"Thank you for your help!" Mia said happily.

"B*stard, you are asking for death!" The space pirate roared,

They had just lost the prize that had been in the palm of thir hand, so how would they not feel mad?

When they thought about how they would need to face the wrath of their boss if they failed the mission, the space pirates, who were used to living on the edge, shuddered uncontrollably.

They did not meet Mia by chance. Instead, they were ordered by someone powerful to come to capture Mia.

They were bluffing when they said they wanted Mia to serve them for a hundred years.

How would they get a turn on Mia, one of the four fairies?

If they did that, they would have no way to survive , no matter where they were in the Milky Way, even if Mia did not have a powerful force supporting her.

It was because there were too many powerful people who admired Mia.

Others aside, they already could not even afford to offend the person who gave them the order.

One word from him could easily decide their fate.

V

Death might be their best outcome unless they escaped to the very edge of the Milky Way and never returned.

They would likely be imprisoned forever and suffer a fate worse than death.

The Octagon's hatch opened, and Mia's spaceship quickly went inside.

They would be safe as long as they entered the Octagon.

However, the space pirates did not want to give them this chance.

The dozens of black-horned ships stopped attacking and changed formations.

Now, they were arranged in a half-circle.

At the same time, all of the black-horned ships gathered their energies and focused them at the center of the half circle.

This strike would clearly be more powerful than each of them attacking individually.

O

“Miss Mia, we detected a large energy gathering behind us. We won’t be able to resist it if we’re hit. What should we do?”

“Increase the speed. As long as we’re inside the Octagon, we’ll be safe,” Mia said with a frown.

She was also very nervous.

At this time, the Octagon’s eight comers also began gathering energy

Mia’s spaceship was about to enter the Octagon’s cabin just as the two sides were about to make contact.

Then, the energy gathered by more than a dozen black horned ships behind them finally launched.

Bang!

“Miss Mia!” Ms. Kane exclaimed.

The hearts of the people in the spaceship all leaped to their throats.

They were within reach of the Octagon’s open cabin, but if they were attacked from behind, their entire spaceship would disintegrate instantly, and there would be no chance to escape.

Except for Mia, a beginner Stellar Ranker, none of the others could survive this powerful attack.

Mia would also be severely injured.

The energy gathered by more than a dozen black-horned ships was no joke.

This blow would be at Stellar Rank, so it would also be a little hard for the Octagon to resist if it was hit.

Woosh!

The energy cannons gathered by the black – horned ships passed by the spaceship and blasted directly at the Octagon, where David was.

These space pirates never meant to attack Mia's spaceship in the first place.

Otherwise, they would not have bothered trying to capture her. Why waste so much time dilly-dallying?

The order they received was to capture Mia alive and well.

She could not be seriously injured. Otherwise, they would not be able to explain themselves.

As they faced this blow that would pierce the Octagon's defenses, David and the others did not cower. On the contrary, they emitted the energy gathered by the eight corners.

Boom!

The energy both sides gathered collided with each other.

The huge shockwave blew away Mia's spaceship. However, because the ship was not hit directly, the shockwave only broke through its defenses and did not hurt Mia and the others inside.

"Go! The spaceship is about to explode. Get out of here right now!"

After Mia finished speaking, she left the spaceship and escaped first.

The others followed Mia out of the spaceship too.

Whether a commercial spaceship or a military flying vessel, there would be an explosion as soon as the defense was breached.

Mia fled to the void with her team of a dozen people.

Boom!

The spaceship turned to ashes with a loud bang after they had just escaped. Without the protection of their spaceship, Mia and the others were exposed to everyone's gaze. There was not a single man in the team of dozens of people, they were all gorgeous women. Whether they were old or young, they were all at least nines.

At the same time , Mia stood out among these beauties and shone like a pearl.

It was also the first time David saw a woman with such a top-notch temperament, appearance, and figure. Among the people he knew, perhaps only Selena would be able to compete with Mia in the future because right now, not even Selena could compare to her.

As for the group of space pirates in the distance, they started salivating when they saw Mia.

Unfortunately for them, Mia was not someone they could vie for.

However, even if they could not get their hands on Mia, it would be nice to have those beauties around her.

Those people were also stunning.

Of course, the first thing they needed to get rid of now was the Octagon in front of them.

If they could get rid of David and the others, the beauties in front of them would be theirs.

More than a dozen black-horned ships were parked not far away.

They continued gathering energy as they could not give the Octagon a chance to disperse them.

The black-horned ships were already a notch below the Octagon.

If they were spread out, separate attacks from the black hored ships would never be able to break the Octagon's defenses.

Only by gathering their energy would they be able to breach the Octagon's defense.

The Octagon's control room.

The commander was preparing to continue gathering enery to resist the attack when he heard David's voice.

"Open the hatch. I'll go out to deal with them. We should leave quickly after I'm done. I still have a lot of things to do next, and I don't want to waste my time with them."

"Yes, Master David," the commander replied respectfully.

More than a dozen black-horned ships continued to gather energy, but the Octagon was unresponsive.

Mia and others standing in the void were puzzled.

The energy gathered by more than a dozen black-horned ships was clearly capable of breaking the Octagon's defenses.

If they did not want to be attacked, then the only way was to confront each other head-on like just now and see who would run out of energy first.

'Could it be that the Octagon had already run out of energy?' Mia wondered.

This was quite possible.

After all, the Octagon just came back from the outskirts, which must have been a long journey.

Therefore, it was not impossible for them to have run out of energy.

If so, they would be doomed.

The space pirates were very excited at this time.

"The Octagon ran out of energy.

'Haha! Even God is helping us!'

Once they dealt with the Octagon, Mia and the others would not be able to escape from them.

After they complete the task, they could also get huge benefits. Furthermore, there were also dozens of beauties waiting for them to enjoy.

They did not care if they would offend any major forces if they killed someone like David.

Who among them did not have someone backing them?

If they did not have a backer, would they dare to stop Mia?

As long as they could bring Mia back to their employer unharmed, they would not need to worry about the rest because someone would settle it for them.

At this moment, they had almost finished gathering the energy.

Mia and others were disappointed.

They saw a glimmer of hope and thought they would be rescued.

As a result, they unexpectedly implicated the other party.

This made Mia feel a little uneasy.

“If you let them go, I’ll go with you willingly. I know you were ordered by someone to come to capture me alive. If you don’t agree, I’ll kill myself right now in front of you so that you won’t be able explain yourselves to your employer when you go back,” Mia cried.

After she finished speaking, she produced a delicate dagger and placed it on her neck.

“Miss Mia, no!” Ms. Kane and others said nervously next to her.

The space pirates heard what Mia said, and for a moment, they were hesitant.

A beefy man with a chubby face and a height of at least two meters was sitting in one of the black-horned ships.

He was the leader of this group of space pirates, and of course, Mia’s words reached him.

“What should we do, Boss?” asked a shifty-eyed small man next to him.

‘What do you think we can do? Hurry up and stop the attack! If Mia really commits suicide and angers the big shot, all of us will die!’ The beefy man growled.

“Yes, Boss!”

Then, he notified the space pirates in the other black horned ships to stop gathering energy.

Just as I thought!‘.

Mia’s hypothesis was confirmed when she saw that the space pirates had stopped energy gathering.

These space pirates did not run into her by chance, but instead, they received an order from someone to capture her.

'But who ordered them?'

Mia could not guess for now.

As far as she knew, too many people had this idea, but it was hard to say who would actually take action.

At this moment, the Octagon's hatch opened, and David stepped out.

As soon as he came out, he immediately attracted the attention of Mia and the space pirates in the distance.

After all, he was the owner of the Octagon. Therefore, he would not be an unknown figure in the Milky Way.

The Octagon was not quite as good as the Milky Way Battleship, but it was not something that ordinary forces could possess.

David looked young, so he must be the direct descendant of some major power. "Sir, you should leave now! I shouldn't have asked you for help. I didn't expect that this would end up hurting you," Mia said to David guiltily.

She genuinely did not expect the Octagon to run out of energy.

Otherwise, she would not have asked David for help at all.

"Haha! Kid, are you trying to use your family to intimidate us so that we'll let you go? Listen to me, it's useless. Us men have been traversing this sea of stars for many years, and we live on the edge daily. We have seen it all. You won't be able to escape even if you say that you are from the Milky Way Empire's royal family."

The voice of the space pirates' boss came from one of the black-horned ships.

However, he was just bluffing.

He dared to say that because people from the Milky Way Empire's royal family would never ride in the Octagon.

They would travel using vehicles specially engraved with the royal coat of arms.

If David were truly royalty, these space pirates would be so scared that they would kneel and beg for mercy.

Even the big shot behind them had to bow down to the Milky Way Empire's royal family, the power that dominated the entire galaxy.

"I said let them go, or I will kill myself in front of you immediately! If I die, it'll be hard for you to explain to the person who ordered you to do this no matter who they are," Mia said with a beautiful frown.

"You..." the beefy man was at a loss for words.

He really could not let Mia die.

However, they did not want to let the Octagon go either.

What space pirates did was kill and loot.

It was rare for them to encounter an Octagon that had exhausted their energy, so how would they let it leave just like that?

Opportunities like this would not come by often.

An Octagon was worth more than a dozen modified black horned ships.

"Fine, I can let them go, but you have to leave the Octagon behind and fly back by yourself. Otherwise, don't even think about leaving," the beefy man thought for a while and said.

"No! It's too dangerous to make them fly back by themselves, and accidents might easily occur," Mia refused instantly.

"No? Mia, stop threatening me with suicide. If you dare to commit suicide, I will make the chicks around you who have been with you for many years suffer a fate worse than death. I will make them regret living in this world and following you. You better think this through," the beefy man snarled.

"You..." Now it was Mia's turn to be speechless.

She blushed, not knowing what to do.

“Miss Mia, we are not afraid. We’ll just die together at worst,” Ms. Kane said beside her.

“Yes, Miss Mia, worse comes to worst, we’ll just die together,” the others chimed in.

Mia fell silent as she looked at the women who had been with her for many years.

David heard every word they said.

To be frank, he did not expect Mia to ask space pirates to let them go.

Mia could be regarded as honest and grateful for saying something like that.

In this case, it would not be a waste of time, even if David took some time to save her.

“Are you space pirates?” David asked suddenly.

“That’s right! We are space pirates that make others terror–stricken at the mere mention of our name. If you’re smart, hand us the Octagon immediately, and we’ll spare your life for the sake of the Dance Fairy. Otherwise, don’t blame us for being merciless,” the beefy man threatened.

“I heard that space pirates specialize in killing and stealing. I think you have done enough bad things throughout all these years, right? Aren’t you afraid of retribution?” David asked again.

“Hahaha!”

Laughter erupted at the scene.

There were at least hundreds of people on the dozens of black–horned ships.

This was a pretty big space pirate gang.

None of them were weak.

“Say, are you stupid? Retribution? What’s that? We have traversed this sea of stars for decades, and we’ve robbed and killed countless people and ships that have passed through. The people who died under by hands could form a mountain. Where’s the retribution you mentioned? Why don’t I see it?” The beefy man said sarcastically.

“I am your retribution. Since you’ve encountered me today, I will not allow you to continue harming others.”

After David said this, there was immediately another round of laughter.

“You? The Octagon without energy is like a tiger without teeth, yet you’re saying something insane like you’ll take action against us and not give us a chance to continue harming others? Who do you think you are?” The beefy man said mockingly.

Even Mia and others felt that David was just boasting.

David stopped speaking.

Since he had confirmed that the other party were space pirates with blood on their hands, he did not have to say anything more.

He should just quickly resolve this and leave.

Boom!

David immediately exuded the energy of a partial Cosmos Ranker.

The sky trembled from this huge burst of energy.

Before everyone could recover from the shock, David appeared before the more than a dozen black-horned ships.

Immediately after...

Boom boom boom boom boom!

More than a dozen black-horned ships exploded one after another in the void like fireworks.

Mia and the others only came back to their senses when the shockwave of the black-horned ship explosion reached them.

At this time, David had returned to the Octagon’s hatch and stepped inside.

As for the hundreds of space pirates, they were all wiped out instantly, leaving no survivors.

Those people were nothing in front of David, a partial Cosmos Ranker.

Mia and the women behind her stared dumbfounded at the scene in front of them.

It felt just like a dream to them.

The strength of this young man was simply outrageous. They had no way of resisting the energy he had just emitted.

He destroyed more than a dozen black-horned ships in a blink of an eye, and there were several Stellar Rankers in those ships.

Even if those people were not at Cosmos Rank, they were nearly there.

‘What a young partial Cosmos Ranker.’

Even if Mia had seen countless talents in the Milky Way, she had to admit none of them could compare to David.

This was the successor secretly cultivated by a real powerful force.

“You should come in as well,” David said after he stepped into the Octagon.

Mia and the women behind her quickly got into the Octagon as well.

She did not dare to make this man wait for too long.

Mia could basically understand what kind of person David was just by that sentence.

He was young, handsome, powerful, and very righteous.

This was the dream man in her heart.

This encounter was definitely a chance given to her by God.

Therefore, she had to seize this chance.

In the past two years, Mia had also started thinking about herself.

She was not the same as the other three fairies.

She did not have a powerful background, so every step she took would be challenging. Moreover, it was also very dangerous for her.

What happened today was proof of this.

The space pirates would not dare to do this to the three other fairies.

Therefore, Mia also wanted a strong backer.

She had a lot of people pursuing her, and she had narrowed down a lot of candidates.

However, after meeting David today, she immediately disqualified those candidates.

When she compared them with David, a successor that was cultivated by a truly powerful force, those talents were far too inferior.

After Mia and the others entered the Octagon, they were brought into a hall.

David was drinking tea on the main seat.

“Thank you for saving us, Sir!” Mia said respectfully.

“Thank you for saving us, Sir!” The other woman also repeated respectfully after Mia.

“You don’t have to be so humble. I didn’t plan to save you, but you have a pretty good attitude, so I know I’m not wasting my time,” David said as he slowly took a sip of his tea.

“My name is Mia Concord. May I know what your name is, Sir?” Mia asked.

She was not embarrassed by what David said at all.

As a public figure in the Milky Way without a powerful background, Mia had seen a lot of things. Hence, she was already used to such people purposely making things difficult for her, so David’s words were nothing

“My name is David Lidell.”

“I see, Master David.”
