Chapter 2548

At four o'clock in the afternoon, the concert began.

The stadium, which could accommodate 20,000 people, was full of seats, and red support lights were flashing on the scene.

The brokerage company did not publicize that this was the last concert of Eric's acting career, but a small number of people still got the news in advance.

After Eric sang the first song on the stage, there was an ear-splitting exclamation from the audience.

Elliot, who was sitting in the front row, felt his eardrums vibrating.

He fidgeted and glanced at his wife and children.

Knowing that he was afraid of noise, Avery immediately took out the noise-canceling headphones from his bag and plugged them in for him.

"Honey, you're so kind." Elliot's world suddenly became much cleaner.

Avery said helplessly: "I would have brought you here if I knew it earlier."

Elliot: “Honey, the volume is very good now. I can hear a little, but it’s not too loud.”

“You are definitely number one person who wears noise-cancelling headphones to listen to the concert.”

Avery couldn’t help but laugh.

“In addition to wanting to accompany you and my daughter, I also came out of curiosity. You said this is Eric’s last concert. If you don’t come today, you won’t be able to see it again.”

Elliot said.

“There are replays of his concerts on the Internet. He has held many concerts.” Avery had watched many replays on the Internet, and also went to watch a few live.

Leaving aside the fact that they were friends, even if they didn’t know each other in real life, Avery still liked Eric very much.

Because Eric was a high-quality and capable idol.

Avery: “I’m not chasing stars, I’m just curious.”

Two hours passed in the blink of an eye.

When Eric sang the last song, he changed into a white suit and dress. Under the spotlight, his whole body exuded a holy halo.

“I’m very glad that you all came to my concert. Today, I want to announce two things to you. After these two things are announced, I will sing the last song. This song is called B.”

He said this sentence. After finishing speaking, there was an earth-shattering exclamation from the audience. Elliot wore noise-canceling headphones, but he was still startled.

When Eric released this song before, he told his fans that if one day he decided to quit the circle, he would use this song as the last song of the concert.

So when he said this sentence just now, he actually told the fans in the audience that he decided to quit the circle.

Eric raised his hand to signal the audience to be quiet. The screams gradually diminished, and bursts of crying could be heard in the ear.

“I thought about it for a long time, and finally made such a decision. Thank you for accompanying me until now. In the future, I will still be your friend. It’s just that we get along in another way, okay?” With a calm and gentle smile, Eric said with a smile on his face.

When he said this, the audience cried even louder! Elliot took off the noise-canceling headphones and looked behind.

Most of the people who came to Eric's concert were women. Women of all ages.

In addition, there were many men.

Many of them came with their female companions.

“In addition to quitting the entertainment industry, there is one more thing I want to tell you. Because this is what I promised you.”

Eric announced with a faint smile, “I said that if I find The other half will never hide it. Now I want to tell you that I have found a suitable partner. She is not an insider, so I will not release her details.”

There was an uproar in the audience!

Including Layla who sat in the front row.

Eric found a girlfriend?

The last time they met, Layla asked him, but he said he couldn't find a partner.

As a result, he found a partner in just a few days after Layla confessed to him?!
