

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1313

Chapter 1313

At this moment, a black dot appeared in front of David and the other earthlings.

In only a few seconds, the black dot became an enormous tortoise that hovered above them.

'Is that a tortoise?'

Mason and the powerhouses were shocked.

This was because the tortoise was too big. It was so big it was simply unfathomable.

'How can such an enormous creature exist?'

Furthermore, this tortoise was gave off horrifying pressure.

David looked at the enormous tortoise in the sky.

This was the thing he detected just now.

However, this did not seem right.

This guy was not the main character.

Things might get troublesome.

As the enormous tortoise descended, it started to decrease in size. Then, it returned to its normal size.

The palace on the tortoise's back also returned into Celeste's palm.

The entire process was so quick that Mason and the others felt as if everything had happened in just a blink of an eye.

The enormous tortoise disappeared, and a man and six women appeared.

The man was Amadi, while the middle-aged woman among the five women was Celeste.

The other four women behind Amadi were his maids.

Normally, Universe Enforcers would not bring maids. After all, they would encounter all kinds of danger traveling across the universe.

Hence, it would be inconvenient to bring anyone along.

However, this was the first time Amadi was coming out as a Universe Enforcer and he was not used to his identity, so he brought his maids along.

Besides, he was coming out with his mother's best friend Ms. Celeste.

Due to this, he would not be in any sort of danger.

After Celeste showed herself, she did not look at David, the Eternal Realm individual. Instead, she looked straight at Selena.

"Who are you people? What are you doing here?" David came forward and asked.

"Kid, are you the one in this low-civilization planet who just broke into Eternal Realm?" Amadi asked.

"Yes, that's me. May I know who you are and why you are here?"

"We're Universe Enforcers responsible for this area. Of course, I'm here to see what the person who upgraded a low-level civilization to a high-level civilization has to offer, but from the looks of it now, you're not bad. You're younger than I imagined."

'Universe Enforcers?'

Mason and the other earthlings were lost.

With their statuses, they could never understand how terrifying a Universe Enforcer was.

However, David narrowed his eyes.

He did not expect these people to be Universe Enforcers.

However, at the same time, he let out a huge sigh of relief in his heart.

Universe Enforcers were the enforcers of the Universe Convention.

They would patrol the area of the universe they were in charge of to look for any galaxy or forces who were breaking the Universe Convention. Then, they would punish the law breakers accordingly.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1314

Chapter 1314

At the same time, they were wardens who maintained peace in the universe.

These people should not be enemies, and they would not have any ideas about Earth.

"I see, you're Universe Enforcers. Nice to meet you. My name is David Lidell and I'm the Master of the Milky Way," David said courteously.

"David, is this the planet you were born on?" Amadi asked.

"Yes," David replied.

"I'm curious. How could this small place cultivate someone like you? Judging from your face, you're not too old, right?"

"You shouldn't ask a powerful person where they come from. Who says Earth can't produce powerhouses?"

"Haha! Not bad! David, based on that statement, I, Amadi Star, approve of you," Amadi laughed loudly and said.

"You speak too highly of me, Amadi. I'm just telling the truth. Even though we can't decide where we're born, we can decide how strong we want to be."

"David, a lot of people where I'm from will laugh at you if they heard that, but I'm not the same. I think you make a fair point. You're my friend now, and I believe we'll continue to see each other in the future. I'm afraid this small low-level civilization will not be enough for you."

"Amadi, I'm afraid I have to disappoint you. I never plan to leave the Milky Way. This is my home, and from now on, my mission is to protect this place so that no foreign races will dare to invade us."

"David, if you don't leave, you'll never know how big the world is out there."

After Amadi said that, he waved his hand and a 3D map of the universe appeared before him.

Then, he pointed at a small dot on the edge and said, "David, do you see this? This dot is the galaxy where the Milky Way is. There are 32 galaxies in total and the Milky Way is just one of the eighteen low-civilization galaxies."

David stared at the map in front of Amadi and at the small dot that represented the galaxy where the Milky Way was located.

He would be lying if he said he was not amazed.

The Milky Way was not even a dot on this map.

Needless to say, Mason and the others were also amazed. They had seen too many amazing things today and were already a little numb.

“Amadi, does this map represent the entire universe?” David asked.

Unexpectedly, Amadi burst into laughter when he heard what David said.

“Hahaha! David, you’re hilarious. I’m going to die from laughter. Hahaha!”

David was confused.

He only asked a question. Was it that funny?

Ever since he was young, his teachers told him he should ask if he did not understand anything. He should not be embarrassed at all.

When Amadi was done laughing, he said, “David, do you know what the universe represents?”

“No,” David answered honestly.

“The universe represents infinity. What is infinity? It means there’s no limit. This map is just a corner of the universe. This is only the area that I and Ms. Celeste are in charge of. The real universe is so big that it’s beyond your imagination.”

Amadi’s words were like a bomb, and they made David’s brain buzz.

The Milky Way and the other 31 galaxies combined only made up an unremarkable dot on this map.

Furthermore, this map was just a small part of the universe and was only the area these two Universe Enforcers were responsible for.

Wasn’t this a little too much?

David felt as if his brain did not have the capacity to comprehend this.

He could not imagine how big the universe was.

“What do you think? Are you amazed?” Amadi put the map away and asked David while looking at him. He loved it when other people were amazed.

“I am!” David came back to his senses and said.

Amadi continued, “Low-level civilization galaxies are the galaxies level 4 and below. The ones that are at levels 4 to 6 are mid-level civilization galaxies. Then, the high-level civilization galaxies were the ones at levels 7 to 9. The ones above those are the legendary God Tier Civilizations. The gap between each level of the same civilization is huge, but it’s even bigger when it’s between two different civilizations. It is so big that it’s unimaginable. Before you became Eternal, the Milky Way was just a small level 3 civilization. Now, it can be considered a level 4 civilization.”

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1315

Chapter 1315

David and Amadi got along very well with each other.

Even though Amadi was amused by David’s ignorance, he still explained everything to David patiently.

This also clearly explained the problem.

Amadi was not only an aloof and remote Universe Enforcer, but his starting point was so high that it would make countless people feel hopeless.

This was a man who was born to stand on the top of the pyramid.

Since he grew up in such an environment, it also shaped his arrogant personality.

However, surprisingly, Amadi valued David a lot, even though he was born in a low-level civilization.

At the same time, the four beautiful maids behind him were all curious.

One of them came from the top of the pyramid in a high-level civilization while another one was born in a low-level civilization, so the two of them were beyond miles apart.

Those two were by no means equals at all.

However, the two were like old friends.

One had to know that Amadi had never bothered to even spare a glance at those chosen ones in high-level civilizations. It was rare for him to be nice to those people, nor did he have to do so.

However, Amadi was so easygoing with David. Even if he sounded arrogant, this was his inherent personality and he was actually controlling himself a lot..

If not, Amadi would not bother talking to someone from a low-level civilization like David.

David and Amadi's conversation gradually eased the tension Mason and the other powerhouses were feeling.

From the looks of it, those Universe Enforcers were not enemies.

They were relieved that Earth was not in danger.

Celeste never said a word since coming here. Her eyes were on Selena the entire time as if she was looking at a precious treasure.

Selena naturally noticed someone looking at her.

However, as David said, these people were terrifyingly powerful, so she did not want to cause trouble for him.

Plus, it was a woman who was looking at her, not those gross men.

Hence, Selena pretended like she did not notice.

After Amadi and David talked to each other, Amadi noticed something strange with Celeste so he asked curiously, "Ms. Celeste, what's wrong?"

Celeste grinned and replied, "Nothing. I just noticed something interesting."

'Something interesting?'

'What is it?'

Celeste did not say anything, so Amadi did not continue to prod.

He continued to look at David.

The reason he liked David so much was that Amadi used a popular skill from Star Mansion on David: the Star Observation Skill.

The result shocked Amadi.

David was like a mystery. He had covered himself so tightly that not even the Star Observation Skill could see through him.

Amadi was amazed by this.

David just entered Eternal Realm and he was still at beginner Ruler Rank. So why would the Star Observation Skill not work on him?

A rumor had been passed down inside the Star Mansion since the dawn of time.

Individuals who were immune to the Star Observation Skill despite not being powerful were all blessed by the universe.

Once they met someone like that, they had to try their best to rope them in. Even if they could not, they should not be their rivals.

Amadi had been living for so long but was only aware of a handful of people who were immune to the Star Observation Skill.

Those people were all peerless demons who were not that much inferior to him.

David was the first one from a low-level civilization who was immune to the Star Observation Skill.

That was why Amadi valued him so much that he did not even mind when David called him by name.

If not, with Amadi's status, how would he allow someone from a low-level civilization like David to call him by name?

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1316

Chapter 1316

How would Amadi allow David, a punk from a low-level civilization, call him by his name?

Wasn't this insulting?

Amadi wanted to get David out of the Milky Way and then find a way to get him to join Star Mansion.

If this was the case Amadi would be recruiting a potential candidate for Star Mansion. David might even be of use in the future.

"David, do you really not plan to leave this small galaxy to see the outside world?"

“Amadi, I don’t have such plans for now. Even though the Milky Way is a low-level civilization, this is my home. My family, friends, and the things I love are all here, so I won’t leave this place for the time being.” David left some leeway for himself, and he did not say he would never the Milky Way.

After getting into Eternal Realm and having a realization, David knew he was not the same as normal people.

The clearest difference was that normal people had a limited lifespan while he did not.

Even a partial Eternal Realm like Emperor Nimbus had a limited lifespan if he did not progress. Once his time was up, he would die too.

It was just like Mason back then. The organs in his body would start to deteriorate, and no matter what he did, it would only delay his death.

David knew he had an unlimited lifespan, but Celia and the others did not.

Moreover, it would be so hard to get to Eternal Realm.

Even a chosen one like Nimbus who only appeared once in a lifetime was stuck at the last step, unable to progress.

If it were not for the system, David would not have this chance, nor would he be able to help Celia and the others achieve this.

Hence, David felt that Celia and the others could never reach Eternal Realm.

He had to stay with these people until they all died.

Even if David did not want to accept this, he had no choice.

He got to where he was using the system, so how could he help Celia and the others get to Eternal Realm so they would be immortal just like him?

It was possible David would go out to explore when all of his family on Earth died.

As for how long this would take, David had no idea.

for you

“David, you must know that you’re the number one in the Milky Way now. If you don’t leave, it will be hard to improve. Don’t you want to see the wider sky out there? Don’t you want to know people who are stronger than you and contend for supremacy with the rogues of different backgrounds?”

Amadi was still trying his best to convince David in hopes that he would leave.

Not a lot of people were immune to the Star Observation Skill, while the immune ones were never simple people.

David was the same.

Especially since he was from a low-level civilization but could do this.

Amadi even felt that David was even more mysterious than the guys who were immune to his Star Observation Skill back then.

David's background was evident, and David came to where he was right now relying solely on himself.

Perhaps David had some strange encounter, but this could also indicate how blessed David was.

To a super force like the Star Mansion, talent was not everything. Luck and talent were equally important. There was a saying that went, 'A dead genius is not a genius.'

If they were not lucky enough, one might die halfway through their journey.

What Amadi said shocked the four beautiful maids behind him.

They could understand why Amadi was asking David to go out there to see the world, but he was also asking David to contend for supremacy with the exceptional rogues.

'Isn't this a little too much?

'Someone from a low-level civilization contending for supremacy with those exceptional rogues from high-level civilizations?

'Is that possible?'

They did not think so.

Some people were destined for great things the moment they were born, just like Master Amadi.