“Roger!”

After receiving the news, the main tower would analyze the importance of this piece of information and convey the pieces of information that Lord Burke attached importance to back to him.

Dance Fairy Mia was arriving on Planet Boundless, which was obviously news that Burke took very seriously.

Everyone in Planet Boundless knew Lord Burke fancied Mia a lot.

He even publicly announced that he would invite the Dance Fairy to dance for him during this realm breakthrough.

Therefore, the main tower immediately conveyed this news to Burke.

At this time, Burke was welcoming several important guests.

“Welcome to Master Fergus. I didn't expect you to come. This is such an honor, your presence brings light to my humble dwelling. Come, let me dedicate this toast to you.” Burke raised his glass and said to an imposing man sitting opposite him.

After speaking, he finished the wine from the glass.

“Burke, I didn't come to congratulate you, I came to see the Dance Fairy. Who asked you to invite her?” Fergus also raised his glass and finished his drink.

“Haha, likewise! It's fine that you are here, but I also like the Dance Fairy a lot. I am willing to pay anything if there is a chance for me to sleep with her. Hahaha!” Burke said with a guffaw.

When Fergus heard that, his eyes turned icy. However, he did not show it. Instead, he still continued chatting with everyone.

Although Burke was the main figure on Planet Boundless, Fergus held the highest status among them.

Many people wanted to flatter him.

“Burke, the banquet is in a few days. When is the Dance Fairy arriving? It’s been almost a year since the last time I watched her perform. Her dance is still holds a deep impression in my head until now, it’s so unforgettable,” a fat man said.

“Yeah! Burke, don’t let her stand you up. You’ve already announced it to the world, and if she doesn’t show up, you’ll embarrass yourself in front of everyone. That won’t be fun,” another wretched-looking man said.

“She wouldn’t dare! Since she agreed, I will destroy her ancestral grave if she dares not to come and make her the sinner of the Concord family. Then, I will make her kneel obediently in front of me and beg me to f*ck her,” Burke said with a baleful look on his face. The people sitting there could only smile when they heard that.

‘Say, if the Dance Fairy does stand Burke up, Burke will be the laughing stock of everyone in the world.

‘If that happens, he might really do something like this.

‘This idiot values his prestige more than anything in the world.’

“Burke, can you speak properly? The Dance Fairy belongs to everyone. Stop saying you want to sleep with her or f* ck her so casually. Are you not scared that you’ll be attacked if you do that? You only just broke through to Universe Realm. Do you seriously think you’re invincible?” Fergus said slowly. He did not like crude people like Burke.

However, Burke’s father was someone well renowned in the Milky Way Empire’s military.

If it were not for his father, who would care if Burke broke through to Universe Realm?

“What’s there to be scared of? Master Fergus, I call you that because I respect you. However, you’re currently on Planet Boundless, so don’t try to undermine me here,” Burke said, feeling dissatisfied.

He felt uncomfortable that Fergus would say that in front of so many people.

“Come, let’s drink and celebrate Burke breaking through to Universe Realm. From now on, he’s also an intimidating character. At the same time, let’s toast Master Fergus. It’s not easy to have a drink with him, so we should appreciate this chance,” someone said, attempting to smooth things over.

The others at the scene raised their glasses.

They could not afford to offend these two people.

On the one hand, Fergus was from the Callisto family, the second among the eight prominent families in the Milky Way Empire.

On the other hand was Burke. His father was Ramos, the Milky Way Empire's military general. His power and status were exceptional.

If those two fought, then the others would suffer the aftermath.

With someone smoothing things over, Fergus and Burke did not continue fighting each other.

Although the two looked down on each other, neither wanted to offend the other.

Fergus looked down on Burke because he was crude.

Burke did not know anything about elegance and grace. Moreover, he also did not understand the Dance Fairy's dance. He just figured that since Mia was beautiful and was sought after by countless people, he wanted to dominate her because he was sensitive about losing prestige.

In truth, Burke did not like Fergus very much. He felt Fergus was too cunning, and he was not upright. Moreover, Burke thought that he was two-faced.

Burke grew up in the army with his father and inherited his father's character.

He was straightforward and did not like beating around the bush.

Of course, he also inherited his father's brutal character.

However, both Burke and Fergus were well-respected figures in the Milky Way galaxy, they were still reputable.

Everyone drank and started talking and laughing again. Fergus was the direct descendant of the Callisto family, the second-ranked family among the eight prominent families.

There was even a chance for him to take over the Callisto family in the future, so he was the person with the highest status at the scene.

Therefore, Burke was far inferior to Fergus in every way.

However, his father, Ramos, was a core figure in the Milky Way Empire's military. With the powerful Milky Way Empire backing him, Burke's status also increased because of this.

Everyone at the scene orbited around the two and continuously toasted to them.

Burke did not actually invite Fergus to this banquet.

Since the two were not in the same circle, Fergus would not come even if Burke invited him.

Burke was very proud of his reputation, so he would not do something that would embarrass him.

Furthermore, everyone knew why Fergus was here.

He was definitely here for Dance Fairy Mia. Everyone knew that Fergus was the Dance Fairy's loyal audience member.

At this moment...

Knock knock knock!

Someone knocked on the door.

"Who's that? Don't you know I'm entertaining my guests now? Get lost immediately!" Burke barked. Since he had a small conflict with Fergus just now, he was very pissed right now. "Lord Burke, I have something to tell you," the person outside the door said respectfully.

"Spit it out!"

"We just got news from the patrol team, and they said Dance Fairy Mia is outside Planet Boundless now. She'll land in about two hours." "Oh? The Dance Fairy is here? Haha! I got it. You should go now," Burke said with a smile.

Mia's arrival instantly put him in a better mood.

Fergus also heard what the person outside the door said.

Indeed, just as Heathcliffe said, those had guys failed.

Even though Mia was a little late, she still arrived on Planet Boundless.

However, Fergus did not know if she came by herself or with her savior.

'If she's here with her savior...' An intense murderous intent overflowed from Fergus' eyes.

He had been preparing for this plan for a long time. He thought he would definitely succeed, but he didn't expect something like this to happen.

If he succeeded, he could imprison Mia in secret without anyone knowing. He would make her his exclusive sex slave forever.

He had this crazy idea because as the third heir among the direct descendants of the Callisto family, he could not marry a woman with no background like Mia.

He had to choose a woman who could help him fight for the position of the family's head.

Recently, his mother arranged for him to marry the daughter of a minister of the Milky Way Empire so that he would be more competitive in the fight for the position as future head of the Callisto family.

The minister had a lot of authority in the Milky Way Empire, so it was hard for Fergus to refuse this.

Plus, he had liked Mia for so long, so he could not give up, nor could he accept her ending up in the arms of another man. Therefore, he chose to do this.

"See? I told you that the Dance Fairy wouldn't dare to stand me up, and you didn't believe me. Now that the facts are in front of you, you have nothing to say, right? Haha!" Burke said with a laugh.

He felt proud that Mia would come to congratulate him.

At least, she managed to attract Fergus and made the banquet classier.

"Burke, I was short-sighted. I'll down three shots as an apology to you." The man who just said that Mia would not come stood up and said. Then, he directly downed three shots. Another stood up and said, "Burke, I will also drink three shots for the inappropriate remarks I just made."

“The two of you don’t have to do this. You are all my guests. I am thrilled that you are willing to come to Planet Boundless. If you need anything in the future, just tell me, and I will do my best to help you.”

“Come, let’s all toast Burke again. Let’s hope Burke will work hard and overtake Lord Ramos with a burst of energy!”

“Cheers!”

“Boys, you’re too kind. Since everyone is so happy, we’ll go meet the Dance Fairy together later, and ask her to dance for us as celebration.” “Of course! The Dance Fairy’s dance and this wine will make people feel physically and mentally pleased.” The group continued to drink happily. However, Fergus was feeling a little depressed inside.

If the plan were successful, he would not be drinking with these crudes.

He would be admiring Mia’s wonderful dance and figure by himself.

After that, he would help the Concord family and stop Burke from taking action against them.

This would improve his public reputation, and then he could blackmail Mia into submitting to him so he could have his way with her.

‘What a perfect plan.’

The more Fergus thought about this, the more pissed he felt.

He drank a few glasses of wine.

When Burke saw Fergus drinking like that, he felt pleased.

He thought Fergus was giving him a show of respect. However, he did not know what Fergus was thinking.

Not everyone could sit and drink with Fergus, let alone make him drink so much.

Once Fergus became the head of the Callisto family, he would be one of the prominent figures in the Milky Way Empire.

Even Burke’s father, Ramos, would have to give way to Fergus.

Although Burke looked down on Fergus, he was not stupid.

It would be useful for him to build a good relationship with someone like that in the future.

“Master Fergus, I don’t care why you came to Planet Boundless. However, since you’re here, you’re my guest. As the host, I will give you a toast,” Burke said after lifting his glass.

Fergus felt dejected, and he did not want to waste his breath. Hence, he lifted his glass and downed the contents of it.

“Haha! Wonderful! Fergus, you son of a gun!”

After Burke said that, he also downed the contents of his glass.

Then, the scene became harmonious. Everyone continued drinking. Soon, they began heading to the location where Mia would land after Burke showed them the way.

They were ready to welcome the Dance Fairy, one of the four fairies in the Milky Way.

Then, they would ask her to dance for everyone here.

Mia had no idea that so many people were waiting for her on Planet Boundless. She also had no idea that Master Fergus from the Callisto family was here.

Led by Planet Boundless ‘ patrolling vessel, the Octagon descended on a massive platform on Planet Boundless.

After landing, David and Mia were the first to walk out of the Octagon, while the others followed behind them.

David was not at all worried that Pavan’s people would talk nonsense as they all understood that their life and death were in David’s hands.

They would die on the spot if David activated his mind power.

As soon as the two got off the Octagon, someone immediately greeted them. “Dance Fairy, hello! Lord Burke is already waiting for you not far ahead.”

“Please lead the way!” Mia said.

“Please follow me.” As soon as the two walked off the platform and walked through a corridor , they saw more than a dozen people waiting not far away.

Mia scanned the crowd.

‘Fergus? Why is he here?’

He was one of many who pursued her and was also one of several suitable backers that she determined.

She figured she might spend the rest of her life with this person.

Of course, that was before.

Right now, Mia just wanted to follow David.

Although Fergus had a solid background, Mia had a feeling that he was not as modest and gentlemanly as he appeared on the surface. She always had an indescribable feeling of depression when she was with him.

However, she did not feel that way with David.

Mia trusted her intuition, so from the bottom of her heart, she preferred to be with David.

At this time, Fergus, Burke, and others also spotted Mia.

However, when they saw David beside her, they all felt doubtful.

‘Why did this man come out with Mia?’

‘Everyone knows that Mia only has women around her.’

‘Why is there a man?’

“Haha! Welcome , Dance Fairy. This is such an honor!” Burke guffawed and greeted.

At the same time, he reached out his rough hand and was about to hold Mia’s hand. He wanted to see what her smooth small hand felt like.

However, Mia did not take his hand. Instead, she placed her hands on her stomach and curtsied. “Lord Burke, it’s a pleasure to meet you.”

Burke had reached out his large hand, but he did not hold Mia’s hand.

This made him feel a little awkward.

As he was frowning and was about to blow up, Fergus took a step forward and said, "Long time no see, Mia." "Hello, Master Fergus," Mia said as she curtsied at Fergus.

"Mia, you don't have to be so humble with me. Who is this next to you?" Fergus asked as he looked at David.

"This is Master David. If it wasn't for him, I might not make it to Planet Boundless to see you all."

Fergus felt his heart skip a beat.

Immediately, infinite anger started rising in his chest. The murderous intent in his heart was overflowing, and he almost could not stop himself from killing David on the spot.

'It's all this b*stard's fault! If it weren't for him, Mia would be mine now!' However, Fergus was the third direct descendant of the Callisto family, so he was astute. He managed to control his emotions in just a blink of an eye. However, David managed to detect them using his mind power.

David tilted his head to look at Fergus.

The murderous intent he sensed just now came from this person.

Even though it was subtle and the person managed to keep it under control, it still could not escape from David's mind power.
