

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1261

Chapter 1261 As Wilfred hid in the crowd, he constantly monitored the fight in the sky. Nimbus was looking for the chance to defeat Moe in one fell swoop. However, when Nimbus was about to attack, Wilfred sensed four partial Eternal Realms approaching Nimbus at lightning speed.

Wilfred was so shocked he did not know how to react.

'Four partial Eternal Realms?

Are the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan not afraid of alerting the Universe Enforcers?

Four partial Eternal Realms completely surpasses the sum of all top combat power in the Milky Way

'It's no exaggeration to say that if these four work together, with enough time, they could destroy the entire Milky Way.

Numbers are nothing to these four. No matter how many people there were, they will just be ants.

This is completely against the Universe Convention. Once the Universe Enforcers found out about this, the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan will face serious consequences.

'Why do they dare to do this?'

Wilfred did not have time to hesitate, so he launched himself into the air quickly.

Nimbus would die if Wilfred did not do anything to stop the four partial Eternal Realms from attacking him at the same time.

If Nimbus died, Wilfred would be the only one left, and it would be impossible for him to turn the situation around.

Even though they might not defeat the five partial Eternal Realms after they joined forces, there would at least stand a small chance.

When one was at their realm, they unlock endless possibilities after they took another step forward. Furthermore, they would also be immortal.

No one wanted to die.

If the two worked together, it would be easy for them to defeat the other five.

However, if the two wanted to kill the five, they had to make sure the five did not end up killing either one of them in return.

Who would want to be killed?

No one.

Hence, it would be easy to win a five versus two fight, but it would be hard to kill them. Everyone would leave room to protect themselves so that they would not die. This would help ensure they stayed alive.

As long as they were cautious, they would have a chance to escape. Nimbus could feel danger approaching him.

However, he did not have time to react right now, and he could not escape at all.

The other party was fast, and they were going to pull a sneak attack. Furthermore, there were not one, but four people.

Nimbus smiled bitterly in his heart.

'I didn't expect the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan to ignore the Universe Convention and dispatch four people at partial Eternal Realm.' He could not resist the sneak attack of the four who were at the same rank as him, even if they were not as good as him.

If he died, Wilfred would have to fight the five alone, and he would not escape either.

The Barlowe family would be doomed.

The empire would also be doomed.

Moe had gone completely mad. He was blinded by his hatred.

He could turn against all humans in the Milky Way for revenge.

Everyone knew the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan's ambitions.

They wanted to gradually devour the Milky Way.

Their end goal was to breed the humans in the Milky Way to become their unlimited food source so that they could grow quicker. However, even if they had to die, they had to make sure these foreign races paid a heavy price.

Boom!

Nimbus' energy skyrocketed to the peak. Then, with a punch, he blocked one of the attacks and both parties backed away. Soon after, the second attacker came forward. He placed his claw that was hiding under his black robe on Nimbus' back.

"Pfft!"

Nimbus vomited some pieces of his organs which were covered in blood. At the same time, his body flew forward due to inertia and rushed toward the guy whose punch he had blocked earlier.

He threw another punch, while the other guy waved his claw at Nimbus.

However, Nimbus' punch did not collide with the other guy's claw. Instead, he shifted his punch slightly and punched right at the other guy's chest.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1262

Chapter 1262 At the same time, the other guy's claw also landed on Nimbus' chest.

"Pfft!"

"Pfft!"

The two vomited blood at the same time.

Soon after, a flustered and exasperated voice yelled.

"B*stard, do you want to die?"

An eye for an eye, a wound for a wound.

The other party did not expect Nimbus to do this. Nimbus knew he could not escape the four's sneak attack. Therefore, he gave up defending himself and decided to hurt as many of them as he could.

He wanted to make the other party pay even if he had to die.

His body flew backward again.

During this process, the third person's attack was fast approaching. A strong tail swept toward Nimbus from the side. At this moment, he could only instinctively lift his arm to defend himself.

Thud!

Crack!

Two voices could be heard.

One of Nimbus' arms was broken.

After he was hit by three blows of the same level, Nimbus felt light-headed and dizzy.

Not only were his organs hurt from the impact, but his left arm was also broken.

Blood poured out from his mouth.

However, the fight was far from over.

The fourth attacker, Severus, was now on top of Nimbus.

Then, he grabbed Nimbus' head. If this attack was successful, Nimbus, the strongest man in the Milky Way, would die right there and then.

Even if he did not, he would lose his combat power.

Luckily, Wilfred arrived just in time.

He risked being attacked by the other two attackers to come to Nimbus' side and block Severus fatal attack

At the same time, he brought Nimbus out of their attack range.

Now, they were hovering in the air some distance away.

The two managed to stay alive, but they were severely injured. Only 30% of their combat power was left.

On the contrary, only one of the four Nine-Headed Serpents at partial Eternal Realm was hurt.

The rest of them were unscathed.

The Nine-Headed Serpents had achieved their goal in this sneak attack. Wilfred quickly took out two pills. He fed one to Nimbus after taking one himself. The pills were meant to stabilize their conditions.

Nimbus and Wilfred had escaped for now, but they were still at an impasse. Blood kept seeping out from their bodies.

Moe returned at this time.

The four Nine-Headed Serpents stood behind him silently, their bodies hiding under their robes.

As he looked at Nimbus and Wilfred, Moe laughed, "Haha! Nimbus, I didn't expect you, the emperor of the Milky Way Empire, to be in this state today. How is it? It's great being caught off guard, right? Aren't you the strongest man in the Milky Way and invincible? Why are you hurt? Haha! Listen here, Nimbus, your family's death anniversary will be this day next year!"

Moe wanted to distract Nimbus, and that was why he fought him alone. That way, Severus and the others could launch a sneak attack that would kill Nimbus in one fell swoop.

Even if Nimbus was still alive, he was badly injured. There was no chance for him to escape now. His plan this time was very successful. The Barlowe family and the Milky Way Empire will be history, and Sangruil will regain glory once more.

Nimbus and Wilfred did not answer Moe.

They just took healing pills and were trying their best to recover.

They wanted to regain more combat power to respond to the coming battle.

The sneak attack in the air was over in a blink of an eye.

To everyone else, it only took two seconds for Emperor Nimbus to get badly injured.

Now, there was also an old man supporting the emperor.

It seemed that he was also badly injured.

Moreover, there were now four black-robed men behind Moe that had come out of nowhere.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1263

Chapter 1263 David had just secretly crippled Klaus, and he did not pay attention to the battle in the sky. Hence, David did not immediately notice when Severus and the other Nine-Headed Serpents caught Nimbus off guard.

The battle between partial Eternal Realms was very fast, especially a sneak attack in a four versus one battle.

The result was evident in just a few seconds.

The people not strong enough would not be able to see the fight. If Moe did not pull a sneak attack, it would be hard for him and his gang to defeat Nimbus and Wilfred

When the fourth Nine-headed Serpent attacker, Severus, was about to touch Nimbus' head, David noticed it and was about to take action.

After all, Nimbus was the emperor of the Milky Way Empire and also Astrid's father.

David could not watch him getting killed by these foreign beings. However, Wilfred made it there just in time.

Nimbus was not in grave danger anymore, so David did not act.

The four Nine-Headed Serpents were at partial Eternal Realm. In addition to King Moe of Sangruil, there would be five of them.

An excited glint appeared in David's eyes.

Right now, he was eager to test his strength.

He wondered if he could defeat all five of them with his three top combat skills and Evil Splitting Sword that could slash all things evil.

David shocked himself a little when he thought of this.

They were all at partial Eternal Realm.

Logically, he should be scared and avoid fighting opponents that were on the same level as him.

However, right now, David was not scared at all. He only felt excited. He only had one word in his heart, 'Fight!'

No matter what the result was, David wanted to fight these foreign beings.

Furthermore, he did not think he would suffer a crushing defeat.

He was not confident because he was ignorant. On the contrary, David figured he had enough strength.

Mia looked at David's excited gaze from one side. 'His Majesty is hurt, but David looks so excited.

'Isn't this the expression a Sangruil Sinner should have?

'What should I do?

'David is a Sangruil Sinner spy. 'What should I do?'

Mia thought in a panic.

She had been with David all this time.

Mia had watched David's performance since they went to Planet Buck and then those two living indigenous planets. Not only was he powerful, but he was also kind. How could he be a Sangruil Sinner?

However, Mia was confused by his expression right now.

She felt that she did not understand David at all.

Moe's words resonated in everyone's ears, causing everyone at Gold Peak to feel scared.

They could not believe that their mighty emperor was severely injured. However, looking at the emperor's current state and the blood flowing continuously from his mouth to the floor, they had no choice but to believe what they were seeing.

"H—His Majesty is seriously injured? Impossible! Impossible! I don't believe this!" Someone muttered.

He was not the only one to react this way. The countless people at Gold Peak were in a daze because Nimbus was badly injured. Even if Moe said he had hurt Nimbus before, no one believed him since they did not see it with their own eyes.

Now, Nimbus was bleeding from his mouth and one of his arms was dangling limply. It was hard to say if he could continue fighting.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1264

Chapter 1264 An injury like that was pretty serious. It was more shocking to see it in person than to just hear about it.

One had to know the emperor was invincible in the eyes of everyone in the Milky Way. He was an omnipotent existence to them.

Now, the emperor's invincible image was shattered and their conviction was also collapsing.

A lot of people started to burst into tears.

They grew up hearing legends surrounding the emperor. They felt so proud to be able to see the emperor in person, and they viewed the emperor as their final goal.

Now, they finally got the chance to see the emperor, but he was in this state.

How could they accept this?

Wails erupted on Gold Peak of Planet Royal.

David looked at everyone around him inexplicably. 'What's going on? Why are they crying so sadly? 'If I didn't know what happened, I would have thought their family members had just died. "Are they scared stupid?

"Aren't these the geniuses from all forces in the Milky Way?

'How are they so timid?'

David did not understand how hopeless it would feel when one had their convictions shattered so easily.

The ones who never experienced this would never know how it felt.

Empress Gamora, Princess Astrid, the eighteen princes, and the ministers from the political and military world saw Emperor Nimbus' situation at this moment.

To be honest, it was harder for them to accept this result compared to the others.

Moreover, they understood what this result would mean.

The Barlowe family and empire were doomed!

"Father!" Astrid cried and flew to where Emperor Nimbus was.

"Astrid, don't go!" Gamora stopped Astrid from behind.

Even if she wanted to go and look at her husband's condition, she knew it was not the time.

Their enemies were still eying them covetously. If they went over now, they would not do anything other than create more trouble. However, how could Astrid listen to Gamora at this moment? She only knew that her father and Grandpa Wilfred were hurt, so she had to go and check on them. The mother and daughter went into the air one after another. As Astrid looked at her invincible father severely injured, she could not stop the tears from flowing out her eyes. When Gamora saw her husband, she covered her mouth with one hand and tried not to cry out loud.

This was definitely the most battered and hurt Nimbus had been ever since they had met

Her brain was in a mess right now. Gamora did not know what to do to help her husband.

Nimbus forced a smile.

He did not scold the mother and daughter for coming to him.

He knew he could not escape this today. Not only him, all of his family members and the empire's ministers would not escape this fate either.

It would be a comfort to him if he could stay with his family before he died.

Since things had escalated to this stage, the best choice for the daughter of the Barlowe family would be death.

Once the Sangruil Sinners caught Astrid, she would suffer a fate worse than death. "Boohoo... Father! Grandpa Wilfred! H-How do you feel?" Astrid cried as she asked. "Astrid, don't worry. I'm fine. I am invincible. Cough cough..." Before Nimbus could finish, he started coughing violently. Blood spilled from his mouth again. "Nimbus, stop talking. Try to keep your injuries under control," Wilfred said from one side. "Father, listen to Grandpa Wilfred. Stop talking." Gamora did not say anything. She covered her mouth with her hand while shaking her head.

She did not believe that her husband would be so injured that he would vomit blood when he spoke.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1265

Chapter 1265 "Haha! What a harmonious scene. How touching. Nimbus, appreciate this. This will be your family's last reunion. Don't accuse me of not giving you a chance to say goodbye," Moe said as he guffawed.

He had been waiting for this day for too long.

Since the empire defeated Sangruil, the Labate family had constantly thought of how they could seek revenge.

No matter what price they had to pay, they had to destroy the Barlowe family.

Now, the day had come. Even if it had come too late, it was fine as long as it was here. "Long live Sangruil! "Long live the king!" Countless Sangruil Sinners started yelling excitedly. They did not need to struggle whilst at death's door anymore.

They could finally show up in the Royal Region brazenly.

From this day on, the Milky Way would belong to Sangruil. They would not be targets of scorn anymore, instead, they would be respected by everyone. "You bastards! You despicable bastards! Why are you doing this to my father?" Astrid pointed at Moe and asked.

"Princess Astrid, recognize your current status. You won't be a princess but Sangruil's slave soon!"

After Moe said that, he smirked before continuing loudly, "Sangruilians, listen up! After we overturn the Milky Way Empire, I will reward everyone according to their contributions.

Those of you with the greatest contributions will get to have fun with Milky Way Empire for three days. You will get to enjoy being the princess' husband for three days. You must know that Princess Astrid is one of the four fairies in the Milky Way. She has the body and the looks, so you will definitely feel like you're in heaven if you get in bed with her."

"Long live Sangruil! "Long live the king!" The Sangruilians started to get excited again.

Anyone who could have fun with Princess Astrid of the Milky Way Empire would be able to brag about it forever.

Astrid's face turned red when she heard that Moe wanted to give her to the Sangruil Sinner who made the greatest contribution.

"I'd rather die than let you scumbags get your way!" Astrid retorted loudly.

"Die? You're so pretty. It'll be such a pity if you die. Plus, if I get my hands on you, death will only be a fantasy. When that happens, I will award you to the top ten Sangruil contributors, and I'll let each of them have you for three days. I want to make Princess Astrid of the Milky Way Empire into a wh*re that everyone can have their way with. Then, I want you to have a Sangruilian child so that the Barlowe ancestors will never be able to rest in peace!"

Moe was becoming a little insane from excitement,

One could tell from the way his face contorted when he spoke.

"You..."

Astrid was so mad she could not say anything. She could only point a shaky finger at Moe.

David looked at the insane Moe in the sky.

It would be a disaster for the human race if he allowed this person to take over the Milky Way.

Moreover, the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan must have sent those four black-robed men.

David could feel an uncomfortable energy coming from them.

Perhaps it was because they were not of the same race.

This was the first time David met intelligent life from another race.

There were a lot of races on Earth, but only humans had intelligence.

David knew the foreign race would not have the same ambition as humans.

It would be easy for Moe to get the foreign race to help him, but it might be hard for him to ask the foreign race to leave.

Moe is indeed a lunatic.

‘He is willing to do anything for revenge.’

David thought as he shook his head.

“Moe, sooner or later, Sangruil will get retribution for doing this. Soon, everyone in the Milky Way will be eaten but the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan and Sangruil will become the sinners of all humans in the Milky Way...”

Before Wilfred could finish, Moe interrupted him. “Shut up! You bastard, since you’re in such a hurry to die. I’ll send you to hell now. When you get there, say hi to your ancestors for me. Tell them that I, King Moe of Sangruil, was the one who wiped out your family and the Milky Way Empire.” Moe wanted to continue watching the Barlowe family fall into despair to vent the anger in his heart.

However, since Wilfred kept mentioning the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan, Moe would not be so kind to him anymore.

He could not allow the public to know about the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan.

Therefore, the Barlowe family had to die immediately.

Gamora sensed something was off, so she pulled Astrid into her arms and then nuzzled against Nimbus.

Even if they had to die, they had to die together as a family.
