

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 896

Chapter 896 Daniel's gaze was filled with anger. 'Even a blind man can tell that Aunt Zhenny is the one behind this.

'I truly don't understand why she must cause me trouble all the time.

'Previously, she provoked Mr. Tissot and Mr. Wilson. Then, she poached the project manager. Now, she has bribed these people to come and force us to shut down the project.

"The petrochemical project clearly has an eighty percent chance of success. Why does Aunt Zhenny still try to sabotage us?' He clenched his fists and turned, wanting to leave.

As soon as he took a step, he saw Adina and Duke emerge from the waiting area. His eyes widened in shock. "Adina, why are you here?" She smiled. "If I hadn't come here, I wouldn't have known someone would go to such lengths to sabotage our project.' She shifted her gaze to the paunchy man. He could not help but turn his head to avoid her sharp gaze guiltily.

However, when he turned to look in another direction, he noticed another person was staring at him with a sharp gaze too. Duke could not help but smirk. "Nice to see you again, Mr. Juan."

The paunchy man, Rocco Juan, is the minister of Housing and Urban-Rural Development and has been working around major construction sites for a long time. He used to work with Duke.

When Rocco saw Duke, he felt as if he had just seen the shadow of death.

The scar on Duke's face has gradually recovered. He looked intimidating and domineering when he raised his eyebrow. It was like an eagle who had revealed its sharp claws.

"M-Mr. Winters." Rocco shuddered. "It's so nice to see you here."

He walked over to Duke and shook his hand.

Duke looked at him coldly. "I heard that there's a problem with the project, and that it needs to shut down. May I know what's the problem, specifically?"

Rocco's forehead was drenched in a cold sweat. "Hehe, Mr. Winters, I didn't know that you would care about such trivial matters."

— “Why don’t I call the reporters?” Duke smiled. “Mr. Juan, whatever that you need to say, you can say it publicly. This will avoid people saying that some other forces have put you up to this.”

Rocco’s face turned pale.

“The Winters family is the most powerful family in Sea City. The Juan family is as insignificant as an ant when we’re facing the Winters family. ‘If Duke were to really call the reporters, they’ll ruin me...’

“M–Mr. Winters...” Rocco forced a smile and said, “We can always talk in private. There’s no need to make a huge deal out of it.”

“This matter involves my wife. You’re right. We can talk this through privately.”

Duke nodded calmly. Rocco’s body stiffened. ‘Wife?! ‘Duke’s wife!!

‘I thought they were divorced! ‘Zhenny told me that Adina and Duke are divorced, so no one will back her up. That’s why I dared to ask them to shut down the project!

‘But now...

He had started sweating profusely. Now he understood why Duke had come to the construction site.

He hurriedly said, “Mr. Winters, this is just a misunderstanding. I’m just joking around. Hehehe. Mr. Tissot, Mr. Wilson, there’s no problem with this project. You can continue with it. If you have any problem, don’t hesitate to give me a call!”

Rocco’s attitude instantly changed.

Graham and Matthew were stunned.

They knew that the Winters Corporation was very powerful, and it was extremely beneficial for anyone who brings up the corporation. However, they did not know that it had this much power.

Adina smiled. “Thank you, Mr. Juan, for being accommodating. I’ll definitely invite you to the dinner party after the project is completed.” Rocco continued to force a smile on his face as he left with the crowd of wealthy men.

Madam Winters’s Fight For Her Children Chapter 897

Chapter 897 Adina looked at Daniel and said calmly, "Didn't I tell you to call me if anything happened? You agreed, but in the end, you didn't tell me anything." Daniel frowned. "Adina, there was no need to call you for such a trivial matter. How are you feeling?" "I'm fine." Adina smiled. "There are twelve more days until the assessment period comes to an end. Until then, let's work hard."

Daniel nodded vigorously.

'From the outside, it seems as if Adina and Jasmine are competing for the position as heiresses. But the truth is, Jasmine and I are the ones who are competing with each other.

'If I lose, my father and I will never be able to stay in the Jones family.'

"Don't keep things to yourself anymore when something happens in the future, okay?" Duke said calmly, "I'm your brother-in-law. You can always hit me up."

Daniel replied to him obediently, "Yes, sir."

During this period, whenever he was on a video call with Adina, he could always hear Duke doing something in the background. He would either be cooking, doing the laundry, or even sweeping the floor. He struggled to believe that Duke would be willing to do house chores.

But it made him realize that the rumors on the internet would only be rumors. They were unreliable news.

After walking around the project site, Adina and Duke headed to Winters Corporation.

They drove home after Duke stuffed all the documents accumulated over the past few days into the trunk of the car.

Adina felt a lot better after going out for a bit.

Duke brought the documents to the study room to review them, while she took a book and read it in the living room.

Just after she read a few lines, a familiar voice echoed in her mind.

Adina's body tensed up. She wobbled back to her bedroom and closed the door behind her gently. She now believed that Earl had not lied to her. Indeed, there were many more controllers, just like that earring

"Addy, you slit a knife on my neck. As revenge, I want you to do the same to Duke."

Earl's voice repeatedly echoed in her mind.

With all her will, she tied her hands behind her back.

"You can bring yourself to hurt me. Why can't you do the same to Duke? Go ahead, Addy. Do it

"Addy, it's just a small cut. Once you do it, you won't suffer anymore..."

The bewitching voice tried to push her will to the edge again and again... The back of her head hurt so much that she felt like her head was about to split in two. Half of her desperately tried to do as she was ordered, and half of her would rather die in her bedroom.

"Ahhhh!"

Adina screamed in pain and rolled off the bed.

However, no matter how much it hurt, she did not break free from the rope.

'I must not hurt Duke, no matter what.

'As long as I'm still conscious, I will never hurt the man that I love!

'It hurts! 'It's agonizing! 'It felt as if my bones were breaking apart!' Adina rolled on the floor, hitting the table. The glass on the table shattered to the ground "Addy, what happened?"

Duke barged in and hurriedly approached her. When he noticed how much pain Adina was in as she rolled on the floor, his expression changed.

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 898

Chapter 898

"Get out! "Get out now!" Adina bit her tongue as she struggled to say those words out loud. Duke hugged her tightly. "Addy, it's okay. I'm here to protect you. Nothing will happen. Don't force yourself..."

'Addy is being controlled by the biochip. Most of the time, it's asking her to harm the person she loves...

'I don't mind getting hurt a little. I can't continue to watch her being in pain...'

“Go away! I told you to go away!” Adina looked at him through misty eyes. “Duke, go! If you don’t, I won’t be able to control myself anymore...”

Earl’s voice in her mind became louder and clearer.

“Addy, take out that dagger under your pillow. Aim it at Duke’s neck and stab!”

“No!”

Adina shook her head painfully. Duke was still in front of her, holding her shoulders and comforting her softly.

The voice in her head a Madam Winters’s Fight For Her Children Chapter 898nd the voice by her ears came together and spoke in unison. It was suffocating.

The thread of rationality in her head snapped.

Adina broke free from the ropes that she had used to tie her hands. She got up, took the dagger under the pillow, aimed it at Duke’s neck, and rushed towards him.

Just as the dagger was a few inches away from Duke’s neck, her wrist turned, and the blade cut into the back of her hand. It bled profusely.

The voice in her head finally dissipated.

“Addy!”

Duke held her injured hand and carried her downstairs. He swiftly got the first-aid kit.

Addy nestled on the couch and let Duke disinfect, apply medicine, and bandage her wound.

After he was done, he asked, “What was the order given to you?”

Adina smiled. “I told you to get away from me, but you kept sticking around with me...”

Before she could finish her sentence, she noticed Duke’s expression darkening. She pursed her lips and did not talk anymore.

Typically, if I violated the original program of the system, I shouldn’t have remembered everything that just happened. ‘But I was able to clearly describe the situation just now. It is to say, the command just now

The bewitching voice tried to push her will to the edge again and again... The back of her head hurt so much that she felt like her head was about to split in two. Half of her desperately tried to do as she was ordered, and half of her would rather die in her bedroom

“Ahhhh!”

Adina screamed in pain and rolled off the bed. However, no matter how much it hurt, she did not break free from the rope. ‘I must not hurt Duke, no matter what. ‘As long as I’m still conscious, I will never hurt the man that I love!

‘It hurts!

It’s agonizing! ‘It felt as if my bones were breaking apart!’ Adina rolled on the floor, hitting the table. The glass on the table shattered to the ground “Addy, what happened?” Duke barged in and hurriedly approached her. When he noticed how much pain Adina was in as she rolled on the floor, his expression changed.

Madam Winters’s Fight For Her Children Chapter 899

Chapter 899 “Get out!

“Get out now!”

Adina bit her tongue as she struggled to say those words out loud. Duke hugged her tightly. “Addy, it’s okay. I’m here to protect you. Nothing will happen. Don’t force yourself...”

‘Addy is being controlled by the biochip. Most of the time, it’s asking her to harm the person she loves...

‘I don’t mind getting hurt a little. I can’t continue to watch her being in pain...!

“Go away! I told you to go away!” Adina looked at him through misty eyes. “Duke, go! If you don’t, I won’t be able to control myself anymore...”

Earl’s voice in her mind became louder and clearer.

“Addy, take out that dagger under your pillow. Aim it at Duke’s neck and stab!”

“No!”

Adina shook her head painfully.

Duke was still in front of her, holding her shoulders and comforting her softly.

The voice in her head and the voice by her ears came together and spoke in unison. It was suffocating.

The thread of rationality in her head snapped.

Adina broke free from the ropes that she had used to tie her hands. She got up, took the dagger under the pillow, aimed it at Duke's neck, and rushed towards him.

Just as the dagger was a few inches away from Duke's neck, her wrist turned, and the blade cut into the back of her hand. It bled profusely. The voice in her head finally dissipated.

"Addy!" Duke held her injured hand and carried her downstairs. He swiftly got the first-aid kit. Addy nestled on the couch and let Duke disinfect, apply medicine, and bandage her wound. After he was done, he asked, "What was the order given to you?"

Adina smiled. "I told you to get away from me, but you kept sticking around with me..."

Before she could finish her sentence, she noticed Duke's expression darkening.

She pursed her lips and did not talk anymore.

Typically, if I violated the original program of the system, I shouldn't have remembered everything that just happened. 'But I was able to clearly describe the situation just now. It is to say, the command just now was not from the original program. It was a verbal command.' "Earl Winters!"

Duke frowned. "I've sent people to look for him. I'll find him sooner or later." Adina held his face. "Duke, let's live separately." "Why?" He held her wounded hand. "Addy, I know what you're worried about, but don't be afraid. I'll protect you."

"I know you will, but I'm scared that I'll hurt you." Adina smiled bitterly. "Him being able to give me commands is equivalent to me being his weapon. Duke, do you understand what that means? I'm afraid that I'll become his weapon to hurt you."

"Let's live separately. It'll be better this way."

Adina's expression turned cold and indifferent.

Duke hugged her tighter. "Addy, he won't stay hidden for long. Don't be afraid..."

She nestled in his arms, still having an indifferent gaze in her eyes.

Today's encounter made her fully realize how terrifying the biochip's control was. 'I might be able to fight back this time, but I can't guarantee that I can do the same next time around... 2

'Earl is too scary. He won't give up until he tortures Duke to death.'

Chapter 899 Suddenly, Adina's phone vibrated. She took a glance at her phone screen. It was a video call from her four children. Duke took the call and the four children's faces popped up. "Mommy, our winter break starts today!" George spoke first. "Mommy, the teacher says we'll have a one-month holiday. Can we go to your place to play?" Harold blinked as he asked.

Adina smiled bitterly. 'Earl, the devil, is back in Sea City. I don't dare to meet my children. If they bumped into him, he might regard them as the thorn in his flesh. "I'll be busy for the next few days. I might not be able to spend time with you." Adina smiled gently and said, "There are still ten more days until New Year. Daddy and I will go back on New Year's Eve and celebrate with you all, okay?" Melody tilted her head and said, "I've never celebrated New Year." Alden said, "We celebrated New Year when we were abroad. Mel, you were too young to remember it."

"Wow, we're going to celebrate New Year with Mommy this year." Harold clapped his hand happily. "Mommy, what kind of New Year's gift do you want? I'll prepare to get you one in advance."

Adina chuckled. "As long as you all are healthy and happy, I'll be happy too." "That won't do. Mommy, you must tell me what you want." Harold shook his head. "Do you want a scarf, a hat, or a coat?" Adina felt warmth spreading throughout her heart. She knew that she should not continue chatting with her children. Otherwise, it would trigger a command again. She raised her hand to touch her hair. When she was about to speak, Alden narrowed his eyes, "Mommy, what happened to the back of your hand?" There was blood oozing out of the wound that had just been bandaged. The white gauze was stained with blood, and it looked a bit terrifying.

Adina instinctively hid her hands in her sleeves and smiled indifferently, "I accidentally hurt the back of my hand today when I was cutting vegetables. I've already treated it, it's fine."

Alden nodded. He pursed his lips and shifted his gaze at Duke. "Daddy, the program you asked me to crack last time is very interesting." Duke picked up his phone and frowned. "Tell me about it." "I can't crack the original program for the time being, but I can modify the program commands through some hacking." Alden took his time and said, "Daddy, can you let me meet that subordinate? I want to give it a try."

Duke was silent for a few seconds, then nodded and said, "I'll have someone pick you up later." After they hung, Duke looked at Adina. "Addy, let Al try. Perhaps he can modify the original programming in your body." Adina lowered her head and looked at the back of her hand. "If I do, he'll find out about this matter." "Al is smart. I'm sure along with George, they have already noticed something off." Duke said in a low voice. "Why do you think the children didn't make a fuss about wanting to come over for the past ten days?"

Adina pursed her lips. 'Oh, Al. He's smart and sensible too. 'I've moved out of the Winters family and was separated from my children for so many days. It was unusual for me to do so.

But Al has been behaving very well and didn't ask us anything. George also persuaded Hal and Mel to stay at home obediently. 'Al already guessed that something was off, but he neither asked her anything nor I said anything about it. "This child must've suffered..." Adina nodded. "Alright, I'll let Al try." Alden arrived by evening. His other siblings wanted to come too, but George was able to persuade them to stay. Alden followed the bodyguard to the front door. When he looked up, he saw Adina sitting on the couch in the living room. Her loose-fitting housecoat made her look particularly thin.

It has been thirteen days since they met, his first time being separated from Adina for so long.

"Mommy." He tried to stay calm, but the moment he spoke, tears welled up in the corner of his eyes.

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 900

Chapter 900 To Adina. Alden was an obedient and sensible child. He had not cried since he was two years old.

But just then, her obedient and sensible Alden was sobbing hard as tears streamed down his face.

She quickly went to him and kneeled down to wipe her tears. "Al, Mommy's here. Mommy's here with you. Don't cry, don't cry..." She embraced little Alden in her arms and patted his back. "Mommy... Mommy..." He called out repeatedly. He gradually calmed down. She held his hands and led him to the couch as she smiled gently. "Do you know why Daddy asked you to come here?" He nodded and said gloomily, "I'm here to help you crack the biochip program in your body." Adina sighed. 'Indeed, Al has already figured out about it. He's...! She held his hands and touched them gently. "Are you confident about it?" Alden pursed his lips. "I'll try my best." Duke took out a laptop and various power tools... Everything had been prepared for him. Adina lay on the couch and closed her eyes a little, trying to be as relaxed as she could be.

Alden sat in a chair. His tiny fingers started tapping on the keyboard. Blue and white wordings popped up on the black screen. Red lights were flashing continuously.

Duke held the earring controller with a frown.

As time passed, the night was getting deeper. The night was cold and quiet as the cold breeze blew into the mansion through the window.

Finally, Alden closed the laptop and stood up.

“The original program cannot be destroyed.” He pursed his lips tightly. “But I’ve modified the contents of the program so that when the body secretes hormones, the command won’t be triggered.” There was a hint of hope in Adina’s gaze. “For real?” Alden nodded. “We’re too far off from the original database. I can only modify a few symbols. There should be some new breakthroughs after I do some more research.” “Al, you’re amazing!” Duke looked at him as he praised him satisfyingly. ‘Even though he didn’t grow up under my nose, he’s turned out better than I imagined...’ “Al, thank you.” Adina carried him. “You’re my savior.”

Alden pursed his lips shyly. “This is my duty. So...” He hesitated before saying, “Mommy, Daddy, will you two move back to the mansion?”

The light in Adina’s gaze became a little dull instantly. The original program commands have been modified, but there are still temporary programs that Earl is using. That is, he can still order me to do anything anytime, anywhere.’ She puckered her lips and smiled. “Give us a few more days. Daddy and I will go home before New Year to reunite with all of you.” Duke nodded indifferently. “Let me have someone send you home.” Alden nodded.

He knew it was a tricky thing. The problem would not be solved just by changing a few symbols.

‘But Daddy is here. I’m sure Mommy will be okay.’

He followed the bodyguard home obediently.

The mansion became quiet again. Adina’s eyes lit up as she looked at Duke. She said in a hoarse voice, “We can sleep together now.” Duke gulped as his Adam’s apple moved up and down.

Without saying a word, he hurriedly stepped forward, carried her horizontally, and went to the bedroom on the second floor. His movements were a little rushed and rough as he tossed her on the soft, enormous bed.