

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2406

Chapter 2406

Daisie didn't speak.

Zephir saw Daisie at the reception table.

Daisie smiled, nodded at him politely, and looked away after that.

She had never seen Zephir after their filming wrapped up.

She was quite surprised to see him attend the fashion show. After the show, Daisie ended up sitting next to Zoey, possibly intentionally arranged by the organizers. Hannah and Zephir were next to them too.

But the attention of the media was all on the two of them.

Zoey never thought that the organizers would do that. When they were greeting the reporters, she said in a volume only Daisie could hear. "This is just bad luck. I hope your stupid fans don't say I'm trying to become relevant again by standing next to you."

Daisie smiled. "From what I know, your fans are mostly the stupid ones."

Zoey's smile faded. Because of what had happened during their variety show, her fans had created a lot of funny situations in their attempt to make her famous again. The majority of netizens mocked them as 'brain-dead fans'.

Zoey was about to retort, but Daisie suddenly stood up and walked away.

Zephir watched her walk away and frowned.

Daisie rushed into the washroom and threw up all her dinner from last night.

After she was done, she turned on the tap to wash the vomit away.

She threw water on her face and looked at herself in the mirror. Something came to her mind, and she rested her hand on her belly.

'Am I pregnant?'

She thought about it and realized her period had been half a month late.

Daisie quickly left the washroom and was surprised to see Zephir smoking in the corridor. She had never seen him smoke and didn't know that he did.

Daisie asked, "Why are you out here?"

Zephir flicked the ash off and raised his brows. "Not feeling well?"

"I'm fine. I'm going back in."

When Daisie walked past him, he suddenly grabbed her wrist. He looked very calm. "You haven't seen Leah Younge in a long time, have you?"

Daisie was surprised. "She's back?"

Zoey, who was standing at a distance, saw them and looked unhappy. Only God knew how much effort she had put into getting her first role as a female lead from Zephir.

But Bassburgh had a small circle.

Did Zephir and Daisie have that kind of relationship?

'Hah! Tiffany Cullen had said that Daisie was a 'player, and it might actually be true. She's still in a relationship with another man after getting married.'

The next day, at the East Islands...

After Cameron washed up and had breakfast, she went and watered the flowers in the garden. She was a little not used to such a calm and restful life, maybe because she had been living in the busy city for a while now.

Waylon walked into the garden wearing his silk pants and holding a cup of coffee. He saw that she was watering while zoning out and chuckled.

"Are you trying to drown the flowers?"

She snapped back and saw that the flowerbed was flooded. She slowly stopped.

"What's the issue? Flowers will grow back."

He smiled and didn't speak.

Cameron remembered something and suddenly turned to look at him. "You didn't go to Yuzu Villa with my dad to talk about the wedding banquet?"

"He can handle that." He then looked at Cameron and smiled. "Can't wait to be my bride?"

Chapter 2407

Cameron turned her face away. "Can you shut up? I'm not in a hurry."

Waylon slowly sipped his coffee and smiled.

Mahina walked in and was followed by a group of people who were carrying a lot of things.

Cameron stopped her. "What are you doing?"

Mahina smiled and said, "We're getting ready for your wedding. Mr. Southern said we're going to get the best wedding planner on the island to plan your wedding."

Cameron was shocked. "Do we need to go through so much hassle?"

It was just a wedding.

The crew member behind them smiled. "It's not a hassle. It's an event of a lifetime. Everyone wants to be the prettiest bride. We are responsible for making you happy."

After that, her expression returned to a serious one.

Cameron smiled. "Where did the old man get a wedding planner?"

Mahina grabbed her arm. "Let's go. I'll show you."

"What's to see- What?"

Before she could finish, Mahina dragged her into the house. "Take a look. You might like it."

Waylon smiled and shook his head.

Everything that was needed for the wedding filled up the room-jewelry, clothing, shoes, and more.

Two female crew members walked in. "Ms. Southern, we're here to get your measurements."

Cameron was surprised. "Measurements?"

"Yes, we make a wedding dress based on your measurements and will get it done in three days."

Mahina brought the rest of the crew out, and Cameron let them measure her.

Meanwhile, in Bassburgh...

Daisie wore a cap and a face mask to cover her face.

The server guided her to a room and opened the door. "This way, ma'am."

Leah looked up upon hearing that. After she saw the server walk out, she immediately stood up and smiled. "Daisie."

Daisie removed her mask and pulled out a chair. "Where did you get back?"

"Two days ago. I just got back." Leah took a seat and poured out some tea. "My company gave me a long time off. I'm going to relax now that I'm back."

Daisie smiled too. "Interpreting is a tough job, huh?"

"Of course. I have to run around with my bosses and meet the VIPs. When I close my eyes, all I can see is the schedule for the next day. My mind is just fed with work." Leah picked up her cup and sighed. "I wouldn't have taken a foreign language if I knew this would be the outcome."

She remembered something and looked up. "By the way, Zephir is a director. Is he part of the entertainment industry now?"

Daisie was surprised and looked around. "Yes."

Leah raised her brows and leaned in closer. "Did he become a director because of you?"

Daisie looked down. "It's his passion."

Even if it were for her, they wouldn't have worked out.

Was she supposed to change because Zephir got into the film industry because of her?

Leah could see something was off, so she asked, "Daisie, didn't you have a huge crush on Zephir? Did something happen between you two?"

She had been overseas and didn't have time to pay attention to entertainment news because she was busy. She didn't know that Daisie was married. In her mind, Daisie and Zephir were really close. She even imagined that she would be attending their wedding when she returned.

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2407

Chapter 2407

Cameron turned her face away. "Can you shut up? I'm not in a hurry."

Waylon slowly sipped his coffee and smiled.

Mahina walked in and was followed by a group of people who were carrying a lot of things.

Cameron stopped her. "What are you doing?"

Mahina smiled and said, "We're getting ready for your wedding. Mr. Southern said we're going to get the best wedding planner on the island to plan your wedding."

Cameron was shocked. "Do we need to go through so much hassle?"

It was just a wedding.

The crew member behind them smiled. "It's not a hassle. It's an event of a lifetime. Everyone wants to be the prettiest bride. We are responsible for making you happy."

After that, her expression returned to a serious one.

Cameron smiled. "Where did the old man get a wedding planner?"

Mahina grabbed her arm. "Let's go. I'll show you."

"What's to see- What?"

Before she could finish, Mahina dragged her into the house. "Take a look. You might like it."

Waylon smiled and shook his head.

Everything that was needed for the wedding filled up the room-jewelry, clothing, shoes, and more.

Two female crew members walked in. "Ms. Southern, we're here to get your measurements."

Cameron was surprised. "Measurements?"

“Yes, we make a wedding dress based on your measurements and will get it done in three days.”

Mahina brought the rest of the crew out, and Cameron let them measure her.

Meanwhile, in Bassburgh...

Daisie wore a cap and a face mask to cover her face.

The server guided her to a room and opened the door. “This way, ma’am.”

Leah looked up upon hearing that. After she saw the server walk out, she immediately stood up and smiled. “Daisie.”

Daisie removed her mask and pulled out a chair. “Where did you get back?”

“Two days ago. I just got back.” Leah took a seat and poured out some tea. “My company gave me a long time off. I’m going to relax now that I’m back.”

Daisie smiled too. “Interpreting is a tough job, huh?”

“Of course. I have to run around with my bosses and meet the VIPs. When I close my eyes, all I can see is the schedule for the next day. My mind is just fed with work.” Leah picked up her cup and sighed. “I wouldn’t have taken a foreign language if I knew this would be the outcome.”

She remembered something and looked up. “By the way, Zephir is a director. Is he part of the

entertainment industry now?”

Daisie was surprised and looked around. “Yes.”

Leah raised her brows and leaned in closer. “Did he become a director because of you?”

Daisie looked down. “It’s his passion.”

Even if it were for her, they wouldn’t have worked out.

Was she supposed to change because Zephir got into the film industry because of her?

Leah could see something was off, so she asked, “Daisie, didn’t you have a huge crush on Zephir? Did something happen between you two?”

She had been overseas and didn't have time to pay attention to entertainment news because she was busy. She didn't know that Daisy was married. In her mind, Daisy and Zephyr were really close. She even imagined that she would be attending their wedding when she returned.

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2408

Chapter 2408

Leah could see that Zephyr had feelings for Daisy since they were that age.

When he gave up on studying finances and switched to film, that showed that he was going into the entertainment industry because of Daisy.

Daisy raised her brows. "Leah, I'm married."

"Married? With who?" Leah was shocked.

Daisy told her about Nollace. She looked surprised because she didn't expect a change in the plot.

"So, you didn't have feelings for Zephyr?"

Daisy paused. "I never said I had feelings for him."

Leah didn't know how to react. "I saw that you were close when we were in school. You're really saying that you didn't have feelings for him?"

Daisy placed her hand on her forehead, feeling a little awkward. "I always saw him as an older brother. I didn't like him that way."

Maybe it was because they were too young to tell those feelings apart, but in her heart, Zephyr was always like a brother to her. She didn't think that Leah would have taken it the wrong way.

Leah sighed. "Too bad you aren't interested. He really fell for you."

After lunch, Leah walked Daisy to her car. As she watched Daisy drive away, she picked up her phone and gave Zephyr a call.

Zephyr was at the billiard hall.

The private billiard hall was on the 36th floor of the hotel. It was different from the smoke-filled ones. Not only was smoking not allowed here, but it also had a very comfortable environment and the best service. It even had a great view.

There was a fine-dining restaurant, a gym, a pool, and more on the floor above.

The rooms were on the floors under this one.

Leah walked into the hall and turned to see Zephir teaching a woman how to play. They looked more like flirting than playing.

Even Leah was surprised. She had never seen Zephir like that before.

Zephir saw her but didn't let go of the woman's hand. He smiled. "Met Daisy?"

The woman looked up at Leah too.

Leah placed her bag on the couch and walked to the table. "Yes, we just had lunch." After that, she sized up the woman. "Seems like you're having fun. It's rare."

"It was rare to see him like that. Did he change because Daisy is married?"

The woman asked him in a flirty voice, "Zeph, is this your friend?"

Zephir nodded, stood up straight, and handed Leah the pool cue the woman was holding. "Play with me."

The woman was unhappy and shook his arm. "You said you were going to spend time with me."

But when she saw Zephir's eyes growing dark, she immediately stopped.

She could read expressions. If she wanted to see him again, she needed to stop, or he would get tired of her.

After the woman left, Leah chuckled. "This isn't like you."

He positioned the balls and casually said, "It doesn't matter. People change."

"Are you hinting at something?"

He looked up at her and didn't reply.

Leah polished the tip of the pool cue and continued. "You became a director because of her, and now that she's married to someone else, you're unhappy about it, right?"

Seeing how he was silent, Leah hit the cue ball, sending some of them into the nets. "They love each other, but it's just a one-way street for you. You're letting yourself go just because you can't have her. That's not the Zeph I know."

Chapter 2409

After a long pause, Zephir chuckled. "I don't even know myself."

At Taylorton...

Daisie told Nollace about her lunch with Leah.

Nollace peeled some oranges for her and fed her but couldn't help but chuckle. "What did you eat?"

Daisie sat on his thighs and ate the orange. "Everything. But I noticed that I don't really have an appetite recently, which is fine, but I gained weight."

She suspected that she was pregnant, but wouldn't she want to eat more if she was?

If she didn't have an appetite, it was mostly because her sleep cycle wasn't consistent. Her period was probably late because her hormones were imbalanced.

Nollace paused, then looked at her.

Daisie didn't notice the change in his eyes and continued talking. "Actresses always worry about gaining weight. It's your fault for always making great food for me and making me fat."

She started 'complaining' again.

Nollace placed the oranges on a plate and said, "You would grow fat even if I didn't feed you."

She choked. "Why?"

He pinched her cheek and smiled. "You'll need to gain weight eventually."

Daisie didn't have time to think about what he said because she got a call from the company. She slowly got up. "Alright, I' head over now."

Nollace helped her because he was worried that she might trip. "Be careful."

Daisie sat back down, put her arms around his neck, and smiled. "Nolly, I'll go back to Yaramoor with you. when my vacation days are confirmed."

He paused and smiled while patting her head. "Sure."

Daisie looked up. "Give me a kiss."

He planted a kiss on her lips while his eyes filled with love.

After watching her leave, he picked up his phone and called Edison. "Help me to get an appointment at the Obstetrics and Children's Department tomorrow."

Edison was stunned. 'Obstetrics and Children's Department? Is Ms. Vanderbilt pregnant!?"

He had to inform Rick and Diana about the good news!

Meanwhile...

Daisie was getting her makeup done for a commercial shoot. The stylist gave her a mermaid skirt, and it hugged her figure tightly.

Daisie was changing into it, but when she pulled the zipper around her waist, it felt like it was tight.

She held her breath and frowned, then walked out. "Isn't this my size? I think it's smaller."

The assistant checked the information. "No, this is made based on your measurements."

"Really?" Daisie looked at her belly. She hadn't been eating a lot recently and mostly drank water. Had she become someone who would gain weight just by drinking water?

The assistant noticed something and walked over. "Daisie, did you gain a little bit of weight?"

Daisie placed her hand on her forehead because someone else could tell. "Maybe. Could you help me alter the waistline? It's pretty uncomfortable."

The assistant was hesitant. "But the sponsors lent it to us."

"It's alright. I'll buy it."

If she paid for it, the dress would be hers, and she would be able to alter it.

The assistant took a deep breath because this daughter of the Goldmann family could just buy a skirt worth a few thousand dollars.

She was just going to wear it once. That was such a luxury!

The next day, after the visual effects were done for the ad, everyone's attention was on Daisy's waist.

#Why do I feel that her waist has turned thicker?#

#No way. Female celebrities should have a bit of meat on their bones. If they're just skin and bones, they look unhealthy!#

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2409

Chapter 2409

After a long pause, Zephir chuckled. "I don't even know myself."

At Taylorton...

Daisy told Nollace about her lunch with Leah.

Nollace peeled some oranges for her and fed her but couldn't help but chuckle. "What did you eat?"

Daisy sat on his thighs and ate the orange. "Everything. But I noticed that I don't really have an appetite recently, which is fine, but I gained weight."

She suspected that she was pregnant, but wouldn't she want to eat more if she was?

If she didn't have an appetite, it was mostly because her sleep cycle wasn't consistent. Her period was probably late because her hormones were imbalanced.

Nollace paused, then looked at her.

Daisy didn't notice the change in his eyes and continued talking. "Actresses always worry about gaining weight. It's your fault for always making great food for me and making me fat."

She started 'complaining' again.

Nollace placed the oranges on a plate and said, "You would grow fat even if I didn't feed you."

She choked. "Why?"

He pinched her cheek and smiled. "You'll need to gain weight eventually."

Daisie didn't have time to think about what he said because she got a call from the company. She slowly got up. "Alright, I' head over now."

Nollace helped her because he was worried that she might trip. "Be careful."

Daisie sat back down, put her arms around his neck, and smiled. "Nolly, I'll go back to Yaramoor with you. when my vacation days are confirmed."

He paused and smiled while patting her head. "Sure."

Daisie looked up. "Give me a kiss."

He planted a kiss on her lips while his eyes filled with love.

After watching her leave, he picked up his phone and called Edison. "Help me to get an appointment at the Obstetrics and Children's Department tomorrow."

Edison was stunned. 'Obstetrics and Children's Department? Is Ms. Vanderbilt pregnant!?"

He had to inform Rick and Diana about the good news!

Meanwhile...

Daisie was getting her makeup done for a commercial shoot. The stylist gave her a mermaid skirt, and it hugged her figure tightly.

Daisie was changing into it, but when she pulled the zipper around her waist, it felt like it was tight.

She held her breath and frowned, then walked out. "Isn't this my size? I think it's smaller."

The assistant checked the information. "No, this is made based on your measurements."

"Really?" Daisie looked at her belly. She hadn't been eating a lot recently and mostly drank water. Had she become someone who would gain weight just by drinking water?

The assistant noticed something and walked over. "Daisie, did you gain a little bit of weight?"

Daisie placed her hand on her forehead because someone else could tell. "Maybe. Could you help me alter the waistline? It's pretty uncomfortable."

The assistant was hesitant. "But the sponsors lent it to us."

“It’s alright. I’ll buy it.”

If she paid for it, the dress would be hers, and she would be able to alter it.

The assistant took a deep breath because this daughter of the Goldmann family could just buy a skirt worth a few thousand dollars.

She was just going to wear it once. That was such a luxury!

The next day, after the visual effects were done for the ad, everyone’s attention was on Daisy’s waist.

#Why do I feel that her waist has turned thicker?#

#No way. Female celebrities should have a bit of meat on their bones. If they’re just skin and bones, they look unhealthy!#