However, everyone remembered David.

The next time they met him, they would be very humble to him.

Judging from Princess Astrid's behavior, David might become her husband in the future.

After all, the emperor doted on Princess Astrid, so he would not say no to anything the princess insisted upon. David turned to say to Mia behind him after the bounty hunters left gradually, "Mia, let's go." "Alright, Master David." The two returned to the Octagon and drove toward Blue Star in the Royal Region.

Blue Star was a living planet located in the outer region of the Royal Region.

Similar to the situation on Earth, dozens of small forces jointly controlled it.

Mia's family, the Concord family, was one of them.

However, the Concord family was not strong enough to make it into the top ten in Blue Star.

Therefore, they could only occupy a small area that was not overly prosperous. Only after Mia made a name for herself outside and met some big people over the years could her family slowly rise.

Back then, the Concord family was at the lowest rank of Blue Star.

Even though they were not very powerful right now, they were much better than before, and because of Mia, the Concord family was now a special force in Blue Star that no one dared to provoke.

After all, Mia was one of the four fairies in the Milky Way. 1

She knew a lot of big shots.

If she ended up with a big shot in the future, none of the forces on this inferior planet outside the Royal Region could afford to provoke them. Therefore, even if the other forces were fighting to the death in Blue Star, they still would not involve the Concord family.

If the Concord family was not weak, they could just continue rising while relying on Mia. Right now, the entire family was waiting for Mia's decision. If she chose someone strong as her support and married him, the Concord family would rise with the help of this support.

Then, after a year of development, they might even become the number one force and control Blue Star.

This was what the Concord family was expecting.

They were waiting for the day their family could control all of Blue Star, and Mia was their biggest hope for this goal.

Therefore, the Concord family would need Mia's permission before making any major decisions right now. Mia was the real decision-maker of the Concord family. A family meeting was being held at the Concord residence in Blue Star. Inside the hall, the head of the family, Truman Concord, and the family's core were all here.

Truman was Mia's father. 2

He could be the head of the family because of his excellent daughter Mia. If not, Truman might not get a chance to be the head of the family. It was all thanks to Mia that the Concord family was able to have what they have right now.

Of course, this was not their only ambition.

They still wanted to rely on Mia to become the number one force of Blue Star and control the entire planet. However, the air in the hall was slightly heavy. All of the cores had serious looks on their faces. They were not as carefree as before. "Everyone, report any recent updates," Truman said. 1 "Truman, someone has been suppressing the family's industries recently, and we're suffering heavy losses. This has never happened before, so I think something must be wrong," Mia's third uncle, Bastian Concord, stood up and said.

"Yeah, Truman, the suppression is getting worse in recent days. It's caused almost all our industries to be at a standstill. If we don't devise a plan and stop this, all our hard work over the past years will soon be in vain." This time, the person who spoke was Mia's fourth uncle, Caspian Concord.

“Vash, any updates on your task? Have you found out who is targeting the Concord family?» Truman looked at his second brother, Vash Concord, and asked in a deep voice.

“Truman, according to the information I inquired about yesterday, it should be the Gatsby family this time,” Vash stood up and said.

‘What?’

‘The Gatsby family?’

Vash’s words directly caused an exclamation from the core of the Concord family in the room.

Everyone took a deep breath.

The Gatsby family was the number one family on Blue Star. They were powerful, so why would they suppress the Concord family? Although the Concord family had gradually increased its strength these years, all thanks to Mia, they were still far from the Gatsby family!

Furthermore, the Concord family had always been careful and would never offend any family.

There was no grudges between them at all. There was no reason for the Gatsby family to take action against the Concord family. While shocked, the Concord family was a little puzzled. “Are you sure it’s the Gatsby family?” Truman stood up and asked seriously.

He was also shocked at this moment.

If it were the Gatsby family, it would be troublesome With the current strength of their family, they had no chance of resisting the Gatsby family at all.

Unless Mia asked for help outside Blue Star. However, the Gatsby family, as the largest family of Blue Star, occupied nearly one-third of Blue Star’s resources and area. Hence, most people would not want to offend them. “I’m sure that it’s them,” Vash replied.

He would not dare to say this if he was not confident. Vash asked a lot of people and spent a lot of money to get this information.

It was indeed the Gatsby family who was targeting them from behind. When Truman heard this, he fell onto the chair like all the energy had been sucked out of his body. ‘Oh no! It’s the Gatsby family. What should I do?’ Truman, let’s tell Mia about this. She knows so many big shots in the Royal Region, so she's the only one who can help us now. If not, we won't be able to resist the Gatsby family," Bastian said.

"Yeah, Lord Truman. Let's tell Miss Mia about this. Didn't she go to some party recently? She will surely have met some big shots. Tell her to bring one of them back, and then the problem will be solved," one of the cores said hurriedly. "Sigh... You're making this too easy. It's not that I don't want to tell her, but getting a big shot to come is not easy. Even if Mia knows a lot of them, she only knows them on the surface level, not at a deeper level. Also, they won't come to help just because Mia asks them to. So, this is why I asked you to be careful. The big shots are all about interest, and they will only help us if they can get sufficient interest," Truman sighed.

He knew about his daughter.

She was one of the four fairies in the Milky Way. Even though she looked flashy, she was just a clown to those big shots.

Mia had complained about this more than once to him. Those big shots were very hard to entertain, and it was exhausting being around them.

They all wanted to take advantage of her and dominate her.

Truman could only comfort Mia. He asked her to find a suitable man she liked and marry him.

As long as the man was not too bad, their family would have a better life in Blue Star because of this marriage.

One was likely to be influenced when immersed in an unpleasant environment. If Mia were always wandering around the big shots, it would be hard for her to find support if she lost her innocence once some bastard plotted against her. However, Mia had never found a suitable partner.

"Truman, we have to tell Mia whether she can solve the family emergency or not. It's fine, as long as she tries her best, we won't blame her. If it's not possible, we can give up everything we have right now and return to our old home. It's fine if we go back to farming," Vash said.

"Yeah! Truman, we shouldn't hide this from Mia no matter what. What if she blames you when she returns to see the family ruined? Even if the Gatsby family is powerful, they're only powerful on Blue Star. Mia has been living in the Royal Region for so many years, so she might be able to solve this," Caspian added.

"Sigh... I know what you're saying, but... It's not like you don't know Mia. If she finds out about this, she will do everything to save the family, and she might even do something that goes against her will. Mia has sacrificed a lot for the family, so I don't want to destroy her last glimmer of hope. Do you get what I mean?" Truman looked at the cores of the family and said. Not only was he the head of the family, but he was also a father.

Truman did not want her daughter to sacrifice everything for her family.

The core of the family was silent.

Of course, they knew what Truman meant.

Mia had to get a big shot to come to save the family so that they could stop the Gatsby family.

However, it would not be easy to get a big shot to come. Mia would have to sacrifice something to get them to come, and the Concord family could not afford that.

However, Mia could.

What could Mia give? Her body.

As Mia's father, Truman naturally would not force her daughter to make this choice.

He hoped Mia could choose according to her will.

However, not everyone agreed with Truman's idea.

Some of the family members thought that since Mia was a woman, she would be married off sooner or later. Wasn't it good to use this chance to marry a big shot? That way, she could help the family and also increase the family's strength. However, they did not dare to say this out loud, so they could only think this inside their hearts.

"Truman, we were being rude and impetuous. Mia had contributed so much to the family, and we shouldn't force her. So, what are we going to do next? The Gatsby family is coming at us in full fury, so they will surely not give up so easily," Vash asked.

(Try our best to go small. Sell everything that you can sell and turn them into money. That way, we will have a better life even if we have to return to the old house," Truman said.

"Yes, Truman. We'll do it now."

"Dismiss." When everyone was leaving, Truman said suddenly, "Wait!" The cores turned and looked at him. Truman scanned the cores at the scene sternly and said, "I'm telling you again, do not tell Mia about this. If I find out, anyone who disobeys will be punished as per the family rules, understand?"

"Yes," everyone answered at the same time.

Even though some of them were unwilling to give up their current lives, they had no choice. They could only offer suggestions and not make decisions about any major events in the family. "Go pack. We might have to leave this place soon."

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1076

Burke had been keeping an eye on David on Planet Boundless. He was the one who put David on the empire's wanted list and exposed David's whereabouts to the bounty hunter community.

His purpose was to get revenge on David.

Burke was overshadowed by his elder brother Malachi since he was a child, resulting in intense jealousy.

Hence, he would feel extremely jealous whenever he saw someone better than him.

David was not only younger and stronger than him, but he also ignored Burke and took Mia from Planet Boundless forcibly regardless of his obstruction.

Burke certainly would not miss a chance to consign David to eternal damnation.

After David arrived on the outskirts of the Royal Region, Burke was waiting for news that he had been rounded up by countless bounty hunters and sent to the empire's military.

He wanted to know what power was behind David, and he also wanted to know what David would do in the face of the empire's pressure.

However, it had been a day, and Burke still did not get any updates.

This made Burke a little flustered.

In the end, he only got a four-word sentence from his father Ramos.

'Get back here now!'

Burke's heart tightened, he knew something bad had happened.

Although he had since inquired from all sides, he still got nothing.

Burke was getting more and more flustered.

Before he figured out what was happening, he did not want to return to the Royal Region.

However, he did not dare to disobey his father's orders.

So, he could only head to the Royal Region apprehensively.

This was related to Princess Astrid of the empire, so Burke naturally could not find out anything

Even though millions of bounty hunters and intelligence gatherers of different forces were present, it was related to someone of high status, so no one dared to spread anything recklessly

Such was the deterrent effect of the empire.

At this same time, this was due to the Milky Way Empire's royalty and the Barlowe family's deterrence.

Since the Milky Way Empire wiped out Sangruil, the entire Milky Way was under the Barlowe family's control.

They had run it for so many years, so the Barlowe family's place was already deep in people's hearts.

No matter how good or bad, any news related to the Barlowe family in the Milky Way was not allowed to be privately shared without permission. Otherwise, once found, the person who did it would be sentenced to life imprisonment or have their entire family wiped out.

Thus, Burke could not find out what happened when David arrived outside the Royal Region. Many people knew the truth, but no one would risk getting their family wiped out to tell him. Even Burke's father, Ramos, just told Burke to go to him immediately. Burke was getting increasingly restless as he sat on the ship heading to the Royal Region. He desperately wanted to know what had happened.

Since his father refused to tell him, he would be scolded even if he asked again.

Aside from his father, one other person had to know.

That was his brother Malachi.

Burke did not want to beg Malachi. Although he knew his brother would tell him even if he asked, he had no choice. If he did not find out, he would not be at ease.

In the end, he contacted Malachi..

This was the first time he had contacted his older brother after leaving the family for more than ten years. What surprised him was that he could not get in contact with Malachi's communication device. 'Oh no! Something serious must have happened!'

Burke collapsed lifelessly. If he could not contact Malachi, it would mean Malachi was intentionally ignoring him.

It was clear that Malachi did not want to face Burke.

Burke racked his brain and still could not figure out how a perfect plan could go wrong.
