

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1245

Chapter 1245 On Light Star at the edge of the Milky Way. "Bastards! Are you all idiots? How could the empire eliminate the Callisto family that's so important to us?" King Moe of Sangruil pointed at the black-robed men and cursed. He did not expect the empire to eliminate the Callisto family.

One had to know that the Callisto family played an important role in Sangruil's future plans.

Most of the forces that Sangruil contacted remained neutral. Only two of the forces had completely sided with Sangruil, and the Callisto family was one of them. At the state banquet, the powerhouses of Sangruil and the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan would kill the two men from the Barlowe family that were at partial Eternal Realm to show how strong Sangruil was. Then, those two forces would announce to everyone present to rely on Sangruil.

It would be easier if there was someone in the lead.

Even if some of the forces would feign civility, most of them would follow Sangruil.

At least Sangruil would not be targeted by all of the forces.

As long as they could get half of the forces to submit to Sangruil at the state banquet, they could take their time with the rest.

Soon, Sangruil would truly take over the Milky Way.

This would be the best situation, and they would not alert those terrifying Universe Enforcers.

Their patrol area was too big. The Milky Way was just a level 3 civilization, so the Universe Enforcers would not pay much attention to it unless there was a large-scale war.

However, now the Callisto family was gone.

The effect would not be as good if there was only one force taking the lead. How would Moe not feel angry and agitated?

"I'm sorry, Your Majesty. We didn't expect Fergus to get exposed. After helping him take over his family, we warned him to keep a low profile and hide while waiting for Your Majesty's orders. However, he refused to listen and insisted on making it public. He wanted to seek revenge but unexpectedly, this happened." "Damn that Fergus! He had a bright future since he could perfectly fuse with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan's genes. I didn't expect him to be stupid and unable to lay low at all. How many years has Sangruil waited until we have what we have now? Yet, he couldn't wait for even a little while! That good-for-nothing deserves to die, but what's worse is he disrupted our original plan!" Moe roared.

"Your Majesty, if we don't have the Callisto family, we can still destroy the Barlowe family and take back what belongs to us with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan's help."

"F*ck off! What the hell do you know? Would I ask you to infiltrate those forces if it were that easy? Won't it be easier to just barge in and eliminate the Barlowe family? Without the help of the major forces of the Royal Region, it won't be easy for us to control the Milky Way even if we eliminate the Barlowe family. Furthermore, the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan won't dare to do anything major as well. Everyone will be doomed if we alert those scary fellas."

"Your Majesty, who are those scary fellas? Aside from the four internal halls, are there more powerhouses hiding in the dark in the empire that even the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan is scared of?"

"You're not at a high-enough level, so you don't understand some things. You should focus on your work. No matter what, we can't back down now that we're here. Gather everyone and all our power in three three days. We'll head to Planet Royal to take back what belongs to us."

"Yes, Your Majesty!" The black-robed man answered. The king did not tell them who the scary fellas were, and they did not care to continue asking.

However, their confidence had swayed a little.

Time passed slowly.

Ever since Nimbus went to see David on the first night, he never showed up again.

David thought Nimbus would show up again the second night. However, he never did even after three nights. David initially wanted to have a duel with Nimbus to test his limits and identify his weaknesses.

Now, it seemed that he would not have a chance.

David wanted to leave Planet Royal too, but Astrid kept taking him and Mia to travel around Planet Royal. The two women enjoyed themselves a lot.

Hence, he did not mention this anymore. There were only a few days until the state banquet, and it would make no difference if he left after the banquet.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1246

Chapter 1246 There were more and more people on Planet Royal these days.

These people were representatives from different forces who came to attend the state banquet.

However, even if there were more people, it was not chaotic.

It was because no one dared to start any trouble on Planet Royal.

There were more people on Planet Royal now, so in order to avoid unnecessary troubles, Mia put on her veil again to hide her gorgeous face.

After all, she was pretty popular in the Milky Way and a lot of people knew her.

The trio went to all kinds of scenic spots on Planet Royal using the remaining time they had.

During the trip, David noticed a few teams of people watching them in secret. Nimbus should have sent them to protect Princess Astrid.

He also did not expose them and pretended not to notice.

As time passed, the state banquet also approached.

The entire planet started getting busy. The state banquet this year was the largest one yet. It could be described as unprecedentedly grand. Almost all forces in the Milky Way would send someone to attend.

Back then, the Barlowes, who were the royal family of the Milky Way Empire, would bring important figures from the empire's political world and military to offer sacrifices to Heaven at the empire's altar.

However, this time, since the Sangruil Sinners made a comeback with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan, Nimbus decided to gather all forces of the Milky Way to eliminate Sangruil. This was why the banquet was so grand and why he invited so many forces.

Light Star

Countless flying vessels had finished preparing and were ready to take off. Moe's emotional speech moved all of the Sangruil Sinners.

They had been waiting for so long, and some of them already had so many descendants. Despite this, they were all holding themselves back.

They were desperate to get out of the dark world that had no justice. They wanted to return to their previous glory and enjoy everything good in the Milky Way. "Citizens of Sangruil, do you still want to live on the verge of death and in a world without justice?" Moe asked loudly

“NO” All Sangruil Sinners answered excitedly

“Do you want to enjoy all things good in the Milky Way? Wine, food, women!” “Yes!”

“Then, let’s go! This will be the moment we decide Sangruil’s fate. We have to take back everything we once had and restore Sangruil’s former glory!” “Long live Sangruil!” “Long live the king!”

Countless Sangruil Sinners cried excitedly.

They had been waiting for this moment for far too long. Furthermore, they had also given up so many things for this moment. Some of them were even willing to become half–human, half–beast monsters.

“Let’s go!”

Moe was in the lead.

He brought all Sangruil citizens to Planet Royal. They wanted to take back what used to be theirs in front of all the forces of the Milky Way during the empire’s state banquet. From then on, the Milky Way Empire would be history, and Sangruil would rise and take over the Milky Way Empire.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1247

Chapter 1247 Moe and the four Nine–Headed Serpents at partial Eternal Realm left for Planet Royal with almost all of the Sangruil Sinners.

They swore they would take back everything that belonged to Sangruil.

This would be the last battle between Sangruil and the Milky Way Empire.

The winner would get everything in the Milky Way, while the loser would become history.

No matter who won, they would not give the other party a chance to make a comeback.

There were five people at partial Eternal Realm on Sangruil’s side, while the empire only had two.

If there were no accidents, the empire would surely lose. Moe was not worried about whether he could eliminate the Barlowe family. On the contrary, he was worried about Nimbus exposing the Nine – Headed Serpent Clan at the state banquet.

After all, the Nine-Headed Serpents had committed a lot of crimes throughout the history of the Milky Way. They loved eating humans to help them grow, and just this alone was enough to make them hated by every human in the Milky Way.

Hence, even if they managed to eliminate the Barlowe family, all of Milky Way's forces would work together to go against them if they learned of this.

In the end, a large-scale war in the Milky Way would erupt.

Furthermore, everything would go down the drain if they alerted the Universe Enforcers.

Hence, Moe had to destroy the Barlowe family with great swiftness before Nimbus had a chance to expose the Nine-Headed Serpents at the state banquet

At the same time, he had to show how strong Sangruil was to intimidate all of the forces. That way, he could solve all of his problems at once.

Unfortunately, his important pawn, the Callisto family, was eliminated by the empire.

If not, there would have a better effect if he had two forces take the lead in announcing their allegiance to Sangruil.

Planet Royal

The state banquet was approaching.

A lot of powerful grandmasters from different forces arrived at Planet Royal.

Emperor Nimbus and Empress Gamora were welcoming the grandmasters from different forces.

Among them was the reputable elder of Lunar Palace, Ophelia Libra.

Ophelia was Gamora's teacher Back then. Ophelia adopted Gamora and raised her.

It could be said that Ophelia was Gamora's teacher and adoptive mother

The two had a close relationship.

Without Ophelia, there would have been no Empress Gamora.

Inside a guest room of the Royal Palace, two middle-aged women sat opposite each other.

One of them was Empress Gamora while the other one was her teacher and reputable elder of Lunar Palace, Ophelia.

Ophelia was a rare Infinity Ranker in the Milky Way.

Even though Ophelia was at least a thousand years old, she still looked like Gamora's sister when they sat together.

They both looked like beautiful middle-aged women. This was the benefit of being powerful. Not only could Ophelia extend her lifespan, she could also slow down her aging process. In addition, Ophelia had been taking all kinds of drugs to slow down aging, so she did not look too much older than Gamora. If she could break through to Eternal Realm, she could enjoy being immortal and stay young forever

Eternal Realm was the target of all powerhouses. Unfortunately, this obstacle stopped more than 99.9% of the people. "Gammy, there must be something behind why the empire is hosting such a huge state banquet in advance, right?" Ophelia asked.

"Teacher, to be honest, the Sangruil Sinners are being very aggressive this time, so the empire has to take this seriously. If not, the entire Milky Way will be affected," Gamora sighed and replied. She did not need to lie to her teacher.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1248

Chapter 1248 Gamora trusted Ophelia the most. "I managed to learn about some of this. This time, the Sangruil Sinners are working together with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan and fusing with their genes. Even though their strength will skyrocket, at the same time, they turned themselves into more of a fiend than a man."

"So, you know about it!"

"The Labate family is one of the overlords of the Milky Way, so we obviously know what the Nine-Headed Serpents are thinking. They are bringing catastrophe to every human in the Milky Way by doing this!" "They might be aware that they will die out if they keep struggling on whilst at death's door. Hence, they are working together with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan to gamble in all on this one move. They want to drag the empire down with them before they die out." "Even if the Sangruil Sinners can win, don't they know it's easier to invite the devil in than to send him away? The Nine-Headed Serpents will devour the Milky Way until there's nothing left. They will be the sinners of the Milky Way."

"That's why we can't let Sangruil win and we must defeat them. This is also the reason we invited all the forces over. As long as we unite, we will have a chance to win."

“More importantly, are there any powerful Nine–Headed Serpents coming over? The Sangruil Sinners alone can’t do much. The Nine–Headed Serpents are key to their victory.”

“According to the news from the empire, the Nine–Headed Serpents must have sent someone over. However, we still don’t know the details. This is why Nimbus prioritizes this so much.”

“Gammy, no matter what, Lunar Palace will always support you and the empire,” Ophelia said solemnly.

“Thank you, Teacher!” Gamora stood up and bowed to Ophelia.

“Alright. You are the empress of the Milky Way Empire, why are you bowing at me?”

“Teacher, you gave me my life. Where would I be if it weren’t for you? No matter who I am now, I will always be your disciple and your daughter. Thus, I should bow to you.”

“Oh, you!”

Ophelia smiled bitterly and did not know what to say.

She was hurt by a man when she was young, so she decided to focus on martial arts.

Now, she was still alone a thousand years later.

Gamora was Ophelia’s pride in this life.

When Ophelia found Gamora hundreds of years ago, she was still a baby.

Not only did Ophelia raise Galora into a high priestess of the Lunar Palace, Gamora even became the einpress alter that

A few days later, more powerhouses appeared on Planet Royal. More than 80% of the Milky Way’s powerhouses were gathered here.

The state banquet this time was the biggest one the Milky Way Empire ever had.

At the same time, it was also the most dangerous one.

Back when the Milky Way was split between the empire and Sangruil, the two were still aware of their roots even though they had fought for thousands of years.

The empire had never faced this kind of danger before.

However, this time was different.

Not only was their opponent the Sangruil Sinners, but there was also the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan from a level 5 civilization to be cautious of. That was a powerful race with Eternal Realm powerhouses.

If the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan was not scared of the Universe Enforcers, they would have taken over the Milky Way a long time ago and raised humans as their food.

Even though the Universe Enforcers might not notice a tiny level 3 civilization, the Nine Headed Serpents did not dare to bet on this. If they were found out, they would have to pay a huge price.

Their entire race might just be eliminated.

The Universe Enforcers' reputation was no joke.

They proved themselves through their actions.

A lot of forces and races in the vast universe had previously tried their luck breaking the Universe Convention. In the end, they were wiped out by the Universe Enforcers. That was a terrifying existence that was also incredibly secretive. No one could guarantee when and where they would show up.
