

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 811

Chapter 811 "I understand, Old Master Stefani. I'll make sure to keep a low profile," David replied.

"Good. I'll put my faith in you, then. You are Somerland's only hope, I do not mind if anything happens to an old man like me, but should anything go south with you, everything will be over."

"There's no need to be so pessimistic, Old Master Stefani. Perhaps things are not as bad as they seem."

"True. There's no point in guessing blindly, what will come, will come. Still, stay low for the next few days in any case. The situation in Somerland has stabilized now, so go home and take a few days off."

"Alright."

He could finally have a few days of rest.

The first thing he did was call Pearl and had her quickly strengthen East League Capitals since he was about to do something big soon.

He assured her that she did not need to go easy on his wallet and that she was to make sure not to make any enemies out of other people.

Then, he told her that if anything happened, he would deal with it himself.

Despite not understanding him, Pearl followed through anyway.

East League Capitals was already growing at a considerable pace. She believed that further expansion and blind development would only end up spoiling things.

This would hinder East League Capitals' future and long term development.

However, David had given his word and he was everything to her.

It did not matter whether David was right or wrong for she would execute his orders anyway.

Like any other woman, Pearl no longer questioned David's decisions now that she had been conquered.

David looked at the calendar after he ended the call with Pearl.

Today was Saturday.

'Haha... The Gods are on my side. Celia doesn't have school today.

David felt excited.

Ever since he had taken the next step with Celia, he found himself desiring her all the time.

It had been a long while since they had done anything, and he could finally spend some quality time with her now.

Not to mention Celia did not have school the next day.

Excited, David immediately called Celia.

Celia was also very happy to receive a call from David.

She told him that she was resting at home and David immediately rushed to her house.

Half an hour later...

Ding ding ding!

David rang Celia's doorbell and the door was opened in no time.

The first thing David saw was Celia's familiar and exquisite features.

"Are your parents home?" David immediately asked.

"No..."

With that, David immediately wrapped his arms around Celia and pressed his lips onto hers. He pushed her into the house and closed the door with his leg.

Celia kept trying to shake David off, but the man had a tight grip around her.

She could not escape.

A moment later, Celia stopped struggling since she knew it was pointless as she let David hold her.

Slowly, blush colored Celia's cheeks but David had yet to be satisfied.

He loosened his hold on Celia and made a move to do more.

Celia instantly snapped to reality and bit David's tongue harshly.

"Ow!"

David shouted in pain and quickly backed up.

He looked at Celia with confusion, not understanding why she acted this way when it was not their first time.

Not to mention that neither Mr. nor Mrs. Young were home.

With her delicate cheeks blossoming red, Celia looked down and away from David as she whispered, "There's someone home."

David then looked toward the living room behind Celia.

Only to see an ethereal beauty smiling as she watched him and Celia.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 812

David was stunned.

'Selena King? Why is she here? How does Celia know her?'

Celia was just an ordinary university student while Selena was the treasured daughter of the hidden aristocratic King family.

There should be no reason for the two to know each other. Thus, countless questions surfaced in David's mind.

"Long time no see, David!" Selena took the initiative to greet him first.

"Uh... Hi, Miss Selena. It's been a while," David replied politely.

Despite his confusion, David knew this was not the time to ask questions.

Celia looked up at David and then at Selena when she saw them greet each other.

She did not expect the two to know each other.

“You know Miss Selena, David?” Celia asked.

“Yeah,” David replied , pulling Celia to the living room.

Celia felt rather shy since it was too embarrassing to have David kiss and hold her like that in front of outsiders.

David, however, did not seem to care about being watched.

Both he and Celia were adults, and they were in a relationship. He saw no shame in being intimate with each other.

“What are you doing here, Miss Selena?” David asked once he and Celia sat down.

“Celia and I are great friends now. What’s wrong with me being here?” Selena asked with a smile.

David looked at Celia confusedly.

Celia caught David’s gaze and explained , “Miss Selena just transferred to our class a few days ago. We’re deskmates and good friends, so I invited her over since Mom and Dad aren’t home.”

David viewed Celia’s innocence in exasperation when he heard her explanation.

They had only known each other for a few days and Celia was already bringing Selena home.

‘Just how dense is she? What if this were someone with bad intentions ? Or do pretty ladies just trust each other blindly?’

Then again , Selena truly did not look like a bad person.

“Why the sudden interest in going to school, Miss Selena?” David asked.

“I thought it’d be a good idea to experience life and to an extent, school. After all, we can’t be considered be coming out of hiding if we don’t connect with society, right?” Selena replied.

Despite her answer, David could tell that there was more to the situation than she let on.

Of all the classes and tables to sit at, you had to choose to sit with Celia?’

It was too much of a coincidence for David to believe it was all down to chance.

Not to mention that Selena showed no surprise when she saw him just now.

Selena looked like she had anticipated him.

David's instinct told him that Selena was here for him, and joining Celia's class and being her deskmate was all part of her plan.

Considering the King family's status, such arrangements required little to no effort to accomplish.

In other words, Celia was being used.

'You silly girl. You don't even know you're being used. Selena's here to steal your boyfriend and you brought her home?'

David was infuriated.

He did not want the people around him to be dragged into the world of martial arts, so he had made sure to hide it from them and protect them in secret.

However, Selena's sudden appearance threw all his plans into the gutter.

David truly wanted to show his distaste and bestow her with the violent wrath of a peak God Rank master.

Yet, at the same time, he respected the King family most among all hidden aristocratic families, as they had shown unbridled effort to aid Somerland at all times.

It was rare to have such families willing to stand and fall alongside Somerland.

Not to mention that he did not have it in him to be angry at Selena either. Hence, he decided to forgive her.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 813

Celia was present too, so David did not press Selena for answers.

He decided to hold off asking until they left Celia's house, and only then would he ask Selena what she intended to achieve by approaching Celia.

'Don't tell me she's actually planning to convince Celia to agree to share her boyfriend.'

The thought of it was too ridiculous.

Sure, David had full confidence in his own qualities.

He was chic, handsome, romantic, and easy to fall in love with.

Still!

He knew he was not desirable enough that an ethereal beauty like Selena would be willing to go so far as to share a boyfriend with someone else.

David shook his head and waved the unrealistic assumption away.

From what it seemed, he was more inclined to believe that the King family admired his strength and thus wanted to recruit him to join them through a marriage union with Selena.

When it came to powerful families like the Kings, daughters like Selena usually did not hold much power.

Much like Luna Shoron, who was also used to secure ties with other people.

Even if Selena was unwilling, she had no choice but to follow her family's arrangements without fighting back.

David thought that Selena was pitiful.

"Miss Selena's very nice to me, David. She's been spending time with me the whole time you were away. I'm really happy with her," Celia shook David's shoulder and said.

David turned to look at Celia exasperatedly.

'What a silly girl. I wonder, though, if you'd still be so happy if you knew that she was here to take me away from you.'

"Thank you, Miss Selena," David thanked her anyway.

"No need! We're friends, aren't we, David? It's only right to help each other out! Plus, I love Celia, it's so fun spending time with her," Selena replied with a smile.

"Oh right, David, how did you and Miss Selena meet?" Celia asked curiously.

“Well, Miss Selena’s family and I are very good business partners, so we came to know each other through that,” David answered after some thought.

“Really? That’s great! And here I was worried that you wouldn’t like Miss Selena,” Celia said happily.

David felt speechless. He could not believe that Celia wanted him to like Selena.

‘How is she not worried about being best friends with someone as stunning as Selena? Or is Celia just so dense that she hasn’t even realized the problem?’

After some thought, David remembered that Celia’s innocence was precisely what he liked about her.

“Why would I? As long as you like them, so will I,” David said as he scratched Celia’s nose.

“Yeah! You’re the best,” Celia said, wrapping her arms around David’s and flushing pink.

Then, Celia turned to Selena. “See, Miss Selena! I told you David would like you, you’re so pretty too.”

Selena nodded with a smile.

“Oh, right! You two haven’t had anything to eat yet, right? When are your parents coming back? What about the maid?” David changed the topic.

It was already dark.

He had rushed his way back and was feeling slightly hungry.

Usually, Mrs. Young and the maid would have already made dinner by now, but he saw neither of them today.

“My mom’s out of the country and my dad went on a business trip since he’s about to get promoted. The maid went home since something happened, so I invited Miss Selena over to spend time with me,” Celia replied. ‘I see!’

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 814

David finally understood.

It made sense why Selena was still here at such a time.

“What did you have for lunch, then? Did you order delivery?” David asked.

"We cooked for ourselves! Well, it was mostly Miss Selena who was cooking, I was just helping out in the kitchen," Celia replied embarrassedly.

"You can cook?" David looked at Selena.

"Of course! My family's very strict when it comes to children's education. Girls must be capable in and out of the kitchen, follow the virtues of Confucianism, and be eloquent in music, chess, readings, and art," Selena replied.

'If I didn't know better, I'd assume your family was training escorts,' David thought to himself.

"You two can take a break for dinner, then. Chat with each other, I'll prepare dinner," David offered

"Okay! It's been a long time since I last ate your cooking! I miss it," Celia said happily.

"Alright. Just wait patiently."

After that, David got up and walked to the kitchen before busying himself.

Just as David was bustling around the kitchen, someone suddenly came inside.

It was Selena

Once she stepped into the kitchen, she started to help David wash the dishes.

"Where's Celia?" David asked.

"She went upstairs to take a bath," Selena told him.

"Out with it, then. What do you intend to achieve by approaching Celia?" David put down the knife in his hand and looked up at Selena sternly.

Selena could not help but feel slightly nervous when she saw David's serious expression.

David was a peak God Rank master, someone who stood at the apex of the world.

Not even the entire King family could survive his fury.

She had put herself at great risk approaching Celia this time.

"I have no ill intent, David!" Selena replied cautiously.

"I asked you for a reason. Why did you approach Celia?" David asked again, his tone heavier this time.

Selena heard the tone in David's voice and felt both afraid and wronged.

She was the King family's treasured daughter, the center of attention no matter where she went.

Every young man who laid their eyes on her drowned in her beauty and she had never been questioned like this before until today.

Her eyes reddened slightly and she suppressed the desire to cry as she replied, "Because of you!"

"Because of me?"

"Yes, you!" Selena repeated firmly.

"Because of me how?" David asked confusedly.

"Because you're my future husband!" Selena summed up the courage to say

"I'm your future husband? Miss Selena, I think you're mistaken."

"I'm not! David, ever since you defeated Eldest Young Master Dominic at the grand event of the chosen ones and became Somerland's no.1 youth of our generation, you were destined to be my future husband."

"Miss Selena, these are decisions made by you and your family alone. I don't remember agreeing to any of it. I made it very clear last time that I already have a girlfriend, I will not accept another."

"David, the King family is an ancient martial arts aristocratic family. I understand the situation you're in right now."

"What situation?"

David was confused.

He was a peak God Rank master, not even the awakening of the Chris family's super-peak God Ranker could incite fear in him since he could probably get there in two to three days anyway.

David had no idea what dire situation Selena was talking about.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 815

"David, you're a peak God Rank master now, and your body is extremely fit. Celia's just an ordinary girl, and sure, her body isn't unwell, but it's not fit either. There are certain needs that she will be unable to fulfill," Selena said nonchalantly.

David's eyes widened when he heard what Selena said.

"You..."

David wanted to refute her, but he realized he had nothing to say.

What she spoke of was the truth.

"David, this is something the King family has concluded after centuries of experience, I know what I'm saying. There's a huge gap in terms of fitness between martial artists and ordinary people. You've slept with Celia before, so you should know that her body cannot endure what you put her through. There's no saying whether Celia's already started to become subconsciously afraid of you. When it comes to women, we have boundaries and have certain things we can and cannot accept. Once you become too much, you will scar her. She just didn't say anything because she loves you and doesn't want to disappoint you."

"That's what you want to say?" David asked in a calm tone despite the panic he felt inside.

Internally, David agreed with what Selena was trying to say, but this was not an excuse for him to cheat on Celia.

Love was not about what you gained but about what you give.

He loved Celia, so he would continue to hold himself back.

"Yes! David, Celia is just an ordinary person, her body isn't made to endure you, but I can! I am a master in Dragon Rank, so I am fit enough. If you don't believe me, we can try once first."

Selena suddenly started to blush when she said that.

No matter how confident she appeared to be, she was still a virgin.

The King family might have taught her things like this, but she had never experienced it firsthand before.

Still, she spoke the truth.

The King family had never been with an ordinary person before, and this was something concluded by their elders according to experience.

This was the only weakness David had and the only way she could target and try to convince him about.

David glanced at Selena and saw her golden-ratio curves and exquisite features.

Selena's eyes were slightly red now, and her misty eyes made her look even more stunning.

This was every man's dream, and David's gaze faltered with a sliver of desire.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 816

It was as if he wanted to take Selena right here in the kitchen.

'What the f*ck!

What am I thinking?

I can't cheat on Celia!

David admitted that he had almost fallen for Selena's allure, but his mind power was so strong that he had managed to suppress his own desire.

Selena did not expect this.

She was certain that she saw blatant desire in David's gaze.

She was so excited, thinking that she had succeeded.

After all, David was the kind of man to take full responsibility once he had slept with you.

However, a moment later, calm returned to David's eyes and there was no sign of desire anymore.

Selena was both shocked and in awe.

awe.

The man had a terrifyingly strong grip on his self-control.

She could guarantee that David was the only young man who could hold himself back from her charm.

It made sense how David managed to become a supreme peak God Rank powerhouse at such a young age and achieve a success others could never imagine attaining.

Talent must account for part of his success, but so did self-control.

“Selena, I know that the King family wants me to join their ranks and your family may believe that a marriage union is the strongest tie to form, but I will not agree to a loveless marriage. Perhaps you were right about Celia, but so what? I don't care. I can and will control myself. Not every man thinks with their lower halves and your allure does not affect me,” David replied calmly.

“David, since you became Somerland's most powerful youth, I've only ever seen you as my future husband. There is a place in my heart for you. Even if I felt nothing for you in the beginning, I've found myself slowly falling for you, so it won't be a loveless marriage. Celia will never be able to bear your children. Has it been your plan all along to die alone?”

“A catastrophe is coming, and no one knows what will happen tomorrow, I don't even know if all of us will survive it. There's no point thinking about what will happen in the future when the catastrophe might destroy all your plans. Plus, I've never truly thought about having children of my own before.”

Selena wanted to say more when David interrupted her, “ Alright, enough of this. Celia's come down, so go chat with her instead. I'm fine here by myself. Celia's an innocent girl and she truly likes you. I know you approached her with hidden intentions, but all I ask is that you treat her genuinely and well.”

“Don't worry. I like Celia too, I would've treated her genuinely even if you didn't ask me to,” Selena replied sincerely.

“Good. Rest assured, I recognize the contributions the King family has given to Somerland. I will not stand by and watch should you need my help.”

“Thank you!”

Selena glanced at David once more before turning to leave the kitchen.

David continued to busy himself and a table full of flavorful dishes was complete.

The three of them chatted and ate away happily, and any signs of the discourse in the kitchen vanished.
