

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1026

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1026

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1026

David and Mia were the only ones left in the courtyard.

"Mia, please have a seat inside. I have something to tell you," David invited.

"Alright," Mia replied.

The two entered the living room together and sat down.

David poured Mia a cup of tea. "Mia, I think it's too much trouble to set up a chamber of commerce, so I'm not going to do it for the time being. I need your help with another task, and you must agree to it," David said, taking a sip of tea.

"Master David, please tell me. As long as it's within my power, I will not refuse," Mia replied. Mia did not think David was serious about establishing a chamber of commerce.

Therefore, she was not disappointed now that David said it was too troublesome and he was not ready to do it.

Instead, she had expected this.

After all, this was expensive, time-consuming, and labor intensive. Also, it was necessary to have someone strong watching over it.

"I want to directly buy a chamber of commerce. Can you help me?"

"Pfft! What?"

Mia just took a sip of tea, but she spat it out before she could even swallow it.

She even accidentally sprayed it on David's face.

David did not expect this to happen at all.

Mia had sprayed tea all over his face, and he could even smell a unique fragrance that belonged solely to Mia.

"I-I'm sorry, Master David, I... I'll wipe it off for you."

Mia hurriedly stood up, walked over to David, and wiped the tea from David's face with her cuff.

However, David stopped her quickly.

"It's okay, I'll do it myself," David said.

Then he started to wipe himself.

Mia nervously returned to her seat.

"I'm sorry, Master David, I just couldn't hold myself back," Mia said with a bitter look on her cute face.

"It's fine, but do you need to be so surprised?" David asked with a wry smile.

"Yes! I am really surprised."

"Why?"

"Because you'll need a lot of money if you want to buy a chamber of commerce. Even a small chamber of commerce will cost you an astronomical figure."

"How much does it cost, specifically?"

"I'm not too sure about this. It depends on the size of the chamber of commerce and its business scope. Some of the things that the chamber of commerce operates require a lot of financial support."

"Has there been any buying and selling of chambers of commerce before?"

"Yes, not often, but occasionally. After all, the amount involved is too large, and not everyone can afford it. Also, not everyone is willing to sell."

"How much does it usually cost?"

"Hundreds of billions, or even trillions of Galaxy Dollars. I remember a transfer of the chamber of commerce three years ago. The size was relatively large, and the amount was about three trillion Galaxy Dollars." "Three trillion?"

David's eyes brightened.

He was shaking with excitement.

'If I can f*cking buy one, then I will get 30 thousand lavish points!

'If I have 30 thousand lavish points, then I can directly upgrade to peak Infinity Rank.

'Peak Infinity Rank!

'That's the highest in Universe Realm, and the next step would be the legendary Eternal Realm.

'When I have this power, I can destroy the Tuffin family with a wave of my hand.

'I don't care if you're the grandmaster or not. At that time, who would still dare to target the Earth?'

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1027

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1027

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1027

"Mia, you have more contact with the upper-class in the Milky Way Empire. Can you help me ask if there are any chambers of commerce for sale?" David tried to control his excitement and asked.

"Master David, do you really want to buy a chamber of commerce? Are you kidding me?" Mia asked with a look of surprise.

"Of course, I'm not kidding. As long as someone is selling, I will buy it, no matter the cost," David replied seriously.

"M-Master David, give me some time to absorb this information. This is a bit too much for me, and I need some time," Mia said, a confused look on her face.

David did not press further, and he started sipping his tea slowly.

Even though he had wiped away the tea Mia sprayed on his face, her unique fragrance still lingered.

A minute later...

When Mia saw that David was not joking, she finally slowly accepted the reality.

"Master David, I can help you ask around, but there may not be anyone selling. After all, it is easy to set up a chamber of commerce, but it is challenging to run it well. As long as there are no intractable difficulties, no one will be willing to sell," Mia said after calming down.

“Thank you, Mija. I will still let you manage it if I buy it. I have things I need to take care of and have no time to manage it,” David thanked Mia.

“Master David, you... You can’t do this,” Mia quickly refused.

What a joke! A chamber of commerce would cost hundreds of billions, or even trillions of Galaxy Dollars, and he was going to let her manage it?

Mia was not capable of that.

“Mia, don’t be in a hurry to refuse. Money doesn’t mean much to me. I’m not really interested in these things, but for certain reasons, I have to get some achievements, so... I need you to help me with this. I will be eternally grateful.”

David stood up and bowed to Mia.

He had to bow to her.

Once Mia helped him with the chamber of commerce, it would greatly help him.

Even if he had to bow ten or hundred times to Mia, David would still be willing, let alone once.

Mia quickly went over to stop David.

“Don’t... Master David, please don’t do this. You’re tormenting me. What have I done to be so valued by you?” Mia sobbed. A mid-Cosmos Ranker was bowing to her?

Mia never thought that David would place so much value on her.

Even though she was one of the four fairies in the Milky Way, she was just a performer providing entertainment to those big shots whom she interacted with. Even Fergus was only after her body and wanted to sleep with her, and that was why he was so good to her.

However, David was not the same.

Mia could feel David’s sincerity.

In addition, there was no lust in his eyes.

She felt nice when she was with David, and she also felt safe.

Fergus never gave Mia this feeling, even before the fallout.

“Mia, you don’t have to be so humble. You’re admirable for keeping yourself chaste even after getting to where you are right now with your abilities. You’re much stronger than those children who only know to rely on their family’s power. I value this, so I hope you’ll say yes, Mia,” Mia said.

David felt a blush creeping onto his cheeks when he said that. After all, he was saying this from the bottom of his heart. He wanted Mia to help him with the chamber of commerce.

Mia had been in the upper-class circle of the Milky Way Empire for so long, so she had to have some connections.

If David did it himself, not only would it be time consuming, but no one would also believe him.

He would not get additional lavish points if he gave money out for free. Otherwise, it would be too easy.

As for what he would do after he bought the chamber of commerce , he would not care even if it was abandoned.

He would already get the lavish points, but it would be best if Mia could continue making money for him.

He would not say no to more lavish points.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1028

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1028

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1028

Mia looked at David affectionately.

At this time, she wanted so badly to cry in David’s arms.

After waiting for so many years, she finally met a man who understood her. She had not kept herself chaste for all these years in vain. At this moment, David had completely conquered Mia’s heart.

Mia would also give her body to David without hesitation if he said the word.

David looked at the sincerity in Mia’s eyes.

“There’s something wrong with that look!

'Miss, don't get me wrong.

'I just want you to help me buy a few chambers of commerce and spend a few trillion dollars. It's just a dozen trillion dollars, don't overthink!' David quickly tilted his head and looked away.

This look was all too familiar to him.

Mia was clearly fascinated by his handsome appearance and noble personality.

When the women on Earth occasionally looked at him, they would all display the same appearance.

Mia also came back to her senses at this time and controlled her emotions.

"Master David, since you trust me so much, it'd be a little stupid if I refuse you again. I will definitely try my best to help you manage it well," Mia said with a sniffle.

"Yes, good. But regarding purchasing the chamber of commerce, you should try to hurry up. It's better to start preparing now. The sooner we buy it, the better," David said happily.

"But we haven't resolved the matter with Princess Astrid. The Sangruil Sinners will come soon. We don't even know if we can leave Planet Boundless alive! Isn't it too early to prepare now?"

"Don't worry. Mia, you should go back and ask around. Finalize the purchase, and I guarantee you will leave Planet Boundless safe and sound." "Master David, do you have a way to deal with Sangruil Sinners?" Mia asked in surprise.

"Of course!" David replied confidently. "These Sangruil Sinners can easily kill a team of palace guards, so they at least have the combat power of beginner Celestial Rank. How are you going to deal with them?" Mia asked curiously. .

"You don't need to ask about this. You only need to know that I can allow you to leave Planet Boundless unscathed. As for the method, you will find out when the time comes."

"Okay, I believe you, Master David. I'll go back and ask about the Chamber of Commerce then."

"Great! Mia, you should go back now. After confirming , we can pay a part.of the deposit first. If there's a large one for sale, then go for the large one. If not, we can buy a few smaller ones and integrate them," David urged Mia. David was very anxious as this would affect whether he could quickly improve his strength. Mia left the courtyard where David lived and returned to search for chambers of commerce for sale.

Since David said he could deal with the Sangruil Sinners, she would not have to worry anymore.

David sat on the chair excitedly, his legs crossed.

“Three trillion!”

If he spent that amount, his strength would skyrocket. He could even skip a few levels and directly reach peak Infinity Rank.

However, it was hard to say if he could actually spend three trillion.

After all, Mia said the one that was transferred the last time was a large-scale chamber of commerce.

Even if he could not spend three trillion, two trillion would be fine too.

If not, one trillion should not be a problem, right?

As long as someone wanted to sell, he would buy it no matter how much it cost.

If he could break through to Eternal Realm, he would be so bad*ss. Even the emperor of the Milky Way Empire would have to consult him before doing anything.

David thought happily, ‘Mia, you have to succeed. I was so close to using my sex appeal today, so don’t disappoint me.’

On the other side, Heathcliffe brought the unconscious Fergus back to where he stayed.

Heathcliffe was in a dilemma as he looked at Fergus on the bed who had not woken up.

Just now, he had examined Master Fergus’ body.

The bones, veins, blood vessels, and muscles on his four limbs were all destroyed.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1029

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1029

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1029

Only a few of his vital organs were still working.

If Heathcliff wanted to heal Master Fergus, he would have to build him a new body.

The medical means of the Stella Civilization Galaxy could not do this.

At most, Master Fergus could only be kept alive.

However, he would need to lie in bed all his life, and he would need someone to take care of him 24/7.

However, this was meaningless.

After all, they might not live much longer anyway. Now the dilemma for Heathcliffe was whether to pass the matter back to the Callisto family so that the Callisto family could find David's family and avenge Master Fergus.

Or perhaps it would be better to hide the news and wait for the Sangruil Sinners to come. They would all die together if they could not resist the enemies.

In this way, Master Fergus could still maintain a good reputation.

It would be a bit embarrassing to let the outside world know that Master Fergus was crippled by a punk who suddenly appeared out of nowhere.

The reputation of the Callisto family would also suffer.

After all, Master Fergus ranked amongst the top three direct descendants of the Callisto family and was a strong contender to become the next head of the Callisto family.

Heathcliffe thought about it and finally chose to hide the news temporarily.

If he passed the news back to the Callisto family, they were bound to ask where he was and what exactly happened.

Heathcliffe would not be able to answer that.

No one would dare to say anything about Princess Astrid being hunted down by the Sangruil Sinners without the emperor's permission.

Otherwise, even the Callisto family, the second-ranked super family among the eight prominent families, could not withstand the emperor's wrath when he decided to pursue this.

An unfamiliar place in the Milky Way galaxy.

Boom!

A huge noise suddenly erupted in the originally silent void.

It was as if two superstars had collided violently.

As the powerful shockwave spread, it shattered all the surrounding planets. Fortunately, this was a barren region, so there were no living planets around it.

Otherwise, it was unknown how many lives would be affected and wiped out. “Who are you? Why are you stopping me?”

A powerful voice resounded throughout the void. “Nimbus, long time no see! Remember me?” Another voice replied. “Moe Labate!”

“Yes! Exactly, but now I am the King of Sangruil.”

“Haha... The King of Sangruil? Our empire destroyed Sangruil. You’re just a bunch of sinners and dogs. How dare you call yourself king! How hilarious!”

Anyone who heard the conversation between the two in the void would be shocked.

This was because Nimbus Barlowe was the current emperor of the Milky Way Empire , and he was the man with the most power and authority in the Milky Way. At the same time, he was looked up to by countless people.

Even though Moe’s name was not that well-known, the last name Labate was a royal surname from Sangruil that used to be on the same level as the Milky Way Empire.

If Moe called himself Sangruil’s king, it would mean he was the leader of the Sangruil Sinners.

Hundreds of years ago, the Sangruil Sinners disappeared without a trace overnight. Hundreds of years later, they reappeared.

The two noblest last names in the Milky Way met again.

What kind of wave would be set off this time?

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1030

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1030

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1030

“Nimbus, if the Milky Way Empire didn’t frame Sangruil, which lead to the murder of Sangruil’s king, no one knows who would have ended up victorious!” Moe said while suppressing his anger.

“Haha! We won, and you lost.

Losers are always wrong, so what’s there to say?” Nimbus guffawed.

“Yes, losers are always in the wrong, and history is written by the victors.

If we lose, we lose.

We have nothing to say.

It’s just that this time, Sangruil will be making a comeback, and I will definitely destroy the Barlowe family and take over the Milky Way.

Is your family ready?” “With your dogs? Who gave you the courage to say such a preposterous thing?” “We’ll wait and see if it’s preposterous! Don’t even think about passing me to save Princess Astrid today.

This is also the first big gift we’ll be giving you.” “Moe! Come at me if you have the balls.

Do the Sangruil Sinners only know how to use these lowly methods? Sure enough, you are just a bunch of unpresentable trash and scum,” Nimbus snarled.

“Haha! Nimbus, your family taught me that losers are always in the wrong.

As long as the Labate family wins, who would dare to say anything about us? The world has always only looked at the results, not the process.”

“Then I’d like to see what ability your dogs have after disappearing for centuries.

I’d like to see if you can stop me.” “Nimbus, you won’t leave this place today.

I want to see if your ancestors will jump out of their coffins and strangle you to death if your most beloved daughter, the direct descendant of the Barlowe family, falls into my hands and gets pregnant with the seed of the Labate family.

Hahaha!” “Moe, you are courting death!” Boom! The huge sound that sounded like the collision of superstars could be heard in the void again.

The entire void shook from the shockwave.

Even a Celestial Ranker would struggle to approach the aftermath of the collision just now.

One could see that the strength of the two in this fight was so strong that it was terrifying.

Some huge cracks that could fit a planet appeared in the void where Nimbus and Moe were fighting.

The place where the two fought even caused the surrounding space to shatter..

“Moe, you Sangruil Sinners have disappeared for hundreds of years, and that’s all you got? You can’t stop metoday! When I save Astrid , I’ll come to you to settle our accounts.

This time, I won’t give you a chance to escape.

I will wipe out all of you Sangruil Sinners,” Nimbus’ voice resounded throughout the void.

“Really? Nimbus, you are too confident! Let me show you what we have achieved over the years!”

Moe had just finished speaking.

Roar!

The roar of a beast could be heard.

Boom!

The two collided again.

This time, Nimbus was not as relaxed as before.

“Moe, how dare you bastards collude with galaxy beasts? You even transplanted the cells of the beasts into your body and turned yourself into halfhuman and half beast! Don’t you know that the beasts will not be on our side since we’re not the same race? They just want to conquer human genes, find our weaknesses, and rule human beings.

You are digging the graves for human beings, and your family will become sinners for all the ages.” Nimbus said, sounding flustered and exasperated.

“Nimbus, you don’t have to worry about what we do. You only need to take care of yourself! Come on! Let’s fight for a few rounds!” Moe did not waitfor Nimbus to speak before rushing to fight him.

Just now, Nimbus had the upper hand, but now, the two were evenly matched.

They were like two black holes constantly colliding in the void.

The energy from the battle spread out like tidal waves, making humans on some living planets at an infinite distance away feel as if a natural disaster was approaching. Time passed slowly on Planet Boundless.

Soon, two days had passed.

Through Mia's hard work, she had finally learned about a chamber of commerce that was intended to be sold.

When David knew about this, he was overjoyed.

He almost pulled Mia into his arms and kissed her.

However, Mia told him this was a small chamber of commerce, and the other party's asking price was 200 billion Galaxy Dollars.