

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1047

Chapter 1047

Chapter 1047 "We're friends, so you don't have to be so polite."

"Mia, you're so good at dancing!"

"Astrid, you're even better at playing the harp." The two fairies complimented each other.

Next, the three of them started chatting.

"Can you tell us about your exploration all those years, David? I actually like adventure and exploring different locations, but my father never let me leave Planet Royal. I snuck out this time, but unfortunately, I killed a team of palace guards due to my willfulness. I may not have a chance to leave Planet Royal in the future," Astrid said, feeling a little sad.

"Astrid, don't be disappointed. I will often come to Planet Royal to accompany you in the future," Mia comforted.

"Really? That's great! Since you said this, so you can't go back on your promise."

After Astrid finished speaking, she took out two golden tokens. The word 'Barlowe' was carved on it, and under 'Barlowe' was the name 'Astrid'.

Then, she handed the two tokens to Mia and David respectively and said, "David, Mia, this is my token. When you arrive at Planet Royal, someone will bring you directly to see me if you show them this."

Mia happily took the token.

This was equivalent to a protective talisman!

If she had Princess Astrid's exclusive token, no one would dare to force her to do anything she did not like.

David hesitated for a moment but reached out and took it.

Astrid was doing this out of kindness, so he would seem a little unreasonable if he did not take

David began to make up some adventure stories for the two of them.

No one would find out the truth anyway. The two fairies were amazed as they listened to David.

They would even clench their fists occasionally and felt nervous for David.

David was amused.

‘They’re indeed inexperienced little girls. ‘I can amaze them with just a story I made up.’ To be honest, Mia and Astrid were not so easily fooled.

Mia had been hanging out with so many big shots throughout the years. If she could still be chaste, it meant she was not a simple person.

Even though Princess Astrid was about 25 or 26 years old, about the same age as David, she was born in royalty so she had seen a lot of things since she was young. The reason David could shock them both was because they knew David’s strength. If he could easily kill the Sangruil Sinners who could kill a team of palace guards, then he was at least a mid–Celestial Ranker.

Most importantly, he was so young. He must have encountered a lot of danger and difficulties to come to this stage. That was why the two believed almost everything David made up.

“I didn’t think that you’d encountered so many dangers and difficulties, Master David. No wonder you’re so powerful at such a young age. I admire you so much.” “David, you’re so amazing. I admire you so much as well. Those children from the aristocratic families in the empire are nothing like you. Even my brothers can’t compare to you, David.”

David felt embarrassed when he looked at the admiration in the two fairies’ eyes,

This lie was getting out of hand, but luckily, no one knew the truth.

“It’s nothing. The universe is so big and the Milky Way is just a small corner of it, so we should have a bigger vision. We shouldn’t stay like frogs at the bottom of a well. We should go explore the unknown terrains and experience local conditions and customs of every place. This has always been my dream. When I am stronger, I will continue doing this,” David said calmly.

Astrid looked at his calm composure.

She felt so impressed when she imagined him staying calm to face every situation, and how he gradually averted disaster and increased his strength dramatically during the process.

She wanted to tell David to bring her if he went again.

However, she could not do that with her status.

However, if David was willing to bring her along, Astrid felt that she might go all out to join him. 1

Chapter 1048

Chapter 1048 Planet Royal was located at the very center of the Milky Way, while Planet Boundless was at the edge of the Milky Way galaxy's core. Although it was between Earth and Planet Royal, they were not on the same level. Instead, the three formed a triangle. Therefore, the distance from Planet Boundless to Planet Royal was quite far.

Even with the speed of the Octagon, it would take nearly a month to arrive.

In the following days, Mia and Astrid would come to David every day to chat.

They would even work on different songs together to perform for David.

David was truly enjoying the emperor's treatment.

However, he did not spend much time appreciating the performance of the two fairies.

David spent more time asking the two questions about all aspects of the Milky Way, using the excuse that he had not been back in a long time

As the most doted on princess of Emperor Nimbus of the Milky Way Empire, Astrid knew far more things than someone who not been around like Mia.

After all, the two were very different.

Their education from childhood was not on the same level at all.

As long as it did not involve the Milky Way Empire's core secret, Astrid would know everything, and she would also tell David everything.

Meanwhile, David was like a data centre, absorbing all kinds of information he saw and heard. He could remember everything he heard from the two fairies and the Meteor Chamber.

He could also do that because he had strong mind power.

Ten days passed in a blink of an eye.

At this moment, a name appeared on the Milky Way Empire's wanted list website.

David Lidell!

It was also at the top of the list at 98th place.

In the first place was Moe Labate, the current king of the Snagruil Sinners. He was only included on the list a few days ago. As soon as he was included on the list, he was directly ranked first, showing how much importance the empire attached to him.

If David could be ranked 98th, it meant he was also a major wanted criminal in the empire now.

Once he showed up, someone would immediately pass his whereabouts to the empire's military.

Anyone reporting the whereabouts of the most wanted criminals would be rewarded handsomely.

If they could capture David and send him to Planet Royal, their reward would increase by tenfold.

The Milky Way Empire's territory was too large. Some people would always want to take the chance to violate the rules of the empire and do things that hurt others to benefit themselves. Moreover, the Milky Way Empire had limited manpower, and it was impossible to control such a large area.

Therefore, the names, portraits, and detailed information of these wanted people would be stated on the wanted list website of the Milky Way Empire.

Some people specialized in this work. They would constantly watch the wanted list website and make a living by catching and reporting these wanted criminals to obtain rewards from the empire.

These people existed all over the Milky Way.

They had an official name given to them by the empire: bounty hunters.

Bounty hunters varied in strength, ranging from weak to strong. However, they all had one thing in common: they did not want to be bound and liked to be free.

Furthermore, most of them came from average forces, so they did not have much background.

These people thus grouped together to form a strong bounty hunter team. The top bounty hunter groups were not even afraid of certain big family forces, which showed their strength.

The hunter group would not only catch the criminals on the most wanted list, but they also hunted galaxy beasts, space pirates, and would explore unknown areas. All these would bring them huge rewards. Since David's name appeared so high up on the most wanted list, he caught the eye of many bounty hunters. Under normal circumstances, the higher the ranking on the most wanted list, the more serious the crime and the greater the strength. If that were the case, the reward would naturally be higher.

However, David seemed to be a little different.

According to the wanted list, David was just a peak Cosmos Ranker, riding in an Octagon. He was not even a partial Celestial Ranker, but he could rank in the top 100 most wanted list.

This was very rare. Therefore, any bounty hunters who saw this would definitely rush to find any trace of David.

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1049

Chapter 1049

Chapter 1049 A bounty hunter group might even be dispatched.

If anyone caught the top 100 most wanted criminals on the most wanted list, they would get an enormous reward.

Some bounty hunter groups were excited.

Planet Boundless. The palace where Burke lives.

"Hahaha!"

A burst of laughter spread throughout the palace.

Burke was also the first to get the news that David was on the most wanted list.

He immediately felt relieved and laughed when he saw David in the 98th position. 'David, you're doomed! "This position is enough to alert large bounty hunter groups. You can't escape now!

'This is what happens when you don't take me seriously,' Burke thought savagely.

Since David was on the most wanted list, it showed that David's charge of disobeying the emperor's order had been confirmed.

However, Burke had no idea which force was behind David, so he could not take action himself.

Once David was caught and sent to Planet Royal, they would have ways to find out who was behind David.

By then, it would be time for David to pay the price.

When Burke imagined a peerless genius like David, who was a peak Cosmos Ranker at such a young age, falling into his hands, he was elated.

Since he was not as excellent as his brother, he was mistreated by his family since he was a child, which then caused him to be a little sick in the head.

Burke hated and was jealous of people who were more talented than him. Burke felt great now that he could successfully bring down a peerless genius.

David would not get a chance to make a comeback anymore, no matter how strong the power behind him was.

The emperor was the only God in the Milky Way. No one would disobey the emperor's orders brazenly, not even the Drake family, who was ranked first in the eight prominent families.

Once their direct descendant did this, the Drake family would surely cut ties with them and send them directly to Plane Royal. At the same time, they would also suffer heavy consequences. Who asked them not to educate their descendants well?

Not only was David doomed, but Mia would also be implicated.

With the Concord family's measly strength, they would surely be wiped out. This was the result of following the wrong person. Unfortunately, the four fairies in the Milky Way would soon become the three fairies.

'I wonder if Mia will regret leaving Planet Boundless with David when the time comes.'

Burke placed his legs on the table and thought leisurely. Right now, he wanted to know what faces David and Mia would make when they found out they were on the most wanted list. They would definitely feel extremely remorseful.

Unfortunately, it was too late now.

Once they were charged with the crime of disobeying the emperor, no one could save them unless the Milky Way Empire fell and the emperor died.

Was this possible?

No way. Burke shook his head. The Milky Way Empire had been in the Milky Way for ten thousand years. It even destroyed the insufferably arrogant Sangruil thousands of years ago and unified the entire Milky Way. Besides, the emperor was number one in the Milky Way, and he was about to enter the Eternal Realm.

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1050

Chapter 1050

Chapter 1050 A void within the inner core of the Milky Way galaxy.

Fergus lay immobile in bed inside a fast-moving Milky Way Battleship.

Heathcliffe stood by and said something to him.

The Milky Way Battleship was an important strategic weapon for the Tuffin family, but they only had three. On the other hand, this was not the case with the Callisto family.

After all, although the two families were both amongst the eight prominent families, their strengths differed vastly.

As the top three heirs of the Callisto family, Fergus was fortunate enough to be assigned to a Milky Way Battleship.

This was also a symbol of his status in the Callisto family.

It was a pity that Fergus had been crippled, which meant this might be his last time riding the Milky Way Battleship.

His family would surely take back his Milky Way Battleship when he returned to the family.

How could a cripple have a Milky Way Battleship?

“H–Heathcliffe, a–are you telling the truth?” Fergus asked in a shaky voice. “Master Fergus, this is absolutely true. David’s name has been listed on the empire’s wanted list website and is ranked 98th. He is doomed,” Heathcliffe said.

“Haha... Good! Haha... This is great! As long as he is on the most wanted list, he can’t escape death, no matter how talented he is and how strong the power behind him is. Even God can’t stand him and wants to kill him,” Fergus said excitedly.

This was the best news he had heard since David crippled him, and this was also the first time he laughed out loud.

“Yes, David is doomed now that he’s on the empire’s most wanted list. He can’t escape this no matter how strong he is. So, you can rest assured, Master Fergus,” Heathcliffe sighed.

Although David could not escape death, the once stunning and scheming Master Fergus of the Callisto family was also finished. In the end, he crashed and burned because of a woman.

If it were not for Mia, they would not come to Planet Boundless and would not meet David, the bringer of misfortune.

Heathcliffe sent the news of Fergus being crippled back to the family, which immediately caused a huge shock

After it was determined that Fergus could not be cured and could only spend the rest of his life in bed, many people who originally supported Fergus immediately switched to other direct descendants of the Callisto family.

The minister who was about to marry his daughter to Fergus also turned his target to another heir of the Callisto family, the seventeenth son of the Callisto family.

This was reality. No matter how brilliant a cripple was, he would not be worthy of everyone’s attention. Fergus lay on the bed, looked at the ceiling, and said nothing. David would surely die, so he had been avenged. However, he could only spend his life in bed. Right now, Fergus’ limbs were all shattered. His bones, blood vessels, meridians, and muscles had all become a pool of rotten flesh. Several of his organs were also severely damaged. Thus, he could only move his head.

If he wanted to continue living, he had to go through long–term treatment.

This was absolutely unacceptable for a former genius like him.

Heathcliffe watched for a while before backing away slowly.

Fergus watched as tears streamed down his face slowly.

'Family? 'It's just a group bound together by interest. 'There's no affection at all.' After they learned he was crippled, everyone tried to cut ties with him, including Heathcliffe, who had been with him for many years. There was no respect in Heathcliffe's eyes, only coldness. Heathcliffe might never look at Fergus again after he sent him back to the family. If Fergus could stand up again, he would make everyone who looked down on him pay. Unfortunately, he would not get this chance anymore. Fergus closed his eyes quietly. He was about to kill himself and leave this world. He did not want to return to the family as a laughing stock. He also did not want to see them looking at him in disdain. The only thing that gave him comfort was hearing David being listed on the most wanted list. David would also join him not long after he got to the afterlife. "David, I'll wait for you," Fergus said quietly to himself. When Fergus was about to kill himself, he heard a strange voice next to his ear.
