Chapter 1377

At this moment, a voice suddenly sounded in Astrid's room.

"Sigh, Your Royal Highness, why are you doing this?" David said helplessly.

Initially, he went straight to Nimbus to inform him that he was leaving the Milky Way.

Unexpectedly, he heard Nimbus and Wilfred talking about him.

To avoid embarrassment, David had no choice but to retreat first and wait for some time before going.

Then, he came to Astrid's room.

As a result, he heard the conversation between the mother and daughter.

David actually wanted to leave first and go find Mia.

However, after hearing Astrid's last words to himself, he relented.

This was his weakness.

It was precisely because of this shortcoming that there were so many women around him.

David thought about changing.

However, as the saying went, 'Can a leopard change its spots?'

It was not easy to change a person's character.

Besides, he did not think there was anything wrong with himself.

Humans needed to be a little emotional..

If he was really cold-blooded and ruthless, what would be the difference between him and a beast?

Astrid heard David's voice for the first time but did not react.

After about two or three seconds, she suddenly turned around and saw David standing behind her.

“D—David! You... You are back,” Astrid said in surprise.

“Yeah, I just arrived at Planet Royal,” David replied with a smile.

“Thank you for coming to see me just after you came back.”

Astrid was completely different from just now.

‘Um...’

David did not know what to say to that.

If he did not hear what Astrid said just now, he could still face her normally.

However, since he heard it, he had no idea how to handle the situation.

“Your Royal Highness, I came to say goodbye to you.” Finally, David told her the truth.

His departure from the Milky Way was an unchangeable fact, and Astrid would find out sooner or later.

It would be better if he told her now.

After Astrid heard that, the smile on her face froze.

“Say goodbye? Where are you going?” Astrid asked with a trembling voice after calming herself down.

“I’m leaving the Milky Way. I’m going somewhere far away, and I don’t know when I’ll be back.”

“What about Mia? Will she go with you?” Astrid asked a question she desperately wanted to know.

David did not expect Astrid to ask this question either.

David intended to seek Mia’s opinion.

If Mia chose to go with him, David would not refuse.

He had already troubled Celeste, so it would be okay to ask her to accept another person into the Iridescent Sect.

If Mia did not want to go and wanted to stay with her family, then it would actually be better for David. In this way, he would just hand East League Chamber of Commerce to her.

"I will ask for her opinion," David said frankly.

When Astrid heard David say this, the grievance in her heart welled up suddenly and she could not stop her tears from flowing.

David would seek Mia's opinion, so it meant he was letting Mia make her own choice.

On the contrary, David came to say goodbye to her.

She was not given a chance to decide for herself at all.

It was not hard to see that from the beginning to the end, David never took her seriously at all, and she could only be regarded as a normal friend.

No matter how hard she tried, she still could not get close to David.

How would Astrid not feel sad?

She had nothing left to say.

David's stance had proved everything.

Astrid just looked at David with tears in her eyes, bit her lip, and did not speak.

Chapter 1378

She looked like a young wife who was abandoned by a scumbag.

At this time, David also realized that what he said seemed to sound a little bit wrong.

Since Mia was given the chance to choose, Astrid should also be treated equally.

It must be very hurtful to get different treatments.

Then David thought of what Astrid had just said to himself.

'Sigh, what did I do to get this?

'I made so many excellent women yearn for me so much that they can't even eat or drink.

'It seems that I should really change the name of the system.

'I should stop calling it a super lavish system.

'I'll just call it the super womanizer system.'

"Your Royal Highness, I am going to a higher civilization this time, and I will take some friends there. I will have a greater chance of breaking through Eternal Realm and obtaining endless longevity. If you are willing to part with your parents to go with me, I can take you along." David broke the silence.

"Really?" The joy flickered in Astrid's eyes.

"Yes, really! But we can only come back after a long time."

"Okay! I'll discuss it with my father and mother." Astrid did not make a decision right away.

Although she really wanted to say yes to David immediately as she was willing to follow him, she still needed the consent of her father and mother.

After all, she was not by herself.

Her parents put too much effort into her, so she could not be so selfish.

"It just so happens that I have something to tell your father, so let's go together!"

"Okay!"

After Astrid answered, she wanted to stand up.

However, since she had not eaten much recently, her body was weak.

She stumbled and almost fell.

Luckily, David reacted quickly and held her.

"You should eat something first. You're very weak."

"You can't leave. Stay here with me, okay?"

"Okay."

David supported Astrid to the table before sitting down.

The sumptuous and extremely nutritious food on the table was about to turn cold.

With David next to her, Astrid had a huge appetite. Then, she started to eat her food elegantly. "David, you should have some too."

David had reached Eternal Realm, so he would not feel hungry whether he ate or not.

However, after eating for so many years, it was difficult to quit so quickly so he started to devour the food on the table.

He was much rougher than Astrid.

This was a habit he had developed since childhood.

Astrid watched David gobble up the food, and her mood suddenly brightened.

Hence, she also started to eat big mouthfuls.

The two cleared everything on the table.

After the two had just finished eating, Empress Gamora appeared in the room. She was staring dumbfounded at the messy dining table.

She came to see if Astrid had eaten and saw this scene.

David spotted Gamora a long time ago, but he did not care.

'It doesn't matter if she's here. This is not shameful anyway.

'I still have to go find them later.'

"Dav-... Master David, you're here."

Gamora almost called David's name directly.

Suddenly, she realized that it was all different now, and David was the Master of the Milky Way and the Milky Way's first Eternal.

An existence that even his husband Emperor Nimbus would need to look up to.

"You don't have to be so polite with me, Mrs. Barlowe. You should just call me David! Astrid and I are friends, so it's strange if you call me that."

"Mother!" Astrid cried out, blushing.

"Master David, I won't dare to do that. You are the Master of the Milky Way now, so we can't break the rules," Gamora said in a respectful tone.

“Since I am the Master of the Milky Way, I should be the one setting the rules...”

Chapter 1379

Inside the Royal Palace where Emperor Nimbus stayed.

“What? Did you say you're leaving the Milky Way?” Nimbus looked at David and asked in surprise.

Wilfred and Gamora beside them were also surprised.

One must know that David was now the Master of the Milky Way and he was already standing on the top of the Milky Way

In the Milky Way, his words carried enormous weight and no one dared to oppose him.

Yet, at this time, David suddenly said that he wanted to leave. What was going on?

Nimbus and the others could not understand.

“Yes, Mr. Barlowe!” David replied.

“If you're leaving the Milky Way, where are you going?”

“To a high-level civilization!”

“What are you going to do there? Isn't it better to stay here and be the local tyrant? Once you leave the Milky Way and go to high-level civilization, your Eternal Realm's strength is not enough,” Nimbus said.

In fact, deep down in his heart, he also hoped that David would leave.

As long as David was gone, the Milky Way would still belong to the Barlowe family.

However, if David left, there would be another problem.

That was the threat of other galaxies, especially Beast Galaxy's Nine-Headed Serpent Clan.

That race treated humans as food, and it could be said that they were human's natural enemies.

In addition, David broke through Eternal Realm and utterly offended the other party.

Once David, the powerful deterrent at Eternal Realm, left, it was likely that the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan would strike again.

How would his family fight back? How would the Milky Way resist?

The perfect idea in Nimbus' mind was David helping him break through Eternal Realm before leaving. "Mr. Barlowe, I will bring some friends over this time. It's tough for them to break through if they just stay in the Milky Way. On the contrary, they will have a higher chance to get to Eternal Realm in a high-level civilization. Only when they reach Eternal Realm will they have endless longevity. I don't want everyone around me to leave me one by one in the near future, leaving me by myself ultimately," David replied. "But David, what if the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan strikes again after you leave? Without you, we will be unable to resist them and it may cause very serious consequences to the Milky Way. However, if you really want to, I can't stop you from leaving, I just hope you can agree to one condition," Nimbus said. "Let's hear it, Mr. Barlowe."

David originally wanted to say that he would take care of the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan before leaving. This was what he had planned from the very beginning.

Yet, David changed his mind after hearing what Nimbus said.

He wanted to see what conditions Nimbus would offer.

"David, I have been stuck in partial Eternal Realm for a long time. I already had a little understanding when you broke through Eternal Realm last time, but it was not enough. I hope you can pass on some experience of breaking through Eternal Realm and help me with my breakthrough as well. So, even if you leave, the Milky Way will be safe with me. What do you think?" Nimbus looked at David expectantly after finishing speaking.

Not only him, but Wilfred, Gamora, and Astrid were also looking at David. Their eyes were filled with longing as they were waiting for David's answer.

If David really helped Nimbus break through to Eternal Realm, it would be perfect.

However, everyone knew one should not pass on this kind of knowledge recklessly unless they were father and son or master and disciple, or perhaps family members who were very close.

If not, no one would pass on such a precious experience.

Yet, David was smiling bitterly in his heart because he genuinely did not know how to help Nimbus and he did not have any experience to pass on to him.

David only had experience in spending money and no one would believe him if he said it out loud.

Everything David had today was obtained through him spending money relentlessly.

If he could help Nimbus break through using this method, David would not be stingy about it.

After all, the Milky Way would have another layer of protection like this. Furthermore, David believed that after he got to Star Kingdom, he would get enough lavish points to improve his strength soon.

Chapter 1380

When David came back the next time, he might be looking down on an Eternal.

"Mr. Barlowe, it's not that I don't want to help you. I also hope that the Milky Way can have an extra Eternal which can provide an extra layer of protection, but I may not have enough time because I have to leave soon," David shook his head and said.

He did not say that he could not help, but instead, he said he did not have enough time because he knew that even if he told them, no one would believe him.

David's words disappointed Nimbus and the others.

'Indeed, he is still unwilling to help the Barlowe family.

'But come to think of it, if there is another Eternal in the Milky Way, David's status as the Master of the Milky Way will be threatened.

'No one would want to do that.

'David is no saint, so he won't deliberately cause trouble for himself.'

"I see, I'm sorry for being rash," Nimbus said disappointedly.

Although he had expected this, Nimbus still felt disappointed when David said it out loud.

He was indeed inspired the last time he saw David break through Eternal Realm and cast the Eternal Golden Body.

Yet it was not enough to rely on this to break through Eternal Realm.

Nimbus needed more help to cross this great obstacle.

He thought that David would agree to help him for the sake of the Milky Way's safety since he was about to leave.

Unexpectedly, David was still unwilling.

Nimbus could not do anything about this as well.

If he thought from another perspective, he would not help David too if he got to Eternal Realm before David.

If two men rode on a horse, one must ride behind. It was also true in this situation.

David looked at the expressions of the Barlowe family members and could not help explaining, "Mr. Barlowe, I really don't have time. There are two people with terrifying strength waiting for me now. I can't keep them waiting for too long, otherwise, there will be serious consequences."

"Oh? Are there still people in the Milky Way with strength that will scare you?" Nimbus was full of disbelief. "The Milky Way doesn't, but they're not from the Milky Way."

"Not from the Milky Way? Where are they from?"

"They're from a high-level civilization."

"A high-level civilization? Is it the high-level civilization you are going to?"

"Exactly! But they have an identity that I think you should have heard of." David kept Nimbus on tenterhooks.

"What is it?"

"They're Universe Enforcers."

'What?'

Nimbus and his family were shocked. Their eyes were wide open, and their faces were full of shock.

'Universe Enforcers?'

'David actually met the Universe Enforcers and they're waiting for him?'

"How can that be?"

As the royal family of the Milky Way, the Barlowe family naturally knew about the Universe Enforcers.

That was a group of lunatics who maintained the order of the entire universe.

They were always so mysterious.

Although few people met them, their reputation resounded throughout the universe.

This was a group of people who had truly terrified countless lives.
