

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1204

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1204

Chapter 1204

After the fighter jets stopped in the air, they aimed their countless guided missiles at the Galaxy Warship.

However, the people of this planet had no idea what a Galaxy Warship was. Shooting these guided missiles at the ship was like mosquitoes trying to penetrate an iron plate.

It would not do anything to the Galaxy Warship.

In reality, the fighter jet pilots were shocked when they saw the Galaxy Warship.

'What is this huge thing?

'It's huge!

'How grand!

'How imposing!

'It doesn't look like something our planet can make.'

Right now, they were very nervous.

This thing should belong to aliens.

However, they had no idea if the ship was a friend or foe.

At the same time, they sent the scene back to the control center so that the big shots of this planet could see it.

As David looked at the fighter jets in the sky, he knew it was time to get out.

The Galaxy Warship's hatch opened, shocking the fighter jet pilots.

They gripped their missile launcher tightly in their hands.

They could shoot the guided missiles the moment they noticed something was wrong.

LI

David brought Mia to the top of the Galaxy Warship. Meanwhile, Balu stayed in the control room to learn how to steer the ship.

From now on, David would hand the control room over to Balu. That way, he would feel more at ease.

The heads of this planet were all staring at the Galaxy Warship. When they saw two humans disembark and not some peculiar-looking creatures, they all sighed a sigh of relief. When David got to the top of the ship, he smiled and said to the fighter jets in the sky, "Don't be scared. I come in peace."

"Who are you? Why did you come here?" One of the fighter jet pilots asked.

"I'm from a level 3 civilization, and I am here to invite you to join the Milky Way Empire," David answered.

Chapter 1204

As David looked at the fighter jets in the sky, he knew it was time to get out.

The Galaxy Warship's hatch opened, shocking the fighter jet pilots. They gripped their missile launcher tightly in their hands.

They could shoot the guided missiles the moment they noticed something was wrong. David brought Mia to the top of the Galaxy Warship. Meanwhile, Balu stayed in the control room to learn how to steer the ship.

1

SLID

From now on, David would hand the control room over to Balu. That way, he would feel more at ease.

The heads of this planet were all staring at the Galaxy Warship.

LLLLLL

When they saw two humans disembark and not some peculiar-looking creatures, they all sighed a sigh of relief.

When David got to the top of the ship, he smiled and said to the fighter jets in the sky, "Don't be scared. I come in peace."

"Who are you? Why did you come here?" One of the fighter jet pilots asked.

“I’m from a level 3 civilization, and I am here to invite you to join the Milky Way Empire,” David answered.

This was what he planned to say.

No one would believe him if he said he was here to save them.

Hence, he said he was from the Milky Way empire.

If he could help them upgrade this planet to a high–class citizen planet of the Milky Way Empire, no one would dare to break the empire’s rule and plant their slave mark on it even if they discovered it in the future.

L

!

Normally, no one would come if David labeled this planet on the empire’s galaxy map because they would only come in vain if they did.

People would only go to unlabeled places on the galaxy map when exploring.

When the people heard David come from a level 3 civilization, they were stunned.

They knew they were not even at a level 1 civilization.

Now that they were meeting someone from a level 3 civilization, they knew they would not have the power to resist.

No wonder the other party could make such a huge, domineering, and formidable spacecraft.

LII11

A

It seemed that they were from a higher civilization.

“Why are you inviting us to join the empire? What do you want? If you don’t explain yourself properly, we won’t believe you. We believe there is no free lunch in this world.”

Chapter 1204

These people were more alert than earthlings. The earthlings were not so vigilant when Pavan landed on Earth back then.

David smiled bitterly in his heart.

'How should I f*cking explain to them?

L/LI

'Should I tell them outsiders will invade you soon and plant a bloodline curse on you, and I was entrusted by someone to help you?

'I don't think anyone will believe me

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1205

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1205

Chapter 1205 "Who's the person in charge of this planet? Tell him to talk to me. You won't understand even if I explain to you. You can't make these decisions anyway," David asked.

"I'm sorry. If you don't explain to us, there won't be anyone coming to talk to you because we can't be sure if you're friend or foe."

David was in a dilemma now.

He shook his head helplessly and said, "I genuinely come in peace. Why won't you believe me?"

"You have to show proof that you don't mean any harm. Not a single person would believe a stranger completely if they were in this situation, right? Please understand!"

Perhaps the Galaxy Warship looked too domineering and formidable, and David was from a level 3 civilization, which led to the person speaking very courteously.

David figured that this person was being fair, but how would he prove himself?

After thinking about it, David looked around and spotted a huge mountain peak hundreds of kilometers away on his right. It was very eye-catching on this flat plain.

He suddenly had an idea.

Since the other party did not believe him, he should be straightforward. He would show some of his strength to show these people that if he wanted to harm them, they would not have any way to resist.

That way, he could indirectly show that his purpose was genuine.

‘Alright, I’ll do that!’

“If that’s the case, I’ll prove it to you.”

After David said that, he pointed at the huge mountain peak hundreds of kilometers away and continued, “See that mountain?”

“Of course! That’s Snow Peak. It is the tallest and biggest mountain on the grassland and the tallest and biggest peak on Planet Cloud.”

“Look closely then! My explanation is on that mountain,” David said.

The fighter jet pilot did not understand what David was saying, but he asked the other fighter jets equipped with high–definition cameras to adjust their cameras so they would capture footage of Snow Peak.

While the cameras were pointed at it, the leaders in the control room could also see it.

Meanwhile, the other fighter jets aimed their guided missiles at David and the Galaxy Warship.

Not only the fighter jets, but the countless powerful large –scale, long–distance cannons were also targeting him.

If they detected any hostility from David, they would fire without hesitation and raze this place to the ground.

As everyone stared at Snow Peak, David said one word.

“Up!”

After he said that...

Boom!

A loud voice could be heard from a distance.

Then, the ground shook.

Snow Peak was lifted off the ground and rose in the air while countless people on Planet Cloud watched.

This...

“This...

“This is impossible!

Everyone was shocked to see this scene, and they were all mumbling, “Impossible! Impossible!”

The scene was too shocking.

‘What magnificent technique is this?

‘How can he lift Snow Peak?

“That’s Snow Peak, the tallest and biggest mountain on Planet Cloud!

‘It was so easily lifted by such a mysterious power. How shocking!

An ordinary person could not do this.’ After Snow Peak rose to the air, it stopped there quietly.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1206

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1206

Chapter 1206 At this moment, Snow Peak was hovering in the air like it was magic.

Mia was already used to this.

Ever since she watched David killing all of the Grim family’s core, she would not be surprised at anything David did.

With his strength, he could destroy this planet with a stomp of his feet if he wanted.

The room was quiet when the leaders in Planet Cloud saw Snow Peak being lifted easily inside the control room. Everyone’s eyes were wide, and their jaws dropped. Only heavy breathing could be heard.

They could not believe what they were seeing.

“S–Sir! What should we do?” Someone asked.

From his voice, one could tell that he was in extreme panic.

The strength that David exhibited was too great.

They had never seen this before, and never expected someone to lift a mountain and make it hover in the air.

How much strength would be required? Not only him, the other people in the control room also had looks of horror on their faces.

They turned to look at an old man at the same time.

That old man was the most authoritative decision maker on Planet Cloud.

“Send two people to tell the fighter jets to come back. Also, tell all the weapons to cease fire. We can’t predict these aliens’ strength. The rest of you, come with me to meet those level 3 civilization aliens. Let’s see what they want,” the old man said.

He understood the other party was trying to intimidate them.

If not, the entire Planet Cloud would not have been able to resist him.

The techniques from a high-level civilization were so scary.

Snow Peak was so huge, and it casually lifted and until it hovered in the air.

This was unfathomable!

When would Planet Cloud develop to become a level 3 civilization?

On the grassland in Planet Cloud. After David shocked everyone with one move, he spread his hands and said slowly, “See? I really don’t mean you any harm. If I did, your planet wouldn’t even have the power to fight back. I genuinely come here in peace.”

The pilots of the fighter jets got the order from the control room. The control room was asking them to retreat. At the same time, they had to calm these powerful yet strange aliens.

“Sir, our commander will be here to talk to you soon. Please wait patiently for a while.”

“That’s right. This wouldn’t have happened if you did this earlier. You just had to make me show my strength,” David smiled and said.

“Please calm down, Sir. You are Planet Cloud’s first visitor from outer space. I had to treat you with care for the sake of the tens of billions of people on this planet. I hope you understand.”

“It’s fine! It’s fine! I understand. It’ll be fine as long as your commander gets here. Don’t worry. If I were hostile, I would have suppressed your planet by force.”

“Thank you, Sir!”

After the fighter jets got the order, they left the grassland slowly.

David was not bothered and just let them leave.

At the same time, he placed Snow Peak down to its original position. It did not look any different from before.

Soon, the Galaxy Warship, David, and Mia were the only ones left on the grassland.

Meanwhile, the highest commander of Planet Cloud was heading over here.

After a day, David’s Galaxy Warship left Planet Cloud to head to another destination.

They had settled their first target.

After his careful explanation, Planet Cloud agreed to join the Milky Way Empire.

To avoid problems, David contacted Princess Astrid directly.

With her help, Planet Cloud and Planet Buck successfully joined the Milky Way Empire. They were registered as high-class citizen planets of the empire.

At the same time, they were also successfully registered on the empire’s galaxy map.

None of the forces would dare to covet them anymore.

The deterrent effect of the Milky Way Empire was unquestionable.