The defense was also outstanding.

Astrid felt this barrier was stronger than her father's protective shield.

When David returned with the body, he saw more than a dozen people attacking the barrier he had set up.

He smiled contemptuously.

These Sangruil Sinners thought too highly of themselves.

They were not even in Celestial Rank, yet they wanted to break through his mind barrier. How delusional.

David's arrival immediately caught everyone's attention.

Astrid and the others had looks of surprise on their faces.

On the other hand, more than a dozen Sangruil Sinner hybrids showed panic in their eyes.

What did they see?

This kid actually dragged back their leader's corpse! Their leader was at Celestial Rank, and he was killed so easily.

No one said anything, and more than a dozen people scattered in a hurry, running for their lives.

The strength of this young man was too terrifying. Even their leader, who was at Celestial Rank, was no match for him.

Wouldn't they be asking for death if they stayed?

They had to go back and report to the king immediately.

David looked at the fleeing hybrids, threw aside the corpse in his hand, and chased after them instantly. He had to kill all of them.

He did not want his portrait to appear in front of the king of Sangruil.

It was no joke to be chased by the Sangruil Sinners.

After a while, David used his mind power to bring back more all of the hybrid corpses.

Astrid and the gang were already beyond shocked by David.

Even the palace guards could not defeat the Sangruil Sinners, but David killed them so easily.

He was too strong.

David removed the mind barrier and went to Astrid and the gang.

Behind him were the bodies of the Sangruil Sinners. "Thank you so much for your help. I am so grateful to you. May I know your name?" Astrid bowed and thanked him.

"My name is David Lidell, and Your Royal Highness, you don't have to be so polite with me. It's nothing," David said indifferently.

"I see, David. It might be nothing to you, but for the three of us, it is an unforgettable life-saving act of grace that I will never forget for as long as I live," Astrid thanked again.

"Thank you for your life-saving act of grace, Master David!"

Emerald and Ms. Madrigal also bowed at the same time.

David waved his hand and asked curiously, "Have you seen these hybrids before, Your Royal Highness? You just said these people cooperated with the galaxy beasts and betrayed human beings. What's up with that?"

"David, this is the first time I have seen such a hybrid. If I guessed correctly, Sangruil Sinners should have cooperated with the Nine – Headed Serpents, one of the galaxy beasts. They should have transplanted the cells of the Nine-Headed Serpents into their bodies, resulting in them being able to enter this beast mode. Meanwhile, the Nine-Headed Serpents are humans' enemies. They like to eat humans the most, and they have long wanted to keep humans in captivity so that we can be their food whenever they desire," Astrid replied.

"Oh? The Nine-Headed Serpents like to eat humans, but the Sangruil Sinners still dare to cooperate with them. Aren't they afraid of things going south? And are the Nine – Headed Serpents very powerful? Where do they live?" David continued to ask.

“The Sangruil Sinners and our empire have a long history of grievances. Perhaps they know that revenge is hopeless, so they choose to cooperate with the Nine Headed Serpents to act as a Hail Mary. They should have reached some kind of agreement with the Nine –Headed Serpents. If they can overthrow the empire and control the entire Milky Way, they may delineate an area in the Milky Way for the latter. As for the Nine–Headed Serpents, according to historical records, they like to eat humans the most, and they are very powerful. They’re even ranked top ten among the galaxy beasts. They live in another galaxy outside the Milky Way, a galaxy belonging to the galaxy beasts called the Beast Galaxy.”

Even though Astrid was the princess of the Milky Way Empire and was not very old, she was carefully cultivated by the emperor since childhood. Hence, she was very knowledgeable and overall very brilliant.

So many thoughts filled her mind just by seeing the Sangruil Sinner hybrids, while her analysis was also very reasonable.

It was almost the same as the actual situation.

David also felt the analysis was very credible after hearing it.

The Sangruil Sinners teamed up with the Nine –Headed Serpents, and after they overthrow the empire, the Sangruil Sinners would probably give them a portion of the galaxy.

Judging from this, it was not an exaggeration to say that these Sangruil Sinners had betrayed humanity and were sinners toward all of humankind!

“Thank you, Your Royal Highness, for clearing up my confusion. Well then, let’s go down first. The person who’ll pick you up should be here soon. Also, how do you think we should deal with these corpses? They should be worth researching,” David said.

Although he still had a lot of questions about the Sangruil Sinners and galaxy beasts, it was obviously not suitable to continue asking questions here.

He would go to the Meteor Chamber when he had time.

Doing so would also get him some lavish points.

Mosquitoes were still meat no matter how small they were.

“We can hand the corpse to the Imperial Research Academy. I believe those experts will be very excited to see these. It will be beneficial for the empire to deal with the Sangruil Sinners and the Nine –Headed Serpents in the future,” Astrid replied. “Okay, we’ll leave the corpses to them then.”

“Let me thank you then on behalf of the empire.” At this time, it was already evening. David covered the trio with his mind power, avoided all surveillance , and quietly descended to Planet Boundless and landed in his courtyard.

He did not want Burke to know about this as he would make a huge fuss about this.

Princess Astrid had been rescued.

Due to this, David believed that the emperor of the Milky Way Empire would no longer hold everyone accountable.

Next, he would take Mia away from Planet Boundless and head to the most prosperous center of the Milky Way.

David contacted Mia and asked her to come over.

After Mia arrived at David’s courtyard, she was a little puzzled when she saw Astrid and the gang, who suddenly appeared.

Mia’s impression of Princess Astrid, the Harp Fairy, was only of her at the state banquet eight years ago.

Now that eight years had passed, and Astrid was wearing a veil again, Mia did not recognize her.

Astrid and the gang were pretty happy when they saw Mia.

After all, she was one of the four fairies and was quite famous. Astrid and Emerald were even more excited as they both liked Mia.

They often watched Mia’s dance on the Internet.

However, their identities were too different, so they never had a chance to meet.

“Master David , why did you ask me to come here?” Mia asked.

“Mia, this is Princess Astrid of the Milky Way Empire. I have rescued her, so now we can leave Planet Boundless. You should go back and prepare, and we will leave immediately,” David said straight to the point. He no longer wanted to waste time here. The sooner he left, the better.

‘What?’

Mia looked at Astrid in shock.

“H–H–Her Royal Highness Princess Astrid?”

“Hello, Dance Fairy, I’m Princess Astrid. It’s a pleasure to meet you. I like you very much, and I often watch your dances. This time, I finally get to meet you in person,” Astrid extended her hand and said magnanimously.

However, Mia did not dare to hold Astrid’s hand.

This was Princess Astrid, the favorite daughter of the emperor of the Milky Way Empire.

She was someone the major forces of the Milky Way had to respect and salute whenever they saw her.

–How would she dare to hold Astrid’s noble hand?

“Hello, Your Royal Highness Princess Astrid,” Mia

hurriedly curtsied and said respectfully.

Astrid quickly stepped forward to help Mia up and said, “Dance Fairy, you don’t have to be so polite. You are older than me, so I’ll just call you by your name, what do you think?”

“How... How is that possible? No way! What have I done to have Princess Astrid address me by name?” Mia rejected her quickly.

“Why not? We can do whatever we want. You don’t have to be scared even if Father finds out. I’ll just ask him to take you as his goddaughter. When that happens, you’ll be my sister. Who asked him never to give me an older or younger sister? All I have are brothers,” Astris said joyfully.

Mia felt like she was going to pass out.

Ask the emperor of the Milky Way Empire to take her as his goddaughter?

‘Then won’t my status skyrocket?’

Who would dare to lust after my body then? ‘Who would dare to force me to dance?’

'I would only dance for whomever I want.

'If I don't want to, no one can force me.'

Mia hurriedly shook her head, shaking off this unrealistic thought. Who was the emperor, and how would he accept her as his goddaughter? Princess Astrid must be kidding.

"Don't do this, Your Royal Highness! We all believe in His Majesty, and I have self-awareness. I can't afford to be His Majesty's daughter." "I don't care. I'll call you by your name from now on," Astrid said affirmatively.

"Well, thank you for adoration, Your Royal Highness. Can you only call me that when there's only the two of us, Your Royal Highness? I might not be able to bear the consequences if you call me that in public," Mia said with a wry smile. The princess calling her by her name should have been a very happy occasion. However, Mia was a little unhappy.

To be honest, Princess Astrid's status was too high. Mia feared that she would be beaten to death by Astrid's brothers if word got out. "Alright, that's settled," Astrid thought for a while and said. "Thank you, Your Royal Highness! Then I will go back and prepare now. Please wait a while for me, Master David, Your Royal Highness," Mia said.

She thought Princess Astrid would also leave Planet Boundless with them.

Where was the most prosperous area in the Milky Way?

Of course, it was the spread-out region around Planet Royal.

David was heading to the most prosperous heart of the Milky Way. Her Royal Highness had experienced the pursuit and killing of the Sangruil Sinners, so she would surely return to Planet Royal.

They would be going in the same direction anyway.

"Where are you going, David?" Astrid asked suddenly. "We're going to the most prosperous place in the Milky Way," David answered. "Can I go with you"

“Where are you going, Your Royal Highness?” “I’m going back to Planet Royal, of course.” David looked at Mia and asked, “Is that on our way?” “Yes! The most prosperous place in the Milky Way surrounds Planet Royal,” Mia replied. “Are you not going to wait for your people, Your Royal Highness? They should be here soon.”

“I’ll tell Father to tell them to go back later. Besides, I won’t be safe on Planet Boundless if you leave. Who knows if the Sangruil Sinners will come again? I think I will be safer next to David,” Astrid answered. David thought about it and figured Astrid was right. If the Sangruil Sinners sent someone to catch the princess after he left, then wouldn’t his efforts have been in vain? Only the old man next to Fergus was a late Cosmos Ranker on Planet Boundless.

He would not be able to fight off the Sangruil Sinners at all. When that happened, the emperor would create trouble for him too. Besides, after this short interaction, David felt that Astrid was a pretty good girl. Even though she was the most loved daughter of the emperor and she had a crazily high status, she did not put on airs.

Aside from David, who was so powerful that he saved her, Astrid could even humbly greet Mia when she met her for the first time.

This proved that Astrid was an approachable princess. To be honest, David also did not want to see those disgusting bunch capture her. “Alright, we’ll leave in a bit,” David agreed. “Thank you, David. When we’re at Planet Royal, I’ll bring you to see all the wonderful things on Planet Royal,” Astrid said happily.
