His thoughts were so ridiculous.

How could such a character chosen by God not have some hidden means?

Bourne smiled bitterly.

He thought this would be easy.

David looked at the seventy or eighty helicopters shooting at him in the sky. Then, his mouth twitched, and he smiled contemptuously.

“Are you done?”

His voice was full of contempt.

However, it made the hair of the pilots in the air stand on end as a chill traveled all the way to their heads.

This was the first time they had encountered such a horrifying situation.

They were scared witless.

In a panic, they wanted to fly away from here.

Their enemy was too strong.

He was not someone they could deal with.

Since the helicopters were very close to each other, in a panic, several of them collided with each other and crashed.

However, David ignored them.

These lackeys could not escape from his grasp.

He had to deal with the mastermind first.

Otherwise, he would not be able to swallow this grievance.

David averted his gaze and looked at Bourne in the distance.

When their eyes met, Bourne's eyes narrowed.

‘It's here!

David disappeared from where he stood.

In a blink of an eye, he appeared in front of Bourne and punched him.

This was a punch that was filled with David's terrifying rage.

At this moment, he was furious and needed to vent the anger in his heart.

David did not expect that Bourne would still mount a sneak attack on him after he had spared Bourne. Bourne had bit the hand that fed him.

David knew this old man was shameless, but he did not think he would be this despicable.

If his mind power had not broken through to materialize so he could resist all attacks, Mason and the dozens of people would be dead even if he managed to escape.

David did not hold back this punch at all.

As David exerted the materialized mind power, Bourne could see David's terrifyingly formidable punch swinging at him.

Bourne would not stay there and wait for death, so he tried to hide.

However...

‘Hmm?

‘What's going on?

‘I can't move!

Bourne panicked instantly.

He felt like he was being restrained by something.

‘Could it be...

‘Is this Silver Face's unique tactic?’

Bourne was trying his best to get away.

At this moment, David's punch had already landed on his body.

Boom!

"Pfft!"

David punched Bourne to the ground.

At the same time, Bourne vomited blood. Since David used his materialized mind power to restrain Bourne before the punch, Bourne could not escape, and he could not even defend himself.

Hence, this punch inflicted massive damage onto Bourne.

The damage was much more significant than when David used his extreme speed.

A huge pit soon formed on the ground.

The core of the Chris family behind Bourne and the three masters from the three major forces were all sent flying by the intense aftermath.

The ones who were halfway to God Rank passed out immediately.

Beginner and mid-God Rankers were seriously injured.

Only late and peak God Rankers were slightly better off, and they could resist it. One could see how great the damage a supreme powerhouse at partial Super-God Rank could create with a punch filled with fury.

David did not stop after knocking Bourne to the ground with one punch.

Instead, he pulled back his fist and continued to punch downward.

Thud!

Another punch hit Bourne.

Immediately after...

Thud thud thud thud thud!

David sat on Bourne.

The materialized mind power bound Bourne, preventing him from getting up.

Then, David started punching Bourne.

All his punches were very powerful, and he did not hold back at all.

Bourne was hit until he was spitting blood. Furthermore, his guts were also shattered.

David wanted to directly kill this despicable and shameless villain to vent his anger. David still had lingering fears as he recalled what happened just now.

After the battle, when David turned to leave, he stayed vigilant and released his mind power.

This was to both keep an eye on Bourne and also to protect him.

After all, Bourne had just tricked him, and he suffered a huge loss as a result of this.

David learned his lesson.

As long as the enemy was not dead, then he could not be careless no matter what.

This was his experience.

Sure enough, his caution paid off.

Bourne did not want to give up just like that.

David discovered that after Bourne had returned to his camp, he quietly hid a walkie-talkie in his cuff.

Then, he whispered something into it.

After speaking, seventy or eighty helicopters approached David.

They said they wanted to shoot close-up footage of David because of the public's request.

David knew then that something was wrong.

However, he did not expect that the other party would use the helicopters to shoot him.

Thus, he became more vigilant.

When David spotted Bourne putting the walkie-talkie hiding in his cuff to his mouth and saying, 'Do it', David responded quickly.

At this point, he could have escaped.

With his speed, he could have easily left.

However, what would happen to Mason and the others if he left?

They did not make any preparation for the sneak attack at all. If he told them at this time, it would be too late, and they would definitely die.

David could not do that.

Therefore, he recalled all his materialized mind power and formed an invisible force field to protect the dozen or so of them.

David had tested the materialized mind power on his way to Dark Cape from Capital City. The force field would not burn even at extreme speed with high temperatures of thousands of degrees caused by friction with the air.

David had a lot of confidence in his mind power. After he did that, countless bullets and shells rained down on them.

His materialized mind power was like an invisible protective shield, keeping all the bullets and shells out and preventing them from moving.

As for Mason and the others, they were at a loss for words when they saw this.

They did not understand how David blocked the bullets and shells.

Even though it was absolute chaos out there, they were not harmed in the slightest.

They had never heard of this method before.

It had utterly surpassed their cognition.

They thought they would surely die, but suddenly, David rescued them with extraordinary means.

A peerless powerhouse at super-peak God Rank was indeed not someone they could understand.

Luckily, David upgraded his mind power to materialize.

If not, even if David were safe, Mason and the people from the King family would all die by the despicable means of the Chris family.

How could this not enrage him?

Bourne could not resist David's attacks at all.

This also excited the countless people watching the live broadcast. David was helping them vent the anger in their hearts.

Bourne had lost everyone's support after he bit the hand that fed him.

No one would believe him anymore.

They all wished David would kill him.

When Celia, Selena, Julia, and the others saw that David and the rest were still alive, they instantly came back to life.

The two hugged and cried with joy.

Meanwhile, Julia cried tears of excitement all by herself.

While everyone was watching David take revenge in a good mood...

The broadcast was slowly moving away.

After the helicopters adjusted their positions, they all began to flee the scene.

At this time, Bourne was struggling to breathe. His body had never fully recovered.

David's first blow at the extreme speed had already injured him.

Then, Bourne ignored everything and fought David.

Hence, his body was getting weaker and weaker.

Right now, he was held to the ground while David beat him repeatedly.

Meanwhile, David was using all his strength and did not hold back.

Almost all of Bourne's internal organs were shattered.

If David had treated Bourne at this time with Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine, he could have been saved.

Unfortunately, David would not do that.

Hence, Bourne could only wait to die slowly.

Thud!

David punched Bourne in the chest one last time.

Bourne stared at David with blood-red eyes.

He could feel that he was wildly losing his life force.

He opened his mouth to say something, but blood kept pouring out, so he had no chance to speak at all.

At this point, David stood up and ignored Bourne, who was on the ground.

This was because Bourne was dying, and as a highly skilled physician, David knew that Bourne did not have long to live.

He looked up at the helicopter in the sky that had just attacked him.

Right now, they had spread out and were about to escape this chaotic place.

David smirked sinisterly.

'You want to run?'

The pilots in the helicopters were also watching David.

They shuddered with fright when they saw David standing up suddenly and smirking sinisterly at them.

They wanted to run away even faster, but David soared into the sky.

After a while...

Boom boom boom!

Fireworks appeared in the sky.

The remaining helicopters exploded in the sky one after another, contributing to their last ounce of value. When the last helicopter exploded, the global live broadcast ended.

However, countless people looked at the screen for a long time and still could not recover.

The entire Somerland instantly turned into a sea of cheers.

Countless people started celebrating in the streets.

At this point, David returned to Bourne, but Bourne was still breathing.

David figured that the vitality of a partial Super-God was too strong.

Bourne's internal organs were all shattered, but he was still alive after so long.

If he were an ordinary person, he would die instantly if he suffered such damage.

David looked at the people who were overturned by the aftermath and said, "I don't need to hold you three forces accountable. After all, you were under coercion, but the people of the Chris family must pay the price for their ambitions. Anyone who dares to cross Somerland must be punished!"

The people from the other three major forces glanced at each other.

After nodding, they instantly attacked the people from the Chris family around them.

The peak God Rankers of the three major forces attacked simultaneously, besieging the peak God Ranker from the Christ family.

Screams came one after another.

David turned around carelessly.

'Let them fight among themselves.'

He believed the three forces would understand what he said.

If they wanted to live, then they should exchange their lives with the Chris family members' lives.

When Bourne heard the screams of his family, he was very remorseful.

The reason for his awakening was to lead the Chris family back to glory.

However, he did not expect it to speed up the destruction of his family.

He had let down his ancestors.

In that instant, Bourne stopped breathing and dropped dead.

The life of a supreme powerhouse at partial Super-God rank ended here, accompanied by the countless people from the Chris family.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 866

After taking care of Bourne and the Chris family's core seniors, David exchanged some pleasantries with Mason and the heads of Somerland's forces before rushing back to Somerland.

He knew Celia must have freaked out when she saw him on the live stream.

Therefore, he had to get back as soon as possible.

David did not want to take the plane with Mason and the rest either. It was too slow.

It was faster if he was alone.

After saying goodbye to the crowd, David shot straight into the sky, turned into a beam of light, and sped off toward Somerland Capital City.

Watching David's leaving figure, Mason and the other late God Rankers looked at each other and shook their heads with a bitter smile.

They were not too far behind to catch up with David.

They had no idea how he trained.

He was young but so strong.

God must have sent him here to deal with the catastrophe.

Otherwise, they could not fathom this boy's training speed, which was unprecedented.

Mason and Somerland's forces set out to take care of the aftermath.

It was the end of the supreme powerhouse fight between two partial Super-God Rankers.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

It ended with David defeating Bourne, and Somerland obtained the ultimate victory.

It was a result that most people were happy to accept.

Comparing David's integrity and Bourne's despicableness, everyone wanted David to win.

However, this excluded some forces which had bad blood with Somerland.

Of course, even if there was a grudge, they were trying to bury the hatchet.

Even the Haran family, who had been at loggerheads with Somerland for decades, was doing everything they could to repair their relationship with Somerland and obtain forgiveness.

Otherwise, they had no place in the huge world.

David soon returned to Somerland Capital City and landed directly in front of Celia's house.

As soon as he opened the door, someone hugged him tightly while weeping. David smelled Celia's familiar scent and comforted, "Good girl. Don't cry. I'll be fine."

"David, promise me you won't do anything dangerous again," Celia said as she sobbed.

"Okay! I promise I'll take good care of myself."

"You gotta keep your word. I don't know what I would do without you!" Selena stood behind Celia, quietly watching the two hug each other.

She also wanted to hug David and tell him how worried she was while laying in his arms.

Unfortunately, their relationship did not allow Selena to do so yet.

Holding Celia, David looked up and saw another tearful face.

Selena was even more attractive than usual.

The eyes on the beautiful face were red and misty because she had just cried. There were also tear stains on her beautiful face.

It broke his heart more.

"David, thank you for saving my grandfather and father," said Selena

"Don't mention it, Miss Selena. It's nothing," replied David.

"It may be nothing to you, but it's a huge favor to the King family."

David had just gotten back, and his phone kept ringing.

They were from Pearl, Julia, Aunt Sally, Aunt Diana, Amelia, Charles, Sandy, and so on...

Anyone close to David or had his phone number called.

Not to mention his Whatsapp.

Countless Whatsapp groups tagged David to get him to say something.

The global live stream was too influential.

It enabled countless people to witness martial artists and David's strength.

The powerful firepower from 70 to 80 heavy helicopters could not even hurt David.

It was way beyond what the average person could fathom.

It was way more intimidating than what they saw on TV or in movies.

Night time.
