Those were just a drop in the bucket for David.

He was now at peak Celestial Rank. Therefore, if he wanted to go onestep further and become a partial Infinity Ranker, he needed to raise his mind power from Cosmos level 10 to Celestial level 10.

However, this would require 1900 lavish points.

Now, David only had more than a hundred points.

The difference was too large.

Hence, he decided to give up and stop wasting time.

When the banquet on Planet Boundless was over, he would go to the heart of the Milky Way with Mia.

There, he would fully display his capabilities.

However, to David's dismay, the banquet seemed to be delayed again.

Now, he had no choice but to wait.

Fortunately, there was no movement from the Tuffin family now, and there was no news of Grandmaster Tuffin coming out of seclusion.

Hence, this gave David a little peace of mind.

Inside Burke's palace on Planet Boundless.

The liveliness outside could not eliminate the coldness inside Burke's heart.

He was shutting himself in his room and refusing to see anyone.

His father had told him about the news of the annihilation of the palace guards.

The Sangruil Sinners would surely win this time.

Even a team of palace guards was not their opponent, and they were instantly killed, so how could Planet Boundless stand against the Sangruil Sinners? Wasn't he courting death if he continued to stay here? However, he did not dare to escape.

Otherwise, there might be a fate more terrifying than death waiting for him if the emperor found out.

Burke gripped his hair with both hands, and he fell into a panic.

He did not dare to run away.

However, if he stayed and the Sangruil Sinners got here before his father, Ramos, he would surely die.

Now, according to the estimated arrival time from both parties, the Sangruil Sinners would surely arrive before his father.

'I'm doomed.' He thought Princess Astrid coming to Boundless Region would give him a chance to enjoy a meteoric rise, but it became a nail in his coffin.

Now, Burke would rather stay on Planet Boundless and spend his days peacefully than gamble his life on this chance.

Since he did not dare to run away now, he could only hope that his father would arrive before the Sangruil Sinners since no one on Planet Boundless could fight the Sangruil Sinners.

Only a Celestial Ranker could eliminate an entire team of palace guards.

A Celestial Ranker! Now, the stronger person on Planet Boundless was the old man next to Fergus.

However, he was surely not a Celestial Ranker.

The Callisto family still had not reached the level where they had power to send a Celestial Ranker to protect their direct descendants.

Everyone on Planet Boundless still had no idea that imminent danger was approaching.

Many masters from Boundless Region were still rushing to Planet Boundless.

Once they arrived and found out why Burke invited them, they would not dare to leave anymore.

If not, their entire family would be eliminated once the emperor looked into this.

This included Fergus.

He would not be spared even if he was the direct descendant of the Callisto family, one of the eight prominent families of the Milky Way Empire.

If Fergus encountered something like this, he could only do his best to protect Princess Astrid.

They would fight and die together.

If Fergus dared to run away, his entire family would be implicated.

If the Milky Way Empire's emperor got mad, he would wipe out your entire family regardless of whether you were one of the eight prominent families.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1014

In a void near Planet Boundless, the spaceship that Astrid had been on was rushing towards Planet Boundless. Suddenly, a flying vessel quickly approached from behind.

In just a moment, the flying vessel passed the spaceship and stopped in front of it

More than a dozen people in black robes got off the ship and stood directly in front of the spaceship, blocking its path.

As the spaceship approached them, a man in a black robe came forward and put his scaly claws on it, directly stopping the spaceship in the void.

Then, another man in a black robe walked to the spaceship's hatch.

He also stretched out a scaly claw, and with a wave, he slid open the hatch easily.

Soon, he entered the ship.

"Damn it!" Not long after, the man in black who entered the spaceship let out a roar.

Boom!

The entire spaceship was shaken to pieces.

The black-robed man stood in the void, emitting a powerful energy.

“What’s the matter? Where are they?” Asked the leading black-robed man.

“Master, the spaceship is empty, and they have already escaped.”

The black-robed man in the lead did not speak.

The atmosphere in the void felt a little heavy.

The other dozen or so people in black robes also dared not breathe.

“They couldn’t have run far.

Each of you should take charge of one direction and chase after them.

No matter what, you must capture the target.

Otherwise, you know the consequences if you fail the mission,” the black robed man in the lead said grimly.

“Yes, Master!” All the people in black robes replied at the same time.

Their voices were trembling.

Obviously, even they could not handle the consequences if the mission failed.

“Spread out!” After the black-robed man in the lead finished saying that, he charged in one direction.

The rest of them dispersed after that as well.

All of them chose different directions, one of which was straight in the direction to Planet Boundless.

At this moment, Princess Astrid and the gang had taken another route and were slowly approaching Planet Boundless.

On Planet Boundless, Burke and Fergus were sitting face to face.

“B-Burke, are you for real?” Fergus asked nervously.

The teacup in his hand was shaking as well.

This could show how anxious he was feeling.

“Yes, Master Fergus.

Do you think I’d dare to joke around when it comes to Princess Astrid?” Burke asked.

“W-What should we do then? If the palace guards can’t defeat them, then what’s the difference between us and cannon fodder?”

“Yeah, we are cannon fodder, but even if we know that, we still can’t run away, and we can only stay here and wait obediently, Burke said with a bitter smile.

“No, I can’t wait for my death here.

Burke, you’re the head of this planet, so you must stay here, but I don’t.

Also, you didn’t invite me, and I came here myself.

If I leave in secret now, no one should know if you don’t say anything.

Burke, please help me.

I’ll give you anything you want.

I can give you all I’m worth.

What do you think?” Fergus asked expectantly.

“Fergus, why would I need that? Can it save my life? Without my life, those things are mere worldly possessions.

Also, Fergus, you have to think clearly.

Princess Astrid is the His Majesty’s most beloved daughter.

If anything happens to her, His Majesty will surely look into this.

Even if I don’t say anything, do you think His Majesty won’t find out? When that happens, you will truly know a fate worse than death.

Even your family will be wiped out, so you better stay and accompany me,” Burke said with a grin.

He had thought it through.

What would happen would happen.

As the head of Planet Boundless, his end had already been determined the moment Princess Astrid came to the Boundless Region.

Fergus had accompanied him here on his own volition, so at least Burke would have this clown accompanying him as he faced his fate.

Burke had not invited Fergus to this banquet. However, Fergus came by himself because Mia would be present.

Now, he might even lose his life.

"W-W-What should I do? What should I do? What should I do?" Fergus asked incoherently.

He was out of his wits, and he felt extremely remorseful.

If he had known this would happen, he would not have come to Planet Boundless for no reason! Wasn't he jumping into hell by himself? Also, the Milky Way was so big, why did Princess Astrid choose to come to the Boundless Region? Could she not go to some other place? 1 Fergus wanted to slap himself so badly.

This was all David's fault.

If he did not save Mia, Fergus would be enjoying Mia's beautiful body right now!

Why would he come to Planet Boundless? Why would he encounter Princess Astrid in distress if he did not come to Planet Boundless? Now, he did not even dare to run away and could only obediently wait for his death here.

It's all his fault! It's him! Fergus wanted to tear David apart, eat his flesh, and drink his blood to relieve the hatred in his heart.

"Fergus, it's not that we don't have any chance.

Everything will be solved if we hold on until my father and his people come.

The Sangruil Sinners will be nothing then," Burke said.

“However, from what you just said, General Ramos and his men will take longer to arrive than the Sangruil Sinners.

What will we do in those few days? Those Sangruil Sinners can kill a team of palace guards, so they at least have a beginner CelestialRanker among them.

We can't defend against them,” Fergus shook his head and said.

“Sigh, you're right.

Those Sangruil Sinners have planned everything in advance.

They didn't show up for hundreds of years, now that they suddenly show up, they must have made a lot of preparations to deal the empire a heavy blow.

Now, we can only pray that a miracle happens.

If not, we'll definitely lose,” Burke sighed, lowering his head.

Fergus went back to his place.

His face was dark, but he was thinking about a solution in his head.

He did not want to die as he still had a bright future.

However, this encounter with Princess Astrid being chased by the Sangruil Sinners felt like an intractable problem.

He could not escape because if the emperor looked into this in the future, his entire family would be implicated.

It would be better to commit suicide than to go against the emperor.

If not, he would suffer a fate worse than death.

The night passed, and Fergus got up from bed dispiritedly.

He thought for an entire night but still could not think of a solution.

He had no choice.

Now that things had come to this, he could only try to protect Princess Astrid.

It would be better to die in battle than be hunted and killed by the emperor and then implicate his whole family.

However, before that, he needed to do two things.

First, David had to die before him.

Also, he could not die so comfortably.

Fergus had to torture him until he died.

Then, he would dominate Mia.

It did not matter if he forced himself on her or not.

It would at least be nice to get what he wanted before he died.

A sinister expression appeared on Fergus' dark face.

Fergus no longer hesitated because he had decided in his heart.

He went straight to David's residence.

As far as he knew, Mia would come here every morning to look for David, but he did not know what the two of them would do together.

Hopefully, David had not taken Mia's virginity.

Otherwise, Fergus would not be able to quell the anger in his heart even if he chopped David into pieces.

It should be impossible since the two only met during the day.

Also, Mia was not that kind of person.

Fergus had expressed interest in Mia over the years.

In the end, Mia pretended not to see it and was always indifferent to him, making him feel restless and confused.

As for the others, Fergus had never heard of any man Mia was close to, while even the people around her were all women.

Therefore, Fergus was sure that she had not slept with David yet.

When Fergus came to David's courtyard, he could hear Mia and David talking and laughing inside.

While he was feeling depressed, he was also a little happy.

He was depressed because Mia and David had only known each other for a short time, yet they were so close.

They had so many things to talk about every day, while Fergus barely had the chance to talk to Mia alone in all those years.

He had never seen Mia so happy in front of him, and it was all his fault.

Fergus would not know how it would feel when a woman was rescued by a man at her most desperate time, but he understood.

He could even feel Mia's inexplicable feelings toward David.

If Fergus knew Mia would fall for this, then he would have created an accident earlier and rescued Mia himself.

'Why waste so much trouble, time, and effort? 'I just ended up helping someone else.' However, what Fergus was slightly happy about was that since the two were talking in the courtyard, it would mean they did not go into David's room.

Mia should still be a virgin if they did not enter David's room.

Fergus figured that he should be the one who took away Mia's virginity and be her first man.

As for David, he would first cripple him.

Then, Fergus would make David watch him dominate Mia.

Eventually, Fergus would kill David then dismember his corpse.

Fergus kicked open the door and entered the courtyard with a malevolent expression.

The Milky Way was not the same as Earth, and they did not have things like corporate companies.

Instead, there were countless big and small chambers of commerce.

David planned to start a chamber of commerce, and he would let Mia manage it.

After all, he had just arrived here and only knew Ma.

Plus, David also had other considerations.

As the four fairies in the Milky Way, Mia knew many people in the upper-class circle of the Milky Way Empire.

By then, David would be able to spend a lot of money quickly.

David never thought about whether she was actually capable of doing so.

As someone who owned the super lavish system, he needed someone who could spend money for him and not make money.

When Mia heard that David was starting a chamber of commerce and he wanted her to manage it, she smiled and agreed on the surface, but she thought David was just joking on the inside.
