

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1129

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1129 Mia quickly contacted the person who wanted to sell the chamber of commerce. The person picked up his communication device soon. However, there was no noise from the arena. Instead, it was very quiet. David started to wonder if he had been stood up. "Dance Fairy, you're here?" A middle-aged man's voice came from Mia's communication device.

"Yes. We're in the arena you mentioned. May I know where you are, Master?" Mia asked politely.

This was how she was.

She had been in the Milky Way for so long, and whenever she met someone she did not know, she would call them master politely.

Moreover, that person had a chamber of commerce worth two billion Galaxy Dollars, so he would not be an ordinary person.

"Tell the arena staff to bring you to VIP Room 1. I'll wait for you here," the middle-aged man said again.

"Alright," Mia replied. Then, the man hung up the communication device.

Mia lifted her head to look at David.

"Let's go," David said.

To avoid any unnecessary problems, David asked Mia to put on a veil to cover her stunning face.

If not, she would be recognized by many because of her reputation. The two found an arena staff and told them why they were here.

When the staff heard they wanted to go to VIP Room 1 to look for someone, the staff immediately asked for the arena manager. They dared not take anyone to VIP Room 1 at will. If they disturbed the VIP inside, they might be thrown into the arena to feed the beasts.

Anyone who could enter VIP Room 1 would be a big shot with a shocking identity.

"Please come with me," the arena manager said respectfully.

Clearly, they had been notified in advance.

David and Mia followed the arena manager into a quiet VIP passage to the uppermost of the arena.

That was where the VIP rooms were. The trio stopped in front of a room.

“This is VIP Room 1. Master Grim is waiting inside. Please go in,” the manager gestured to David and Mia after he said that.

‘Master Grim?’

Mia’s heart fell when she heard that name.

‘Could it be the Grim family that’s ranked fourth among the eight prominent families? ‘How would such a strong force sell their chamber of commerce? ‘Something’s not right!’ That was Mia’s intuition. Only one person in the Royal Region was called Master Grim, the current son of the Grim family, Lucifer Grim.

Lucifer had pestered Mia for some time back then.

He always wanted to meet Mia alone, but she would always reject him.

It was because Mia knew Lucifer was not the same as the other direct descendants of major forces.

For example, even if Fergus was dark inside, he still cared about his prestige. So, he would not do anything inappropriate and risk becoming a laughing stock to others.

However, Lucifer was not the same. 1

He was impatient, and he did not care about his prestige. It had to be said that he was a strange one among the major forces’ direct descendants in the Royal Region

As long as it benefited him, he would do all kinds of despicable things. He would not care if he looked bad at all.

This kind of person was often the hardest to deal with. Lucifer had troubled Mia for so long. However, Lucifer seemed to disappear in recent years, and he never pestered Mia again. Allegedly, some of his behavior affected his family’s reputation, so he was sent to go on a mission.

As for what mission it was, no one knew. If someone else tarnished their family’s reputation like Lucifer did, they would have been abandoned long ago. However, Lucifer had a unique identity. When he was born, Grandmaster Grim had a breakthrough.

Hence, his family viewed him as a lucky star of the family. Moreover, he was the eldest son of this generation and the most talented, so they were very lenient with him. Even Grandmaster Grim valued Lucifer a lot. Mia knew this was going to be challenging.

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1130

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1130 It was possible Lucifer did not genuinely want to sell the chamber of commerce. Instead, he only wanted to get Mia to come over. Unexpectedly, Lucifer still had not forgotten Mia after so long. However, since she was here, she would go in and see what was going on. Plus, with David around, Mia was not scared. She would definitely not go in if she were the only one here. With that, she walked over and knocked on the door. Knock knock knock!

"Come in."

A middle-aged man's voice came from the room.

Mia and David could tell it was the same person who had just talked to them on the communication device.

Mia pushed the door open, and David followed behind her.

After the arena manager closed the door, he turned to leave. He dared not go in without permission.

When the two entered the room, they saw a middle-aged man in a chair. His back was turned toward the two while he looked out the huge window at battling beasts in the arena. Meanwhile, there were two men on either side of him.

A middle-aged man on the left, and an old man on the right. The room was huge and luxurious. Furthermore, it was located in the uppermost part of the circular arena.

From here, one could see the entire arena from the huge window. This could be described as the best seat in the arena.

Even if there were deafening roars and shouts outside, the room remained quiet without a single noise.

When the trio watching the battle heard the door opening, they did not turn around. Mia could guess who the person was, so she did not dare to say anything for fear of offending him.

On the other hand, it was also because she did not want to cause trouble for David.

This person was even more challenging to deal with than Fergus. Even though the Grim family's ranking was slightly lower than the Callisto family's, they were not weak at all.

Moreover, Lucifer had a unique identity in his family, which Fergus did not possess. The room fell into a short silence.

Ten seconds...

Twenty seconds... Thirty seconds... The other party did not seem like they would turn around after thirty seconds. David became impatient.

He wanted the twenty thousand lavish points, but the other party was being so disrespectful.

He was at partial Eternal Realm and was shoulder to shoulder with Emperor Nimbus. Who would dare to ignore Emperor Nimbus for thirty seconds if he were here? 'Do you think I don't have a temper?' When David was about to fly into a fit of rage, the result of the battle was announced. The trio then turned around to face Mia and David.

The man in the chair looked younger.

He would be in his thirties if he were on Earth.

However, his age in the Royal Region was unknown. He might even be a hundred or two hundred years old. That person was Lucifer Grim, the eldest son of the Grim family, ranked fourth among the eight prominent families. Next to him were one old man and one middle-aged man.

"Long time no see, Dance Fairy," Lucifer smiled and said. "Master Grim! Was the information regarding you selling the chamber of commerce a trap? You should be aware that I've been getting the word out that I'm buying a chamber of commerce. So that's why you did this to lure me over, right?" Mia said, her face under the veil turning dark.

After confirming the other party was Lucifer, Mia knew this was probably a trap.

A trap to get her to come over.

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1131

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1131 Lucifer sat with his legs crossed and answered in a lazy tone, "What are you saying, Dance Fairy? What do you mean by setting a trap to lure you over? It's just a chamber of commerce! If you want one, I can just give it to you. Why are you so mad?" "No, thanks! Master Grim, I've withdrawn from the four fairies, so please stop bugging me. If there's nothing else, we'll leave now."

“You want to leave? Do you think you can leave after you come in? I’d like to see if you can walk out of the door without my permission,” Lucifer said arrogantly.

Mia was the woman he fancied.

If his family had not recalled him and asked him to cultivate with the grandmaster whilst preventing him from coming out until he achieved his target, Mia would be his woman now.

Lucifer did not care what method he used.

He would get the woman he fancied no matter what.

He had done a lot of similar things in the past.

Of course, Lucifer needed to understand their background first.

He was not a fool.

If it were someone like Princess Astrid, Lucifer would not even dare to think about it, let alone pursue her.

If he showed any signs of having this thought, his family would kill him before the empire did anything, no matter how much they valued him. If not, the entire family would be in danger.

Only Mia, among the four fairies in the Milky Way, did not have much background. This time, Lucifer finally got the grandmaster’s permission to come out. However, Mia withdrew from the four fairies and chose to follow a man.

How could he accept this?

After finding out Mia was spreading the news that she wanted to buy a chamber of commerce, Lucifer thought of this plan and asked someone to pretend to sell their chamber of commerce.

Indeed, he managed to lure Mia over. He held himself back for so long while he was with the grandmaster.

Finally, he could come out, so how would he let Mia go? After David heard their conversation, he finally understood. ‘So this two trillion dollar chamber of commerce is fake? ‘It’s just a trap this punk set to lure Mia over?’ Immediately, David flew into a fit of rage. ‘Damn, he’s just wasting my time! And he’s so arrogant too.’

'We can't leave without his permission, he said?'

David wanted to tell the punk, 'Tell Emperor Nimbus to come here and ask him if he dares to say that to me!' "Master Grim, I've really withdrawn from the four fairies. Why won't you stop pestering me?" Mia asked aggrievedly. "Stop pestering you? Sure! But you have to accept a request of mine..." Before Lucifer could finish, Mia stopped him, "No way! I won't accept anything! Master Grim, you should just give up."

As a woman who could charm every living creature in the world, Mia knew her body was too enchanting

Even before Lucifer finished, she knew what he wanted.

He just wanted her.

Right now, aside from David, Mia would not give her body to anyone else.

If David did not want her, she was willing to stay chaste forever.

"Oh? Mia, I think you still don't realize your situation. Is that the man you want to follow even if it means withdrawing from the four fairies?"

After Lucifer said that, he glazed at David and continued, "You're not bad for catching the eyes of Dance Fairy. You do have a good appearance, but unfortunately, your handsome face will have to say goodbye to this world soon. You better give this world one last look." "Lucifer, don't do anything stupid," Mia immediately stood in front of David and said nervously.

"Mia, you know me. There's nothing I don't dare to do. If you want to save him, you must accept my request." David had never said a word since he stepped through the door.

To him, Lucifer was just a clown.

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1132

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1132 David could destroy the support behind Lucifer, let alone him. He did not say anything or do anything because he wanted to see what Lucifer would do. He wanted to see if he should just kill Lucifer or kill his entire family as well. Now, it seemed his family was not a saint for raising someone like him. "I won't accept anything."

The moment Mia said that...

Creak!

Someone opened the door all of a sudden.

A young man and an old man walked in.

“Lucy, can you stop being so forgetful? You were just let out, and you’re bullying others again? Do you want to be locked up again?” The young man asked after entering the room. Lucifer frowned when he saw the person coming in. He said in displeasure, “Cally, do you want to be beaten up? Who asked you to come in? Get out now!” Mia looked at the man who came in.

She knew this person.

Even though she did not know him too well, she knew who he was.

Lucifer was the eldest son of the Grim family, ranked fourth among the eight prominent families.

Meanwhile, this Cally person was named Callan Elrod. He was the second child of the Elrod family, ranked fifth among the eight prominent families. He was the second child, while the eldest in his generation was a woman. The Grim and Elrod families were constantly at odds with each other, so they often fought.

It was normal for the direct descendants to fight all the time.

If they could suppress one another and give them a heavy slap across the face, they would be rewarded when they returned to their families.

Mia let out a sigh of relief when she saw Callan bickering with Lucifer after he came in.

It seemed that she could get through this safely.

She then looked at David on one side.

She noticed that there were no changes in his expression. Mia shook her head internally. She was struggling to read David more and more these days.

To be honest, she was hoping David would take action just now, but she was worried that David could not beat the Grim family.

Even though David was not scared of the Tuffin family, the Tuffin family could not compare to a big family like the Grim family. The two had such a huge difference in strength.

“Hmph, Lucy, don’t think you’re all that because you’ve been cultivating with the grandmaster for a while. Come, let’s have a duel and see if you’ve grown in all these years,” Callan said fearlessly.

“Let’s go then. The one who pulls out first is a son of a b*tch. If you have the balls, let’s go down to the arena for a duel. What do you think?” Lucifer stood up and said.

“Sure! Do you think I’m scared?”

“Alright, we’ll go down now! We’ll give everyone here a good show today. However, we must follow the rules and sign a waiver of liability before entering the arena. No one shall stop us during the battle.” “Alright!” Callan agreed. However, the old man next to him yelled, “Master Callan!” “Don’t stick your nose into this. I’ll give Master Lucifer Grim a lesson today. I want him to turn the other way the next time he sees me.” When the old man saw how determined Callan was to battle with Lucifer, he stopped advising him.

However, he had already decided in his heart.

Even if they signed a waiver of liability, he would go and save Callan if he were in danger.
