

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2601

Chapter 2601

“Really? I don’t know very well. Her mother-in-law was brought in by the housekeeper. At the beginning, a helper in the back kitchen resigned, and there was a shortage of people, so the housekeeper recruited her mother -in-law. The housekeeper told me that her mother-in-law was a little older, but he does things more neatly and can endure hardships, so he recruited her.” Master Hogan recalled.

“So you don’t know their details at all.”

“It’s just a kitchen helper, and I don’t want me to pay her insurance.” Master Hogan said casually.

“Aren’t you afraid that she has problems?” Lucas deliberately threatened.

The expression on Master Hogan’s face was a bit serious: “Lucas, what’s wrong with them? Don’t scare me. I really don’t know their details. Her mother-in-law is usually in the back kitchen, and I can’t get in touch with her. If your stepmother hadn’t arranged for Siena to take care of you, I wouldn’t have been able to get in touch with Siena.”

“I’m just joking. What’s wrong with them... two poor people!” Lucas saw that his father didn’t know anything, so he ended the topic, “When I leave, you give her the salary Settle. If You can give her a little more money, maybe you can do yourself some virtue.”

Master Hogan: “...”

Siena returned to the rented house, feeling like she was falling apart.

She returned to her room, put down her schoolbag, and lay down on the bed.

She was suddenly confused. She didn’t know what to do with herself.

After the big exam, does she still want to go to Yonroeville? Does she want to go to Aryadelle in the future?

If Elliot found her, would he kill her?

A fear suddenly arose in her heart.

It would be nice if the mother-in-law was still there.

At least not so isolated and overwhelmed.

After several contacts between Layla and Malcolm, Layla told Malcolm her true feelings.

“I think I like you quite a bit.” Layla said.

Malcolm had a flattered expression: “Really? This makes me so happy. Because I like you very much too. Originally, I was only attracted by your beautiful appearance. After roaming with you for a few days, I found that I also like you very much character.”

“Haha, me too. I think you are cute. Every time I see you laughing, I want to pinch your face.” Layla said this, and changed the subject, “You are very similar to my brother Robert.”

Malcolm: “...”

Layla: “I’m telling the truth. You should think about it!”

Malcolm sighed: “Am I being too naive? I can feel the way you look at me sometimes.”

Layla: “Ah? What kind of eyes? I didn’t know that I would unintentionally reveal my true inner thoughts.”

Malcolm laughed loudly: “There are very few mature men my age. But I think you should like more mature men. For example, your Uncle Eric when we first met.”

Layla couldn’t laugh or cry: “He’s too old. My parents don’t agree.”

Malcolm: “I see.”

“Don’t think that you seem to know some big secret. I don’t know what kind of man I like. I like mature men, and I also like simple men! As long as he is handsome and treats me well, I like it.” Layla laughed.

“If you like it, you like it, but whether you want to marry or not is the most important thing.” Malcolm told the truth.

“Okay, when do you plan to return to your country? Or stay in Aryadelle for a while? If you continue to roam in Aryadelle, you can call me for dinner at any time.”

“I just came out, and I won’t go back for the time being. Are you going to meet another blind date next time? I really want to watch the fun.” Malcolm smiled unkindly.

Layla: “You can watch the excitement, but you must listen to my arrangement.”

Malcolm: “sure!”

After the two talked, Layla sent a message to Avery: [Mom, why is it so difficult to find a partner? I don't like younger ones. really don't like it.]
