David finally decided to take the rest of Pavan's team and use the Octagon to leave Earth.

When it came to the other Earthlings, he did not bring any of them for the time being, including Celia and Selena.

After all, he did not even have a place to stay this time.

Furthermore, it was also dangerous. They would follow the Tuffin family's route to the heart of the Milky Way.

This was so David could intercept them anyone the Tuffin family sent people to Earth. This would be much better than fighting near the Earth, where he had to be extra careful.

When he finally settled things with the Tuffin family, he would settle down in the heart of the Milky Way galaxy.

After that, he would take Celia and the others over to have a look at the most prosperous places in the Milky Way.

It would also help to improve their strength.

After making up his mind, David first called up all the Super Gods on Earth to have a small meeting with them to tell them his intentions.

"Everyone, I may leave the Earth in the next few days and go to the prosperous center of the Milky Way. I will temporarily hand over the Earth to you. I hope that when I return, the Earth will still be the same way it is now, or better. The Internet is now connected, and I will contact you when I arrive. You can also contact me anytime if you need anything," David looked at the Super Gods on Earth and said.

Everyone understood that David would leave Earth sooner or later.

After all, the Earth was too small, and David's talent was so high.

He needed to go somewhere bigger, and that would be his new stage.

Therefore, they were not surprised at all. “Mr. David, the Tuffin family is one of the eight prominent families of the Milky Way Empire. We have killed so many of them, will they really give up?” Someone asked.

“You don’t have to worry, I will find a way to solve the matter surrounding the Tuffin family. I am leaving Earth this time because I want to find a perfect solution. Otherwise, I won’t be able to solve the fundamental problem if I stay on Earth. We can’t be resigned to our fates, and we have to be proactive,” David replied.

“Mr. David, are you okay going alone? Why don’t you take some of us with you? Although we are weak, you’ll need someone to discuss with when you encounter some problems, right?” Someone suggested.

“Yes, Mr. David. You can choose two of us to go with you, and you will at least have company if you encounter anything.”

“You guys should stay on Earth for the time being. When I settle down and deal with the matter surrounding the Tuffin family, I’ll allow you to go out and have a look.”

“David, don’t worry! We are here, and if anyone wants to do anything to Earth, they have to do so over our dead bodies. Guys, stop talking now. We’ll be a hindrance if we tag along. What we should do now is to work hard to improve our strength. We cannot bring shame to Earth when we finally have a chance to go out,” Mason said.

Mason’s prestige among this group was also relatively high. He was second only to David.

After all, it had been rumored that Mason was once David’s master.

“Old Master Stefani, I’m going to have to trouble you to take care of the Earth. I will be back soon. When the time comes, I will bring you all out there.” After making arrangements for the Super Gods, David returned home.

Selena was teaching everyone martial arts.

When they saw David, they immediately stopped training to gather around him. Compared to training, they much preferred hanging out with David.

“David, there’s something I don’t understand. Can you teach me?”

“David, there’s also a move that I don’t understand. Do you have time?”

Everyone started looking for topics to discuss.

"Everyone, I may not have time to teach you in the future. If you have any questions, just ask Lena," David said.

"Why, Dave? Where are you going?" Sandy asked.

"David, what happened?" Celia asked worriedly.

Everyone else was staring at David, waiting for his answer.

"I'll be leaving Earth in two days and am going to the heart of the Milky Way," David replied.

"Why are you going there? You're not taking us with you? Are you not going to take care of us? Don't want us anymore?" Celia asked with a pout.

David reached out and caressed the top of Celia's head before saying with a smile, "You dummy, how could I not want you? It's just that we haven't resolved the matter with the Tuffin family. Although they won't send people over for the time being, we can't be resigned to our fate and must find a way to resolve this matter. So, that's why I have to leave Earth, and it's not that I don't want to take you, but this trip is very dangerous. It'll be easy for me to fight or flee if I'm alone, but it's different if I take you. But don't worry, as soon as I am done with resolving the matter with the Tuffin family, I'll be back to get you all."

"Really?" Celia asked.

"Of course, it is true. The Earth is my roots, my hometown, and you are all here. I don't want to leave, but I have no choice. I want to protect the Earth, so I have to leave. All you need to do now is to practice martial arts with Lena. When I come back next time, I will take you to the most prosperous places in the galaxy," David said affirmatively.

"Alright, David! We'll follow Selena and practice martial arts, but you must return and promise us that you will not die outside, or I will never forgive you," Celia said with red eyes.

The eyes of several others were also a little red.

"Okay, I promise you that I will definitely come back alive to get you all."

David was exhausted over the next few days.

These people were crazy.

One had to know that David was already a peak Cosmos Ranker, but this was also enough to drain him.

A week later, David walked into the Octagon while countless Earthlings watched him.

After he walked into the Octagon, he turned around and waved to everyone before disappearing.

David did not kill the people Pavan brought because they could drive the Octagon for him. David also brought Nine and Lone along. Perhaps these two would be useful.

As they watched the Octagon rise into the air, Celia and the women could not control their tears anymore. They were scared that David would not return after this, so they had been bugging David for the past few days.

Woosh!

After the Octagon rose to the desired height, it accelerated with full force and disappeared in a blink of an eye, leaving the Earthlings to stare at it blankly.

David would only get the platform to display his talent once he got to a bigger stage. The stronger David was, the safer Earth would be in the future.

The tens of billions of Earthlings prayed silently inside for David, hoping it would bring him luck.

David left the Earth with the hope of everyone on Earth to find a solution to the crisis they were facing.

Many people have already learned about the power of the Tuffin family through the Internet.

In the face of such a behemoth, the Earth could be said to have no resistance at all if David was not around.

They would either be enslaved or destroyed. Hence, their only hope now was David.

Only he had the power to save the Earth.

The Octagon was very fast when moving at full force. Half a month passed, and David had moved a long way from Earth.

Although the Octagon had only been traveling for half a month, David would only have been able to travel this distance in a few hundred of thousands years if he used Earth technology.

One could see how large the gap was between the civilization of Earth and the other civilizations of the Milky Way Empire. David was sitting in the Octagon's observation room at this time, watching the countless comets and meteorites passing by. Some were directly smashed into rubble by the Octagon and continued to drift in the void. Occasionally, the Octagon would pass a planet, but it would just be a lifeless planet.

The ceiling of the observation room was made of a transparent material similar to glass on Earth, but it was much stronger than the latter. It would be fine even if it advanced rapidly through the void. As David was looking at the stars in the sky and sighing at the greatness of the universe...

Knock knock knock!

Someone knocked at the door.

"Come in," David said.

Creak!

The door opened.

A beautiful woman came in with a plate of delicious food. More than ten people were following her, each carrying a plate of food. After they entered the room, they placed the food on a table.

"Master David, it's time to eat," the beautiful woman in the lead said while kneeling.

"Please enjoy your meal, Master David."

The other beautiful women also knelt on the ground as they said respectfully. They were all maids Pavan had brought over. David figured they might be helpful on the journey, so he kept them.

These people had long been subdued by David's power.

Even Lord Adan Tuffin was not the opponent of this young man from an indigenous living planet.

He was terrifyingly powerful. If they served David well and David allowed them to be around him, they might be able to climb up the social ladder using David's name one day.

There were different ranks when it came to maids as well.

A maid serving a Steller Ranker was very different from a maid serving a Cosmos Ranker.

Furthermore, no one would dare to offend a maid serving the Master of the Milky Way, not even the direct descendants of the various forces in the Milky Way Empire.

So, one could see how high their status was. Now, they could only hope to be acknowledged by David and be granted permission to stay by his side.

"I got it, you can leave now," David said expressionlessly.

"Master, please let us serve you." "I said you can leave now!"

David increased the tone of his voice and scared the kneeling woman until their hearts trembled. Then, they got up while shaking. "Yes, Master. You can call us if you need anything. We will be on standby at all times."

After the woman in the lead said that, she left the room with the rest of them.

Eventually, David sat at the dining table to start eating. He had to admit that the food here was all scrumptious. Plus, he could not find any of this food on Earth.

As he ate the delicious and nutritious food, he lifted his head to look at the sky full of stars.

This was not bad at all.

After eating, David continued to lie on the rocking chair to look at the starry sky of the universe. Half a month went by slowly.

David had been away from Earth for a month on the Octagon. However, it was still not even half the distance from the center of the Milky Way.

David was in a light slumber today when he suddenly felt a shudder.

He quickly opened his eyes, immediately opened the communication device, and contacted the control room.

"What's going on?" David asked.

"Master, I just made a space wormhole jump, so the ship will shake a little. Please don't worry," the commander of the Octagon replied.

"How far are we from the center of the Milky Way?"

"Master, we have been away from Earth for one month and three days. According to the scheduled route, we still need at least two and a half months."

"Two and a half months? I remember Pavan said it only takes three months to come from the Tuffin family's residence last time."

"Master, that's because the Milky Way Battleship is one level higher than the Octagon, and since its speed is much higher than the Octagon, the time required will be shorter as well." "Okay, that's fine. If you encounter any problems, you must notify me immediately."

"Yes, Master!"

After David finished speaking, he turned off the communication device and ignored it.

He did not understand what a space wormhole jump was anyway. Plus, he held these people's lives in his hands, so they definitely would not dare to mess around.

The Octagon continued advancing through the void.

A month later, the Octagon made another space wormhole jump.

This time, David was notified in advance, so he went to the observation room to look.

He saw that the Octagon seemed to have suddenly entered another dimension. It was pitch black, and even the stars in the sky disappeared.

The whole process lasted about three hours before everything went back to normal.

David felt that this was amazing.

Are we entering another dimension while doing this space wormhole jump?

‘Could it be that another spatial dimension is closer than this?’

David was puzzled, but he did not ask too much. A month passed again, and the Octagon made another space wormhole jump.

Since then, David had been away from Earth for three months.

They were also getting closer and closer to the center of the Milky Way.

Not long after they came out of the space wormhole, David suddenly noticed a glowing object approaching the observation room.

‘Is that...

‘A spaceship?’

‘We actually encountered a spaceship?’

David was excited.

‘Are we finally reaching the heart of the Milky Way galaxy?’

‘After more than two months away from Earth, I finally met someone else.’

However, before David could feel excited, he found that there were more than a dozen black-horned ships waiting behind the spaceship on the opposite side.

Furthermore, these flying vessels were constantly attacking the spaceship in front of them. Countless energy cannons struck the spaceship.

Although it failed to penetrate the defense of the spaceship, it could not escape the damage either. The two sides chased and ran from each other, slowly approaching David and the Octagon. ‘What’s going on?’

‘Is this an interstellar war?’

At this point, David's communication device lit up. "What's the matter?" David asked after he answered.

"Master, the spaceship in front is trying to contact us. Do you want to accept?" The Octagon's commander asked.

David could guess what the other party wanted to do.

They were most likely trying to ask for help. He did not want to pay attention to it, but he remembered that he was new here, so it would be nice to get to know some locals.

'It will be more convenient to carry out my plan then, right?'

So, David said, "Accept the call. See what the other person has to say."

"Yes, Master!"
