. I’d never imagined this in a hundred years, David! You are only twenty-two years old and you’ve reached this level. It’s really incredible. As a person who has lived for more than a hundred years, I can’t find any words to describe you,” Mason lamented.

“Old Master Stefani, I don’t deserve these compliments. I don’t think I am that amazing. On the contrary, I still have a lot to learn from you,” David said modestly.

“What do you have to learn from me? Your strength has surpassed mine now. You should be almost at the peak, right?” Mason asked.

“Yes, I should be at the limit of a peak God Ranker soon,” David replied.

“Tsk tsk tsk, how incredible! I don’t know how you did it, kid. What a freak.”

“Old Master Stefani, are you complimenting me, or are you insulting me? In reality, I don’t know how I did it. I just reached the current state for no reason. I felt that there was no obstacle feigning ignorance.

That was all he could say.

He could not expose the system.

He would just act as though that he had no idea what was going on.

Now with his strength, no one would dare to take him away for research.

Even if someone dared to, they needed to have the same strength as David.

After a few days of accumulation, his lavish points were about to exceed a thousand.

With three thousand points, his mind power would reach the God level limit.

Who would be his opponent then?

When that happened, taking down a peak God Ranker like Marlon would feel like a game.

David was a little excited.

He also wanted to see what realm would come after peak God Rank.

“Okay, everyone has their secrets. I won’t worry about this, and I don’t want to know how you achieved this power. I only know that you are a Somerlander , and you are a Somerlander with a strong sense of responsibility, so the rest does not matter,” Mason said with a wave of his hand.

“Old Master Stefani, I want to ask what the catastrophe is. It’s also to prepare me mentally,” David asked about a different topic.

This was what he was most concerned about now.

Seeing that he would soon be invincible on earth, the catastrophe was the only thing that could threaten him.

He should understand it clearly so he could be prepared to deal with it.

“No one really knows what the catastrophe is, but according to various historical documents, the earth will face a catastrophe in this century which may change the fate of human beings on Earth,” Mason said.

“This century? That is to say, there will be a catastrophe in the next fifty years?” David asked.

“Yes, the catastrophe will occur in fifty years. It may be tomorrow, or it may be the last day of this century,” Mason said *How are you so sure? Historical documents may not be accurate, right? There are many cases where predictions of this “This is different. A single force records other prophecies, but in the case of the catastrophe, almost all families and sects with even the slightest history have records. We have no way of knowing how the people in ancient times got this result, so I can only do my best to deal with it as actively as possible and hope to get through it safely.”

“I see.”

David was lost in thought.

He did not understand the methods of the people in ancient times.

However, since everyone had said so, there must be some basis for it.

In that case, he could only do his best to try to improve his strength.

He wanted to see if he could help the human beings on Earth get through this catastrophe safely.

“David, don’t you think you are exceptional ? A twenty-two-year ,I happen to appear in the period when the catastrophe is coming.”

“What do you mean, Old Master Stefani?”

“You are the key arranged by God to help the human beings on earth cope with the catastrophe, and that’s why you can achieve such things at such a young age. However, you can’t relax, because a peak God Ranker is obviously not enough to deal with the catastrophe. You have to continue moving forward and get ahead of all of us so that you can stand a good chance. Don’t let your talent down,” Mason said seriously.

“I get it, Old Master Stefani, don’t worry! I will continue to work hard for everyone and for myself. My family and friends are here. Therefore, no matter what the catastrophe is, I will not let it succeed,” David also replied solemnly.

“I’m relieved.” Mason smiled and nodded.

“David, tell me, how strong Marlon is now? I haven’t seen him for many years. In order to reduce his consumption and live longer, he should have been in seclusion this whole time,” Mason asked.

“He is indeed in seclusion. He only came out of the underground retreat after I almost wiped out the entire Mosley family. He is quite powerful, and he has a lot of combat experience. If I wasn’t almost at the limit of peak God Rank, I might not be his opponent,” David replied.

he hasn’t fought for decades, he accumulated it step by step. Unlike you, whose realm improved so quickly. What you lack now is combat experience, so you should look for opportunities to hone yourself. Otherwise, you will easily suffer losses when encountering opponents of the same level.”

“Old Master Stefani, I understand what you said, but how can I practice without an opponent? Experience can only be learned in actual combat,” David said with a wry smile.

He had only fought a handful of times so far.

Meanwhile, he would suppress his real strength in most of these occasions and still kill his opponent instantly.

There had been no chance for him to accumulate combat experience.

Although he could accumulate a little experience through instant kills, compared with the experience accumulated in evenly matched combat, it was lacking.

David felt that the experience accumulated in all the previous battles was not as much as the experience accumulated in the battle with Marlon this time.

He was now thinking about whether he should just go find a peak God Ranker every once in a while to have a friendly duel with them.

He still had not fought with several of the peak God Rankers in foreign countries.

However, after he thought about it, he realized it might not work.

He was about to surpass peak God Rank.

Wouldn't he give them a crushing defeat if he fought them?

Forget it then.

He would be invincible soon.

Even if he wanted to find someone on the same level as him, he could not.

"Would you like me to practice with you? An old fart like me can "No! Old Master, if you start now, it will consume a lot of your life expectancy. I finally helped you to extend a little bit, so don't waste it. If it runs out, I can't help you add more to it anymore," David quickly refused.

"It's nothing. With you here, I will have no regrets even if I die now. Plus, nothing will happen to Somerland either, so this can be regarded as me using a little bit of my capacity to fight."

Mason did not care.

He already took life and death very lightly.

In the past, he was always worried about Somerland.

dire straits.

Now David had surpassed him, and he could still protect Somerland even if he was gone.

"I don't dare. Moreover, I'm improving so fast now and it's very difficult to meet people of the same level, so there's no need for that. Don't worry about it, it's more important to live happily for a few years than anything else," David still refused.

Was Mason joking?

He was the backbone of the entire Somerland.

If someone knew he was using Mason's life expectancy to accumulate combat experience, they would scold him to death.

The saliva of everyone in Somerland was enough to drown him.

Plus, he would not be able to live with himself either.

Why would he need any combat experience?

He could just directly kill them.

"Sigh... Then an old fart like me is already useless," Mason sighed.

In this life, it could be said that he had done everything he could to support the rise of Somerland.

He did not even dare to die.

Now that David was suddenly on the rise, even though he was pleased, he was a little bit disappointed as well.

"Don't say that, you have dedicated your whole life to Somerland and it's time to rest. You can walk the dogs, spend time with your children and grandchildren, and enjoy being around your family. Besides, as long as you are here, Somerland will be very stable. Although I have the strength, my prestige is far worse than yours, and besides, I don't like appearing on TV every day."

Mason's eyes suddenly lit up and said, "David, I also want to enjoy being around my family, but I only have one great granddaughter. Since she is very fond of you, why don't you hurry up and have a baby with her? It will also fulfill my wish."

When David heard that...

'Oh no, aren't I shooting myself in the foot right now?

‘speak before thinking again.’

David replied with a wry smile, “Old Master Stefani, why are you mentioning this again? I have a girlfriend, and since the harming a new life? So, working hard to improve my strength is the most important thing for me right now, please spare me.”

“What if the catastrophe comes fifty years later? You can’t wait forever and not have children in your life, right? As for your girlfriend, there is nothing to worry about. Look at the powerful families in Somerland now, which one of them doesn’t have multiple wives just to make more offspring ? With your current strength, the Lidell family will be the number one family in Somerland sooner or later, so how can you not have any descendants to support your family?” Mason persuaded.

David was taken aback by what Mason said.

The figures of several women around him appeared in his mind.”

‘If only they all agreed.

‘It seems that I can’t refuse either.

‘Forget it! Forget it!

‘Now is not the time to think about such things.

‘The catastrophe is like a sword hanging over our heads that might fall at any time.

‘We have to get through the catastrophe safely first.’

“Old Master, but I can’t think like that. You said that I was born to deal with the catastrophe, so I have to push myself at all times, strive to improve myself, and live every day as though it is the day before the catastrophe. Only like that can I have the confidence to face the catastrophe, don’t you think so?”

Mason was about to speak when the door to the residence was pushed open.

Julia came in from outside.

When she saw David, she was overjoyed.

Then, she came over quickly.

“David is also here. Great! I happened to be looking for you guys, I didn’t expect you all to be here,” Julia said happily.

“Why? Are you so happy that David is here so you forgot about your great-grandpa?” Mason teased with a smile.

“Great-grandpa, what are you talking about? I really need to talk to you about something. Since David is back, then we can talk about it here and you don’t have to risk your life taking action,” Julia said with a blush.

“I’ve just arrived. What did you need Old Master Stefani to do?” David asked “According to the information, we found traces of the Dominic family and Star Alliance. They are now united and are preparing to escape Somerland. They have reached the border of Somerland and are preparing to cross the old-growth forest to leave Somerland. Do you think we should make them stay or should we just let them go?” Julia asked.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 799

David did not answer immediately.

Instead, he looked at Mason and asked, “What do you think, Old Master Stefani?”

“Sigh, keep them here! If we let them leave, I’m afraid I will be letting them back into their den again. I was kind and let the Haran family go, but you can see that not only did they not appreciate it, but they also united with other forces to harm Somerland. These people will always be selfish, they never have a grateful heart, and their ideas are not compatible with ours, so we will never be friends.”

“Old Master Stefani, that’s exactly what I was thinking. I also think that we should kill all of them. If we had revealed ourselves a few days later this time, they would have shaken the very foundation of Somerland. How can ordinary people withstand the brainwashing temptation of martial artists? In this short period, countless families have been shattered and people have been killed. In my opinion, those people deserve to die,” David said seriously.

“That’s fine, I’ll leave this matter to you. Just take down the powerful masterminds, there’s no need to kill them all. The rest of those scoundrels won’t make too much trouble. You should give them a chance to reform.”

Mason was still a little merciful as he ordered David.

“Okay, I see, but Old Master Stefani, I have another proposal.”

“Let’s hear it.”

“After this incident regarding the Dominic family and the Star Alliance, martial artists have gradually surfaced among ordinary people. I don't think we need to hide anymore. We should simply publish a notice about martial artists in the official name of Somerland to quell their curiosity.”

“Okay, you and Julia can figure it out. Somerland belongs to the youngsters now and our old ideas should be abolished.”

David then chatted with Mason for a while before he bade farewell and left.

He had to rush to intercept the Dominic family and the Star Alliance.

Right now in Somerland, only he and Mason had the ability to do so.

Mason could not go, so he could only go by himself.

After he left Mason's residence, David did not have time to visit Celia.

Instead, he flew directly to a city on the border of Somerland.

After getting off the plane, David rushed to the border without stopping.

The Dominic family and the Star Alliance were not weak.

According to their intelligence, the Dominic family and the Star Alliance had a total of three late God Rankers, seven mid -God Rankers, and thirteen beginner God Rankers.

David's purpose was to kill all God Rank guardians and abolish all Dragon Rankers.

He would never give these two forces a chance to revive.

They could not let what happened with the Haran family to repeat itself.

It was getting dark when he approached the border.

David found a small town and was going to rest for the night before going after the Dominic family and the Star Alliance the next day.

He was not at all worried that these people would escape.

He could not use all his strength right now since he was still in Somerland.

However, when he got to the old-growth forest at the border tomorrow, he would be able to give it his all.

With the help of his mind power, he would catch up with these people soon.

The people of the Dominic family and the Star Alliance could not escape from his grasp.

It would be shameful if a supreme powerhouse at peak God Rank failed to take care of these people.

At dusk, David walked into a fairly lively town.

The streets were brightly lit.

David was walking on the street looking at the people coming and going.

The place was full of laughter and joy.

David did not expect such a remote town to be so prosperous.

At the same time, his heart was getting heavier.

Somerland's crisis had passed for the time being, but the catastrophe that would come in fifty years was like a mountain pressing down on David's heart.

He wanted to protect everything he had right now, but he did not know what the catastrophe was.

So, where would he start?

Sometimes, David thought that it would be good to be a normal person. He would not have to worry about this mess, and he could live however he wanted to.

Now that he was getting more and more powerful, his relative responsibility was also increasing.

'I should increase my strength first.

No matter what, I should give my all to face it.'

David found a local restaurant and had a simple meal.

Then, he found a small motel and rested there for one night.

There were no hotels in such a small place.

Early the next morning, David left the town while the sky was only just lighting up and headed straight to the border.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 800

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 800

However, he still did not choose to fly directly over.

After all, he was still in Somerland.

If he flew too low, it would not be good if someone spotted him.

If he flew too high, he would not track them.

The border was fast approaching, and the sky was also getting brighter.

David saw a village ahead.

He wanted to go around it, but he noticed that the village's gate had been violently damaged.

David sensed that something was wrong.

Therefore, he stopped and walked in to have a look.

The village was not big and there were only about a dozen households in it.

However, the scene was in complete chaos, and it seemed that there was no one around.

It looked very much like this village had a run in with bandits like in those period pieces on television.

However, how would there be bandits in this day and age?

Nor did it look like a collective relocation as the tracks were fresh.

It looked like it was done two or three days ago.

David released his mind power and enveloped the entire village.

Then, he was stunned.

Immediately, he chose a house and pushed open the door.

The scene in front of him shocked him.

He saw twenty or thirty charred corpses lying all over the room, and some even looked like children.

Boom!

This was the first time he had seen such a cruel scene.

David could not control his anger.

His energy as a peak God Ranker exploded violently.

Boom boom boom boom boom!

Sounds of collapsing houses could be heard and the village was razed to the ground.

Only David stood there alone. He was glaring forward with a pair of blood-red eyes that made him look like a wild beast.

After standing there for a few minutes, David came to his senses.

He curbed his violent energy and paid his respect to the corpses.

Then with a stomp from his right foot, the ground began to collapse.

David jumped out and these charred bodies slowly sank into the ground and were buried inside.

Immediately afterward, David released his mind power. He looked for the traces of the gang of evildoers leaving and quickly chased after them.

Obviously, this was all man-made.

When you consider who could do such a thing so silently, it could only be martial artists.

Besides the Dominic family and the Star Alliance , no one else was likely to do such a thing.

This was because this was exactly the direction in which the two forces were preparing to escape from Somerland in.

David wondered why these people would do this.

The villagers were just a group of ordinary people living in the lower class.

What did the villagers do to offend them?

Was it so bad that they needed to wipe out the entire village?

Were ordinary folks not human to them, which is why they could just kill them however they wanted?

Or did they just want to vent their dissatisfaction and take revenge on Somerland?

No wonder Mason refused to let them resurface. Sure enough, they were just a bunch of renegades.

David had to kill them!

Originally, Mason said that only killing some powerful masterminds would do and David agreed.

However, he had changed his mind.

They could even kill people who had no grievances and hatred toward them.

Therefore, these people deserved to die.

They would continue to make trouble if David kept them around too.

Thus, he might as well get rid of them sooner.

David chased after the footprints while filled with anger.

He also wanted to let these people have a taste of what it was like to have their families annihilated and wiped out.
