

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2461

Chapter 2461

Diana asked anxiously, "Honey, do you think Daisy will like these gifts or not? What if she doesn't like them? Hmm... I feel like something is missing. Should we go buy more?"

Rick massaged his temples and shook his head helplessly. His wife had never been so thoughtful when preparing his birthday present.

Soon, a maid called her from downstairs. "Ma'am, Master Nollace is back."

Diana left her husband at the side and ran downstairs. When she saw Daisy and Nollace, she went up to them with a smile on her face.

Ignoring Nollace, she rushed right up to Daisy and hugged her.

"Daisy, you've finally come to visit me. Do you know how much I've missed you?"

Daisy had already experienced Diana's enthusiasm. Putting on a smile, she said, "Me too, Mom."

Diana was stunned. She looked at Daisy with disbelief and asked, "What did you just call me?"

"Mom? You don't like it?" Daisy thought Diana did not like her calling her that.

But other people said they should call their husband's mother this way after getting married.

"No, no, no. I like it very much. I'm so happy." Diana was filled with so much joy that she did not know what she was talking about anymore. She grabbed her hand and said, "You can call me whatever you like, sweetheart."

Seeing how happy his mother was, Nollace placed his hand on his nose and said, "Mom, just stop for a while."

Diana glared at him and said, "Shut up. You shouldn't interrupt when two women are talking. It's rude."

Nollace glanced at his father, who was standing upstairs as if he was asking him to say something. However, Rick just shrugged and mouthed at him, "There's nothing I can do either."

Daisy suddenly remembered something and grabbed the gift from Nollace's hand. "Mom, this is for you. It's a skincare product from a famous brand."

Diana took over the gift and was touched beyond words. "That's so sweet of you, thank you. Oh yeah, I've prepared some gifts for you too. Come. Let's go upstairs. I'll show you."

Diana brought Daisy upstairs and pushed the door open. Daisy was stunned.

The room was filled with all sorts of presents to the brim, from luxury bags, shoes, and dolls to cosmetics and skincare products. All of them were in mint-box condition, and there were so many of them that Daisy did not know where she should put her feet. "Mom, these are..."

"All of these are gifts I prepared for you. If you don't like them, I can go buy some more..." "It's okay," Daisy hastily chimed in and cut her short. She was worried that Diana would really go buy some more presents for her, and she said, "I like them very much. Thank you, Mom."

Diana asked again, "You really like them?"

Daisy nodded without any hesitation.

Diana clapped her hands and chuckled, "That's great. Oh yeah, I've also prepared a very nice room for you two."

Daisy suddenly had a bad feeling about it. When Diana brought Daisy to the room she had prepared, Daisy was stunned once again. While looking at the lavishly decorated room, the corner of her lips twitched.

The decoration of this room did not match the rest of the decoration in the house, and honestly, it looked a bit corny.

However, Diana did not think that way. She was very proud of her feat and said, "This is the wedding room I specially prepared for you guys. It's romantic, isn't it?"

Daisy smiled dryly and said, "Thank you so much, Mom. It must've taken you a lot of time."

Diana grabbed her arm and replied, "Not at all, sweetheart. I'm very happy that I could do something for you two."

Nollace appeared behind them, and he was shocked when he saw what his mother had done to his room.

He placed his hands on his temples and said, "Mom, Dad is looking for you..."

"What's his problem? Can't he let me stay a little while with Daisy?" mumbled Diana.

She grabbed Daisy's hand and asked, "What would you like to eat tonight, sweetheart? I'll go prepare it for you."

Chapter 2462

Daisy smiled. "It's okay. I can eat anything."

"Alright. I'll go downstairs first."

Before Diana went away, she looked at Nollace and said, "Don't you dare bully Daisy, you got it?"

Nollace was rendered speechless.

After Diana left, Daisy couldn't hold herself back anymore and laughed. "Your mother is still as enthusiastic as always."

Nollace chuckled helplessly. "That's because she likes you."

Daisy looked at him and said, "She likes you too. After all, you're her only son."

He was stunned. He knew Daisy was comforting him and laughed.

"Are you afraid I'll be upset?"

She did not say anything.

Nollace caressed her hair and kissed her forehead.

"It's a good thing that my mother likes you. If possible, I want to give you all the love in this world."

When they were having dinner, Diana just talked to Daisy and ignored her son and husband.

"Sweetheart, you can't just eat meat. You need to eat some vegetables too. Green food is healthy and nutritious." After Diana finished talking, she pushed a bowl of salad to Daisy.

Daisie had already eaten enough, but she couldn't bring herself to say no to Diana. "Thank you, Mom."

Nollace cleared his throat and chimed in.

"Mom, she's already eaten a lot. She might get indigestion if you keep stuffing her food."

Biting her fork, Daisie threw an appreciative gaze at Nollace. After all, she couldn't eat anything anymore.

Diana threw her hands up and replied, "Isn't there another one in her womb?"

Everyone in the dining hall fell silent.

Daisie and Nollace looked at Diana in shock. After all, neither of them had told Diana about her pregnancy before.

It took Diana a while before she realized that she had made a slip of the tongue. She rose to her feet and said, "Oh yeah, I nearly forgot that we have some yogurt in the fridge. Yogurt is good for digestion. Let me go get you some."

Diana knew that Daisie was pregnant, but she pretended that she did not know because she wanted them to tell her about it. However, little did she expect that she would make a slip of the tongue and expose herself.

After Diana took the yogurt for Daisie, she made an excuse and wanted to run away from the embarrassing situation. However, Nollace did not give her the chance and said, "Mom, how did you learn that Daisie is pregnant?"

"Daisie is pregnant?" Rick was stunned. Apparently, unlike Diana, he did not know that Daisie was pregnant.

"Well..."

"Huh? How did you find out about it, Mom?" asked Daisie, pretending to be shocked.

Rick also turned his head around to look at Diana.

"When did you learn about it, honey? Why didn't you tell me?"

Diana chided herself inwardly for exposing herself. Knowing that Daisie was pregnant was totally different from the couple telling her about it.

Nollace picked up a glass of water and said, "It seems like Edison told you about it."

“Yeah, I knew about it, but I just wanted you guys to tell me. If I hadn’t exposed myself, you’d just continue to keep me in the dark.” Diana pretended to be sad and wiped the invisible tears from her eyes.

Daisie hastily explained, “No, Mom. We were going to announce it during dinner.”

The problem was that Diana had been stuffing her food since they started their dinner, so she did not have the chance to tell her about it.

Rick suddenly chuckled. “Am I going to become a grandfather soon?”

Nollace nodded.

Rick was filled with so much joy that he put his fork down. “I guess we need to prepare a room for the baby soon.”

After speaking, he summoned Peter and told him to prepare a room for his future grand children.

Diana thought of something and looked at Daisie. “Sweetheart, let’s go shopping tomorrow. We need to buy some clothes for your baby.”

Nollace hugged Daisie and said, “I’ll go with her.”

Diana said through gritted teeth, “Have you forgotten about your company? How long are you going to let Hedeon take care of your company? Doesn’t he need a break?”

Chapter 2463

Nollace was rendered speechless.

The next day, at the National Film and Television College...

Freyja was preparing her script for her short film in the classroom when Shannon, Leia, and a few of her classmates came in.

Shannon said, “By the way, my boyfriend is holding a sorority party at his house today. Do you want to come along?”

“What? You have a boyfriend?”

“Yeah, we’ve been together for more than a month. I didn’t have time to introduce him to you, but you guys will see him today.”

“I’m so jealous of you. What does your boyfriend do for a living?”

Shannon smiled and replied,
“His family owns a business. His father planned to let him take over the company recently.”

After Shannon finished speaking, she walked up to Freyja and asked, “Freyja, are you coming? You can bring your husband as well.”

Freyja pressed her lips tightly. As if Shannon knew Freyja would reject her, she continued. “Don’t worry. All of us are friends. Come and join us for fun.”

“That’s right, Freyja. Let’s go together. Besides, aren’t you curious about Shannon’s boyfriend?”

Freyja lowered her head for a moment and said, “Okay. But I’m not sure if my husband can come with me or not.”

“Why? If your husband doesn’t even have time to attend a party with you, then he fails as a husband. If it were my boyfriend, no matter how busy he is, he would have made time for me.”

“Seriously? Your boyfriend is so nice.”

When Shannon heard all those compliments, a triumphant smile appeared on her face. She enjoyed this kind of feeling a lot and liked being in the limelight.

Freyja did not say anything. She knew what Shannon was planning.

Shannon did not invite Freyja out of sincerity—she just wanted to humiliate Freyja. She also invited her friends because she wanted to show off her boyfriend in front of other people.

Meanwhile, in the shopping mall...

Diana and Daisy had gone through many maternal and children stores, as well as toy stores.

The bodyguards behind them were holding many bags, and Diana looked like she would not stop until she had bought everything in the shopping mall. “Sweetheart, this skirt looks adorable. Do you want to buy it?”

Daisy said helplessly, “Mom, we’ve already bought a lot. Besides, what if it’s a boy?”

She noticed that Diana liked baby girls. All the clothes she bought were skirts for girls.

Diana paused for a moment and then smiled, "It's okay. A baby boy can wear these too. I used to dress Nollace like a girl when he was a kid."

Daisie smiled but did not make any comment.

She had seen the pictures of Nollace wearing a skirt before. Besides, she still remembered how he looked when he wore a skirt back in the East Islands.

She was so jealous of him. This was because he looked really pretty in a skirt.

In the end, she gave in to Diana and bought the skirt.

When they came out of the shopping mall, Daisie suddenly saw a familiar figure. She squinted and realized that he was Colton.

"Mom, I saw my brother. Can you wait for me here for a while?" Daisie gave the things in her hand to Diana and ran toward Colton.

Diana shouted, "Hey, don't run so fast, Daisie. You might fall down."

After that, she turned to the two bodyguards behind her. "Go take care of her."

The two bodyguards nodded and followed after Daisie.

Daisie was looking everywhere for Colton. She had clearly seen him but couldn't spot him now.

Meanwhile, Colton walked into a restaurant. The two men in front of him stood up and greeted him, "You're finally here, Mr. Goldmann."

He nodded and took his seat. The two men handed a property contract and said, "We've already gotten the ownership contract of the villa for you. Mr. Rowen said he's willing to sell the villa to you."
