After Orson heard what was said through the communication device, he was struck dumb.

His breathing began to quicken, and the energy all over his body overflowed uncontrollably.

Boom!

The peak Cosmos Ranker released his energy without reservation.

A strong hurricane was set off in the huge living room of the Tuffin family

Bang bang bang bang bang!

The energy emanating from Orson directly destroyed everything in the hall.

"Lord Orson!"

"Lord Orson!"

"Lord Orson!"

The core members of the Tuffin family, who had sensed the energy, rushed over and shouted in shock when they saw Orson's state.

Orson was now enveloped in a violent and destructive energy.

He only calmed down when the core of the Tuffin family arrived.

However, he looked like he was in a state of calm before another storm would break out again at any time.

"Gather all the core seniors of the family and follow me to see the grandmaster," Orson said, suppressing the anger in his heart.

"Lord Orson, what happened? Why are you so mad?"

“Yeah! Lord Orson, what’s going on? Please tell us so we can share your anger. Don’t hide everything in your heart. We are one, so let’s carry the burden together.”

“Please tell us, Lord Orson! No matter what happens, we will face it together.”

The core of the Tuffin family asked one after another.

As the absolute core executives of the Tuffin family, they had the right to know all the secrets of the Tuffin family.

Something must have happened to make Orson so mad.

Orson looked at everyone and said in a hoarse voice, “I just received news from the ancestral home. Adan’s life plaque was broken.”

‘What?’

All of the cores at the scene turned pale with fright.

‘Adan’s life plaque was broken?’

‘How is that possible?’

‘On the surface, Adan was second only to the head of the Tuffin family, Orson.

‘He is a mid–Cosmos Ranker.

‘Plus, didn’t he take Nine to the indigenous living planet Pavan discovered?’

‘How did he suddenly die?’

‘If this is real, then... Does this mean our mission has completely failed?’

“Lord Orson, is this true?” Someone asked in disbelief.

“If the person watching the ancestral home is not lying, then yes, it is,” Orson shook his head and answered.

“What about Nine? Is his life plaque also broken?”

“Nothing happened to Nine and lone’s life plaques yet. They should have been captured. However, if they manage to flee, they will eventually tell us what actually happened.”

“Who’s so courageous ? How dare they take action against the Tuffin family?”

“Could it be... the Allaband family?” Someone asked.

“No way! Our mission was very secret this time. The only people who know are the highly trustworthy core of the Tuffin family. How could the Allaband family learn about it?”

“Is it so impossible? Aside from the Allaband family, who else would target our family? Plus, Lord Adan is a mid-Cosmos Ranker. Who at a resource-poor place at the edge of the Milky Way can kill him? I definitely think it’s the Allaband family.”

“Do you think they ran into galaxy beasts or space pirates?”

The core of the family started analyzing one after another.

Orson frowned.

He could not rule out those possibilities.

Plus, there was a chance that another family did this, and it was the Dallarosa family.

Aside from the Allaband family, the family that did not want the Tuffin family to rise the most would be the Dallarosa family.

If the Tuffin family rose again, the Dallarosa family’s dream of replacing them as one of the eight prominent families of the Milky Way Empire would be crushed.

Orson would rather Adan died by the hands of a galaxy beast or space pirates.

If it was done by the Allaband family or the Dallarosa family, then it would mean a spy was among the core of the Tuffin family.

This was very important.

When there was a spy among the core executives of a big family, it would mean the family was completely doomed.

‘First, gather all the core of the family. Do not leave anyone behind. Then, come with me to see the Grandmaster. This matter is of utmost importance to the family and may even destroy us.’

“Yes, Lord Orson!”

All the cores of the Tuffin family said aloud at the same time.

Three days later.

Orson brought all the cores of the Tuffin family to the planet where the Grandmaster lived in seclusion.

This was also a barren planet, so it was relatively small.

Only the Grandmaster and some servants who served him lived here.

A Milky Way Battleship landed, and Orson descended first, followed by the cores of the Tuffin family.

Flying was not allowed here, so Orson could only lead the others to walk to the spot where the Grandmaster lived in seclusion.

Soon, they arrived outside a valley.

“I am Orson, the current head of the Tuffin family. I have something to ask you, Grandmaster,” Orson shouted outside the valley.

Soon, Orson heard a voice.

“Come in!”

Orson then led the crowd into the valley.

When they entered the valley, they found that it was completely different from the outside.

The world outside was barren, but it was like paradise here.

It was a beautiful spring day, and the butterflies were flying.

There were also fish swimming in the pool.

Other than that, there were countless precious animals and plants here.

Orson had no interest in admiring the scenery.

He walked to a simple wooden building with the core of the Tuffin family.

Then, he got down on his knees and said respectfully, "Orson, the current head of the Tuffin family, is here to see you, Grandmaster."

"The disappointments of the Tuffin family are here to see you, Grandmaster!"

The rest of the Tuffin family's core members all fell to their knees and shouted.

"What's the matter?" An old voice came from the wooden house.

"Grandmaster..."

Orson told the Grandmaster everything about how Pavan discovered the Earth, an indigenous living planet, and then died after he passed the news back to the family. After that, the Tuffin family held a meeting to select a head of the younger generation to plant the slave mark, which then broke Adan's life plaque. Now, Nine and Ione were also missing.

After he said that, Orson knelt on the ground and did not dare to breathe.

He was quietly waiting for the Grandmaster to speak.

Even if Orson was a peak Cosmos Ranker, he still felt enormous pressure when facing the Grandmaster, who had an amazing lifespan and terrifying strength.

Meanwhile, the other core executives of the Tuffin family were sweating profusely like a broken dam.

"Do you have any ideas as to what happened?" After a while, the Grandmaster asked.

"Grandmaster, we came up with three possibilities. One, there's a spy among the core executives of the family, so the mission info was leaked, and the Allaband family or Dallarosa family stops us.

"Second, Adan and the rest ran into powerful galaxy beasts on their way, and were killed.

"Third, they ran into very powerful space pirates, and they killed Adan before capturing Nine and Ione," Orson said respectfully.

"What combat power do you think you need to achieve all those?"

"Grandmaster, Adan is a mid-Cosmos Ranker. In addition to the Blood-Burning Potion, they might need to be at partial Celestial Rank or beginner Celestial Rank."

Boom!

After Orson said that, he could feel a terrifying ball of energy overwhelming him and enveloping everyone at the scene.

All of them were shaking with fright in the face of this energy.

After a moment, the Grandmaster retracted his energy.

“Is this all the core of the Tuffin family now? Is there anyone missing?” The Grandmaster asked.

“Grandmaster, all the core executives of the Tuffin family are here, and I didn't miss anyone. I came to see you after gathered all the core members,” Orson replied.

“Everyone here should be fine. If there is a spy, they wouldn't be so calm. Have you ever considered that this was done by the people on that indigenous living planet?” The Grandmaster asked.

“Grandmaster, this is impossible, isn't it? How could an indigenous living planet have the strength to kill Adan? He is a strong mid-Cosmos Ranker with the Blood-Burning Potion on him.”

They thought of every possibility but did not once think that someone on Earth did it because this was beyond their wildest expectations.

‘A person on an indigenous living planet with the strength to kill a mid-Cosmos Ranker?’

‘Who would believe that?’

They did not believe it.

“Is it impossible? Then tell me, how can a person on an indigenous living planet achieve peak Planet Rank?”

“Maybe they have a devilishly high talent.”

“Devilishly high talent? You're thinking too simply. It's not just a matter of talent for a person on an indigenous living planet to reach peak planet rank.”

“What is it then?” Orson asked in confusion.

“It is very likely that a strong person once went to Earth and left behind their legacy. It is also possible that a powerful person is living in seclusion on Earth just like me. In this case, you are bound to arouse the dissatisfaction of the other party if you go and try to plant your slave mark. Therefore, it's not entirely out of the question that they'd kill you,” the Grandmaster explained

“Then... What do we do, Grandmaster?” Orson asked.

They also felt that this was not an impossible scenario after hearing what the Grandmaster said.

The Milky Way was simply too big, with many powerful people inside it.

Some very powerful people preferred to find a remote planet to live in seclusion.

They did not expect it because it had never happened before.

Even if a strong person lived in seclusion on a planet, they would first turn the planet into a registered citizen planet of the Milky Way Empire.

Very few people lived quietly on an indigenous living planet like this but did not report it to the empire.

“You should go back for now. Isn't the newly elected head of the younger generation not dead? Continue to wait for his news. If you really can't wait, just leave it alone for the time being. Recently, I have been practicing a combat skill and am in a critical period. When I am done with my seclusion, I'll go and see what kind of place Earth is,” the Grandmaster said with a baleful look.

“Yes, Grandmaster!”

Orson and the others all answered loudly.

Earth.

After David interrogated Nine and Lone, he was fully aware of the situation of the Tuffin family, especially in addition to the news he got from Pavan.

David was not bothered by the rest of the Tuffin family.

However, there was a grandmaster in the Tuffin family, so David had to pay special attention to him.

Those who could be called Grandmasters in a super-giant force like the Tuffin family would be powerful.

David knew he would not be his opponent with his peak Cosmos Rank combat power.

Moreover, there was also the Blood-Burning Potion that could increase combat power in a short period.

Although there were substantial side effects, it still had to be considered.

So, David had to find a way to spend money to get lavish points, then he needed to continue to improve his strength.

Obviously, he could not do that on Earth.

He had to leave Earth as soon as possible and go to the heart of the Milky Way.

That was the stage to truly put his power to use.

The only problem now was the safety of the planet.

How would he go to the galaxy to spend money to get lavish points to improve his strength while ensuring the safety of the earth?

David started searching the web for a method.

He connected the system to the Milky Way's Internet.

The system was a product of God Tier Civilization and was impossible to discover.

Then, using the system's power, he hid the earth's location again.
