Chapter 2218 I Advise You Not to Go

Eric looked at Nicole seriously.

Nicole understood what he meant and said, "Please, come in."

The butler came over with coffee and handed it to Eric. Eric was rarely in a good temper and thanked him. Nicole sat on the sofa and held a cup of tea with no other expression on her face.

"Mr. Ferguson, what did you mean by what you just said?"

Eric looked at her solemnly.

"As far as I know, the company's science and technology exhibition is a trap."

"What trap?"

"Incorporating emotions in artificial intelligence is at a critical point where one wrong move could violate ethics. It's not like simple cloning in the past. This time, it's DNA duplication in humans. Using technology to create and transform new life still isn't allowed in Mediana."

Eric's tone was more solemn.

"It's not as simple as you imagine it to be. This isn't a simple exhibition. George Quay, the world's tech giant, is suffering from cancer. Why do you think he's so interested in this reception?"

Nicole frowned and seemed to understand something. "You mean, they're violating the laws of humanity by editing genes and creating opportunities to increase the human lifespan for the rich?"

Eric glanced at her appreciatively.

"Yes."

Nicole pursed her lips and lowered her eyes.

"This time, I just came to observe the situation. I'm not set on anything, so you don't have to be so concerned, Mr. Ferguson.

Gene editing had already made a breakthrough in Mediana. If this was only simple gene editing, then there was no need to make such a big fanfare to exhibit this technology.

Nicole had a vague feeling that there must be some other black technology involved. Eric said everything he wanted to say.

"I know you won't trust me easily now, but I'm saying this for your own good. It's dangerous for you to go alone, and I can't stop worrying about you. Why don't you let me protect you?'

Before he could finish his sentence, Nicole dropped the cup on the ground. She frowned and looked at it.

'The tea is too hot. Butler, please clean this up.'

The butler heard the movement and hurried over.

Nicole glanced at Eric expressionlessly.

"Mr. Ferguson, have you finished what you wanted to say?'

Eric pursed his lips. 'Then I won't bother you anymore. Think carefully about what I said.'

He did not mind Nicole's bad attitude toward him.

Eric already felt like he owed Nicole.

Now that Clayton was no longer an obstacle, Eric could take his time mending his relationship with Nicole.

Eric stood up and looked at her deeply. He looked nostalgic and affectionate.

"See you."

He said this in a meaningful tone.

Eric was not disappointed by Nicole's cold attitude.

Instead, it only made him feel that she still cared about him.

Nicole took a few steps back and felt annoyed.

"Bye."

After that, she turned around and went upstairs.

Nicole planned to take Chatty and Fischer to the theme park the next day, so she would need enough energy.

As a result, at midmorning the next day, Nicole overslept because she was too tired last night.

Chatty and Fischer finished their breakfast and still did not see Nicole.

Regardless of Logan's persuasion, the two children insisted on going upstairs to see Nicole.

Nicole was disturbed in her sleep.

When she woke up, she saw the two kids playing with a chubby Ultraman and a cute monster on her body.

Chatty's Ultraman could not beat the monster, so she wanted to cheat and woke Nicole up.

Seeing her precious daughter, Nicole really could not bear to get angry with her.

Fischer helplessly reminded her.

"Godmother, the theater performance in the amusement park is about to start..."

Nicole got up helplessly.

"Go out and wait. I have to wash up!"

Chatty nodded happily and ran out of the room with Fischer.

Twenty minutes later.

Everyone was ready and waiting for Nicole.

Nicole wore a casual black dress with polka dots. The retro style made her look simple and youthful.

When Nicole went downstairs, Chatty held her face and complimented her.

‘Wow! Mommy, you're so beautiful!’

Fischer hurriedly followed.

‘Wow! Mommy, you're so beautiful!’

Logan and Roland were speechless.

They stood there awkwardly and did not know what to say.

Fortunately, Nicole was not blown away by their flattery. She went downstairs and pinched the kids' cheeks.

"Nice try. You two promised that you're not going to cry or make a fuss today. If you do, we'll leave the park and come back!"

“We promise not to cry or make trouble!”

Chatty and Fischer replied in unison.

Nicole nodded in satisfaction.

This amusement park was very famous locally. Not only children went there, but also many students and couples.

It was very lively.

Chatty could speak fluent English but not fluent French. Fischer was slightly better than her.

Logan looked at these two fearless children with admiration and gave them a thumbs up.

"At their age, I couldn't even speak my mother tongue properly!"

Nicole glanced at him with a slight smile.

"Do you think they can speak French properly?"

They could only speak enough to be understood.

Chatty and Fischer ran and jumped around in front, looking very adorable.

Nicole wore a sun hat and followed behind them. She was not interested in any rides.

The two children came to watch the theater performance.

There was an impromptu comedy about Chatty's favorite Ultraman fighting monsters.

This was a brand-new performance that had never been played in the amusement park.

Nicole also heard about it from the butler when she returned to the villa. Otherwise, she would not have brought the kids here.

Seeing that it was almost time, Nicole called out to the kids and took them to the performance venue. She looked at Logan and Roland.

"You two can walk around. I'll take them in to watch the show. We can meet up when we leave."

Logan nodded.

"Please be careful, President. Call me if you need anything."

"Okay."

Nicole held one child in each hand and walked toward the venue.

Chatty looked excited and ecstatic.

There were already quite a few people in the venue. Nicole had originally booked three seats in the front. When she brought the kids over, she found that there were only two seats left.

One woman was sitting in their seat.

The woman saw Nicole and quickly stood up to apologize.

"I'm sorry. Is this your seat? I'm really sorry. I bought this seat for my child, but mine is at the back because I didn't manage to grab two front seats. I'll persuade him to go to the back. Sorry for bothering you."

Nicole noticed that the woman was also Medianian from her slang. The woman sincerely apologized and explained the situation, so Nicole did not make it difficult for her.

Moreover, it was difficult enough to go out alone with a child, and it was harder to control them and make them listen.

Fortunately, Chatty was taught very well by Clayton, and she never made a scene in public.

Nicole smiled and said, "It's okay. You can sit here. Your child is too young, so he can't be separated from you. I'll go to the back."
