

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2928

Chapter 2928

“My honey, if you don’t get so close, then I can only raise the volume.” Chester continued to talk next to Charity, “As long as you’re not afraid that our voice will disturb others.”

Charity: “...”

Knowing this person’s scoundrel, Charity could only give Chester a blank look, and continued to watch the movie seriously.

That movie was not bad, Hollywood stars were basically tough guys, punching to the flesh, but the emotional drama was inexplicable.

The hero and heroine saw the right thing suddenly and rolled onto the bed.

Charity took a sip of water unnaturally.

Chester next to her poked her, then pointed to the seat not far away.

A pair of young men and women had embraced each other and kissed inseparably.

Chester had to say that many people chose to sit in the back row probably because they didn’t want to be disturbed.

Sensing Chester’s jealous eyes, Charity immediately said: “Don’t even think about it.”

Chester: “Just a kiss.”

“No.” Charity refused to be tough.

But Chester was thick-skinned, he leaned over and refused to let him kiss, but he could kiss her hair, then her earlobe, her cheek, even her little hands.

After a two-hour movie, Charity was filled with his breath.

She really didn’t understand why she still loved intimacy so much when a man couldn’t do it anymore.

It was 9:00 p.m. after the movie came out.

Chester led Charity to walk behind the crowd, and asked, “Shall we go and buy two pieces of clothes and shoes for Levi?”

Charity, who was anxious to go home to see her son, stopped when she heard this, and followed Chester entered the nearby mother and baby store.

In fact, there were enough clothes for the child, but Charity was not short of money, and when she saw clothes that suit her son, she wanted to buy them.

The salesperson next to them came over and introduced them, "Whether you two are giving birth to a daughter or a son."

Charity didn't speak, but Chester had already said: "Son."

The salesperson: "I don't know how old he is?"

Chester: "More than three months."

The salesperson smiled, "Then your wife recovered really quickly."

"Yes." Chester put his arms around Charity and said with a smile, "I want to buy some clothes for my son."

"The ones that suit your son's age are here." Seeing that although they were wearing masks, the watches on the men's hands were very expensive, so the salesperson enthusiastically recommended various baby products to Chester.

They bought everything from clothes and shoes to toys, to baby bottles and diapers.

In the end, the salesperson couldn't help saying: "Sir, your son is so happy."

"He was born with great difficulty by my wife, so of course I want to treat him well." Chester paid the money happily.

It wasn't until the big and small bags came out of the store that Charity couldn't help but cast a sideways glance at him, "Your son."

"Isn't your son my son?" Chester was afraid that Charity would see the clue, so he said quickly, "Besides, I will be like this for the rest of my life. It's impossible for me to have children. In my heart, Levi is my own son."

Charity looked at him like that, and didn't want to expose him anymore.

Chester really thought she was stupid and sweet, and didn't notice it at all.

It's just that it was not the time to reveal Levi's identity.

Charity: "You buy too many things, Levi can't run out of diapers."

“Then change it frequently, every time Levi pees, we don’t lack diapers.” Chester said with a smile, “Wait for him to come back again. I bought him bigger toy cars and Ultraman, he’ll like it.”

Charity: “Yeah.”

Chapter 2929

Finally, Charity chose clothes, shoes and toys for Levi.

When paying the bill, it was Chester who paid all the money.

Charity followed him without stopping.

Just standing on the sidelines and waiting, Charity was thinking, if it was someone else who was dating her today, she would definitely not ask the other party to pay the money.

At the beginning of the relationship, she would definitely not be willing to spend too much money on the other party.

She may be afraid that if there was no result, she would owe her a debt.

It’s just that that person was replaced by Chester, she had no worries about this at all, and she could even try her best to pretend.

After the car arrived at the door of the house, Chester stopped the car.

“Don’t come down, it’s too late, I picked up my things and went in.” Charity was about to push the door open after finishing speaking.

“Charity...” Chester suddenly grabbed her arm.

“What?” Charity turned her head, only to meet Chester’s kiss.

The speed was so fast that she didn’t even have a chance to dodge, and it landed firmly on her lips.

Charity: “You...”

Charity wanted to scold Chester, but Chester rushed in very quickly.

This was his first kiss and first intimate contact after he knew she was Charity.

Chester only felt that his undamaged heart seemed to be pieced together at last, and he let out a hoarse sigh, "Charity..."

Charity's face suddenly turned red. She pushed Chester away forcefully, Putting on a small face, "Chester, who will allow you to kiss? Have I agreed? you ra*cal, a hungry ghost."

Chester looked at her blushing little face, the corners of his mouth raised, "I can't even do it! How can I be a hungry ghost?"

Charity: "..."

"A kiss is all s-e-x. It's normal in a relationship." Chester kissed her on the forehead and said affectionately, "Charity, I love you. In this life, I have only loved you once, and I will only love you in the future."

Charity didn't know how to respond. In the end, she ran away.

When she got home, she realized that she didn't take her things.

She forgot it and she'll pick it up tomorrow.

When she went to take a shower, she saw her little red face in the mirror, and was startled, was this still her before.

Chester returned home.

Seeing the corners of his lips fluttering, Kaiden smiled and said, "Young Master Jewell, You seems to have a good date with Miss Eliza."

"Not bad." Chester pursed the corners of his lips, "How about the matter I asked you to investigate?"

Kaiden immediately regained his composure, "It is indeed what you worried about. Last year, after you went to Rwanda to fix your leg, the Patterson family dragged Your Father into the water."

"Unexpectedly, My Father is smarter than I thought." Chester said. He really didn't understand how the Jewell family gave birth to such a discredited guy as Hank Jewell, who almost ruined the reputation of the Jewell family.

Kaiden coughed lightly, "In the beginning, Hank Jewell probably just wanted to try his luck, but in the first half of the year, the Patterson family gave a huge profit, which is even worse than the previous Jewell's Corporation's profit, so..."

Chester nodded, "I can understand the Patter family's thoughts. It's more safe for him to go into the water alone, and the connections of the Jewell family for so many years are still there."

"Then... how do you plan to deal with this matter?" Kaiden frowned.

Chester glanced at him, "How can we deal with him? He broke the law, and the law will naturally deal with it."

"Okay, I see." Kaiden said after returning to his room.

Chester called Shaun, but he didn't answer it.

About ten minutes later, Shaun called back with a hoarse voice, "What's the matter?"

Chester: "It's so late, are you still busy?"

Shaun chuckled, and his voice was full of satisfaction, "You think everyone is like you! I'm a man with a wife."

Chester gritted his teeth, "What's wrong with me! I also have a girlfriend now."

Shaun: "Well, it's a pity that you can't do it now in front of your girlfriend."

Chester: "..."

He couldn't do it today. He wanted to talk.

Shaun: "Let's talk, what do you want to call me if you don't sleep so late?"

"Let your wife disclose the matter of the Patterson family to the relevant department. It's time to shut down Patterson's business. The Jamieson family in City A should cooperate." Chester said, "I met Monte tonight, I really don't like him."

"Okay." Shaun responded very simply.

...

Late at night.

Just as Monte got off the woman in sweat, the phone rang suddenly.

“Don’t pick the phone up, it’s too noisy.” The female college student wrapped her arms around his waist.

“Okay, I don’t.” Monte was seduced by her, and soon became impulsive again.

The two tossed and tossed until midnight, and finally Monte fell asleep because he couldn’t take it anymore, and he didn’t remember how many times the phone rang.

The next day Monte was woken up by a phone call.

As soon as Monte got up angry, he started to lose his temper when he picked up the phone, “Who?, it was so noisy early in the morning.”

“Monte, I’m your mother.” A crying voice came out from inside, “I called you last night. Why didn’t you answer the phone calls you made so many times?”

“Mom, what’s wrong with you?” Monte was a little disturbed by crying, “Did something happen at home?”

“Your father was taken away by the police in the middle of the night.” Estrella Patterson cried and said, “The police came to our house in the early morning and said that our hotel was involved in a transnational gambling and money laundering case.”

There were some things that Estrella didn’t say.

But Monte knew very well that it was very possible that their phone calls had already been monitored.

His heart sank suddenly, and he suddenly remembered that he met Chester and Eliza last night, it couldn’t be such a coincidence, something happened the next day after meeting them.

He remembered what Chester said.

Monte scolded ‘lunatic’, “Mom, you stay at home, I’ll be right over, don’t worry. Dad is innocent, our Patterson family won’t do anything illegal.”

After hanging up the phone, Monte hurriedly passed on his clothes and rushed out.

“Honey, where are you going? I bought breakfast and came back.” The newly found female college student stood tenderly outside the door, holding breakfast in her hand.

Monte remembered that he didn’t receive a call from home last night because of herself, and suddenly became furious, and pushed her aside forcefully, “Go away, you are f*cking delaying my business.”

The female college student was merciless by him fell to the ground.

Monte was no longer in the same mood as before. He hastily buttoned up the buttons, and just as he got out of the elevator, a car quickly stopped in front of him. His assistant ran out with a bag in his hand, "Boss, Your mother told that you don't go back, but quickly find a way to leave this city H. Here are your passport, ID card, and cash, you should leave quickly."

Monte disagreed, "No, why did I run? The police will investigate and we are very careful in city H, and those who come to our hotel to gamble will not be so stupid as to confess themselves."

The assistant said anxiously: "I found out that Jamieson's family in City A has provided all the evidence to the police here. It's not against the law in City A, but here, you will go to jail, and once the police investigate the exact amount, you will spend the rest of your life in jail. What Madam means is that if you can escape, one is the only one."

Monte's face turned pale, "Impossible! We have a cooperative relationship with the Jamieson family, could it be possible..."

The assistant: "I don't know. Anyway, the evidence submitted by the Jamieson family is almost impossible to turn our Patterson family over. Boss, you should leave quickly. If you don't, it may be too late to go..."

Chapter 2931

But before Monte entered the station, he was arrested by Kaiden.

"Let me go." Monte struggled desperately, and shouted to the people nearby, "Help, someone wants to kidnap me."

The spectators looked over vigilantly.

"No kidnapping." Kaiden smiled at the people next to him, "The police work, this person is suspected of a huge transnational gambling and money laundering, and plans to run away."

Monte: "I didn't, I..."

Before Monte finished speaking, Kaiden covered his mouth, someone turned Monte's bag out, and piles of cash fell out of it.

Those who had doubts at the side immediately fell silent.

After all, if it was not suspected of a crime, who would take so much money on the train for no reason, unless they wanted to escape.

“Let’s go.” Kaiden dragged Monte out of the train station all the way and threw him into the car.

Charity was sitting in the passenger seat, and Chester was driving.

“So you asked me to come here to see him?” When Charity saw Monte, she was surprised, but not very surprised.

“Look, look at how desperate Young master Patterson who was arrogant in front of you yesterday is!” Chester looked at Monte with a doting smile, “Yesterday he even mocked me for being old but he doesn’t look at his own age. There are more than 30 people, soaking in the crowd of women every day, it’s so f*cking disgusting. I said you have AIDS and you don’t restrain yourself when you’re sick.”

Monte was scolded to shame, but he knew Patterson’s family very well. The situation is gone and he hurriedly begged for mercy: “Eliza, I was the one who was sorry for you before. I apologize to you. I admit my mistake. I was wrong and I failed you. I deserve death. Please let me go, please let me go. You see, haven’t you met true love now?”

“Sit down for me.” Kaiden pushed Monte down, and punched him twice after receiving the wink from Chester.

“Punch a few more times, I like to hear his screams.” Charity said.

Before Monte could react, he was greeted by another violent fist from Kaiden.

He begged for mercy at the beginning, but he couldn’t help cursing at the end, “Eliza, there is something wrong with you. You fell in love with me at the beginning, it’s your business that you want to commit suicide. I didn’t force you to commit suicide. It’s...”

“Slap.” Kaiden slapped Monte’s face, and his handsome face suddenly swelled like a pig’s head.

Charity said: “Monte, you’re a piece of trash. Did you know that there was once a simple girl who really loved you. If you were just playing around, you shouldn’t look for her and not all women loved your money. She just wanted your affection, she regarded you as her everything, she’s stupid, but the most hateful thing was you, she committed suicide for you, you treated her as acting.”

Monte knew that he was talking about Eliza, but he didn’t know that the real Eliza had completely left in that suicide.

“You really deserve to die.” Charity sighed softly, “From now on, spend the rest of your life in prison.”

When Monte heard that he was about to go to prison, he was afraid again, so he rushed over, “Eliza, I’m sorry! You let me go, I have a lot of money, I will give it to you.”

“Why did Eliza let you go? She’s the one who wants to kill you the most.” Chester smiled, “You really think that your Patterson family is going bankrupt at the beginning, why did Jamieson’s family in City A seek you to cooperate? Jamieson’s family was interested in your Patterson family’s hotels, and now Jamieson’s family opened hotels all over the world. I don’t know why their business is bigger than yours.”

Monte was startled, and a thought emerged from his mind, “When Karter Jamieson and I met for dinner, I happened to meet you, Catherine Jones, Freya Lynch and the others...”
