Chapter 1275

Even if David was using his mind power to control the Evil-Splitting Sword and sliced off one of the black-robed men's fingers, making him wail in pain, he still could not relax.

Right now, both sides were getting closer.

The remaining black-robed men and Moe were attacking David at the same time.

Without the threat of the sword, the three relied on the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan's strong defense to start a close proximity fight with David.

They wanted to tear David into pieces to vent their anger.

David wanted to take back his sword, but it was too late.

Hence, he could only brace himself for the fight.

Thankfully, he had upgraded his body to Infinity level 10, so his body was not inferior to the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan.

Furthermore, as long as he could hit his enemy, he could use Air Crushing Slap to penetrate their defense and hurt their organs.

David was not scared of a close combat fight.

Soon, both sides collided.

Thud thud thud!

Countless collision sounds could be heard.

As the saying went, there was strength in numbers.

David was fighting three people by himself.

He had to fight six hands with two, so he was at a disadvantage.

However, his body was no joke after it was strengthened by the system.

No matter how disadvantaged he was, he was not badly hurt.

In the end, he endured the two's attack and used Air Crushing Slap on the chest of one of the black-robed men.

Thud thud thud!

David endured the debilitating pain and vomited some blood. Then, using the force from the two's attack, he quickly backed away and exited the battle.

At the same time, he took back the Evil-Splitting Sword while he was retreating, and he gave it a wave.

Severus and Moe were about to chase him, but the light from David's sword stopped them. The black-robed man next to them, who was attacked by the Air Crushing Slap, vomited blood that was mixed with some of his organs. His body was shaking.

Severus sensed something was wrong, so he quickly went over to support the man.

"What happened? How did you get so seriously injured?" Severus asked in confusion.

The Nine-Headed Serpent Clan was very strong, so it was impossible for him to turn out like this after a gentle slap.

"David's slap can bypass our defense and injure our organs. You have to be careful," answered the black-robed man weakly.

David had damaged his organs. If the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan could not strengthen their organs, his organs would have been shattered.

Even if someone was at partial Eternal Realm, they would die if their heart, brain, or other vital organs suffered a mortal wound.

Only someone at true Eternal Realm would have a body of a higher level. They would be able to provide unlimited vitality to all their organs. That way, the owner of the body could ignore these mortal wounds.

This was the difference between partial Eternal Realm and Eternal Realm.

"You bastard!" Severus cursed.

At the same time, the black robed man who had his finger chopped off was trying his hardest to endure the intense pain

For a Nine-Headed Serpent, broken fingers were not serious.

They could regenerate the fingers immediately after exhausting some energy. Even so, the new fingers would not be as nimble as their original ones.

However, there would not be much difference after they stretched their fingers.

The Evil–

Splitting Sword was the mortal enemy of all things evil, so it was able to restrain the Nine–Headed Serpent Clan.

Chapter 1276

There seemed to be an energy where the black–robed man's fingers were chopped off that was stopping the finger from regenerating.

The two sides stopped their battle.

David held the Evil–Splitting Sword as he hovered in the void.

Now, he was not as carefree as before.

Blood flowed from the corners of his lips, and his clothes were tattered.

Severus and the others clawed at his shirts with their sharp claws, causing the skin below to show.

There were also countless bloody marks on David's skin. Some of them were skin–deep, making David look terrifying.

However, these were only flesh wounds for David. They did not hurt his vital organs at all.

Aside from being painful, they did not affect his combat ability at all.

He only got hurt toward the end when he forcefully endured the attack from Severus and Moe because he wanted to use the Air Crushing Slap.

David looked at the injuries on his body and lamented inside his heart.

It was too willful to fight five people on his own.

He even had to catch his opponents off guard and cheat with his mind power. This was the result he got after crippling one person and hurting another.

He would have been severely injured or have died after a few rounds if he had to face five partial Eternal Realms at the same time without these tricks.

From the battle just now, David could probably guess his full strength.

He should be fine fighting two people on the same level as him, and it would be a little hard to fight three to four. However, he would be a masochist if he wanted to fight five people and above.

They were all at partial Eternal Realm, so their strength would not be too far apart from each other.

The outcome of this battle would depend on the usage of weapons and combat skills.

David had a powerful Evil-Splitting Sword that could slash all evil things in the universe. In addition, he had three top combat skills and a strong body, which was why he could do this.

He was already the number one person at partial Eternal Realm.

“Severus, how is it?” Moe came over.

Severus did not attack, allowing Moe to attack David by himself. However, Moe did not dare to do so.

After a few rounds from just now, he knew how powerful David was.

Especially now that the long red sword was back in his hands again. He was even more intimidating than before.

“This doesn’t look good. That David kid seems strange, and he has so many skills that will catch us off guard.”

Severus was also furious.

“What should we do then? This is such a good opportunity. If we can’t kill Nimbus and his family to take over the Milky Way, I’m afraid it’ll be even more difficult in the future.” Moe was dissatisfied.

“Severus, his sword is problematic. You must watch out and not let it hurt you,” the black-robed man, who just had his fingers chopped off, came over and warned while enduring the intense pain.

“I felt it too, but I don’t know what’s the problem,” Severus said.

“That sword seems to have a strong restraining effect against us. If my fingers were chopped off by a normal weapon, I could regenerate them after exhausting some energy. However, after my fingers were cut off by that long red sword, it seems that our clan’s regeneration skill is restricted. No matter how hard I try, I can’t regenerate my missing fingers.”

As the black-robed man said that, he showed Severus and the others the place where David had chopped off his fingers.

The wound did look different from usual. It looked like it was burnt, and there was even white smoke coming out from it.

Then, the black-robed man said, “Plus, I feel an unusually excruciating pain after I was hurt by the long red sword. I think Draco lost his mind from the pain and he wanted to return to his original form. After all, he’s even more seriously injured than me. I can’t even endure this, let alone what he suffered.”

“Can you still fight?” Severus asked.

“Yes, but I think I can only use 50 to 60% of my combat power.”

“What about you?” Severus looked at the other black-robed man whom David hurt with the Air Crushing Slap.

“I can only use 30%. Plus, I can’t go on for too long. If not, my wound will worsen unless I can return to my original form.”

Chapter 1277

The battle in the sky stopped temporarily.

Everyone saw David’s battered state.

“Is Master David hurt?”

“Good luck, Master David!”

“Master David, I have medicine for your wounds!”

“Me too!”

Everyone on Gold Peak said.

Mia felt horrible looking at the wounds on David's body.

She had been with David for so long and this was the first time she was seeing David hurt.

However, the five enemies were on the same level as the emperor, so no one could beat them easily unless they were at Eternal Realm.

Astrid saw this as well, and her beautiful eyes welled with tears.

David got hurt by the Sangruil Sinners because he wanted to save her and her family.

Nimbus and Wilfred had better eyesight than the rest.

Even though David looked horrifying on the surface, he was not too badly injured, and he could still fight.

On the Sangruil Sinner's side, aside from Moe and Severus, one had lost his combat power and was sent back to the warship, and the other two's energy was plummeting quickly as well.

It was unimaginable for someone normal to fight five partial Eternal Realms and achieve this result.

'Where did that kid come from?'

"Moe, now that things have escalated to this stage, it has gone beyond our initial plan, so we only have two choices," Severus said in a low voice.

"What is it?" Moe whispered

"Firstly, it'll be hard for us to kill David with our current strength. Plus, Nimbus is also recovering, so we can only give up temporarily. We can decide what we want to do after I pass the message back to the clan and wait for the clan elders' decision.

"Or, we can go back to our original forms and kill David together. However, if we do this, we can't let anyone here escape. We must kill all of them to prevent them from exposing the Nine Headed Serpent Clan's secret"

After Severus said that, he stopped talking and waited for Moe's decision

It would be hard for them to win in this situation if they did not revert to their original forms. David was too strong.

In addition to that, Nimbus and Wilfred were recovering, and there were also about ten peak

Infinity Rankers nearby.

Hence, they would only have a chance if they returned to their original forms.

Moe was extremely conflicted.

There was no way he would give up now.

Also, they had inadvertently alerted their enemies, so even if the Nine-Headed Serpents continue to send more aid, Nimbus would already be prepared.

They would never get a chance to kill the Barlowe family in one go anymore.

'What should I do?

'Should I risk killing everyone here and leaving no survivors?

'However, even if Severus and the others go back to their original forms, can we win?'

Moe was suspicious.

If they went back to their original forms and failed again, Sangruil would be completely doomed.

They would be the mortal enemies of everyone in the Milky Way.

Everything they had prepared for in the last centuries would be in vain.

This was a tough decision.

If there were any accidents, Severus and the others could go back to Beast Galaxy and pretend nothing had happened.

On the contrary, Sangruil would be consigned to eternal damnation.

David saw Moe and the others muttering from a distance. He wondered if they were discussing anything evil.

Hence, he interrupted, "Hey! What are you mumbling about? Hurry up if you want to fight. If not, get lost. I won't go easy on you later."

David waved his sword and his energy rose to its peak once again.

After finding out his limit, David did not want to continue fighting.

If not, he would definitely get hurt badly.

He glanced at his system panel secretly. He only needed a few thousand points to get ten thousand lavish points.

Soon, he would be able to break through to Eternal Realm. Why should he waste time fighting these guys to the death right now?

Wouldn't it be even better to crush them directly when he was at Eternal Realm?

However, he would not let the opponent know that he did not want to fight. He still had to look imposing.

As he looked at how confident David was, Moe was scared.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1278

Chapter 1278

He did not dare to gamble with everything Sangruil got

He would decide after the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan's aid arrived.

"David, you will soon pay for everything you did today. I hope you won't regret it when the time comes. Nimbus, even if you manage to escape today, don't be too happy. We will be back."

After Moe said that, he turned to leave.

Severus and the others looked at David deeply before turning to leave.

After Moe and the others went far away, David's energy finally weakened.

He clutched his chest with his left hand and coughed violently.

"Cough cough cough!"

'Damn it, those guys were so savage!

'If the system didn't upgrade my body to such a strong state, I might have died today.'

Loud cheers erupted from Gold Peak on Planet Royal

"Master David, you're the man!"

"Master David, you're so amazing!"

"From now on, Master David will be my idol!"

Emperor Nimbus and Empress Gamora let out sighs of relief.

They were the only ones who knew how dangerous it was just now.

If David did not appear, not only would their family be wiped out, even the people in the Milky Way would fall into an abyss of suffering.

The Nine-Headed Serpent Clan would not help Moe without reason.

David not only saved the Barlowe family, but he also saved everyone in the Milky Way.

Mia and Astrid quickly flew over to David. Then, they supported him from either side.

“Are you okay, David?”

“How do you feel?”

The two women asked worriedly at the same time.

“I’m fine. I’m fine. It’s just some minor injuries. I can still walk.”

As David said that, he wanted to pull his hands back.

However, Mia and Astrid were holding him very tightly, so he did not have a chance to do so.

They were very worried about David’s condition.

Now that they were close, they could see the terrifying blood marks on David’s skin. A lot of them were so deep they could see the muscles inside.

Astrid was so worried she started to cry.

“Boohoo... David, I’m sorry. You’re injured because you wanted to save us,” Astrid sobbed.

“David, are you in pain?”

Even though Mia was not crying, her eyes were turning red.

“I’m fine. Don’t be like that, you guys. These are just flesh wounds,” David explained.

However, the two refused to listen.

At this moment, Emperor Nimbus and Empress Gamora came over.

“Thank you, David!” Nimbus said.

As the emperor of the Milky Way, it had been many years since he thanked someone.

This time, he had to thank David.

If it were not for him, everything would be over.

Gamora looked at David with a complicated expression on her face.

Who would have thought that a kid she did not have high hopes for would save her entire family?

If Astrid did not invite David to the state banquet, Gamora could not imagine how severe the consequences would have been.

“You’re welcome, Mr. Barlowe. Those foreign races wanted to cause chaos to the Milky Way, and as a human in the Milky Way, I have a duty to kick them out.”

After they exchanged pleasantries, they went back to the Royal Palace together.

They needed to treat the wounds on their bodies quickly.

On the edge of the faraway Milky Way, a black-horned ship had approached the solar system.

In a few more days, they would arrive at their destination Earth.

Right now, David had no idea about Earth’s impending crisis.
