

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1193

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1193

Chapter 1193

The old man and Balu headed deeper into the forest.

David and Mia followed them.

The path was a little dark due to the shade from the canopy's leaves of the towering trees. However, it did not affect David.

Daylight and the nighttime seemed to be no different for him after he reached this realm.

He had his mind power to support him.

He could even perceive an ant under the tree leaves clearly.

Mia followed closely behind David.

After they crossed a dark tunnel, things slowly began to brighten up.

Along the way, they saw that trees around them were full of Buckeranians standing on the treetops.

All of them looked at David and Mia curiously.

On this planet, other than the Buckeranians who had the slave mark on their forehead, they had only seen those who were sent by the Grim family who took them away and made them their mining slaves. Those men were fierce-looking.

There were no slave marks on David and Mia's foreheads, and they were not as fierce-looking as the Grim family.

They were beautiful.

They had never seen such a beautiful creature on Planet Buck.

That was why David and Mia attracted all the Buckeranians' attention.

They continued to walk for a while.

The old man and Balu stopped under a giant tree.

The giant tree looked like it had a diameter of at least seven to eight meters.

It could absolutely be considered a giant among all the trees there.

The inner side of the tree had been emptied, and there were stairs in it. One could climb the stairs and make his way up to the treehouse on the treetop.

The old man led Balu into the tree. Then, they made their way up the stairs.

David and Mia followed them into the tree too.

As for the Buckeranians who were behind them, they could only stop outside the tree. They were not allowed to enter without permission.

They went all the way up.

A few minutes later, David entered the treehouse on the treetop. The furniture in the house was simple.

There was a wooden round table surrounded by a dozen wooden chairs. There were a few small square tables beside it. Each table had two chairs next to it, and a set of teacups on it.

The old man walked toward a small square table and sat down on the chair, then he said, "Take a seat!"

David and the others made themselves at home. They sat down on the chairs beside him.

"Balu, who're they?" The old man asked after the four of them sat down.

"Uncle Utopia, they're the saviors of Planet Buck. Without them, this day would never have come for us Buckeranians." Balu looked at David and answered gratefully.

"Oh? What happened?" The old man wondered.

After that, Balu started telling his story.

It all started the moment his family had been taken away.

They became slaves and worked served the Grim family for three hundred years. Meanwhile, Balu's parents could not accept the fact that they had fallen from grace and become slaves. They got so depressed that they eventually fell ill and passed away.

Balu was left alone at the death's door. At first, Balu had lost all hope too.

This was until David showed up and destroyed the Grim family. He rescued Balu and followed him back to Planet Buck. He continued to save the Buckeranians who were enslaved by the Grim family.

One could say that without David, the Buckeranians would slowly die and become extinct after hundreds or thousands of years.

24.06.

"Balu, what did you say? The Grim family on this planet had been killed? All the mining slaves had been freed?" The old man grabbed Balu's hand and asked excitedly.

"Yes, Uncle Utopia! Not only were the Grim family members on this planet eliminated, but the whole Grim family was wiped out by Mr. David. From today onwards, Planet Buck belongs to us. We can live the peaceful life we had a hundred years ago, and no one will ever disturb us again," said Balu as tears welled up in his eyes.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1194

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1194

Chapter 1194

"Is... Is... Is this true?"

"Yes! It's true! Uncle Utopia, you can follow me there and see for yourself."

"Hahaha... Justice has been served! I thought the Buckeranians would never be able to stand up again for the rest of our lives. I could never die peacefully knowing that. I didn't expect the Grim family would pay for things they did so soon. I'm so happy to hear that. Hahaha..."

The old man started laughing loudly after he made sure what Balu told him was true.

Balu lived his life as a slave working for the Grim family. Were the Buckeranians left on Planet Buck not being enslaved too?

The fact that Planet Buck used to have a population of a hundred million in the past, but suffered a sharp decline in their population such that there were only a few million today, showed how the Buckeranians had lived during the past three hundred years. '

They lived in fear every day.

They would die if they fought against them. If they did not fight, they had no choice but to become mining slaves who worked day and night.

After the old man finished laughing, he stood up and walked toward David. He kneeled on the floor and bowed to him three times respectfully.

David did not stand up to stop him.

He accepted it.

Even though the old man was very old.

As David's combat reached the partial Eternal Realm, becoming the most powerful person in the Milky Way, his state of mind had changed too.

As the saying went, high achievers tended to be successful early in life. Someone powerful should be respected.

Besides, he was the one who saved millions of Buckeranians on Planet Buck. David felt comfortable accepting the old man's respect.

After that, the old man said excitedly, "Thank you Mr. David for saving Planet Buck. Utopia will never forget what you have done for the Buckeranians."

"Sir, you don't have to do this! The Grim family has done many evil deeds. The day would come for them to get their punishment. Someone would've done so even if it wasn't me. The reason I killed them was that we had a score to settle. I just ended up saving all of you in the process," David replied calmly.

"Mr. David, in any case, you saved us and gave Buckeranians the chance to survive. Otherwise, we'll probably slowly disappear as time passes, and we'd eventually become extinct. I would like to thank you on behalf of all Buckeranians."

The old man continued to bow at David a few times, only then did he slowly rise to his feet.

Balu immediately came forward to help him up.

"Uncle Utopia, let's go outside and tell everyone about this!

Our people have been bottling up their emotions for so long, so we should spread the good news and celebrate. Then, I'll leave to look for the others."

“Sure, sure, sure! I’ll gather everyone here and tell them the good news. You don’t have to go to all that trouble to look for the other Buckeranians. I know how to contact them. I only have to tell them the truth and they’ll show up.”

“Then without further ado, let’s get started.”

“Okay!”

As the previous general officer of Babu, the head of Planet Buck, Utopia was a prestigious figure.

Not only did all the Buckeranians living in the base have to listen to him, but he also wielded enormous influence in other bases.

The reason why the Buckeranians were divided into several groups was that splitting up could prevent every one of them from getting killed by the Grim family.

Utopia led the three of them out of the giant tree. He gathered all the Buckeranians and announced the news of the destruction of the Grim family.

All Buckeranians immediately erupted in cheers and applause.

At the same time, everyone was weeping tears of joy.

They had been waiting for this day for a long time.

Then, Utopia began contacting the other groups that were hidden away in the dark.

A day later, all Buckeranians came out from their hidden base and started to step out into the sunlight.

They hid in the dark, and they dared not to leave there.

Every base leader began to head to the place where the Grim family had stayed before.

Balu showed his imposing aura as their head. After he gave an enthusiastic speech, the rebuilding of the whole Planet Buck began and the Buckeranians continued with the tasks that remained undone.

After the bodies that were left outside were gathered, they were buried in the ground.

Now, all Buckeranians worked with a will. It had been a long time since there were smiles on everyone's faces.

David felt relieved to see Planet Buck getting back on track. His work here was done.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1195

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1195

Chapter 1195

Three days later.

David found Balu and told him that he would be leaving Planet Buck soon.

"Mr. David, you're leaving soon?" Balu asked.

"Yes! Planet Buck has gotten back on track. I should leave too," replied David.

"Mr. David, can you please stay for another day? I'll leave with you after getting everything in order."

"Balu! You should stay here. The Buckeranians need you."

"Mr. David! I must leave with you. This is not only to repay your kindness, but it's also for this."

Balu said as he pointed at the slave mark on his forehead, then he continued, "The only possible way to lift the limitations of the slave mark is to follow you, only then my people will be truly freed."

David looked at the sincere expression on Balu's face.

He knew he had made up his mind.

"Alright then! I'll give you one more day to prepare. We'll leave Planet Buck tomorrow. Since you'll be following me around in the future, stop calling me Mr. David. Call me David, like how Mia does!"

David turned around and left after that.

Balu, who was behind him, bowed and thanked him, "Thank you, David!"

At night.

David was about to rest.

“Knock–knock–knock!!!”

There was a knock on the door.

“Come in!” said David.

Balu pushed the door open and came in. Someone was behind him, and it turned out to be the old man, Utopia.

“I’m sorry! David, sorry to disturb you,” Balu apologized.

“It’s still early! What’s the matter?” David asked.

“Uncle Utopia said he needed to talk to you.”

David shifted his gaze to Utopia.

At this moment, Utopia said to Balu, “Little Balu, I have something to discuss with Mr. David. Please step out for a moment.”

“Okay! David, Uncle Utopia, take your time.”

Balu turned around and left the room after that, and he closed the door behind him.

“Old master, what’s the matter?” David asked with curiosity.

David was confused. Why did the old man come looking for him? Were they not familiar with each other?

Even though he saved the Buckeranians.

The old man kneeled before him and thanked him. What else could there be?

Utopia bowed to David first, and only then did he speak, “We, the Buckeranians, shall never forget Mr. David’s great kindness and what you’ve done for Planet Buck. Your name will go down in our history and be passed on to the next generation. The next generation of Planet Buck will remember those dark days and bear your kindness in mind.”

David did not know if he should cry or laugh. That was what he wanted to tell him.

Was there a need to pay a visit and tell him about this at this hour?

“Old Master, there’s no need to do so. It’s no trouble at all, and I’ll probably forget about this soon.”

“Mr. David has done many good deeds. It’s normal to forget about them. Even though it wasn’t a problem to you, it means a lot to Planet Buck. It’s a chance for rebirth and for us to start a new life again.”

Utopia paused for a moment, and continued, “Mr. David, little Balu will be staying with you. Please take good care of little Balu. I know he’d like to follow you around to see the galaxy. He’d be looking for a way to lift the curse. I know it’s not going to be easy for him. I’ll leave little Balu to you.”

“No problem, Old Master. I won’t let anything happen to Balu since he’s with me. As for the slave mark, it’s an evil curse that has been cast over the whole planet. I’m sorry. There’s nothing I can do either,” David shook his head and replied.

“Mr. David, you don’t have to feel sorry. This is our fate. I came looking for you today not just to express my gratitude, there’s also something I’d like to give to you.”

Utopia reached out for the shirt pocket in his arms, and he was about to take something out.

David immediately rejected him when he heard the old man was going to give him something. “It’s okay, Old Master. I didn’t help you all to get something in return. Don’t do this. I’ve got everything I need.”

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1196

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1196

Chapter 1196

Come on, he was at partial Eternal Realm rank now. What else could he not have?

Other than some lavish points, he had everything he needed.

Besides, what good stuff could a small place like Planet Buck have?

However, David had just finished saying this sentence when his attention was immediately attracted by the stuff in the box that Utopia was carrying.

‘What’s this?’

‘An oval–shaped stone?’

The moment Utopia opened the box, a refreshing breath immediately filled the room.

It made David feel like his cells were dancing happily in his body. He wanted to let out a comfortable moan so badly.

It was his first time encountering such a situation.

This must be something good!

“Mr. David, please don’t reject it. There’s nothing we can do to repay your kindness and what you’ve done for Planet Buck. This is something our people found in one of the mines ten years ago. I was on the verge of death at that time. The stone was handed to me after that. I liked it very much, so I’ve been keeping it beside me all the time. I didn’t expect that my body would heal miraculously ever since that day, and I’ve been alive until this day.

“Slowly, I found out that it was the stone that was working miracles. Even though I have no idea what it is, I know it’s something good. Perhaps Mr. David will need it one day in the future. This is a gift from the Buckeranians. Please keep it, Mr. David. If you refuse to accept our gift, I’m not going to stand up today.”

Utopia kneeled on the ground and lifted the stone in his hands above his head. If David did not take it from him, he would keep on kneeling on the ground and would not stand up.

David looked at Utopia, who was kneeling not far away from him.

He could not help but let out a sigh.

David had always subconsciously believed a saying.

A good–hearted person was a grateful person.

The honest Buckeranians were like that.

He wondered how the Grim family could have done that to them.

However, families like the Grim family who would get their way, by hook or by crook, for the sake of their interests did not have any sympathy for others.

They could do anything as long as it was beneficial for the family.

There were many forces like them in the Royal Region. The Tuffin family was one of them too.

The Earth gave Pavan a warm welcome when he arrived there back then.

No one would have expected that he was up to something evil, and he wanted to make everyone on Earth his slaves.

If it were not for the system announcing it on time, the Tuffin family could have probably planted the slave marks on the people living on Earth.

At that time, David's efforts would have been in vain no matter how hard he tried to struggle.

Earth would not have ended up any better than Planet Buck.

David did not want Utopia's belongings.

However, the breath that the stone gave out was too attractive. He thought the stone could come in handy in the future if he took it with him.

"Old Master, you don't have to do this!"

"Mr. David, please accept it. Otherwise, we, Buckeranians, will feel uneasy about it," insisted Utopia.

David had no choice but to stand up. He walked toward Utopia and reached out to take the box from him.

The stone had just fallen into David's hands when the system automatically popped up.

There were three big words written on it.

'Stone of Life