Now, Fergus seemed like a pile of flesh, and he could not exert any strength.

Fergus opened his mouth to make a sound when he felt the pain washing over him.

He could only make a gurgling sound since he was being choked.

Judging from Fergus's expression, one could tell he was in extreme pain right now.

Fergus could not fight back at all. His hands hung weakly by his sides, and he could not struggle. All he could do was widen his eyes and stare at the face in front of him.

The originally emitted energy of a beginner Cosmos Rank also abruptly ended.

The crumbling courtyard settled down.

By now, Mia had newfound hope after that stressful period.

She looked over blankly.

The sight in front of her almost made her faint.

She saw David putting one hand around Fergus' neck and lifting him effortlessly.

On the other hand, Fergus had his hands hanging by the sides of his limp body. Right now, Only David's hand was supporting him.

Burke, who was watching from a distance, was also stunned.

As early as when Fergus first forced his way into David's courtyard, he had received the news and rushed over quickly.

However, Burke did not come to stop them.

Instead, he wanted to let the situation develop.

He wanted to see who would win in a fight between these two.

At the same time, he wanted to test David's strength.

As a result, he saw this shocking scene in front of him.

I LI

'W-W-What the hell is going on?'

'Fergus is a beginner Cosmos Ranker, and David defeated him before even one round of fighting?'

'Fergus broke through Universe Realm ten years earlier than me.'

Does this mean I can't even survive one round in a fight with David?'

A thin layer of sweat started appearing on Burke's forehead.

Luckily, he sensed something wrong before this.

If not, he would be in Fergus' position right now.

Suddenly, Burke's eyes lit up, and he felt like he had found his lifesaver.

If David could easily defeat Fergus, who was at peak beginner Cosmos Rank, did it mean he could also fight the Sangruil Sinners who were about to arrive? Gradually, Burke's eyes dimmed, and he shook his head.

'I am too ambitious.'

The Sangruil Sinners could kill the palace guards. If Burke wanted to defeat them, he would need someone who was at Celestial Rank.

Even though David had not fully shown his strength, he was too young. If David looked like a middle-aged man, Burke might think they had a chance.

However, David looked even younger than him.

It would be better to believe that the emperor could arrive in time than to hope that David was a Celestial Ranker and that he could defeat the Sangruil Sinners.

Meanwhile, Mia was still standing rooted to the spot in shock.

She had considered a million possibilities in her head but never thought David could casually defeat Fergus, a beginner Cosmos Ranker.

Everything in front of her felt too freakish and unrealistic.

The two were pretty shocked.

The courtyard fell into silence.

An old man that suddenly appeared broke the silence.

He was Fergus's butler, Heathcliffe, and a peak late Cosmos Ranker. At the same time, he was a guardian who the Callisto family had arranged to ensure Fergus' safety and guide him in life.

However, when this old man who had gone through much turbulence in life saw Fergus right now, he felt a pang of desolation in his heart.

11.

Naturally, he could tell that Fergus was already crippled.

Even if he could barely survive, he would be a vegetable.

It would be better for him to die than to be crippled in a super family like the Callisto family, who valued strength over all else.

Moreover, all his efforts throughout these years were lost now that Fergus was crippled. Heathcliffe rushed over when he sensed Fergus emitting his energy. However, he was still too slow.

"I'll not dismember you if you put Master Fergus down," Heathcliffe said.

At this moment, he was also on the verge of extreme anger.

He had stayed by Fergus' side for many years, so naturally, he wanted to help Fergus become the head of the Callisto family.

In this way, his status would also rise.

However, David had crushed his dreams.

All his efforts were in vain, so how could this not anger him?

David threw Fergus away casually.

Thud!

Fergus fell to the ground. "H-Heathcliffe, save... Save me! Kill... Kill David," Fergus said with excruciating pain.

As a Cosmos Ranker, Fergus knew exactly what was happening to him.

David had destroyed his entire body except for a few vital organs.

His life would be over unless a miracle occurred.

As a direct descendant of the Callisto family, he could not accept the blow of being crippled.

Fergus knew that he would be abandoned if he were to be crippled in a family like the Callisto family.

"You want to avenge him?" David asked, looking at the old man.

"Do you know who the person on the ground is?" Heathcliffe asked rhetorically.

"I don't care who he is. Even if God wants me dead, he also has to be prepared to be killed by me," David said indifferently.

"Okay, very good! It's been a long time since the Callisto family met someone like you who is not afraid of death. Listen to me, not only are you finished, but everyone behind you who's related to you will pay for all you did today."

"Are you threatening me?"

David's eyes glinted with a cold light,

He would not spare anyone who dared to threaten his family.

As the two were facing off and preparing to take action, Burke quickly rushed between the two,

He had to stop them now.

The two of them were very strong, so he could not allow them to start fighting.

If both sides lost, who could face the approaching Sangruil Sinners?

Even if the chances were slim, it would still be better than having no one.

'Every second is important now. His Majesty is definitely thinking of a solution now. I'm sure he won't allow Princess Astrid to fall into the hands of the Sangruil Sinners.'

"Guys, please stop for my sake, okay?" Burke said as he stood in front of the two.

"Burke, why didn't you stop him when he crippled Master Fergus? Isn't it too late to only stop him now?" Heathcliffe asked.

Burke was cursing in his heart.

"How the f*ck would I know that Cosmos Ranker Fergus wouldn't be able to handle David's attacks?"

He wanted to lest David's power, but he got into a huge mess before he could find out anything

However, he did not care anymore,

11 he could save Princess Astrid and survive the Sangruil

Sinners, he would become someone who had performed an outstanding service, and the emperor would surely reward him. At the same time, he might even become someone who Princess Astrid recognized.

11

At this point, even if the Callisto family learned that Burke was responsible for Fergus's crippling, they would only be able to suffer in silence.

However, if they could not survive this incident, he would be doomed anyway.

"Sir, it's not that I didn't want to stop him. Everything happened too quickly, and I just didn't manage to help him in time," Burke answered.

Heathcliffe smirked in disdain and did not say anything.

General Ramos from the military was behind Burke.

Before Master Fergus was crippled, Heathcliffe had no need to fear Burke, but now, it was no longer the case.

Master Fergus was already crippled, so all his hopes had been destroyed.

Heathcliffe still needed to think about his children and grandchildren, so it would be unwise to offend Burke too much.

“Da-... My friend, now is a special time, so please just do this for my sake,” After Burke comforted Heathcliffe, he turned to look at David and said.

“Stop that, I don’t have a friend like you. I’m actually a very simple man. I will kill whoever wants to kill me. If anyone dares to threaten me by targeting my family, I will destroy his whole family in response,” David said, without showing any respect.

He had already noticed Burke watching the fight in the distance.

David did not have a good impression of this person.

Burke frowned and was about to mention his father Ramos when he heard a faint but carefree laugh.

“Ha... Haha... Hahaha! David, Mia, do you think you won? You are wrong. Everyone here will die, and no one can escape, so enjoy your last moments. At the same time, enjoy the incoming fear. Hahaha!” Fergus said in a weak voice as he was lying on the ground.

This was the second time David had heard Fergus say that everyone would die.

‘What is going on?’ He looked at Burke.

Burke was the head of Planet Boundless, so he should know the inside story.

Heathcliffe also looked at Burke doubtfully.

Apparently, he had no idea what was going on either.

After learning the truth of the matter yesterday, Fergus went back and thought about it all night. Then, he came straight here this morning.

He did not even have the time to tell Heathcliffe what had happened.

“Since everyone wants to know, I won’t hide it anymore,” Burke said sternly.

“I, Burke Lutgen, the head of Planet Boundless, was ordered by the emperor of the Milky Way Empire to ask the two of you to work together to fight the enemies and rescue our Royal Highness Princess Astrid. If you dare disobey His Majesty’s orders and try to escape from Planet Boundless, you and your family will be banished from the entire Milky Way” An order from the emperor of the Milky Way Empire?’

Heathcliffe, David, and Mia were all surprised at the same time.

David bought some information about the emperor from the Meteor Chamber. Although it was just some basic information, it was enough to shock David.

Heathcliffe and Mia were no exceptions.

They grew up in the heart of the Milky Way galaxy, and the emperor had a unrivaled reputation there. His name alone could create a sense of adoration from within.

‘Who would dare to disobey an order from the emperor? Plus, Princess Astrid is the emperor’s favorite daughter. So why would we need to save the princess? Is there anyone who dares to take action against Princess Astrid?’

They had too many questions in their minds.

“Please also clarify, Lord Burke. What exactly does His Majesty want us to do? We will not refuse as long as it’s within our power,” Heathcliffe asked respectfully.

At this moment, he was no longer arrogant.

He had also started addressing Burke as Lord Burke.

Could an ordinary person accept an order from the emperor?

David and Mia did not say anything.

However, they could see the truth of this matter with their own eyes.

Fight the enemies together? Save Princess Astrid? Who are the enemies? Where is Princess Astrid?’

Burke then told them how the Sangruil Sinners were chasing Princess Astrid.

There was no need to hide this anymore.

He was also not worried that they would flee.

No one would dare to go against the emperor’s orders.

Simply put, they would discuss this to see if there was any way to buy more time. They would be written into the Hall of Fame if they could hold on until help arrived.

Of course, as the head of Planet Boundless, Burke would enjoy the greatest recognition.

“Haha... It's useless! Everyone is going to die, and no one can escape. The Sangruil Sinners have not been seen for hundreds of years, and now they have suddenly appeared, they will definitely do something big. They despised the empire to the core, so they must have come well prepared this time. Even the palace guards secretly protecting the princess were wiped out, yet you people think you can defeat them? You must be dreaming! Haha... I'll wait for you all to die with me when the time comes,” Fergus said weakly as he lay on the ground.

David was not bothered after hearing that.

He did his research on the palace guards. They were basically people who the empire raised to die for them.

They were cultivated to protect important figures of the royal family in secret.

A team of palace guards should be equivalent to a partial Celestial Ranker.

If the Sangruil Sinners who suddenly showed up could wipe out a team of palace guards, then they were at least beginner or mid-Celestial Rankers.

‘Well, alright.’

Celestial Rankers were not that impressive to David anymore.

David was now a peak Celestial Ranker.

Moreover, if he got another 2000 lavish points, he could raise his mind power to Celestial level 10. By then, his combat power would be upgraded and reach partial Infinity Rank. This was close to Grandmaster Tuffin's strength.

Naturally, he was not bothered by beginner or mid Celestial Rankers.

After learning the truth, David was relieved.

However, even if he was okay, Heathcliffe and Mia were having a hard time at that moment.

Both of them were slightly panicking now.

'Is Princess Astrid about to reach Planet Boundless?

' The Sangruil Sinners will chase her here and capture the princess?

"They can even easily take out a team of palace guards?

And the people sent by the emperor may reach a week or so later than the Sangruil Sinners?

'We can fend off the Sangruil Sinners for a week?'

The two of them could already predict what would happen next.

As Fergus said, everyone would die, and no one could escape.

Planet Boundless might soon disappear from the Milky Way itself.

Heathcliffe, a late Cosmos Ranker, could not even summon a sliver of intention to fight now.

A late Cosmos Ranker like him was not much different from an ordinary person when facing off against the Sangruil Sinners.

Mia was slowly accepting the situation.

She was already in despair when Fergus started taking action just now.

Then, David pulled her back from the abyss of despair, but now she was drowning in it once again.

She looked at David subconsciously.

She noticed that he was still as calm as ever, and he was not panicking because of the strength of Sangruil Sinners.

Mia's eyes lit up.

'Does David have a way to defeat the Sangruil Sinners?

'It's possible

Until now, she had no idea where David's limit was. When David killed the space pirates to save her, she thought David was a partial Cosmos Ranker.

However, David crippled Fergus in one blow just now, which meant that his combat power had increased, and he was at least a mid-Cosmos Ranker.

Who could guarantee that this was David's limit?

What if he was a Celestial Ranker?

Even though this seemed impossible, it might actually be the case.

Furthermore, David was so calm. This was not a reaction someone would have when encountering an enemy they could not resist.

For some reason, Mia felt relieved when she saw the calmness overflowing from David's eyes.

Mia was no longer afraid, even if she was about to face the terrifying Sangruil Sinners.

She felt as if David could give her a huge sense of security.

"Guys, although Sangruil Sinners came prepared this time, and His Majesty was caught a little off guard, we have to believe in him. Princess Astrid is His Majesty's favorite and only daughter. He won't stand idly by and watch the princess fall into the hands of the enemies. We need to buy some time for His Majesty, not defeat the Sangruil Sinners. As long as we can successfully save Princess Astrid this time, everyone's status in the future will be sure to change," Burke stated.

Mia and Heathcliffe were naturally aware that Princess Astrid's emergency this time was accompanied by great opportunities.

However, the enemy was too powerful, and the chance of success was slim. Moreover, David genuinely did not want to get involved in this mess.

The Sangruil Sinners disappeared for hundreds of years, and now they had made a menacing return. Hence, they would surely start a fierce battle with the Milky Way Empire, David just wanted to protect the Earth and his homeland from being invaded. He really did not want to get involved in the battle between these two giant forces.

However, he had no choice now.

He could not even handle Grandmaster Tuffin right now, much less the emperor of the Milky Way Empire.

If he fled this time, it would be troublesome for him if the emperor decided to investigate the matter in the future.

Besides, Earth was now a member of the Milky Way Empire.

Damn it!

David felt a terrible headache coming.

He only wanted to come to the heart of the Milky Way, quietly spend money to get some lavish points, and then silently improve his strength.

He would be happy if he could protect the Earth.

Unfortunately, he ran into so much trouble during this journey. He even inexplicably offended the Callisto family.

Furthermore, it seemed like he would offend the Sangruil Sinners next.

Each of these two forces was countless times stronger than the Tuffin family, David felt he could not wait any longer,

He had to improve his strength and deal with the Tuffin family as soon as possible.

As long as he got rid of the Tuffin family and hid the Earth's location using the system, no one would know where Earth was anymore.

In this way, even if he stirred up trouble in the Milky Way, at least the Earth would be safe. David's worst fear was a conflict occurring close to home and someone threatening him with the Earth.

As long as the Earth was at a safe distance, he would not be afraid of anything.

He could be at ease if he were by himself. He could fight whenever he wanted to and leave whenever he wanted to.

“Lord Burke, rest assured. Since this is His Majesty’s order, there is no reason for us to disobey it, but the Sangruil Sinners are powerful, and we might not have the strength to defeat them,” Heathcliffe said bitterly.

“You can just do your best. I believe that His Majesty will make other arrangements as well. Taking a step back, even if we die in Planet Boundless, at least we have benefited the family and our descendants. I believe that the empire will not mistreat them.”

They could only think like this now that things had escalated to this point, They could not escape as they were not alone.

They would rather face the mighty Sangruil Sinners and die here than face the emperor’s pursuit in the future.

“Okay! Now that the matter is clear, Mia, please stay. I have something to tell you. Everyone else, get out of here,” David directly asked everyone to leave.

Heathcliffe glanced at David.

Then, he walked to Fergus, picked up the unconscious man, and left the courtyard.

“David, I won’t bother you anymore then. If you need anything, please tell me. I will try my best to fulfill your request,” Burke said politely.

David was already a mid-Cosmos Ranker or even higher at a young age, so Burke had no choice but to be vigilant when facing him.
