

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2171

Chapter 2171 Waylon looked toward her and smiled.

Meanwhile, at Southwest Villas...

“What? Cameron is a woman?”

Fabio was shocked to hear that too.

Cameron was Sunny’s only son, and everyone on the island knew that. However, this ‘son’ turned out to be a daughter.

The bodyguard who reported that looked at him. “Everyone in the Southern Clan has accepted it. Andrei tried to use this secret as leverage, but Mr. Southern Sr. couldn’t be bothered.”

Fabio looked dark. “Andrei really turned into Donald’s dog. Donald doesn’t know Sunny well enough. It’s funny that he thought Sunny would compromise because of what he did.”

He had been careless about Donald.

If he had known better, he wouldn’t have let the wanted man stay on the island. Not only did Donald take advantage of him, but he also tried to take his place too.

That was why the killers that Manuel had hired from the Skull Club would go to the Southern Clan’s territory to kill Cameron. It was because Donald had worked out something with them. It was naive of him to think that he would be able to win if he had enough connections.

Meanwhile, after Donald discovered that his spy in the Southern Clan had disappeared, he went into a rage. “Bunch of useless pieces of sh*t! You can’t even keep your eyes on one man!”

No one spoke except Chunky. “They probably captured the person that we lost contact with. He must have ratted everyone out.”

Donald almost crushed a teacup in his hand.

At that moment, a man rushed in and whispered something into Donald’s ear, which made him raise his brows. “Are you sure?”

The man nodded. “I heard that she has ties with people from Metropolis. I didn’t come to see you for two days to avoid suspicion.” Donald’s anger faded, and he smiled. “Manue I wasn’t mistaken. Gail is from Metropolis.” Chunky was shocked. “She’s using a fake id entity?" Donald smirked. "No matter how she hid her past, the Gail here isn't the same person who worked with Huntley. Fabio probably would never think that he wrongfully blamed Buchanon, who had been loyal to him. I wonder what he'll look like when he realizes he killed the man who didn't lie to him."

Daisie got up, walked to Cameron while smiling, and grabbed her arm. "Cameron!" Cameron saw that she looked healthy and radiant, so she raised her brows. "You seem to be living a good life at your husband's place."

Daisie blushed and let go of her arm. "Nonsense."

After they took a seat, the servers started serving the food.

Nollace deboned the fish for Daisie and asked, "Does the Southern Clan have any plans?"

Cameron picked up the tea but didn't drink, then calmly said, "The spy that Donald planted in the clan was removed, Gail had taken over Parkin, and now we wait for Donald to make a move against Fabio. Gail will be the key to Fabio's survival." Nollace placed the fish on Daisie's plate. "That's what I think too. Your bet is on Fabio's failure."

Cameron smiled. "If Fabio wins, who will work with us? The enemy of my enemy will at least be half a friend." She paused for a few seconds and looked up. "And on top of that, we're in the light. Even if Donald wins the battle, you will still be there."

Nollace had been hiding his identity and was the man behind the scenes, while the Southern Clan would be in the light in the battle between Donald and Fabio.

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2172

Chapter 2172 Without Nollace, The Southern Clan might not be able to win this battle against Donald because even if they could sway Fabio, they wouldn't be able to do that to Donald. Nollace understood him better than anyone else. Even if Fabio lost everything and Donald got the upper hand, Nollace would be able to attack while Donald was unprepared.

A few days later, the Parkin warehouse was engulfed in flames. The previously glamorous Chamber of Commerce was only a pile of ash when the firefighters put out the fire. It was lucky that no one was hurt. When Fabio caught wind of it, he flew into a rage. "Why would fire randomly start there? Where's Gail? Tell her to come to see me!"

The others hung their heads low and didn't speak. One of the men carefully answered, "Ms. Leroy is... Missing."

Fabio grabbed him by the collar. "What do you mean?" The man shook and said, "Ms. Leroy suddenly disappeared, and none of us can get a hold of her."

"Bad news!"

A bodyguard rushed into the study, out of breath. "The working capital of the Chamber of Commerce has been frozen. All the files and agreements signed with other businesses have all been deleted too!"

Fabio was utterly stunned.

The business agreements were signed with outrageous terms because he wanted high returns. He took 90% of the shared profit, but the businesses would only get 10%. The agreements would last for 10 years, and the other parties wouldn't be able to breach their agreements without probable cause.

Once the businesses found out what happened, they would be able to void the contracts. Even if they changed anything on it, Parkin wouldn't be able to prove otherwise.

That fire burned all the agreements and even the funds had been frozen. It was a huge loss. Since Parkin was where all the cash flow of the southwest district went, doing anything to Parkin would mean an attack on him.

Fabio stumbled backward. "How... How could this happen..." "Are you trying to figure out who betrayed you?" Donald walked into the study with his men but was blocked by a few men. Donald wasn't afraid of them and still had a smile on his face. Fabio's face turned dark. "It was you?" "You're wrongly accusing me." His smile widened. "Not only that, but you even wrongly accused Mr. Gibson."

Fabio's chest started hurting, and he didn't speak

Donald still looked calm. "I can understand that you're not really good at reading people. I'm sure you don't know that Gail Leroy is working for Metropolis either, right?"

Fabio was astonished. "What!?"

"Gail, the girl who was working for you, wasn't the Gail that Huntley sent to help you. She was replaced." Donald glared at the men and then at Fabio's face. "Buchanon was loyal to you, but you killed him because Gail suspected him. That was such a terrible loss." Fabio was on the brink of breaking down. The truth hit him like a hurricane and drowned him, making him feel frustrated like he had never felt before. He had never considered he would fail because he had half the island's power. Everyone bowed down to him, and he was the one in control of everyone's fate. He was arrogant and thought that he was better than anyone just to end up being played by this man.

Donald enjoyed watching his expressions change. "I'm guessing you won't be able to overcome this huge loss. What will you use to trade now that you don't have a source of income? I'm sure no one will want to work with you after you go bankrupt in a day. Mr. Puzo, it's time your era comes to an end."

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2173

Chapter 2173 Sunny and Waylon were playing a game of chess in the study when there was a knock on the door.

Mahina walked in and stood next to them. "Sir, Parkin has been burned to the ground."

Sunny's pawn dropped onto the board, and he smiled. "Ms. Quinn works quickly." In Waylon smiled. "Destroying Parkin would cut Puzo off from his money. He's going to drown in debt, and on top of that, Donald is going to attack him. He's not going to last long."

The butler stood at the doorway. "Sir."

Sunny turned over and saw someone standing behind the butler. It was Mateo.

Mateo walked into the room and nodded. "Sir."

"Aren't you..." Sunny was surprised and stood up. "You're still alive?"

Mateo smiled

sadly and slowly said, "I thought I was going to die too. When Fabio sent Gail to kill me, I sliced open that person's throat with a dagger. Everyone was hurt, and I was badly injured too. "I don't know why, but Gail ended up helping me. She found somewhere for me to hide and told everyone that the man's body was mine. She told me to lay low for a while. I was worried that Fabio would try to kill me again if he found out that I was still alive, so I hid." Sunny nodded, walked to Mateo, and placed his hand on his shoulder. "I'm glad that you're alive. Joaquin will be very happy when he finds out." Mateo lowered his head. "I feel bad for not helping."

Sunny sighed. "It's fine. Joaquin needs you, and you being alive is the best thing that could happen now." After Mahina walked Mateo out, Sunny and Waylon walked downstairs together. "Saydie has executed the plan, and there's only one step left." Waylon stopped on the stairs and turned to see him. "When Fabio is alone with no help, he will turn to you."

Sunny smirked. "Yes, I'm waiting for him to come to see me."

Sunny looked toward the courtyard and saw someone, then frowned,

Minzy was there in a white off-shoulder dress with loose cabbage hem sleeves. She had a blue teardrop pendant necklace and earrings, which made her look very classy. She politely greeted Sunny. "Mr. Southern. Sr." Sunny knew why she was there and wasn't very happy about it. Still, he was courteous. "Are you here to see Cam?" She paused and looked toward Waylon and smiled. "I'm here to see Mr. Goldman." Sunny's smile faded as he nodded. "Alright, I'll leave you to it then." He walked into the courtyard with his hand behind his back and into a long corridor, then took a step back and peeked at them from behind a wall.

Waylon stood at the front of the long corridor and looked back at Minzy while smiling, "How can I help you?" Minzy tucked her hair behind her ear and looked down. "I bumped into you a few days ago at Yuzu Villa... Ms. Southern told me about your relationship. I'm sorry because I thought you had an... unconventional relationship."

Waylon squinted. "What did she say?"

"She said that you weren't together." Minzy looked up at him. "Did you try to mislead me the other day?"

Waylon played with his cuff in deep thought.

Minzy wrapped her fingers tighter around her bag and hesitantly asked, "Are you seeing someone?"

Chapter 2174

"Are you interested in me?"

Waylon's sudden bluntness made Minzy blush and look down with a smile. "I felt a rush when I saw you. I guess that's what love at first sight feels like."

Waylon nonchalantly looked around. "What do you like about me?"

Minzy paused, then smiled. "Do I need a reason to?"

"You don't, but I don't think I'm charming enough to make you fall for me at first sight."

"Are you not confident?" She looked shocked. He smiled. "If Cameron hadn't messed up the date intentionally, and if she were a man, would you date her?"

Minzy couldn't answer that because if Cameron were a man and hadn't messed up the date, she wouldn't know if she would date her. And that was before she met Waylon.

Minzy clearly said, "If I didn't meet you, I might. Fate is such an interesting thing, right?"

Waylon squinted. "You look like a good choice for a wife."

She looked happy. "Do you really think so?"

He calmly continued. "But to me, we're from two different worlds. You're a well-read and intelligent woman, so you should find a suitable partner. I'm not that person."

Minzy was stunned. After a long pause, she said, "I can fit into your world and slowly get to know "

"I think you don't understand." Waylon smiled and spoke in a calm tone. "Look at it this way, if you and your bodyguards were in trouble, would you face the attackers together with them or leave them?"

Minzy was curious. "Why would I be in danger when my bodyguards are there?" He then asked, "What if your bodyguards lost to the attackers?" Minzy frowned. "Isn't that what they're supposed to do?" Even if they were all in trouble, the bodyguards were supposed to protect her from harm. "Why are you asking this, Mr. Goldmann?"

Waylon looked down. "You're right that the bodyguards are paid to protect you, but you never have to face attacks and killing attempts on the island. As such, you don't have to be worried.

"However, in my world, it happens, and I might just lose my life. If you can't protect yourself and have to rely on the bodyguards, if the attackers are vicious, not only the bodyguards but even your life will be at risk too. If something happened to me, what could you do?"

Minzy's face turned pale. She had never faced anything like in the movies before. Her uncle was a police officer, and her dad was a real estate mogul. They weren't the richest family, but they were upper class. She never had to face any of that under her uncle and dad's protection.

What Waylon meant by 'from different worlds' was clearly expressed.

Minzy bit her lips, and her eyes turned red. “So, you’re rejecting me because of this?”

Waylon stood under the vines as he replied, “Not entirely.”

She turned to face him. “Why then?”

He slowly said, “I don’t feel butterflies when I see you.”

“But we can work on that

“If there’s nothing initially, it’s very difficult to work on it.” Waylon looked at her sternly. “I don’t like to force myself to do anything that’s pointless, including when it comes to relationships. I hope you understand.”

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2175

Chapter 2175 Sunny, hiding behind the wall, smiled from ear to ear. Someone suddenly patted his back, so he jumped and turned around, only to see Cameron. Cameron crossed her arms. She was going to leave in her pajamas, so she wore a jacket to cover it and didn't even bother to comb her hair. "What are you doing snooping around?"

She looked over, but Sunny pulled her back. "Be careful, don't let them see you." After saying that, he couldn't help but poke his head out.

Cameron did the same and was surprised. "Isn't that Wayne and Minzy? Are they dating?" Sunny took a deep breath to suppress his anger. "She's confessing her feelings to him." Cameron was shocked. "That's quick." Sunny smiled. "Do you feel like rushing over?" She didn't even think about it. "I'm not crazy. Why would I interrupt them?"

"Are you not angry?"

"Why should I be angry?"

Sunny couldn't suppress his anger anymore. He took two steps back and kicked her while she wasn't paying attention. She flew forward and almost ran into a pillar.

When she stood up, she turned to yell at him. "Why did you do that!?" But alas, Sunny was long gone. Cameron angrily tidied up her clothes and suddenly froze, then looked toward Waylon and Minzy.

They were both staring at her. Cameron forced an awkward smile and waved at them. "Carry on, don't let me stop you." She was going back in the house when Waylon rushed over and grabbed her by her arm. She turned back in shock. "You..." Waylon hugged her by her shoulders and pulled her to Minzy. "Didn't you ask if I think someone is a match for me? She's a match."

Cameron was surprised and was going to shake him off, but he held onto her.

Minzy was astonished, but she looked down after a short pause, turned, and left. Cameron moved Waylon's hand away and put some distance between them. "Are you addicted to using me to push people away?" Waylon smiled. "That wasn't the first time, so it wouldn't hurt if I did it again." "It would!" Cameron poked his shoulder while looking furious. "I've had enough rumors that involve you. I'll kill you if you give me one more nightmare." Waylon raised his brow as he caught something. "Nightmare?"

She paused, then avoided his eyes. "It's not exactly a nightmare, but it wasn't a sweet dream either."

Waylon kept his eyes on her as he asked, "You dream about me?"

Cameron's face dropped because her heart was a mess. Why would she talk about her dream? She felt shame and guilt when she looked at his face.

Waylon squinted. "I was right."

"Yes, I dreamed about you." Cameron made up a dream. "In my dream, you stole my inheritance, land, and house. You even... even stole my pigs." Waylon chuckled. "What else?"

Cameron licked her lips, trying hard to think. His smile widened. "You don't really think when you lie about your dreams?" She looked away. "Nobody remembers their dreams."

Waylon approached to see her expression. "But you remember that I stole your inheritance, land, house, and... your pigs."
