

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 661

Chapter 661. The news on the internet was escalating.

The short video of Adina and Catherine arguing in the lobby went viral.

The photo of the CEO of Winters Corporation standing in front of Catherine, shielding her from the journalists, had been shared more than a billion times.

The number of comments was growing at a rate of thousands per second

"Oh damn! So it's true that they are getting a divorce because someone came between them!"

"His wife has fallen to the floor, yet Duke actually protected his mistress first. His mistress is his true love indeed."

"Adina is the most beautiful woman in Sea City. How is she not better than her? Why did her husband kick her out after getting married for just a month?"

"Maybe her personality was too imposing, that's why her husband chose to find another woman."

"Those who are blaming it on the victim should take some time off. Cheaters deserve to die! Homewreckers deserve to die! No matter what his wife has done wrong, it shouldn't be a reason for him to have affairs and cheat on her!"

"The mistress's name is Catherine. A famous psychiatrist. Her clinic is on the second floor of the Oriental Road building!"

"My marriage and my family were ruined by a mistress. It has ruined my children's lives. I hate mistresses. Catherine has to die!"

Immediately afterward, the news of Catherine's clinic being smashed became the most trending news.

Adina sneered with her phone in her hand. "If Catherine doesn't leave Sea City, news like this will occur every few days."

Earl's expression was extremely gloomy.

He was good at managing social relationships in business, but he had no idea how to handle a catfight.

On one side was Catherine, who had been with him for so many years.

On the other was his brother's wife. Of course, he had to admit that he cared about this woman.

"I have seen how crazy Catherine is.

She will show up at the Winters family's mansion and make a scene there one day. If she makes a scene in front of my kids, I will go all out to teach her a lesson," Adina said coldly. "You only have one way out now. Tell Catherine to get the hell out of Sea City and never come back."

Earl gritted his teeth. "Do you think she would listen to me?"

"She loves you. She will listen to some of the things you say," said Adina. "The point is, I don't want to see Catherine in Sea City anymore. Take care of that."

After she finished, she turned around and left.

The moment Adina stepped outside, her tension eased.

She looked up at the blinding sunlight. Her face was filled with a bitter smile. It was exhausting to have to put on an act every day.

'Duke, where are you?'

'If you are still alive, why aren't you coming to me? Why aren't you coming to see our children?'

'Are you really dead?'

Buzz.

The vibration of Adina's phone pulled her out of her sadness.

She glanced at the caller ID. It was an unknown number. Perhaps it was a business client. She adjusted her mood and answered it.

"Is this Ms. Daugherty?"

A familiar voice came from the other end of the phone.

A figure came to Adina's mind. "Mr. Jones?"

"It really is you, Ms. Daugherty. I feared I got the wrong person." Dillon let out a sigh of relief. "I would like to invite you to an afternoon tea. I was wondering if you are free, Ms. Daugherty?"

Adina raised her wrist and glanced at her watch. "Sorry, Mr. Jones. I'm very busy."

"Then, do you need my help?" Dillon spoke cautiously. "I just saw the news and realized that you might be in a bit of trouble. Don't get me wrong. I just feel like we have some chemistry together. I want to help you."

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 662

Chapter 662

"Thank you, Mr. Jones. I can take care of it myself."

Adina hung up immediately.

She drove back to LaStar Technology Corporation. Instead of taking care of work, she logged on to the Dark Net using an offshore account

There were all kinds of people on the Dark Net. Most of them were very capable. She found a few organizations that were involved in both legal and illegal businesses. She spent a fortune to hire them to help search for Duke.

There were only a few places where it was possible to make someone vanish from the face of the earth.

Whether he was alive or dead, she had to find out Duke's whereabouts.

Adina had a busy afternoon at the office. She was finally ready to go home.

She actually felt reluctant to go back to the Winters family's mansion. Without Duke, without four kids, it was just another building to her.

But she still needed to deal with Earl, so she had to go back.

Adina dawdled in the office for a while before she drove back to the Winters family's mansion.

She heard familiar voices as soon as she stepped out of her car.

Then, four delicate and adorable children anxiously dashed toward her.

“Mommy, you’re finally home. I miss you so much!” Harold threw himself into her arms.

“Mommy, I want a hug. I miss you so much.” Melody grabbed Adina’s arm and tried to climb up.

George

looked up at her with an incomprehensible gaze. “ Mommy, you look like you’ve lost weight.”

“Mommy...”

Alden uttered a word, yet he could not complete his sentence.

He had seen today’s news almost immediately after it came out. He did not expect that man to have such a big influence on Mommy

“Why are you guys back?”

Adina hugged and touched the kids. Her heart was filled with tenderness.

In the next second, it was replaced with grave concern.

There was a devil living in the Winters family’s mansion. The children’s return was like walking into a lion’s den.

“Addy, don’t think about fooling the children.” Flint walked out from behind them with a solemn expression. He said, “Although they are just four years old, their IQ is similar to that of ten-year olds.

They have already learned everything that they are supposed to know.”

“Mommy, Daddy is a bad guy!” Harold gritted his teeth and said, “ When Daddy comes back, I’m going to teach him a lesson for you, Mommy!”

George pursed his thin lips tightly and said, “I never thought Daddy would be this kind of man. Mommy, no matter what decision you make, you have my support.”

Melody choked and said, “Daddy is bad. I don’t like Daddy anymore.”

“Mommy, I support your decision to get a divorce.” Alden said indifferently, “Mel and I will always be by your side.”

Adina felt like crying.

The kids were scolding their daddy, but the truth was their daddy had already gone missing.

This was something that she could never tell her children.

“This is a matter between adults. You kids don’t have to worry about it.” Adina took a deep breath and said, “Daddy and I have some matters we need to take care of. Will you go with Mr. Morton today and stay in the villa from before?”

She did not dare to let the children remain here. She was truly afraid that Earl would go crazy and hurt the children.

“I’m staying with you, Mommy.” Alden said firmly, “No matter what happens, I’m staying with you.”

He stubbornly gripped Adina’s hand and refused to let go.

“Addy, don’t tell me you still have hopes for him even after what happened?” Flint said coldly, “You have only one choice now. That is, to get a clean divorce. As for the kids’ custody, even if the court assigns it to the Winters family, so what? They are old enough to make their own decisions about whom they want to live with. Who can stop them?”

Madam Winters’s Fight For Her Children Chapter 663

Chapter 663

As night fell, the lights in the mansion’s courtyard lit up, one by one.

The bright lights were reflected in the children’s eyes. In the light, there was her figure.

Adina’s heart was filled with tenderness.

If she asked the kids to leave now, they would certainly refuse to listen to her.

However, it was too dangerous for them to stay in the Winters family’s mansion.

She pursed her lips and decided without hesitation. She said, “Now is not the time to get a divorce, but we can’t stay in the Winters family’s mansion anymore. I will go upstairs and pack our things. We will move out tonight.”

She had just walked into the mansion when she was stopped by Mabel.

Mabel had been standing on pins and needles all day. It was as if her heart had been thrown into a frying pan, and only she knew what it felt like.

She had seen the news on the internet. There were all kinds of rumors about their divorce. Before she could even digest it, the children came back.

It was not a good thing to have the children back at a time like this.

She was well aware of the kind of man his eldest son was. Ten years ago, he had murdered four people. Yet in the end, he let his own father bear the blame and be executed. He sent his own brother abroad and let him die tragically ten years later. There was no guarantee at this point that Earl would not harm the children in order to keep his secret.

“Addy, I have a house in the suburbs. No one knows it’s my property. You and the kids can stay there first.”

Just as Mabel finished her words, a cold smile appeared on Adina’s face. “Do you think that I would still trust you?”

She had colluded with Earl and fooled her. If she had not noticed something was wrong, she would have been persuaded by Mabel to have another child with Earl.

“Addy, the children are my grandchildren. They are Duke’s offsprings. How could I possibly harm them?” Mabel lowered her voice and convinced her. “Earl has an extreme personality. He may force you to compromise by threatening you with the children’s lives. You...”

“If you knew he had an extreme personality, why did you let him show up in my and the children’s lives?” Adina lost her composure and said, “If you hadn’t contacted him in secret, Duke would never have been harmed by Earl! Mrs. Winters, if Duke really dies, I will never forgive you. When the children find out, they will never forgive their grandmother too!”

She shook off Mabel’s hand and went straight upstairs to pack her things.

Mabel’s legs went weak, and she fell back on the couch.

How did things get to this point? How?

She covered her face and wept.

The children heard her cry from outside. They hurriedly came in and surrounded her.

“Grandma, what’s wrong? Why are you crying?” “Stop crying, Grandma. Let me wipe off the tears for you.”

“Grandma, are you hurt? Let me blow on your wound.”

Mabel wept even harder. When these adorable kids learned the truth, they would despise her.

If she had not met with Earl again and again in secret, if she had not arranged for Earl to enter the wedding venue, things would never have come to this point.

When Adina finished packing her bags and came downstairs, she saw Melody in Mabel’s arms and Harold leaning on Mabel’s shoulder.

Her expression turned cold, and she said flatly, “Let’s go.”

“Bye–bye, Grandma.”

The children waved obediently at Mabel and followed Adina out the door of the mansion.

Flint had already parked his car at the door. He helped her put the two large suitcases into the trunk.

However, just at that moment...

A black luxury car slowly drove in and stopped in front of the villa.

Earl pushed open the car door and stepped out. His cold gaze passed from one to another.

“What a party.”

His lips curled. His wicked grin widened even more.

Madam Winters’s Fight For Her Children Chapter 664

Mel was preparing to call her daddy and run to him, but his smile scared her instead.

'I haven't seen Daddy in just a few days, so how did he become so scary?

She turned around and hid in Adina's arms.

With one hand in his pocket, Earl walked slowly toward Adina while his black leather shoes clicked against the cold marble floor.

Three of the children stopped him from approaching before he could even get close to her.

"Don't you dare bully Mommy!" Harold said with gritted teeth as he spread his arms wide.

George's lips tightened into a thin line, and he asked, "Was the news today true, Daddy?"

"At this point, it doesn't matter if it's true or not. Mommy has already suffered from it," Alden said calmly. "There's no use staying in a place where Mommy has been hurt."

Earl traced the roof of his mouth with the tip of his tongue like a ruffian and laughed coldly before saying, "This is a problem between adults. What does it have to do with you three?"

He shoved Harold aside with one push, and then proceeded to grab George and Alden's collars.

"Stop!"

Flint approached them with a grim face once he had finished packing the suitcases into the car.

He stood in front of Adina and the four kids, and his eyes met with Earl's.

He once gave up on Adina and sincerely wished her the happiest of days, since he had trusted that this man would love her.

But only a month, only thirty days later, the man had already had an affair.

The woman he had loved for four years had her feelings trampled upon. She garnered sympathy and even faced humiliation from countless people in Sea City.

Adina, Sea City's most beautiful woman, was proud even when in her most pathetic state, but at this moment, she had become the target of everyone's pity instead.

And all of this happened because of this man right in front of his eyes!

Looking at the angry Flint, Earl snorted and said, "You've already brought your little boyfriend home, Adina. What right do you have to criticize me?"

Adina shielded the four kids behind her and coldly said, "I will only move back when you get rid of Catherine. Georgie, get your brothers and sister into the car!"

George took a glance at Earl and led his siblings into the car's backseat.

Adina nudged Flint and calmly said, "Get in the car too."

Flint threw Earl a deadly glare before getting into the driver's seat.

"We haven't even divorced yet, and you're already getting away with your boyfriend, huh?" Earl gripped Adina's chin. "Have you even gotten my permission to move out?"

Adina jerked her head to the side coldly and freed herself from his hold.

She stepped back and stared at him coldly. "As I've just said, Catherine is to blame for all of this. I'll move back right away when she leaves Sea City."

She got into the passenger seat and coldly said, "Drive."

Flint floored the gas, and the car sped away.

Earl kicked the big potted plant at the mansion's entrance, and it shattered.

He took out his phone and coldly barked orders into it. "Find some guys and bring Catherine out of Sea City right now. She can go wherever she wants, as long as she stays away from me!"

Earl seemed to get even more frustrated after ending the call.

He came to the realization that ever since he met Adina, he always lost to her.

He first promised her to transfer the shares, and then he further pledged to kick Catherine out of Sea City.

She kept making more and more demands, but he always complied without realizing it.
Catherine was right. He was going crazy.

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 665

Chapter 665

Once again, the Winters family had taken over the news headlines.

(Mdm. Adina Winters moved out of the Winters family's mansion overnight. This confirms their divorce!

(A shotgun divorce after a month of marriage. How will the Winters Corporation's property be divided?!]

[Will the mistress, Catherine, take over the title as Mdm. Winters?]

The related news was snowballing on the Internet.

Even so, neither Earl nor Adina responded to them.

Adina was finally able to sleep after reuniting with her children.

She was refreshed the next morning. When she opened her bedroom door and headed downstairs, she heard her children chit-chatting happily.

The long-lost laughter made her feel extremely relaxed.

"Good morning, Mommy."

The four children greeted her together.

Harold and Melody were feeling light-hearted as always. George and Alden looked at her worriedly.

Adina walked towards them and said gently with a smile, "You all can take a two-day break to avoid jet lag. You can go back to school after your break."

“Back to school...?” Harold scrunched up his face. “I hate going to school the most. It’s not fun at all.”

George pursed his lips and said, “Mommy, I’ve been out of the country for the past few days, and I’m way behind schedule regarding a lot of company affairs. Can I finish them up before going back to school?”

Adina knew this was Duke’s high demand for him.

‘George is the eldest and the future heir of Winters Corporation. He has been involved in the company’s various affairs since he was three years old.

‘Duke paved this path for him, but I’m afraid his plan will not go as smoothly anymore.’

She smiled bitterly and said, “Of course. If you come across any problem with your work, give me a call.”

“Al is very smart. No matter what problems I face, he can help me to resolve it.” George then said, “His company has recently received a large order. We need to take time to deal with it as well. Is it okay if the both of us stop attending school for now?”

Alden looked at George when he heard this.

‘I don’t mind not attending school. I have been handling the company’s tasks even while attending school.

‘But I truly don’t dare to tell Mommy that I don’t want to go to school.

Adina felt a sour feeling in her heart once again.

‘Duke gave Alden the company as a gift when they first met...’

‘The company is still around, but he’s...’

She curled the corner of her mouth upwards and said, “Sure.”

“Boohoo! Daddy is being unfair!” Harold cried. “Forget about George having a company. Why does Al also have one?! He’s younger than I. Why does he have a company, but I don’t?! This is so unfair! Daddy is so unfair!”

“Hal, I don’t have either!” Melody wiped his tears and said, “We don’t need to do work if we don’t have a company. We can go play after school. Isn’t it fun?!”

Harold snorted angrily, "Working every day will only make your hair fall. George and Al will be bald in the future. No one will like both of them by then."

George and Alden were at a loss for words.

Adina could not help but laugh.

'Time spent with my children is always the most relaxing.

While talking to the children, she turned on her phone and started watching the news.

Because Winters Corporation was one of the largest consortia, her and Earl's affairs have gone viral.

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 666

Chapter 666

With her moving out of the Winters family's mansion, it seemed to have confirmed the rumors of their divorce.

She did not need to do anything after that. All she needed was to just wait for Catherine to slip up.

"Children, I'll be going to the company to work. Stay here obediently and wait for me. I will cook dinner once I'm back."

She gave each of them a kiss before heading out and driving away.

Right after she left, George brought Alden upstairs. The two of them stayed in the study room for the whole morning.

Adina was surrounded by reporters right after she reached the entrance of the company

Countless cameras and microphones surrounded her.

"Mdm. Winters, someone took a picture of you moving out from the Winter family's mansion. Is that true?"

"Mdm. Winters, are you and Mr. Winters in the midst of divorce?"

"Mdm. Winters, what's your opinion on the property division and child custody?" "Mdm. Winters..."

She was drowned by the endless questions.

These people did not dare to provoke the chairman of Winters

Corporation, but they were not afraid of a fragile woman like Adina.

As long as they could obtain any valuable news from an interview, they could earn tons of online traffic.

Adina took off her sunglasses, tucked her long hair behind her ears, and said in a calm voice, "There is no divorce, no property division, no child custody disputes."

All the reporters were stunned when she said it.

There were countless signs that they are divorcing; Winters Corporation's equity transfer, Adina moving out of Winters family's mansion, and the occurrence of a mistress causing trouble.

A bold reporter came back to his senses first and blocked Adina's way. "Since there is no divorce, why did you move out of the Winters family's mansion with your children?"

Adina looked at him sharply with her cold gaze, "This is between me and my husband. Why should I tell you? Now, excuse me."

The last sentence sounded as sharp as a knife.

The five-foot-nine reporter was so stunned that he moved to the side unconsciously.

He touched the back of his head after watching Adina walk in.

'How on earth did such a tough woman get pushed to the ground yesterday by the mistress, Catherine...'

Adina entered the office unimpeded.

"Ms. Daugherty, what brought you here?" Serene looked anxious. "Did the reporters downstairs make things difficult for you?"

"They can never make things difficult for me." Adina chuckled, "Bring all the company's recent contract projects to my office."

She entered her office, took off her sunglasses, and started working

These days, many things in the company were delayed because she had been dealing with Earl. The preliminary plans for several cases have not been handed in yet.

Just as she was about to get busy, Serene knocked on her office door. “Ms. Daugherty, the secretary of Mr. Krisman from Elitos, called just now. She invited you to Elitos for a meeting later in the afternoon.”

Adina frowned, “Didn’t the plan review meeting take place before? What is it going to be this time?”

“They didn’t mention the purpose of the meeting, but the secretary has repeatedly emphasized that this meeting is very important.” Serene paused and said, “Now that there are reporters everywhere, why don’t I attend the meeting at Elitos for you?”

Those reporters were indeed guarding the entrance of the company very tightly. They have been asking similar questions again and again. Adina had no intention of dealing with them. She nodded, “Alright, you go, then. Call me anytime if you have anything important to ask.”

Zheny was sipping on a cup of tea in the meeting room at Elitos. She smiled gracefully and said, “Mr. Krisman, once the contract is signed, you’ll make a lot of money.” “No matter how much we earn, we’ll split it fifty–fifty.” Benny frowned slightly “But are you really sure Ms. Daugherty will sign the contract?”

“She no longer has the Winters family to back her up. There’s nothing for us to be afraid of.” Jasmine sneered, “Back then, she relied on the Winters family to suppress me. She can’t do that now!”

Madam Winters’s Fight For Her Children Chapter 667

Chapter 667

The secretary led Serene towards the meeting room.

She thought that the meeting room would be crowded. But after the door was opened, she only saw three people in there.

She frowned, sensing that something was not right.

“Who are you? Where’s Adina Daugherty?” Jasmine stood up and asked coldly.

Serene took a deep breath and said, “I’m Serene Reyes, Ms. Daugherty’s assistant. I’m here today to attend the meeting on her behalf.”

“Heh, now she knows her place as one of the mice living in the gutter. Is that why she doesn’t dare to meet us?” Jasmine sneered and mocked, “Isn’t she a very capable woman? Without the Winters family, she’s just a poser!”

“Sit down,” Zhenny said coldly, “With all your mockery, you don’t look like a noble lady anymore.” !

Jasmine snorted and sat down.

Benny coughed and said calmly, “Ms. Reyes, since you’re here, let’s start the meeting.”

Right after Serene sat down, he handed her a document. “This is the approval of our chip design from upper management. Please have a look.”

Serene instantly became upset after she read the first page. She quickly skimmed through the document, and said in disbelief, “This is nonsense! There can never be these loopholes in our company’s chip design. It’s a deliberate frame-up.”

“Ms. Reyes, this is the conclusion drawn from the scientific test from upper management. The chips that LaStar Technology Corporation designed can steal customers’ private information and monitor their call and chat records ...” Benny had a serious expression as he said, “Once this report is handed over to the police, your company will be prosecuted.”

Serene looked at the bright red seal on the document. It was indeed the official final verdict.

“We tested the chips on our side and there was no problem. So, this means that Elitos colluded with the government...”

“If you want to settle this matter peacefully, you must pay us ten times the original commission.” Benny lightly tapped on the desktop. “Our company doesn’t want to make a big deal out of this kind of thing. It’ll affect our reputation. It’ll be best if we can solve it privately and keep some dignity to ourselves.”

“Ten times? That’s more than $100,000,000 ! Do you think the money in our company grows on trees?” Serene’s voice quivered. She pointed at them and gritted her teeth. “Well, I think you two are the ones behind this! Before this, Mdm. Jones, you suffered a loss because of Ms. Daugherty.

You're just trying to take revenge now, am I right? Jones Corporation has always been an upright company. I truly didn't expect you to come up with such a..."

Jasmine slapped Serene's cheek harshly.

Her right hand turned numb from the slap. She said coldly, "Who are you to point your fingers at my mother when you talk to her?"

Serene felt the heat on her cheek as she reeled in disbelief.

She had not expected them to hit her.

She was slapped in the face in broad daylight, in a society ruled by law.

"Ms. Reyes, go back and tell Ms. Daugherty that she can either pay ten times the commission for the liquidated damages or see us in court." Zhenny tossed the compensation plan to Serene and said calmly, "Guards, you can send Ms. Reyes out.

now."

Two bodyguards at the door of the meeting room came in and forcefully dragged Serene out.

Serene looked at the three people in the room angrily as she swung her hands and left.

"Jas, you shouldn't have acted so rashly. Think about the consequences of your action," Benny said in disapproval.

"Uncle Benny, there's nothing to be afraid of. She only works for Adina, and right now, she's a nobody!" Jasmine mocked, "A month ago, she was married into the Winters family and became the glorious Mdm. Winters. Well, I bet she wasn't expecting that after just a month, she'll be abandoned and chased out of the mansion. Someone who has gone against the Winters family won't be able to survive in Sea City in the future. We don't need to be afraid of her."

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 668

Chapter 668

Zhenny tapped her finger on the desktop and said calmly, "She's just getting ready for a divorce, and she still has the Winters Corporation's equity. Right now, we should be able to get compensation from her. She may not be able to extract something valuable later on."

"Ten times the compensation. That's $500,000,000." Jasmine smiled. "With this huge profit, there should be no objections to me becoming the heir of Jones Corporation."

Zhenny produced a smug smile. "I've paved this road for you. You just need to walk it. Next, I'll have Mr. Krisman find you a good partner. A powerful couple will gain a firm foothold in the company." Jasmine's smile instantly faded away.

I only have Flint in my heart. I won't fall for any other guys...

When Serene returned to LaStar Technology Corporation, she was perplexed.

She washed her face in the washroom and covered up the fingerprints on her face before knocking on Adina's office door.

"Ms. Daugherty, I'm back."

Adina was reviewing the project documents. She did not have the time to look up, but she could sense something was wrong from the sound of Serene's voice.

She closed the document and raised her gaze. She then narrowed her eyes. "What happened to your face?"

"No, Nothing." Serene hesitated. "Let me go through what has been discussed in the meeting earlier..."

Adina stood up and strode over. The nearer she got to her, the clearer the mark on her face became.

Her gaze was cold. "Who struck you?"

Serene bowed her head, feeling remorse.

'Ms. Daugherty has been deeply involved in her divorce in the past two days. I went to the meeting on her behalf and caused her trouble...

I'm truly a useless assistant...'

Adina pursed her lips and took the document from her.

After only reading the first page, she was enraged.

'How dare they make false accusations saying that it steals customers' privacy after taking the chip results that I've spent many days designing. What's even more ridiculous is that they even dared to ask us to pay ten times the compensation.'

'Elitos is really shameless!

'But no matter how shameless Mr. Krisman is, he wouldn't have slapped a woman.'

Adina narrowed her eyes. "Did someone from the Jones Corporation attend the meeting as well?"

"Mdm. Jones and Ms. Yackley were there." Serene said indignantly, "It's obvious that they deliberately framed us!

Although this test document has been officially issued, it doesn't mean that our chip is really faulty. Ms. Daugherty, I think we should go through legal procedures and let the court appoint a third party to re-test..."

"Zhenny Jones and Jasmine Yackley hit you?" Adina interrupted

Serene calmly.

Serene was silent for a moment before saying, "Yes, it's Ms. Yackley."

As soon as Serene said it, Adina walked out of the office and strode out of the company.

Serene was frightened and hurriedly went after her. "Ms. Daugherty, where are you going? There are reporters outside..."

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 669

Chapter 669 Adina strode out of the company, leaving Serene behind.

Earl released a dangerous aura, so she did not dare to do anything to him.

'But as for the Jones family...

'I don't mind facing them upfront.'

Adina was surrounded by the reporters right after she exited the company.

Without waiting for the reporter to ask questions, she took one of the microphones and said coldly, "Since you all are going to wait here, I'll be announcing something important once I'm back."

She opened the car door and went in after she finished speaking.

Her car was already gone when the reporters came back to their senses.

On every day this month, at three in the afternoon, the senior management of Jones Corporation would hold a meeting in the meeting room to carry out their business planning for the next month.

Bernard Jones, the chairman of Jones Corporation sat at the main seat with Zhenny Jones on his left, taking her place as a CEO who managed all the company's affairs.

On Bernard's right was Jasmine Yackley, who had no clear position in the company, and his shares had been transferred to Daniel Jones not long ago.

Even though Daniel was the Jones family's only son for his generation, his shares were not as much as his cousin's sister, Jasmine.

There was already a queue set in line for the next heir of the company. Some of the people who had a good sense of judgment on the board of directors had long since pledged their loyalty to Zhenny. After all, as long as she is the company's chairman, Jasmine would be very likely to become the next heir.

"Grandpa, the cooperation with Elitos has been a huge success. I can guarantee that we will have a profit of at least $ 200,000,000." Jasmine stood up and talked about the progress she had made so far. "After the cooperation comes to an end, Elitos will have a new project. I have found ourselves a new preliminary cooperation direction with Mr. Krisman..."

After listening to how methodically Jasmine spoke, Bernard was extremely satisfied. "Jas, you've shown huge progress drastically. Bravo."

After he said this, he turned to Daniel. “Dan, how’s the project that you’ve been handling so far?”

Daniel stood up with a calm expression. “The project has been underway for less than a month and is currently in the preparatory stage. The specific profit is still within estimates.”

Bernard nodded noncommittally.

Jasmine chuckled, feeling amused.

Her project had also been carried out for about a month only, yet she had estimated her profit to be $200,00,00.

She had already won this competition without a fight.

‘I will definitely be the heir of the Jones family.’

At that exact moment, Zhenny said, “Father, Jas is very good at her work, but she doesn’t have a clear position in Jones Corporation. It doesn’t give her much authority at work. To give the people beneath her one less reason to look down on her, I would like to nominate Jas to be the project general manager.”

A project general manager was one of the highest position levels.

As a girl in her early twenties, it was actually not suitable for her to hold such an important position as soon as she entered the company

But Bernard knew that would hand over the Jones family to the younger generation, sooner or later. He also knew that it would not make any difference if he handed it sooner or later in his life.

‘Well, of course, I would like to hand over the company to the Jones family, but my son, Dillon, has no interest in running the company, and I can’t see any potential in my grandson, Daniel, in doing business for the time being...

‘On the contrary, my granddaughter, Jas, has shown a drastic improvement and is getting brighter by day.’

‘In order to secure the position as the heir of the company, a person must have experience in the position of project general manager...

Brendan gave Dillon and Daniel a disappointed look. Just as he was about to speak, there was a sudden commotion at the door of the meeting room.

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 670

Chapter 670 "Ms. Daugherty, you can't go in. This is the Jones Corporation's meeting room. Please don't go any further."

The meeting room's door was flung open.

Everyone looked up in unison and saw the woman who had been making the news headlines frequently over the past two days suddenly appearing in front of them.

Adina ignored the stunned gazes of the people and walked into the room.

She walked straight toward Jasmine and reached up to grab her collar.

"What are you doing? Let go of me!"

Jasmine had been seated nicely until she was suddenly lifted to her feet. She kept screaming out of fear.

Adina pushed her fingers together and placed them against the back of Jasmine's waist. She deftly located an acupuncture point and pressed down on it.

"Ah—Ow! It hurts!"

Jasmine's knees went weak before she crashed to the floor while sweating profusely in pain. She seemed to be undergoing torture.

"Adina! What have you done to my daughter?"

Zhenny was furious. She helped Jasmine onto a chair and coldly commanded, "Security, arrest her!"

"Hold on."

Dillon spoke coolly and took a big step over to shield Adina behind him.

"Dillon, what are you doing?" Zhenny laughed in anger. "Jas is about to be killed, and you still want to defend an outsider?"

Everyone in the office froze because of the sudden event.

The crowd was puzzled as to why the woman who made headlines would suddenly rush in and assault the future heir of Jones Corporation.

“This is just a misunderstanding.” Dillon defended Adina and said in a diplomatic tone, “I see that Jas is unharmed. Let’s just forget about this matter.”

Jasmine was shocked by what Dillon said. “Uncle Dillon, I can’t even lift my waist. My entire body is weak. Just because I’m not hurt doesn’t mean I’m fine! Adina rushed in and attacked me! I’m calling the police and suing her for aggravated assault!”

As she said that, she pulled out her phone to make a call.

Dillon’s eyes became cold, and he was about to go over and grab the phone when Adina laughed.

She walked out from behind Dillon and flung the document she had brought with her on the table. “Mr. Jones, Ms. Yackley, you both recognize this document, right?”

Zhenny narrowed her eyes.

She did not expect that Adina would still have the mood to handle such a situation personally while she was going through a divorce.

Winters Corporation had an equity value of around $ 10,000,000,000 . Was it not easy to take out $500,000,000 for compensation? Why would she still come to the door of Jones Corporation and make a nuisance of herself?

“This document has been authorized by the government. If the document is made public, LaStar Technology Corporation can no longer be in this field,” Zhenny said coldly, “We’re asking for a compensation because it’s a win–win situation for all parties, but it seems that you do not comprehend Mr. Krisman’s effort.”

“Win–win?” The corner of Adina’s lips curled up, and she smiled.” Then make this document public on the internet and let the netizens evaluate and assess whether it’s Elitos demanding too much, or La Star Technology Corporation not accepting their demands.

“But that’s not all!” Her gaze turned extremely sharp. “There are plenty of reporters who are waiting in line to interview me. Take a guess. What would happen to Jones Corporation if I spread the word that the CEO of Jones Corporation was conspiring with Mr. Benny from Elitos? Furthermore, everything in this document is false. However, there is an official seal at the end. Maybe this may also be able to implicate a governmental official.”

“Mdm. Jones, people who attempt to swindle money from me will eventually pay the price.” Adina chuckled lightly, “I will hold a press conference tonight. Everyone, please look forward to it.”

She gave the office crowd a chilly look. Then, she turned around and left.

She came into the office suddenly and left just as quickly, leaving the people in the office looking at each other at a loss, unable to wrap their minds around it, even after a long time.
