Chapter 1009 Astrid followed the gaze of her maid Emerald, A palm – sized, colorful butterfly was resting on a flower not faraway.

“Yeah! It’s lovely! It’s not inferior to the Phoenix Butterfly on Planet Royal.

This planet has the best scenery I’ve ever seen,” Astrid said happily.

“Your Royal Highness, if you want to, you can ask the emperor to send someone to move this planet near Planet Royal so you can visit it often,” the older maid suggested.

“No. Doing so will definitely scare the people and animals on this planet.

I can’t destroy their original lives because of my selfishness,” Astrid refused.

“Your Royal Highness, you’re as benevolent as the empress.

You’re always considerate of others,” the older maid sighed.

Y

“Ms.Madrigal, this is not benevolence. In the vast universe, every creature has a reason to exist, even a tree or a blade of grass. We should not change them simply because we’re more powerful than them. It’s unfair to them,” Astrid said leisurely.

“You’re right, Your Royal Highness,” Ms.Madrigal replied.

Even though she said that, she did not feel the same in her heart.

Humans were one of the most powerful races in the universe.

Not only did they have extremely high talents, but their reproductive ability, learning ability, and adaptability were the best among the other countless races.

Therefore, how could they be compared to those flowers and trees that could only stay rooted in one place in their lives?

Humans would be superioreven if compared with galaxy beasts.

'Whatever.'

Ms.Madrigal had no right to argue, so she only disagreed internally.

At this time, a wasp the size of a fist suddenly appeared beside the butterfly and bit it.

Astrid waved her hand lightly, swatting the wasp away without hurting it.

The butterfly was frightened and flew away in a panic.

The wasp, however, seemed provoked.

Buzz! It let out a screeching sound, and soon, it got a response.

Buzz! Countless wasps appeared beside it, exposing their several centimeters -long stingers before stabbing Astrid.

"You beasts, do you want to die?" Ms.Madrigal shouted and was about to take action.

However, Astrid stopped her.

"Ms.Madrigal, stop, don't hurt them!" After she said that, she waved her hands and swatted the wasps away.

Astrid's body floated, and Ms.Madrigal and Emerald followed.

Then, the three quickly disappeared from their spot.

When the wasps shook their heads and returned to their senses.

They could no longer find their targets.

Ms.Madrigal followed behind Astrid.

She figured that the princess was lucky to be a woman.

If she were a man, she would be devoured by the other princes without leaving any traces behind.

The three had been on this planet for several days, and they had been almost everywhere.

This was also the planet they had been on for the longest time.

Soon, they came to the top of a tree nearly a thousand meters high.

“Ms.Madrigal, where are we going next?” Astrid asked.

“Your Royal Highness, we can go to Planet Boundless in Boundless Region next.

There will be a huge banquet there in a few days.

According to the organizer, Dance Fairy Mia will also be dancing at the banquet.”

“Really? Let’s go to Planet Boundless then! Even though I’ve watched the Dance Fairy on theInternet, I have never seen her in person.

It’ll be nice to join in the fun.

“When are we leaving?”

“Let’s leave now.We’ve seen almost every spot on this planet, and I wonder if I’ll have another chance to come back next time.”

“You will.” After the older maid said that, she threw a round-shaped object casually.

After it stopped in the air, it expanded immediately.

A few seconds later, it turned into a small spaceship.

The ship started after the three got in and headed toward Planet Boundless.

Chapter 1010 Shortly after Princess Astrid and the others left, a flying vessel arrived and stopped in the void beyond the planet.

The vessel’s cabin door opened, and more than a dozen people in black robes disembarked and stood in thevoid.

“Come out! Palace guards, I know you are here,” said the black-robed man in the lead.

At this time, the space ahead shook for a while.

A man wearing a white mask with the word ‘Empire’ embroidered on his clothes appeared in front of the man in the black robe.

This was the palace guard that terrified countless forces.

“Sangruil Sinners,” said the man in a deep voice after he showed himself.

“Long time no see, palace guard.

I’m glad you still remember us.

All of you should come out now! I know that there will be a team of eight whenever you palace guards are dispatched.” After the black-robed man said that, the space in the seven other directions around the white-masked man trembled simultaneously.

Seven men with black masks appeared.

Eight palace guards surrounded the black-robed man from eight directions.

One of them wore a white mask while the other seven wore black masks.’ The masked white man was also the captain of the palace guards.

All of the palace guards had to listen to him while carrying out missions outside.

“What are you doing here?” The captain asked.

“Tsk tsk! You know why and yet you’re still asking me.

The one who just left is Princess Astrid, the most favored child of the Milky Way Empire’s emperor, right? If she falls into our hands and gets pregnant with a Sangruil child, do you think your emperor will die from a heart attack?” The black-robed man asked in a

The one who just left is Princess Astrid, the most favored child of the Milky Way Empire’s emperor, right? If she falls into our hands and gets pregnant with a Sangruil child, do you think your emperor will die from a heart attack?” The black-robed man asked in a cold voice.

Although he was laughing, his laughter would make anyone shudder.

“You must be dreaming! You Sangruil Sinners will never succeed as long as we are here!” “Really? Let’s wait and see! We left for hundreds of years not because we were afraid of you, but because we needed to take care of something.

Now that we are back, the Milky Way Empire will never have a day of peace from today onward.

Princess Astrid will be a great gift to our emperor after Sangruil returns to its glory.” The captain’s eyes narrowed.

He knew everything was pointing to disaster today, so he yelled, “Go!”

The eight people focused at the same time, and their bodies were instantly covered tightly with suits of armor.

The palace guards were called the palace guards because they had armor made by the palace using unique metals coming from the starry sky.

The armor’s attack and defense were super strong and could shred a Milky Way Battleship into pieces.

However, even if their armor was strong, the requirements for its user were also very high.

Not only did they have to undergo special training, but their strength had to at least reach Cosmos Rank to use the full power of the armor.

It was no exaggeration to say that the value of this armor set was even higher than that of a Milky Way Battleship.

“Eight Locks Formation!” The captain shouted again.

Eight palace guards stretched out their right hands simultaneously, and a light screen spread out from their hands.

The guards were instantly connected to form a cage, trapping more than a dozen Sangruil Sinners in it.

The Eight Locks Formation was a super trap formation jointly displayed by the palace guards, and it could trap a partial Celestial Ranker.

Only a beginner Celestial Ranker could break this formation.

The whole process was completed in just a few breaths.

It was unknown if these Sangruil Sinners did not have time to react or if they did not pay attention to the palace guards at all.

They remained motionless from beginning to end, allowing the palace guards to carry out the Eight Locks Formation.

“Is this what you palace guards are capable of? To be honest, I’m very disappointed.

It’s been hundreds of years, and I didn’t expect you to not make any progress at all.

If your emperor’s trap didn’t kill our king, Sangruil would be ruling the galaxy now,” the black-robed man in the lead shook his head and said disappointedly.

“Are all Sangruil Sinners chatterboxes like you? If that’s the case, you didn’t lose in vain back then,” The captain sarcastically said.

“Really? Then I will use the blood of you palace guards to welcome the return of Sangruil.” After the black-robed man in the lead finished speaking, his body suddenly appeared in front of the captain.

‘What great speed! The captain of the palace guards was shocked.

The two were only separated by a light screen at this time.

Chapter 1011

Chapter 1011 However, this light screen could only withstand the attack of a partial Celestial Ranker.

The man in the black robe then stretched out his right hand and touched the right hand held out by the captain to channel the light screen.

“What?” The captain narrowed his eyes, and his face under the armor showed unparalleled shock.

The opponent’s hand was a claw covered with scales.

Crack! Then, the black-robed man’s scaly claw pierced through the light screen, grabbed the captain’s hand, and broke his wrist.

“Hiss!” The captain’s eyes widened, his face full of shock and disbelief.

How can he break the Eight Locks Formation so easily?’

Ignoring the pain in my hand, the captain produced a lightsaber from his left hand.

He slashed at the black-robed man's claw.

However, before he could chop it, another claw caught his lightsaber.

Immediately afterward, the black-robed man rushed forward and smashed into the captain.

Even if the armor protected the captain and managed to absorb more than 90% of the power, he could still feel a sharp pain in his internal organs.

Before the captain could return to his senses, he felt another sharp pain in his arm again.

His entire right arm was torn off.

When the captain saw the black-robed man focusing on his other arm, he bit through the only Blood-Burning Potion in his mouth and swallowed it.

The same went for the other seven.

They had been watching what was going on.

These Sangruil Sinners were clearly prepared, so they could only buy some time for Princess Astrid with their lives.

After swallowing the Blood -Burning Potion, the energy of the eight palace guards skyrocketed at the same time.

The captain also took this opportunity to escape the control of the black-robed man.

"Let's fight with our lives! The emperor will avenge us!"

At the same time, the eight people exuded their maximum combat power and charged toward the Sangruil Sinners.

Ms. Madrigal suddenly felt her communication device vibrating on the small spaceship Princess Astrid was on.

She quickly made up an excuse to leave.

Then, she went to her room, closed the door, and answered the communication device.

There was no image, but instead, she heard a deep voice.

“Where are you all? Where is Astrid?” When Ms.Madrigal heard this voice, she immediately knelt on the floor and answered respectfully, “Your Majesty, we are heading to Planet Boundless .

Her Royal Highness is safe and sound.” “The palace guards were wiped out, and the Sangruil Sinners are on the way to you.

Immediately abandon the ship and go to Planet Boundless via another route.

Remember, you have to bring Astrid to Planet Boundless safely.

The people providing support are coming.”

Ms.Madrigal shivered.

‘The palace guards were wiped out, and the Sangruil Sinners are after us?’

If the Sangruil Sinners caught up to them, it would be over.

The palace guards were not their opponents, let alone them.

Ms.Madrigal tried to calm herself down and answered,” Yes, Your Majesty!”

Then, she hung up the communication device before getting up shakily.

After she recomposed herself, she opened the door of her room.

A figure appeared in front of her.

“Y-Your Royal Highness!”

“Ms. Madrigal, come with me,” Astrid said calmly.

Chapter 1012 Astrid walked to her room, sat on a chair, and asked, “Ms. Madrigal, you’re hiding something from me, right?”.

“I’m sorry, Your Royal Highness! In truth, when we first came out a year ago, I passed the news back to the palace, and I’ve kept in touch with His Majesty this entire time.

Your whereabouts have always been known to His Majesty.” “I know that.

If Father didn't know my whereabouts, we would have been found and brought back.

I'm not asking about this.

I want to know what you were talking about just now.

You seemed to be talking with my father.” It seemed that the princess already knew about Ms.

Madrigal sending news back.

Therefore, now, there was no need to hide anymore.

Moreover, they needed the princess' cooperation if they wanted to buy time and escape this disaster.

It was impossible to hide this from her anymore.

“Your Royal Highness, we are being watched.

Although the people sent by the emperor are already on their way, it will take sometime for them to arrive.

During this time, we must protect ourselves and not fall into the hands of the enemy.”

“Who's watching us?” Astrid asked suspiciously.

She wondered if anyone would dare to attack her in the core of the Milky Way.

Were they not afraid that their entire family would be exterminated?

“The Sangruil Sinners,” Ms.Madrigal said with a solemn expression.

“The Sangruil Sinners?” Astrid murmured.

‘This name sounds familiar.

I might have seen it in a book.’ Gradually, Astrid remembered.

She had seen this name in the history book of the empire.

The book seemed to say that the empire and Sangruil were the two most prominent forces in the MilkyWay.

The two forces were on the same level, but they were constantly vying to defeat each other to become the only hegemon of the Milky Way.

Later, a war broke out between the two sides, and the winner was only decided after over a thousand years.

Eventually, it was clear that the empire won.

“You mean Sangruil that was defeated by the empire after a thousand years of war?” Astrid asked.

“Exactly.” “Weren’t they eliminated hundreds of years ago?” “They should be in hiding, since they weren’t completely eliminated.”

This is the first time they had shown up after hundreds of years.

I’m sure they want to capture you to threaten His Majesty.

If this happens, His Majesty will be in a difficult situation.”

“They want to capture me to threaten Father?”

At this moment, Astrid started to feel panicked.

As the emperor’s only daughter, she knew how much the emperor doted on her.

She would not let the Sangruil Sinners catch her even if she had to kill herself to escape this fate.

“What did Father say to you? What did he ask us to do?”

“The Sangruil Sinners killed all the palace guards that His Majesty sent to keep an eye on us secretly.

Those people are very powerful, and they’re on their way here.

His Majesty asked us to abandon the ship and take another route to Planet Boundless.

The people coming to our rescue will head straight to Planet Boundless too.”

“Let’s not waste any time then.

We should do what Father says right now,” Astrid said after standing up.

They clearly came prepared if they could defeat the palace guards.

They had to do what the emperor said as soon as possible.

To Astrid, her father was omnipotent.

Therefore, they would be fine if they did exactly as he said.

The three got off the ship and flew in another direction.

Meanwhile, the spaceship continued to head toward Planet Boundless.

Astrid and the gang's destination was still Planet Boundless.

However, they could not go with the spaceship and needed to take another route.

If the Sangruil Sinners caught up and saw that the ship was empty, their first thought would be definitely to chase them in another direction.

Even if they were discovered, this would at least gave them a chance to buy more time.

They would be safe if they held on until help arrived.

Planet Boundless.

As time went by, the planet became livelier.

All the masters in Boundless Region rushed to Planet Boundless after receiving Burke's invitation.

David was also affected by the liveliness, so he walked out of his residence and started wandering about Planet Boundless.

A few days ago, he could stay in his room to buy information from the Meteor Chamber and get lavish points.

Now, he could not do so anymore.

More often than not, he would only get a dozen lavish points after racking his brains for an entire day.
