

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2932

Chapter 2932

Monte's mind exploded with a "boom".

He never thought that things would be like this, he thought it was all on his own ability that he got into the Jamieson family.

For more than a year, he had been complacent, thinking that Chester was lame, and he was much better than Chester.

Unexpectedly, from the beginning to the end, he just fell into someone else's trap.

Monte stared at Charity with red eyes, "Eliza, why did you treat me like this? Isn't it because I failed your feelings? But I also treated you well during the time we were together and gave you a lot of happiness. If it weren't for the poor conditions in your family, I would marry you. Isn't it normal for adults to separate and reunite in the world. At least I didn't betray you when I dated you. you hurt me that I have been infected with AIDS, and I have already received the retribution I deserve. Why are you so cruel? You are too vicious."

He looked at Charity as if he was looking at a devil, and said to Chester, "Chester, with such a woman, won't you be afraid! If you want to break up with her, you will be ruined by her."

Chester smiled, and said, "Thanks to you. Your Patterson family dragged our Jewell's family into the water, and my dad will probably have to reunite with your father in prison, there is nothing to die for the next life."

Monte was stunned, and then shuddered, "Chester, you two are really a perfect match. With a femme heart, for such a woman, even my own parents can be thrown into the fire inside."

"Okay, Monte, don't think I don't know! This leg of mine is also related to your Patterson family." Chester touched his insensitive chip leg, "Luciano drove to hit Eliza On that day, it was your Patter family who instigated you behind the scenes to put the blame on Eliza, and wanted to use Luciano's hand to get rid of Eliza. You know very well that Luciano takes drugs, and he can't stand being stimulated."

Monte's body turned cold and he was annoyed. And he said, "Isn't that Eliza wanted to ruin the reputation of our hotel? We did this to fight back."

Charity was too lazy to tell Monte, "Luciano has already been shot and you're luckier than Luciano, and you have a happy life for another year. I hope you will spend your time on the sewing machine in prison."

The car slammed on the brakes at the gate of the police station.

Chester turned his head and smiled, "The police station is here."

"No, no, no." Monte's face turned pale. He knew that once he entered the police station, it would be over.

Charity turned her head and stared at Monte, "You're right about some things. I'm vicious and cruel. I won't give up until I see that you have nothing."

The car door opened, and Kaiden pushed Monte down.

Soon the police came and took Monte inside.

Chester withdrew his gaze, shook Charity's hand with a smile, "It's all right, he won't be able to get out if he doesn't spend his life in prison."

Charity smiled, closed her eyes, and said in her heart: "Eliza, I avenged you."

Chester looked at her pretty face dotingly.

Kaiden and another subordinate silently stood in the background and they felt that they were a bit redundant.

"Young Master Jewell, we still have something to do, so we got out of the car first. " Kaiden spoke very sharp-eyed.

Chester stepped on the brakes directly.

Kaiden was speechless, he's too impolite.

Couldn't Kaiden just keep it for a while symbolically?

After Kaiden and the others went down, Charity couldn't help glancing at the people around her, "Chester, how do you tell Kaiden to go back?"

"They will take a taxi and go back by themselves. And let me, the boss, drive them for them?" Chester took Charity's little hand, put it on his lips and kissed, "Honey, I'm not their boyfriend."

Charity withdrew her hand, "Drive hard."

Chester shifted the gear, but before the car started, the phone rang. After looking at the incoming call, a hint of sarcasm flashed through his eyes.

“Pick it up.” Charity helped Chester pick the call up, and pressed the answer button, and Mrs. Jewell cried and cried.

Mrs. Jewell: “Chester, come home quickly. Somebody took your dad away just now, saying that he was involved in corruption and gambling. How could your dad do such things?”

“You found the wrong person, You should go to Cindy.” Chester said mockingly.

“Chester, don’t be like this. That girl doesn’t answer the phone. I really can only rely on you now. Your father can’t go to jail, his friends in the past didn’t answer my phone calls.” Mrs. Jewell said heartbreakingly. She continued, “If you don’t come, I’ll bump my head against the wall of my house today.”

“Chester, why don’t you go and have a look?” Charity said.

Mrs. Jewell: “Who is it? who is talking to you? It can’t be Charity! You...”

“If you dare to curse, I will make you never see me for the rest of your life.” Chester seemed to know what his mother wanted to say, so he interrupted directly.

Mrs. Jewell didn’t dare to speak for a moment, she just kept crying over there.

“I’ll come over later.” Chester hung up the phone, turned to look at Charity, “Would you like to go there with me?”

Charity nodded, “Would you like to call Kaiden back?”

“No. There’re something happened to my dad. Do you think those bodyguards will stay?” Chester mocked lightly.

50 minutes later.

The car drove into Jewell’s villa.

As soon as Mrs. Jewell saw the car coming, she ran out with disheveled hair, “Chester, you’ve come, you must save your father. He can’t be in trouble. If he goes to jail, I don’t want to live anymore.”

Charity guessed that she didn’t know that Chester was behind this matter. However, it’s okay to not know some things.

“Dad broke the law and did something wrong. Why can’t he go to jail?” Chester asked.

Mrs. Jewell grabbed Charity and said, "Eliza, don't you and Freya have fun together? She is the Prime minister's goddaughter and the Prime minister's son's girlfriend. As long as you say hello and a word, Or I can send money, as long as you agree to me, I will agree to you being my daughter-in-law and my son to marry you."

Chester's face was burning hot, and he had never felt so ashamed before, he pulled her away, "Didn't you look down on her before? But now you want to use her. How can I have a mother like you! Mom, don't make things difficult for Eliza. She can't help you with this matter, and the presidential palace is even less likely to accept bribes. "

"Son, mom knelt down for you." Mrs. Jewell cried and wanted to kneel down.

Chester didn't let his mother go, and pulled her up, "It's useless for you to kneel. If you ask me, you two are obsessed with ghosts. Isn't the money I gave you not enough? With more than one billion in your hand, it's enough for you to squander all your life. you've used it, but you're not satisfied. You're going to partner with the Patterson family. The Patterson family's hands are involving with in gambling, money laundering, and dozens of crimes alone."

Mrs. Jewell shook her shoulder, "If you don't save you Dad, I'll crash and die right in front of you."

Chester's eyes flashed with disgust, "Mom, people's patience is limited. These years, you have been sick and needed blood transfusions. In order to give you blood transfusions, I was Cindy. How much patience has been spent on me? How many times I have endured you counting on me? Of course, you can't see that you only have my dad and yourself in your eyes. Life is your own. If you don't cherish it, I can't help it and I have been dragging you desperately all my life."

Chester withdrew his arm, and added, "Mom, if you think about it, even if my dad goes to jail, I can find someone to take care of you. If you don't think about it, I can't help you."

After finishing speaking, Chester turned and went to the car and drove out.

Chapter 2934

"Chester, you ba*tard, you have no conscience, you will die." Mrs. Jewell's cursing voice came from behind, "If something happens to your father, I will definitely die."

Charity was thoroughly looking in the rearview mirror, she looked at the hysterical woman behind her.

Sometimes that old saying really applies.

In the past, Mrs. Jewell was aloof in front of her, as if no one was worthy of her son, but now...it's hard to say.

Charity: "Chester, do you want someone to keep an eye on your mother? In case she really..."

"Oh, Don't worry! my mother is the most fearful person I have ever seen." Chester sneered, "If she is not afraid of death, would she treat Cindy like a treasure? Even in order to keep Cindy, a mobile blood bank by her side. She forced me to marry Cindy back then, and forced me to praise Cindy. I did a lot of disgusting things. For the sake of my mother's illness, I don't want to bear it anymore."

For his mother, Chester really exhausted all his patience.

Charity pursed her lips. Although she had experienced many ups and downs, both mothers were very kind to her. After a while, she said, "Your parents have a good relationship."

"You didn't say that Wrong." Chester smiled, "They are two childhood sweethearts, they have a very good relationship, husband and wife love each other, they also like each other, and they often work together."

Charity: "..."

Charity wanted to laugh because of his adjectives.

It's the first time she had heard chester described his parents like that.

"Laugh if you want." Chester glanced at Charity.

"I think...you describe it quite well." Charity couldn't help laughing, she said, "But it's better for you to find someone to watch your mother. She may not commit suicide, but...In terms of human beings, she still has the final value. Your father has cooperated with the Patterson family for so long, and he must have some money in hand."

Chester was startled, but quickly understood.

Not long after the two left.

Cindy drove over, and when she saw Mrs. Jewell who was crying on the grass, she ran over to help her up, "Auntie, it's cold on the ground, why are you sitting on the ground? Don't you get sick?"

“Cindy, I didn’t expect you to come again.” Mrs. Jewell was a little surprised to see Cindy. She had made several phone calls before, but Cindy didn’t answer, thinking that she was similar to those who couldn’t escape after an accident.

“Uncle and auntie are so kind to me, how can I not come.” Cindy said with red eyes, “I knew something happened to my uncle, so I hurried to inquire about the situation. Auntie, I was busy at that time, so I didn’t answer your call.”

Then...then what did you find out? Cathy, you must help me, I can only rely on you now. That wolf-hearted Chester came just now and completely ignored us.” Mrs. Jewell said. She had been going smoothly all her life, being spoiled by her husband and son, not thinking about anything, and now she was completely lost.

“Auntie, I have inquired about it. Now everyone in the Patterson family has been arrested. I heard that Monte Patterson was planning to escape and was also arrested. It’s said that the money involved in the case is huge, but the main culprit is the Patterson family. Uncle was just deceived by them. At that time, as long as uncle doesn’t admit it, we can spend some more money and find some connections, and we can still let uncle come out, but the money will definitely be a bit too much.”

When Mrs. Jewell heard that there was hope, her eyes lit up, “Money is not a problem. Mainly to let your uncle come out, but...in the past, those who had a good relationship didn’t answer my calls.”

“Auntie, didn’t you introduce me to Mr. Chan when you took me to the banquet before? He seems to be interested in me, I approached him this time, and he said that he can help to suppress it, but he needs money, and...I will accompany him for one night.” Cindy said.
