

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 726

Chapter 726 Such a place was not meant for Adina, Duke, and their children.

It was all because of Earl!

Whenever Adina thought of him, she would purse her lips even more tightly.

She had run away and gone missing in the middle of the night. She wondered how pissed off Earl had been.

Would he be able to guess that she and her children had traveled to Hestia Border? If he found that they were there, would he come and look for them?

That thought flashed in Adina's mind. Regardless, what mattered most to her was finding out Terry's true identity.

A peaceful night passed by...

When dawn came, the darkness and crimes vanished under the bright light.

Adina woke up early in the morning and prepared breakfast. After that, she changed her clothes and left the house.

She drove to the edge of Hestia Border. The place was now more heavily guarded than it was a few days ago. The number of guards on patrol had increased by three or four times.

Everyone was wielding weapons. Their eyes were filled with wariness and murderous intent as they surveyed their surroundings.

Adina got out of her car. She spread her hand and allowed them to search her body.

She had been there several times, and the bodyguards from the central area had been transferred there. Thus, they were aware that she was Terry's business partner.

One of the bodyguards took her to the entrance of the mansion respectfully.

There were more bodyguards in this area, with one bodyguard every one meter. The courtyard was heavily guarded and surrounded. Adina showed the bodyguards her tonic soup and said with a smile, "I came to visit Terry."

The bodyguard went inside the mansion to report to his superior. Just then, Louis came out with a grin. "So, it's you, Ms. Daugherty."

The Rebellious Party's sudden attack had led to the death of many bodyguards. As such, even a low-ranking bodyguard like Louis was promoted, and he acted as the bodyguard inside the mansion.

Terry had personally asked Louis about Adina. As such,

Louis was aware that she had caught Terry's attention. Ever since Terry became the Black Party's leader, many other parties had offered him various women. However, this was Terry's first time showing interest in a woman...

Louis grinned as he walked over to Adina. "Ms. Daugherty, I suppose you came to visit my boss, right? Please follow me."

Adina trailed after him in heels.

Louis had previously blackmailed her for a large amount of money to help York out. But he had done a one-eighty with his attitude within several days.

No doubt that Terry must have warned him about Adina.

As such, judging from the current situation, she was considered someone special to Terry.

Even though he had lost his memory, he could not stop protecting her, paying attention to her, and treating her well...

"Ms. Daugherty, my boss is wounded, and he's recuperating in his room." Louis rubbed his hands. "I shouldn't have brought you in without his approval. If he finds out, I might be punished..."

The corners of Adina's lips twitched.

Louis had no intention of concealing his greediness.

She opened her handbag, took out a stack of cash, and stuffed it into his hand. "Is this enough?"

IN

"This is more than enough!" Louis smiled with satisfaction. He whispered to her, "Here's another tip. Ms. Isabelle is currently inside his room. It's up to you whether you want to wait in the living room or go upstairs first..."

the second floor. Two bodyguards armed with weapons stood at the master bedroom's off." Adina smiled at Louis and headed to the second floor. The bodyguards at