

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1229

Chapter 1229 Planet Royal in the Royal Region.

Inside Princess Astrid's room. Astrid had just finished her call with David, and she jumped up in excitement. David had told her that he would be arriving on Planet Royal soon. After learning that David was about to arrive, Astrid was elated. She had waited so long for this day. She had been looking forward to David coming to Planet Royal. Now, the day was finally here. "Lalala..."

Astrid started humming and dancing happily in her room.

Outside the room, Astrid's maids, one old and one young; started discussing among themselves after hearing the princess humming. "Oh no! Oh no! Her Royal Highness is sick again," the younger maid said. "What nonsense are you saying? Aren't you scared that Her Royal Highness will hear you and not let you eat for three days?" The older maid quickly stopped her.

"Am I wrong? Ever since Her Royal Highness returned, she will either space out or giggle for no reason. Now, she's humming and dancing for no reason. I think Her Royal Highness must have been possessed while she was out there. So what if Her Royal Highness hears me? I don't mind not eating for three days! I'm on a diet anyway."

"Oh, you! You're lucky Her Royal Highness has a good temper and is gentle. You only dare to say this because she treats her subordinates like sisters. If you got assigned to someone cruel, you would be thrown to the beasts if you dared to say that."

"... I'm just worried about Her Royal Highness. She's so good to us, so I hope she'll be happy and healthy forever," the younger maid retorted, feeling guilty. Clearly, she knew it was not right to talk about the princess behind her back. If she were assigned to someone else, she would have it easy if her only punishment was to be thrown to the beasts. "Alright, stop making guesses. I know why Her Royal Highness is like this," the older maid whispered. "Why?" "It's because Her Royal Highness is in love!" "Huh? In love?"

"Of course! If not, why is she like this? Her Royal Highness must be in love. She'd only act like this if she has someone she likes."

"H-H-How is this possible?"

"Why not? Her Royal Highness is in her prime, and she's at the age when she'll fall for someone the easiest. I'm sure Her Royal Highness has met someone she likes out there." "B-But what kind of man will be suitable for such a flawless woman like Her Royal Highness? She's so beautiful, so kind, and she's so gentle. Plus, she's the empire's most loved princess," the younger man asked curiously.

“You don’t have to worry about this. The most important thing is that Her Royal Highness likes him. Not many men are worthy of Her Royal Highness in the Milky Way.”

“I’m just curious. I want to meet this man. I want to see what magic power he has to make Her Royal Princess fall for him.”

When the maids were happily discussing among themselves, they heard a voice next to them. “Hmph!”

The two shuddered from fright and quickly turned around to look. “Your Majesty!” The two maids quickly knelt and greeted with trembling voices.

Oh no! Oh no!

‘We’re doomed if Her Majesty hears us talking about the princess.’

The maids were petrified.

The empress was not as nice as the princess.

The princess would not punish them if she heard them.

Although the empress was not cruel, as the empress of the Milky Way Empire, she would not go easy on anyone who made a mistake. However, Gamora did not say anything before entering Astrid’s room directly. The two maids left out sighs of relief.

When she entered the room, Gamora saw Astrid dancing and humming happily.

“Lalala...” Astrid did not notice Gamora entering her room. Hence, Gamora pretended to cough. “Cough cough!” Astrid finally noticed her mother in her room. She quickly stopped dancing and cried out with a blush, “Mother!” “You’re the princess of the empire, but look at you. How scandalous! Do you think this is how a princess should behave?” Gamora said with an unpleasant look on her face. She was not mad, but she could tell Astrid was already madly in love.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1230

Chapter 1230 Most importantly, she still had not confirmed David’s identity. Judging from the Sangruil Sinners’ reappearance during this period, Gamora was sure they were planning to do something big.

If it was found that David was a spy the Sangruil Sinners sent to infiltrate the empire, Gamora was worried that Astrid would not be able to take this blow.

“So what if I’m the princess? As a princess, can’t I dance when I am happy?” Astrid retorted in a small voice.

“I think David has already stolen your soul. If he wants to take you away, I think you will happily abandon your parents and brothers.”

“Mother! How can you say that? You’re my family, so how can I abandon you?” Astrid pouted and retorted.

“Astrid, I’m going to ask you a question, and you have to answer me honestly.” “Go ahead, I’ll be honest.”

“If I asked you to choose between David and your family, who would you choose?”

Gamora looked at Astrid and asked seriously.

“Huh?”

Astrid’s mind went blank.

She would never have guessed that her mother would ask this question.

‘W–Who will I choose?’

‘One is my family, and the other is someone I like.’

‘I can’t choose between them.’

Astrid did not want to answer this question because she did not have an answer.

She also did not want anyone around her to feel sad.

“Mother, what’s wrong with you? Why are you asking that?”

“Don’t ask. Just answer me.”

“I–I don’t want to answer this question,” Astrid rejected. “You…” Gamora glared at Astrid with her beautiful eyes. When she was about to get angry, she thought about it and decided to forget it. This matter was not conclusive yet, so it would be better not to tell Astrid. Although this possibility was small, what if David was not a Sangruil spy?

“Forget it. Let’s not talk about this. Is David arriving on Planet Royal. Is that why you’re so happy?” Gamora changed the subject and asked.

“Yeah! He’s arriving soon. He should be here in two or three days,” Astrid answered.

«Astrid, if he's here, you must tell me at once, okay? Your father wants to see him, and we want to thank him for saving you. If not, we will look rude.»

“I got it, Mother.” “Alright, I'll get going now. Behave.” “Okay!” Gamora turned to leave. Astrid looked pensive as she watched Gamora leave. She was not an idiot. Something must be wrong for her mother to ask this question.

However, Astrid did not know what was going on. ‘Does David have a secret identity? ‘Does he have a grudge against my family? ‘I don't think so. If not, why would he risk his life to save me?

“Whatever. I'll stop thinking about this. “I'll only decide when he gets here. What Gamora said had dampened Astrid's initial passion. However, she was still happy that David was coming.