Chapter 2563

After Lucas glanced at Layla's photo, he looked up at Siena's serious face: "If I'm pretty, I'm going to like it?" "Uh... yes, young master, you are different from ordinary people. I am so ugly, and I have never seen you despise me." Siena put away her phone, and suddenly a white light flashed in her mind, "Young Master, am I ugly?"

Siena remembered that she had seen the obsession with ugliness on the Internet before.

In this world, there are so many people, there must be many people who have different aesthetic preferences from normal people.

Siena felt more and more that Lucas must have a fetish for ugliness.

Piper Lawson, daughter of the Lawson family, was so good-looking, but Lucas didn't take her seriously at all. Layla Tate was also so beautiful, but he didn't look at Layla Tate's photo but looked up at his own ugly face... "Yes, I love ugliness." Seeing that Siena was already determined, Lucas didn't bother to argue with her. Siena blushed, turned and ran into the kitchen, buried herself in cooking, and stopped talking.

Aryadelle.

After the announcement of the marriage proposal, Elliot regretted it.

Elliot felt that the request was not enough.

At that time, there must be many people who met the conditions.

Elliot's afraid that Hayden would choose tricky eyes when the time comes.

"Honey, do you think I'm going to hold a press conference to supplement the content of the marriage proposal, or accept an interview right away to talk about it?" Elliot discussed with Avery.

Avery looked at her husband in surprise: "What else do you want to add? The request for marriage is nearly 2,000 characters long. Who asked for so many requests? I have never seen it before."

"Our daughter is not an ordinary person. Isn't it right to ask for more?" Elliot didn't think there was any problem with the requirement of 2,000 characters.

"Then what else do you want to add, tell me." Avery also regarded her daughter as her treasure, and was unwilling to let her marry off casually.

After thinking about it for a while, Elliot said, “I should refine the majors studied in the other university. For example, those who study philosophy must not.”

Many rich second-generation students studied philosophy.

It was probably because keeping a business and managing property required more rationality, and to improve rationality, studying philosophy was undoubtedly a good choice.

“Why not?” Avery had no opinion on any subject, so she wanted to hear Elliot’s analysis.

“I hate other people talking to me the most. I believe that my daughter would not like such a person as a partner.” Elliot said, “It’s not good to study finance. It’s too realistic and calculating, and our daughter is too simple, so we must not go to financial.”

“Oh. What about computer students?” Avery picked up her water glass, intending to pour him a glass of water.

“No. Those who study computer can’t take care of their families when they are busy. I don’t want our daughter to be left out. Look at Hayden, he is a good example. He has never been in a relationship until now...” Elliot vetoed it again.

Avery poured the water and handed the glass to Elliot.

Avery: “Then do you think it would be better for our daughter to find someone to learn from?”

Elliot frowned and began to think seriously.

This thought, five minutes passed.

“Husband, according to your critical attitude, we can only go to outer space to see if there is any suitable candidate.” Avery picked up her water glass and took a sip of water, “You are worried about small problems, the most important thing is still depends on whether Layla and the other party have a common topic. If we can chat, it doesn’t matter what major the other party studies. It doesn’t mean that after studying a certain major, you will have to engage in a corresponding career in the future.”

“Since they all require the other party’s family assets to exceed $10 billion, even if the other party does nothing at that time and takes care of the children at home, they can live a good life.” Avery expressed her opinion, “According to our current requirements, the men who come out are not far behind.”
