

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1387

Chapter 1387

Celeste stopped teasing David when she saw how embarrassed he was.

Even if there were three or five hundred more women, it would be no problem for her, an elder of the Iridescent Sect, let alone two more.

Of course, this offer was limited to arranging for them to join the Iridescent Sect and then letting them fend for themselves. She would still extend them some care, but it would also depend on their talent hard work, and luck to determine how far they would go.

Celeste's original idea was to use all kinds of treasures of heaven and earth on those who were not talented enough to push them to Eternal Realm to gain David's favor and tie him to the Iridescent Sect.

However, if there were too many people, even Celeste, an elder of the Iridescent Sect, would have her hands tied.

Things that could improve one's talent, no matter where they were, were absolutely precious.

Even if one wanted to buy them, it would be extremely challenging.

It was because very few people would sell these kinds of things.

They might appear in some large auctions to increase their popularity.

Every time they appeared, the major forces would snatch them up crazily, and the final transaction would be at a sky-high price.

Even a superpower like the Iridescent Sect did not have much in stock.

Celeste could still think of a way if it were just Celia and the others. After all, not everyone needed it. If there were too many people, she could not do anything to help them.

Among them, Selena and Goldie, who were already talented, would not need them.

As long as they followed a systematic process of cultivation, they would soon be able to step into Eternal Realm on their own.

Celeste still needed to wait until they returned to the Iridescent Sect to observe their individual situations carefully.

“David, since the matter has been dealt with, let’s go quickly! Don’t waste any more time. We have to go to the Beast Galaxy to address your concerns,” Celeste said.

As time went by, it was getting harder and harder for her to suppress the desire in her body.

She had to rush back to the Iridescent Sect as soon as possible to ask her master for help.

If it erupted halfway, the consequences would be disastrous.

As one of the rarest special physiques in the universe, the alluring body was indeed extraordinary.

Once activated, it would be very hard to suppress even with Celeste’s Eternal Realm Sovereign Rank combat power.

“I see, Celeste. Let’s go!”

After speaking, David flew up.

Mia followed closely behind.

Astrid glanced at her parents reluctantly. Soon, she stopped hesitating and followed David to fly up onto the back of the enormous tortoise.

After the three arrived, Celeste glanced at Nimbus and the others who were still standing there. Then, she turned and walked towards the palace, with the others following behind her.

It was just an ordinary look without any hostility, but it made Nimbus and the others feel as if they had fallen into an ice cave. It was as if they were immobilized.

‘As expected of a legendary Universe Enforcer, her strength is really unimaginable.’

Nimbus and the others sighed in their hearts.

If their daughter could leave with such a strong person, she might surpass them in the future.

As a parent, they felt extremely relieved whilst simultaneously feeling sad.

Celeste led the crowd into the luxurious building.

The enormous tortoise tore a space crack, went inside, and disappeared. Shortly after, the space crack quickly closed.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1388

Chapter 1388

Only Nimbus, Wilfred, and Gamora were left in the sky above Planet Royal.

“Uncle Wilfred, do you think this Universe Enforcer has surpassed Eternal Realm and reached a higher level?” Nimbus asked curiously.

“I don't know! Eternal Realm is already a huge obstacle for us, and it is impossible to speculate. Even the Barlowe family's countless years of historical records have not introduced it in detail, but what is certain is that even if this Universe Enforcer has not surpassed Eternal Realm, she would still be at the very top. There is no doubt she is much better than a beginner like David,” Wilfred said slowly, looking in the direction David and the others had left in.

“Sigh... I wonder if I can experience being an Eternal in this lifetime,” Nimbus said with a sigh.

“Nimbus, don't be discouraged. Before David showed up, you were undoubtedly the person with the most potential to break into Eternal Realm. Now that David is a step ahead of you and has inspired you, you should be able to enter Eternal Realm sooner.”

“I see, Uncle Wilfred! David said that he will solve all the hidden dangers of the Milky Way so the Milky Way should not be threatened. Therefore, I can go into seclusion immediately, and I will not come out until I reach Eternal Realm,” Nimbus firmly said.

He was also inspired.

One must know that he was known as the most talented in the Milky Way back then, and he was also the one who had the best chance of breaking through to Eternal Realm.

However, David appeared out of nowhere and directly broke through to Eternal Realm while he was still so far behind.

Furthermore, Nimbus could tell how much the Universe Enforcers just now valued and appreciated David. The reason why this happened must be because they recognized David's talent.

Otherwise, why would the Universe Enforcers be so humble to a person from a low-level civilization without any background?

The other party valued David so much, but they did not even look at Nimbus.

Nimbus' pride took a serious hit.

That was why he decided to go into seclusion and not come out until he reached Eternal Realm.

"It's good to have such determination! Nimbus, you don't lack talent. As long as you strengthen your beliefs, you will reach Eternal Realm sooner or later. I am already old so I don't think I will get a chance to break through in my lifetime. You can rest assured and go to retreat! I will keep watch on Planet Royal while you're gone."

"Thank you, Uncle Wilfred!"

Gamora did not intervene in the conversation between the two and did not even hear what the two were talking about. Instead, she just stared blankly at the space where Astrid had left in.

She was still worried and saddened by the departure of her daughter.

As the princess of the Milky Way Empire, Astrid had been loved by thousands since the moment she was born.

She never needed to worry about anything since she was always surrounded by a ground of maids.

However, her departure to a higher-level civilization meant that she was no longer a princess.

Without her maids, she would need to do everything herself, and she might be bullied by men with authority.

Although David was powerful and talented, he would be nothing in the higher-level civilization, and he would probably find it difficult to protect all of them.

Nimbus also noticed something wrong with Gamora.

He put his arms around Gamora's shoulders and comforted her softly, "Gammy, don't worry too much. Astrid has grown up and she would have left us sooner or later. We can't always be by her side to protect her. She chose this path, and although it will be a little bumpy, I believe she will get through it."

“I know! But the thought that I might not see Astrid for a long, long time makes me sad,” Gamora sobbed.

Nimbus held Gamora in his arms but did not speak.

He put gave his only daughter too much thought and affection.

He felt the same pain in his heart now that he was separated from her.

However, as a man, he could not cry like Gamora.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1389

Chapter 1389

The group gathered in the luxurious building on the back of the enormous tortoise.

Mia and Astrid stood respectfully behind David.

The others looked at David with half-smiles, waiting for him to introduce the two.

Celia and the others were already used to David bringing along more beautiful women.

They also knew David certainly had no substantial relationship with these two.

It was just that David was a little soft-hearted, so it was hard for him to refuse requests from friends.

“David, aren't you going to introduce these two?” Celeste asked.

“Her name is Mia and she is my subordinate. I met her when I first came to Planet Royal, and she has been with me for a long time. She also hopes to go and see a high-level civilization,” David pointed to Mia and introduced her.

At this time, Mia stepped forward and said, “Hi, ladies! My name is Mia, and I am David's maid. When I was being hunted down, he happened to pass by and rescued me. At that time, I secretly swore that I would follow him until I die to serve him and repay his grace.”

David then pointed to Astrid and introduced, “Her name is Astrid. She is the princess of the Milky Way Empire, and um... We are good friends.”

“Hello, ladies! My name is Astrid. In reality, David was also my savior, and I am not a princess anymore. I hope everyone will take care of me,” Astrid also stood forward and introduced herself.

“David! Honestly, do you only save beautiful women?” Celeste teased.

“Celeste! Stop making fun of me,” David said, feeling at a loss for words.

“Isn’t what I said true? Otherwise, why did you only save these two beautiful girls?”

“I have saved quite a few people. If you don’t believe me, ask Mia. She has been with me for a long time. We have saved many planets together.”

“Ma’am, David is telling the truth. We are the ones who wanted to come along, and David didn’t have the heart to say no.”

Then, David introduced Celeste, Celia, and the others to the two of them.

Of course, he introduced Celia as his girlfriend.

They were all women, and beautiful ones at that.

Moreover, Mia and Astrid were very humble, especially Astrid.

It was completely impossible to guess that she was a princess who was loved by thousands of people.

The group of women quickly became one.

Celia, the official girlfriend, did not mind, so the other women has even less right be bothered.

Amadi watched all this from the sidelines with admiration.

He could say that David had perfected his method.

‘How on earth did he manage to get so many stunning beauties to get along so well?’

In Amadi’s hometown, it was normal for a powerful man to have multiple wives.

Beautiful women loved heroes.

There were a lot of them with more than ten wives, or even more, let alone less than ten.

After all, once they were at Eternal Realm, they would have an endless lifespan.

Some ancient monsters who had lived for tens of thousands or even hundreds of thousands of years were textbook examples of having a village of wives and offspring.

However, in this case, the wives would not get along as well as David's lovers.

They would always fight and scheme against each other to strive for favors.

They would fight in terms of strength, background, and means.

On the surface, the wives would be polite and smiling, but secretly they wished for the others to die! This was the case with Amadi's father.

Although his mother was the matriarch of the Star Mansion, his father, the head of the Star Mansion, had more than thirty concubines besides his mother.

He had no choice but to marry all of them.

In order to increase the population of Star Mansion and make it flourish, each head would marry at least twenty or thirty concubines. This was the Star family's ancestral tradition.

If Amadi's mother were not powerful and did not have the Iridescent Sect as her backing, she would never become the wife of the Star Mansion's head and have the power to intimidate so many concubines. Each of these concubines had a strong background.

If this were not the case, Amadi would also not enjoy his current status as the younger head of Star Mansion.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1390

Chapter 1390

In the future, he would also be the head of Star Mansion.

A lot of his brothers were after his position, and they were all wishing that Amadi would have an accident outside and never return.

Amadi planned to find some time to learn from David alone.

His father used to be overwhelmed by such trivialities.

In the near future, he would also encounter these things.

David should have a lot of experience playing the mediator.

With Amadi's strength, he could tell that David and his lovers sincerely welcomed the two newcomers, Mia and Astrid.

There was no hypocrisy.

This situation was rare.

David was pleased when he saw that everyone got along so well under Celia's coordination.

To be honest, Celia was not the best among these women.

She was not talented, and her beauty was not top-notch.

Selena, Mia, and Astrid were all prettier than her.

However, in David's mind, Celia was still the only one for him, followed by Pearl.

Among these two women, one liked him and had waited for him silently for several years, then immediately confessed her love when she heard that he was dumped.

Meanwhile, the other one did not ask for anything in return after she helped him manage East League Capitals and even chose to sacrifice herself for him.

Pearl contributed a lot to David's rapidly improving strength when he was on Earth.

These two were also the girls that David absolutely could not disappoint.

As for the others, David could only go with the flow.

"David, when we get to the Beast Galaxy, I won't show my face. I'll let Amadi go with you to solve the matter with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan," Celeste said to David.

"Okay, Celeste!" David replied.

"Amadi, when the time comes, you will accompany David to teach the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan a lesson, so that they will remember and stop oppressing other vulnerable groups."

"Yes, Ms. Celeste!"

"Alright, I'll retreat first. Don't bother me if there's nothing urgent."

Celeste turned and left.

She needed to suppress the energy that was getting restless in her body with all her might to prevent it from erupting.

In the past, she could still suppress it with 90% of her strength.

Now, she needed 100% of her power to suppress it.

'I hope I can endure it.'

As long as she returned to the Iridescent Sect where her master was, everything would be fine.

Otherwise, she could only ask David to help.

'But if I do that, I might get addicted to it...'

Celeste sighed inwardly.

She did not want to do that kind of thing with a man so much younger than her.

Not even in a fantasy.

Once she got addicted, she was afraid that she would never be able to do without David in this life.

"David, I'm leaving too. Just let me know when we get to the place," Amadi said.

"Okay, Amadi, thank you very much," David thanked.

"Don't say that. We are brothers, and your problems are mine as well."

Amadi patted David on the shoulder and left too.

The enormous tortoise walked through the space crack at an extremely fast speed.

Although the Beast Galaxy was far away from the Milky Way, they would soon reach it under the lightning speed of the enormous tortoise.