Chapter 1345

"D—David, it's good that you're here. Why don't you have dinner before you leave?" Karen said quickly.

"Yeah! David, you finally had the chance to come back. Stay for dinner," Quin also chimed in.

On the other hand, the father and daughter did not say anything, but they had expectant looks on their faces. It was clear that they also wanted David to stay.

"No. I've taken your leftovers for so many years and I've had enough," David said with a grin.

His words immediately made the air around the plummet below freezing point.

Bobby and his family did not say anything because they did not know what to say.

Back then, David had no right to eat at the dining table with them when he was staying there. He could only eat their leftovers.

Sometimes, they would rather feed the extra meat to the dog than give it to David.

"David, that was in the past. Why are you mentioning it again?" Bobby smiled awkwardly.

"It may be the past for you, but I will always remember those dark times."

David shook his head and continued, "It's fine that you didn't let me eat at the dining table, but you didn't even want to leave me your leftovers and would rather feed them to the animals. Bobby, you're my uncle. My father was your brother. Blood is thicker than water. I don't know how you could do that. Even if we're not close, you received my parent's one million dollar compensation, but you only ever gave me leftovers and spoiled food."

"David, stop it." Bobby's voice was a little hoarse.

Perhaps he felt remorseful and sorry after he heard what David said.

After all, David was his nephew.

Back then, he was influenced by Karen, and that was why he kept the one million and harbored evil intentions.

David ignored Bobby and turned his gaze to Karen.

“Karen, I know what you’re planning. You saw Aunt Diana and Aunt Sally living good lives because of me, so you also want a share of that. I should advise you to stop being delusional. They were nice to me, so they deserved that. What about you? Look into your conscience and think about how you treated me back then. Don’t even think about getting a penny from me.”

David’s words were like a huge blow to the family, and it was making them dizzy.

They thought that as time passed, David would slowly forget everything in the past and forgive them because blood was thicker than water.

After that, he would be able to get the same treatment as Diana.

Unfortunately, David remembered all his gratitude and grudges.

He would repay the ones who were good to him, and he would also retaliate against the ones who were bad to him.

If it were not because blood was thicker than water, he would have made Bobby and his family pay.

“David, you’re a big shot now, so why are you still splitting hairs with small characters like us? Can’t you be more forgiving and forgive us? Plus, we’re your family related by blood. You have so much money that you can’t finish anyway. So why can’t you give us some of that?” Karen questioned loudly.

She was anxious.

She wanted to escalate this slowly, but judging from David’s behavior, it seemed that he would not give them any chance.

How would Karen accept this?

“Family? Have you ever treated me like your family? Do others give their family leftovers and spoiled food? Do others ask their family to sleep next to the dog’s kennel? Do others beat their family when they’re mad? Since you did this, you have to suffer the consequences. I have been very kind to not retaliate against you. If not, I can destroy your entire family with just one word. I do have a lot of money and I will never finish spending it, but I rather donate them than give you a single penny,” David scoffed.

“David, you ungrateful thing! Regardless, we raised you for so many years. At least we didn’t let you go homeless or let you die from starvation and the cold. Now, you’re biting the hand that feeds you. You’re not human!” Karen yelled.

“If it weren’t for my parents’ one million dollar compensation, would you have taken me in so generously, Karen? You are the one who ruined this family, you evil woman!”

“You...”

Karen pointed at David. She was so mad she could not speak.

Chapter 1346

“Alright, I don’t have time to waste my breath with you. God is watching you. If you hurt others, you will also be hurt in the end. You should shape up.”

David was about to turn and leave after he said that.

Unexpectedly, Karen knelt on the ground and cried, “David! I was wrong. Please forgive me. I won’t dare to do this again.”

Then, Quin and Felicia also knelt.

“David, I was wrong back then and I was the reason you got beat up. I was stupid back then, so please forgive me.”

“David, I’m so sorry. Please forgive me.”

After Karen said that, she turned and glared at Bobby to tell him to kneel as well.

This was the plan the family discussed.

If they saw David again, they would kneel and beg him for forgiveness if everything else failed.

As long as they could get the same treatment as Diana, they could do anything.

Bobby was a little coy and refused to kneel.

He felt a little awkward to have to kneel before his nephew.

However, he thought of his sister’s carefree life. If his family also had that, he would be willing to kowtow a hundred or thousand times for David, let alone kneel.

In the end, Bobby also knelt.

However, when they wanted to see David’s reaction.

'Huh?

'Where did he go?

'Where is he?"

At this moment, there was no one in front of them.

David had left unbeknownst to them.

He left silently, so Bobby and his family did not notice.

The four had mournful looks on their faces. They looked so sad as if someone had died.

They did not get David's forgiveness this time, so they completely lost the chance to get rich overnight.

Karen did not think that David would still choose to ignore them after her entire family knelt for him.

After looking all over the place and making sure that David had left, Karen stood up while cursing.

"Pah! What an ungrateful thing! He's worse than a dog! Even dogs wag their tails after you feed them."

"Mom, stop talking! It's all your fault! Great, my ten million sports car is gone now," Quin said unhappily.

"You punk! How dare you talk to me like that? Do you want to get beat up? If you want a sports car, you should make money to buy one! If David, that orphaned beast, can make a fortune, why can't you? I wasted my time and effort raising you!"

When Karen heard her son complaining about her, in addition to her dreams being crushed, she pointed at Quin and started yelling at him in anger.

"Mom, that's enough!" Felicia also chimed in.

"Who gave you the courage to talk to me like that today? How dare you work together to talk back to me! I..."

Before Karen could finish, Bobby interrupted her.

“Shut up! Are you done?”

“Wow! You’re all working together to bully me now, huh? I don’t want to live anymore...”

Chapter 1347

As Bobby and his family were blaming each other, and Karen was rolling around the floor throwing a tantrum, David had already left the courtyard.

It was too easy for him to hide from the ordinary folks’ eyes and ears.

However, he heard everything Karen said.

That woman changed so fast.

She was just kneeling on the ground begging for mercy, but in a split second, she started to curse at others.

David understood Karen very well.

She was a typical snob who was proud of her reputation. Nothing was more important than interest for her.

Karen definitely was the one who came up with the plan to kneel just now.

She thought David would forgive them if they did that because blood was thicker than water.

Unfortunately, David did not buy that.

He knew very well that this family would not do that if there was nothing to gain from him.

Perhaps they would not even look at David, let alone invite David to eat at their house.

Karen wanted to boast and enjoy herself with David’s money. How would David let her dream come true?

After all, they were blood-related, hence David could not hit them when they were down. However, he could turn a blind eye.

So, when Karen and her family knelt, David decided to leave silently.

If they wanted him to let go of the past, they should wait until David came back to Earth the next time.

When the time came, Karen might have been dead.

David would not feel as mad as long as Karen was dead.

After he left the courtyard, David left Shu City and started wandering aimlessly around the country.

He would not go back to face Celeste alone before time was up.

Now, the Earth's situation was pretty much determined.

Somerland had become the holy land to everyone on Earth.

Everyone wanted to gather here, so Somerland became livelier.

David went to a lot of places he knew.

Three days later, he came to a secluded forest in Capital City.

This was where Falcon, Somerland's military organization, trained.

Back then, David used to accept challenges from Falcon here before joining them.

The moment he stepped foot in the base, Team Falcon ran out from the green vegetation and surrounded David.

"Who are you? How did you find this place? Why are you here?"

A man who looked like the captain asked David three questions consecutively.

The other members were in fighting stances.

Clearly, they did not think David wandered into this place accidentally. He must have come here with a purpose.

David looked at Team Falcon.

The martial arts trend brought huge changes to Earth indeed.

He remembered when he first got here, the Team Falcon lying low were only Tiger rankers.

Now, the weakest one was a Dragon Ranker. So, it improved by more than one level.

“Look around? This is Somerland’s military base, do you think you can just look around? Tell us why you’re here or else.”

“Is Lucas Brown still in Falcon?” David thought about it before asking.

“Do you know Captain Brown?”

“Of course! If you want to look deeper into this, I should still be a Falcon. I was under him back then.”

“You’re also a Falcon? What’s your name?”

“My name is David Lidell.”

‘David Lidell?’

The team members thought about it and suddenly, they had looks of shock on their faces. They blurted out, “Mr. Lidell?”

When they came back to their senses, David was gone.

Leaving them with only a word of encouragement.

“You’re pretty good. You’re Somerland’s elite, so you should work hard. There’s still a long way to go and we’ll need you to protect Somerland in the future.”

“W—Was it really Mr. Lidell?” The captain murmured.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1348

Chapter 1348

“Mr. Lidell came to see us in person?”

“Did I just see Mr. Lidell? I’m not dreaming, right? Pinch me.

“Hiss! Gentle! I’m not dreaming! Mr. Lidell is really here!”

The Falcon Team was very excited.

That was David Lidell!

A true legend!

He was also a member of Falcon and Falcon was very proud of that.

Until now, David's name was still carved on the honor board of Falcon's history so that all Falcon members would remember this.

"Don't worry, Mr. Lidell! We will work hard and not let you down." All of the team members excitedly yelled at the sky together.

It was the biggest honor of their lives to see David and had words of encouragement from him.

They could boast about this forever.

At this moment, David had arrived at Falcon's secret base.

He came to Lucas' office and went in directly to chat with Lucas.

Now, Lucas was a peak God Ranker.

After leaving Falcon, David went to Somerland National Special Task Force.

When he was done, he went to Mason's residence to chat with Mason for a very long time.

The next day, David went to Dark Cape.

This place was already a part of Somerland.

However, Killer and Paul were still in charge of this place.

They were working for David, so no one dared to chase them away.

At this moment, on the top floor of an 88-story building in Capital City.

A gorgeous woman in her thirties who was so beautiful she could charm all living creatures sat on the sofa. Her head was lowered as she read the information in her hands.

Next to her was a man, and it was unknown what he said to her.

The man would steal glances at the woman occasionally with an infatuated look on his face.

This building was the headquarters of the formerly hidden sect, The Krums.

Now, all of the hidden sects and families had come out of hiding and found a place of their own in the secular world.

The Krums was now Krum Group.

They were in the herb business and they also had more than a hundred martial art studios across Somerland.

Of course, The Krums were not weak initially, so it was expected that they could get to where they were now.

This charming woman was the former student of The Krums: Lorraine Lovewood.

Currently, she was the general manager of Krum Group and an all-powerful woman.

She controlled the direction of The Krums' progress.

The reason The Krums could come to the scale they were now was because of Lorraine.

The man was Lorraine's senior, Fred East. At the same time, he was the vice general manager of Krum group.

After Fred finished talking, Lorraine said, "Alright, got it."

Her voice was so attractive, and one would not be able to hold themselves back after hearing it.

As her strength increased, Lorraine's charm became stronger as well.

She was so charming that the men around her would get muddleheaded.

She and Selena were two ends of the extreme.

One was young and so devastatingly beautiful she could cause the downfall of a state.

On the other hand, another one was full of charm and was exceptionally enchanting.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1349

Krum Group was located on one of Capital City's liveliest commercial streets.

A middle-aged woman was walking on the commercial street at this moment.

It was Celeste.

After suppressing the desire in her body, Celeste felt that it was too boring staying by herself, so she came out for a walk.

She finally got here after several days.

As she looked at the various women's clothing on the commercial street, Celeste felt great.

No woman did not like beautiful clothes, of course, she was no exception.

She bought a lot of clothes these few days.

Even though Celeste did not have Somerland Dollars, the things she took out randomly were already extremely valuable.

As she walked on the lively street, it was strange that no one could see her face clearly and no one noticed her.

This was because she tampered with something to not be the center of attention.

If not, men who saw her would be attracted to her, so how would she shop?

'Hmm?'

Celeste suddenly smelled something and was shocked.

'How is this possible?'

'How could this smell exist here?'

'It's impossible.'

'If it's real, then this small planet will change drastically.'

Celeste followed the smell and came all the way into Krum Group's 88-story building. Then, she arrived at the top floor.

After Lorraine sent Fred away, she entered the general manager's office to read through materials with her head down.

Suddenly, Celeste showed up at Lorraine's office.

She did not disturb Lorraine. Instead, she was staring at Lorraine fixedly.

The more she looked, the more shocked she was.

However, she was basically sure.

The woman in front of her had the same alluring body as her.

This small planet surprised Celeste too much.

First, she met Selena who had a special physique, then she met David, a lunatic who had mind power before he became Eternal, and now she met someone who had the same alluring body as her.

Celeste did not know what to say anymore.

She was right to come on this trip.

The two special physiques were such a huge harvest for the Iridescent Sect.

Lorraine did not notice Celeste's arrival.

She was still miles apart from Celeste.

When she finished reading the information in her hands and was about to get another one, she saw another person in the room without her noticing.

Lorraine was shocked and she asked, pretending to be calm, "Who are you? Why are you here?"

Anyone who could enter her room silently must be someone extraordinary.

Celeste did not answer Lorraine's question. Instead, she asked, "What is your name?"

"I'm Lorraine Lovewood."

After Lorraine answered that, she covered her mouth suddenly.

She could not control herself.

She did not want to answer the woman but her mouth answered the question without her control.

'Who is this beautiful woman who appeared out of nowhere?

'Why does she have such magical power?

'How did she make me answer her question like that?'

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1350

Chapter 1350

"Lorraine? Good name! My name is Celeste Star. You can call me Celeste for now, and we'll talk about how you should address me later."

Celeste stretched out her hand.

Lorraine also held out hers, and the two briefly shook hands.

"C—Celeste, how did you get in here? What are you doing here?" Lorraine asked.

"It's pretty easy to come in here, isn't it? I came here for you, of course," Celeste replied with a smile.

"Me? Why? I don't think I know you!"

"You didn't know me before, but you do now, right? And we will have time to get along in the future."

"Celeste, I don't quite understand what you mean."

"Let me tell you this! We are the same kind of people, so you can only follow me.

Otherwise, the outcome of your stay here will be miserable."

Lorraine shook her head to say that she still did not understand.

Celeste could only tell her some basic information about the alluring body.

Celeste had put up a seal around the office, so no one would come in to disturb them.

As soon as Celeste finished talking, Lorraine was dumbfounded.

'Is there such a strange physique in the world?'

Although she was very reluctant to believe what Celeste said, she did have a lot of the symptoms Celeste mentioned.

Hence, she had no choice but to believe Celeste.

“Are you telling the truth, Celeste?” Lorraine asked in shock.

“Of course! Why should I lie to you? And that’s how I am.”

“Then what can I do to become normal?”

“What do you mean by normal? You want to be able to be with a man?” Celeste laughed.

“Celeste, stop teasing me! I just want to be a normal person. As for whether I want to be with a man, it depends on whether I can meet the right person. If I can’t, I’d rather be single for the rest of my life than compromise.”

“Okay, not bad! You have individuality,” Celeste exclaimed.

“By the way, Celeste, you just said you wanted me to go with you. Where are we going?”

Lorraine asked.

“Leave this planet! We will go to my hometown where it’ll be your stage. Although the alluring body brings quite a lot of inconvenience to life, it also gives us a unique talent.”

Lorraine was shocked.

‘Leave this planet?’

‘Does this mean that this beautiful woman in front of me is not from Earth?’

‘How can that be?’

“C—Celeste, you... you’re not from Earth?” Lorraine asked with wide eyes.

“No. I come from a prosperous high-level civilization, but Earth, this small living planet, surprised me a lot. Sometimes I really want to blast the earth to see if there is something hidden in the Earth’s core to be able to create such an outstanding planet,” Celeste sighed.

‘Blast the Earth?’

'W-What should I do?'

Lorraine was confused for a moment.

The earth has experienced two deathly catastrophes that were caused by aliens.

So everyone had a bad impression of aliens.

Now, Lorraine even encountered an alien who wanted to destroy Earth.

If she really succeeded, what would happen to the Earthlings?

Lorraine just wanted to get the word out now.

Now only David could save Earth.

However, Lorraine knew she had no chance before this beautiful woman.

Celeste sensed that Lorraine was in a state of extreme tension.

So, she asked in amusement, "What happened, Lori? You don't really think I'm going to blast the earth, do you? I'm just joking. Compared with the others, the three of you are more valuable to me."
