Chapter 1441

Chelsea did not know what was good about Jessica that bewitched her brother. His son almost got into an accident because of Jessica. His ex-wife was injured too. However, he was still partial to Jessica.

Chelsea was greatly dissatisfied with her brother.

She felt guilty too.

It would have been nice if her brother and Liberty were not divorced.

Chelsea made mistakes in the past and was trying to correct them for her brother and Liberty to remarry.

“Just be straightforward, Jessica. There’s no need to beat around the bush. I don’t like talking to people who go in circles, wanting me to guess their thoughts.”

Serenity could more or less guess Chelsea’s intentions from her expression.

The Browns simply wanted Hank and her sister to remarry.

It was ridiculous.

What did they take her sister for to be at their beck and call?

The Browns would never have regretted it if Hank had not been in a dire situation.

“Serenity, I like your frankness. I’ll be honest. Is Mr. Lewis pursuing your sister? I rushed here to visit your sister late that night she got hurt, and I saw Mr. Lewis waiting outside the ICU.

“He was watching over your sister! I’m experienced, and I have three children. I can see that Mr. Lewis treats your sister differently. He definitely likes your sister and wants to woo her, right? I knew it. There was an ulterior motive behind his treating Sonny so well.

“He wants to be Sonny’s stepfather! But Sonny has a biological father who’s not ignoring and still raising him. Sonny doesn’t need a stepfather!

“Serenity, I think it’s better for your sister to be with Hank. They’ve known each other for over ten years. They knew each other well. Although there had been unhappy moments, Hank knows his mistake now. He’ll change. We’ll be on your sister’s side as well. Things won’t be the same as before

“Most importantly, this is for Sonny. If Liberty and Hank reconcile, their family of three can be together again. It’s the best for Sonny’s growth. Serenity, your sister listens to you the most. Please persuade your sister not to consider Mr. Lewis anymore. Those wealthy men are flirty. Who knows whether he’s toying with your sister’s heart?”

Gerenity had guessed Chelsea’s intentions, but she did not expect Chelsea to actually say it.

Well, Chelsea had always been shameless. Her attitude toward Serenity transformed a lot after she rescued Lycas, but her true nature remained unchanged.

A leopard could not change its spots.

It was only Chelsea and Mrs. Brown, the mother-daughter pair, who dared to persistently pester Liberty.

Even if they were scolded badly, they still did the same.

Moving toward a set goal without wavering was probably the biggest merit Chelsea and her mother had.

“Chelsea.”

Serenity said sternly, “I don’t want to repeat myself again. I’ve said it enough. My sister has freedom now. It’s her choice to choose whether to get married again and who she wants to marry. I’ll respect my sister no matter what choice she makes.”

“However, my sister can’t remarry Hank! A sensible person won’t repeat their mistakes. I think sister is sensible. She won’t go back to her old lover. Besides, I feel like Hank still wishes to spend my his life with Jessica. Don’t think I didn’t notice the hesitation Hank had whenever you guys came. He was simply stopped by you guys.”

“Why did he hesitate to speak? He must’ve wanted to beg for forgiveness in Jessica’s stead. He wants to get my sister to forgive Jessica so that she can get a lenient sentence. My sister was injured and almost lost her life. Sonny nearly fell into the hands of bad people too. Hank can disregard my sister’s life, but Sonny is his biological son.”

Chapter 1442

“Hank’s still thinking of begging for mercy for Jessica’s sake, and his heart is on Jessica. He might’ve felt regret, but he would never mourn divorcing my sister. My sister doesn't regret divorcing him too. Chelsea, I advise you not to look for my sister or me for this matter anymore."

After speaking, Serenity did not give Chelsea a chance to talk and left her behind. She walked toward Zachary, who was waiting for her at the door of the ward, without turning her head back.

Zachary could not hear their conversation. When he saw his beloved wife's dark expression, he knew that the chat did not go well.

"Seren, should we make her leave?"

"Not this time," Serenity replied. Then, she told the bodyguards, "If the Browns come again in the future, chase them away. Don't let them see my sister or Sonny before my sister recovers."

After recovering, Liberty would continue running All You Can Eat and be back in business. She would not be able to keep the Browns out. That family was shameless. They would go to the breakfast diner every day and make a fuss. It would significantly impact the business at All You Can Eat.

The Browns were pretty scared of Zachary at first. However, they noticed that Zachary was cold yet reasonable. Aside from making Hank lose his job, he had never done anything overboard to the Browns.

Therefore, the Browns were not that afraid anymore. They would simply avoid Zachary's men and pester Liberty.

The Brown family was relieved to have handed Sonny's custody rights to Liberty back then.

No matter how shameless they were, they were still Sonny's biological father, grandparents, and aunt.

Serenity, who wished to make the Browns miserable, would have to take it easy on them for Sonny's sake.

"Yes, Missus."

In fact, the bodyguards had always kept the Browns outside the ward every time they came. Unless Liberty was willing to meet her ex-husband, it was useless for the Brown family to come. every day

After Serenity instructed the bodyguards, Zachary held her waist and left with her.

“What did that woman say to you that your expression looks so bad?” Zachary asked out of concern as they walked.

“What else? Their family consists of shameless people willing to embarrass themselves to achieve their aim. They’re still fixated on one thing. They are flustered seeing Mr Lewis was concerned about my sister and trying their best to stop them from getting together

“What right do they have to stop them? Do they think Hank is the best guy in the world? My sister won’t remarry Hank even if all the men in the world die. They even used Sonny to negotiate. After the accident, Hank’s concern toward Sonny didn’t even last for two days.”

Serenity added angrily, “Some people say that little devils are hard to deal with. The Browns are exactly that. They’re such difficult people.

“Let other devils go up against their kind

Zachary soothed his wife and offered a solution. He said, “Back then, the Brown family used your granddad and the others to stop your sister from getting a divorce. We can use them to deal with the Browns too

“Those people will be fighting against themselves while we enjoy the show and peace”

Serenity said, “This is a good idea. We can use my grandparents, but not my cousins. Noah will be useful too. That kid is afraid of me because I beat him up. He won’t dare disobey my instructions”

Noah truly did not want to be remembered by Serenity.

He was scared because of her punches.

Chapter 1443

Upon exiting the inpatient department and getting into Zachary’s car, Serenity took her phone and removed her granddad’s number from her list of blocked contacts. Next, she called him.

She rarely got in touch with her extended family ever since she solved the problem of her old house.

After experiencing Serenity’s ferocity first-hand, her extended family, who had always been aiming to gain benefits through her, ceased to take advantage of her anymore.

They had numbers, but all the people around Serenity were wealthy and powerful—they stood no chance.

Additionally, Old Mr. and Mrs. Hunt were hurt by their children's and grandchildren's attitudes toward their elderly care. They suddenly did not want to make a fuss anymore.

In the past, Old Mr. and Mrs. Hunt treated Serenity and Liberty heartlessly. They took so much of the sisters' compensation and used it all to support their other children. It was so that their children would have money to start a family. Every family ended up living a good life.

Even if the grandchildren had hit rock bottom at times and could no longer stay in Wiltspoon, they could still do something when they returned to the town.

Old Mr. and Mrs. Hunt's children and grandchildren had a generous amount of savings too. However, when Old Mrs. Hunt was sick and needed the children to pay her hospital bills, they were stingy and even fought over it.

Old Mr. Hunt felt they had taken care of their children and grandchildren wholeheartedly, but it was taken for granted. He and his wife got very little in return. Their grandchildren even said that Old Mr. Hunt only raised their fathers and not them, so there was no need to look for them for elderly care.

Nevertheless, his grandchildren still wanted a share of his fortune.

Those words made Old Mr. Hunt disappointed.

He no longer wanted to be instigated by their children and grandchildren to treat Serenity and Liberty meanly

He was worried that he would have to count on Serenity and Liberty to bury him and his wife in the end

As a result, the Hunts stayed still and did not disturb Serenity anymore

Sid Mr Hunt was surprised and slightly delighted when he received Serenity's call

he fed the family the between a grandparent and grandchild could never be truly broken as the itant far stood and flowed in Serenity

There are when he spoke. What made you call me? Are you coming barito gurost that day Graforgot that you guys had your parents graves reluated to the cemetery."

After solving the housing issue, Serenity and Liberty found the location of their parents' graves through Noah. They returned to the city immediately and chose a spot in the cemetery for their parents. Then, they picked a suitable date for the relocation.

It was more convenient for the sisters to pay their respects, and they did not have to worry about their extended family stopping them.

It could not have been achieved without Zachary's help.

Serenity had always felt as if she married a super-husband. No matter what difficulties she faced, he could solve it all for her as long as she told him about it.

"Granddad, I need Grandmom's and your help for something. It's best to get Noah on board too

Serenity did not continue the conversation about "that day". It was an unpleasant memory.

Serenity and Liberty, along with Mrs. Stone, were able to visit their parents' graves anytime they wished now, unlike before.

In the past, even if they wanted to pay their respects, they did not even know where their relatives had relocated their parents' graves.

"What's the matter? Tell me. We'll definitely help if we can."

Chapter 1444

Serenity's words pleased Old Mr Hunt because she was willing to come to them for help when she had a problem.

"My sister got into an accident and was injured."

"What accident? How's her injury? How did she get hurt? Did it happen a week ago? Mike and John had asked whether you contacted me during those few days. They refused to say anything. when I asked them what they wanted."

Old Mr. Hunt never paid attention to the internet, so he did not know Liberty was injured.

The younger generation in the family knew, but no one told Old Mr. and Mrs. Hunt.

People of the town did not talk about it either. They thought things were awkward between the Hunt sisters and their grandparents. If Old Mr. and Mrs. Hunt were to know that Liberty was hurt, they probably would be delighted. Therefore, no one in the town informed him.

“It happened a week ago. Liberty is recovering well, but her previous in-laws keep pestering her. They want her to remarry her ex-husband. However, my sister was hurt because of her ex-husband’s new wife’s actions. My sister and I want nothing to do with them anymore.”

Serenity gave a summary.

After listening, Old Mr. Hunt scolded the Browns.

There was a conflict between him and Mrs. Brown. He did not finish the mission Mrs. Brown assigned him even though he had accepted tens of thousands of dollars from her. She wanted the money back, but no one could take the money that had entered his pockets.

Therefore, Old Mr. Hunt and Mrs. Brown bore grudges against each other.

“I heard your sister opened a breakfast diner, and its business is booming. There’s so much profit every day, and you’ve married into a wealthy family. You two also have a rich aunt. The Browns must’ve seen your sister’s capabilities and benefits. That’s why they want your sister to remarry. How shameless. That family has no shame!

“Serenity, what do your grandmom and I need to do?”

Serenity did not talk about it right away. Instead, she asked, “Granddad, how are you and Grandmom doing lately? Do they give you any living allowance or food allowance?”

Old Mrs. Hunt had undergone major surgery. To Serenity, it was a given that Old Mrs. Hunt’s children should have provided their old mother with some allowance.

Don’t even talk about it. I’ve finally seen through everything. They acted filial when it benefited them and called me ‘Dad’ when there was nothing in it for them, they would call me ‘old man’ or ‘old fart’ and not even address me as ‘Dad’ anymore.”

It was Sid Mr. Hunt’s first time admitting it to Serenity. In the end, your parents were the best. When they were still around, they got worried whenever your grandmom or I felt unwell. They’d bring us to the doctor and take care of us well.

“Serenity, it’s normal that you and Liberty hate me ... Hah!”

After having experienced so many things, Old Mr. Hunt was old. He had no choice but to admit that the third son he disliked the most was the filial son.

“They’ll pay me the rent every month. Let’s do it this way. I’ll transfer the rent they pay me to you, as Grandmom’s and your allowance from now on.” Serenity had requested her uncles to pay her rent for the house Old Mr. and Mrs. Hunt were living in. It was only a little over a thousand dollars per month.

Serenity and Liberty did not care about money. They simply wanted justice.

“Serenity, you need your grandmom and me to attack the Browns verbally, right? Okay. Leaving it to us will be perfect. You don’t have to pay us money. Of course, I’ll accept it happily if you’re willing to give me.”

If the rent was used as Old Mr. and Mrs. Hunt’s allowance, they could save their pension and spend it slowly.

Old Mr. Hunt got more eager as there was something in it for him.

“You just have to ensure the Browns stop pestering my sister and disturbing her peaceful life, Granddad.”

“Okay. I know what to do. Your grandmom and I do this best.”

Serenity mocked inwardly, ‘It seems like Granddad has some self-awareness.’

Chapter 1445

After ending the call with her granddad, Serenity held the phone in her hand and said to Zachary, “I got external help to go against the Browns and return my sister peace according to your suggestion, but I don’t know how things will turn out

“We’ll find out after some time I think the effect will be great”

Zachary was confident in his idea.

“Seren, you don’t have to be so worried. We should think now about what dress and jewelry you’ll wear tonight”

Serenity glanced at him. “You sound like you want to steal everyone’s attention away from Mr. Bucham.”

Zachary said smugly, “I don’t even have to steal. I’m in the limelight in every venue I appear in, and I make Josh pale in comparison.”

Serenity was speechless.

He was confident that he could beat Josh, but she had no intentions of taking the spotlight away from her best friend.

She smiled and said, "My dresses are the ones you or Aunt Audrey bought. I've only worn the dresses I purchased several times. Will I have the chance to wear the dresses I bought myself to events where I'm accompanying you?"

Serenity gave the bossy man a sidelong glance. She said, "The weather's turning hot nowadays. Don't make me wear overly conservative dresses. It's hot."

The dresses Zachary gave her were never revealing.

However, some were very conservative and better worn during winter or spring. It was already April, and Wiltspoon's daytime was getting scorching hot. She would feel stuffy if she wore a winter dress.

Zachary chuckled.

"I'll let you choose tonight."

Just as Serenity mentioned, the dresses he gave her were not revealing. She could wear any one of them as long as it was one that he gave to her.

"It's still early. You can get some rest after returning home. I'll wake you up in the evening."

Zachary looked at the dark circles underneath her eyes worriedly.

Serenity leaned against his shoulder and yawned. She said, "Let's rest together. You're more exhausted than I am."

He had to go to work to handle official business and stay up at night in the hospital with her. It was more tiring for him.

Zachary said dotingly, "Okay"

Serenity closed her eyes to rest and did not say anything more.

They leaned into each other's embrace in silence, surrounded by happiness.

Upon rousing from her sleep in the evening, Serenity heard that her in-laws had come again.

She did not dare sleep in and quickly got up. She went downstairs after washing up.

"Dad, Mom."

They were chatting with Zachary casually in the living room. Serenity greeted them and sat down beside her man.

Tania saw that Serenity had not changed into her dress. She smiled and said, "Why haven't you changed into your dress, Serenity?"

"I just woke up." Serenity chuckled embarrassedly.

She just wanted to take a short nap.

However, she did not expect to wake up at that hour

She was truly exhausted these days.

Since her sister had gotten a lot better, Serenity could sleep soundly

One day after Liberty had regained consciousness, she told Serenity that she saw their parents when she was unconscious, and that it was their parents who pushed her back.

Serenity teared up upon hearing those words.

She thought, 'If it weren't for Mom and Dad pushing her back, I would've really lost her.' She felt a lingering fear thinking about it.

Chapter 1446

Serenity had not been able to sleep well for several consecutive days after Liberty mentioned that to her Every time she woke up with a start at midnight, she would surreptitiously grope her way to Liberty's bed. She would stretch out her hand to check Liberty's breathing. Not until she confirmed that Liberty was still alive would she feel at ease

Having lost both her parents at a young age, Serenity experienced the pain of losing her loved ones. Therefore, she feared losing her only sister

"Let's go. I'm taking you upstairs to get changed."

The Yorks and the Buchams were on friendly terms. Now that Josh got engaged, Tania would certainly do the Buchams the honor of attending Josh's engagement party. What was more, Tania's relatives and the Buchams had close relationships. Tania's relatives would also make an appearance tonight.

Serenity rose to her feet gently and walked upstairs with Tania.

Soon, Serenity had changed into a gown. She put on light makeup and a pair of high heels. She brought along the engagement gift she had prepared for her best friend before heading downstairs with Tania.

Liam and Zachary were waiting for Serenity and Tania in the dining room.

Seeing Serenity and Tania walk down the stairs, Liam and Zachary greeted their beloved wives respectively.

Zachary said, "Seren, go and eat something to fill your stomach first."

At noon, Serenity hardly ate anything.

She could not possibly eat to her heart's content at the Buchams' place.

Zachary was worried that Serenity was starving.

Serenity had long since felt hungry, but she was too shy to say it. Coincidentally, Zachary was thoughtful enough to let her fill her stomach first.

The four of them were ready to leave the house. On the other hand, Callum was still pestering Camryn to visit the Buchams with him.

"Camryn, I've helped you quite a lot. I'm asking a favor from you now, yet you turned me down. How disloyal of you."

Callum stuck to Camryn like glue.

Camryn was watering some plants.

As she listened to Callum's grumbles, Camryn stopped in her tracks. She turned around and faced Callum before she said nonchalantly. "I'm very thankful for your help. Mr. Callum I always treated you to a meal as a token of appreciation after receiving your help. We don't owe each other now. I can't attend social gatherings with you. This is what your girlfriend or wife should do."

Callum looked at her and said, "Your eldest uncle asked me to bear a responsibility toward you. To me, you're my girlfriend."

Camryn was speechless.

After pausing for a moment, she replied, "Mr Callum, everyone has been sitting in judgment over me ever since I sued my uncle. How will others see you when you take me to the Buchams' place? I don't mind being criticized, but I don't want you to go through the same thing."

“You place righteousness above family loyalty to take revenge on your dad’s behalf, so why will they sit in judgment over you? You don’t have to be bothered about what your elder aunts say They side with your uncle!

After Camryn sued her biological mother and uncle for killing her father twenty years ago, two of Mr Newman’s sisters came over to chew her out. If it had not been for Callum’s presence, Camryn’s two elder aunts would have destroyed Spring Blossoms.

Camryn’s youngest aunt was the only one taking her side.

However, her youngest aunt was very concerned about her.

The police had investigated Camryn’s eldest uncle, and he was very likely to be sentenced. Even so, he would be sentenced for committing other offenses with her biological mother instead of the murder of her biological father.

Currently, there was no evidence in support of her uncle’s murder of her biological father. Her recording might not be convincing enough.

Mr. Newman hired the best lawyer in Wiltspoon for himself and Camryn’s mother.

Camryn’s youngest aunt was worried that Camryn would lose her foothold in Wiltspoon.

Although Camryn did not do anything wrong, her two elder aunts would not let her off.

They were married to families in Wiltspoon who were quite well off. Recently, her aunts had been spreading rumors and badmouthing her.

This affected the Camryn’s flower shop business.

Instead of buying flowers, most of the customers visited her flower shop lately to see what Camryn, who placed righteousness above family loyalty, looked like.

Chapter 1447

“I’m sorry, Mr. Callum ”

Camryn still turned Callum down.

Callum took the watering can from her hand Then, he dragged her to the counter and sat down He said, “Camryn, please sit down. I have something to tell you.”

“What’s the matter?”

Callum noticed that the two store workers were out delivering flowers to customers. In fact, he purposely called to order two bouquets of flowers to send them away.

Due to her two elder aunts, the business of Spring Blossoms had gone downhill.

“You’ve always wanted to know why I approached and helped you, right?”

While facing Callum, Camryn kept quiet.

As much as she wanted to know, she would not be able to fish for his answer if he was silent on it. She remained baffled.

When he first appeared in her flower shop, she was sure that it was their first time meeting each other.

“After the new year, Nana sent me two photos. One is for me, whereas the other is for Kevin. The one I have is a photo of you.”

Camryn was dumbfounded.

Since when did Old Mrs. York have her photo?

Old Mrs. York even passed Camryn’s photo to Callum. What did this signify?

Camryn tried her best to recall, yet she could not think back to when she had met Old Mrs. York.

She was invisible among the Newmans, whereas Old Mrs. York was the head of the Yorks. Not only did Old Mrs. York hold the highest position in the family, but she was also well-liked in Wiltspoon.

Camryn and Old Mrs. York had nothing to do with each other.

After making that remark, Callum did not continue.

After a while, Camryn could not help but ask, “Mr. Callum, how did Old Mrs. York get my photo? She passed it to you, and what does that mean?”

He did not make his words definite, fuelling her curiosity.

This man treated her very well, but sometimes, he could be nasty.

“Take a guess.”

“I can’t ”

Camryn said honestly, “I need you to clear my doubt, Mr Callum.”

Callum extended his hand to remove her glasses and said, “You put on such a big pair of glasses when your face is small. It has nearly covered your entire face. You look good without glasses.

“Camryn, just call me Callum from now on.”

Camryn fumbled around to get back her glasses from him as she was used to wearing them.

Callum dodged her hand and gently placed the pair of glasses on the edge of the counter so that she could not reach it.

He even spread his hands. When she fumbled around, she touched his hand.

The moment Camryn touched his hand, she quickly withdrew her hand.

“Camryn, I felt ticklish when you touched me.”

“Mr. Callum, it was because I touched your hand by accident!”

Callum’s wording was flirty.

Camryn was no fool. She just did not want to face it.

Chapter 1448

“Nana said the girl in the photo would be the future wife she has chosen for me She wants me to marry the girl in the photo within one year, or she’ll kick me out of the house”

Camryn was at a loss for words.

Why would this turn out to be the answer?

How could Old Mrs. York possibly make Camryn the wife of Callum?

Camryn was blind.

"It's April now There are still several more months for me to pursue you. Let's do it step by step We'll get into a relationship, followed by engagement and marriage That's it Oh, no, I actually don't have to worry about being kicked out of the house No, it's. I don't know how to say it now He felt that whatever he said would make Camryn feel as though he simply wanted to complete his mission.

Callum admitted that he approached Camryn with the aim of completing his mission However, when he got along with Camryn, he found her quite nice. Whenever he tricked her, she would look angry and helpless.

After Mrs. Newman was arrested and Mr. Newman was investigated, Camryn could actually settle the Newmans' business outside the city through phone calls.

If Callum had not heard Camryn make the phone calls, he would not believe that the blind girl had secretly prepared for it. At that moment, it hit Callum that he did not know the blind girl well enough.

He wanted to have a deep understanding of her

"Camryn, when I first came to meet you, I already treated you as my wife."

Camryn was speechless.

"Regardless of whether you find it surprising or unbelievable, Nana has always acted. incredulously Anyhow, I've already treated you as my wife, so I'll pursue you. After you fall in love with me, we'll get engaged and have a wedding. There are eight more months before the new year I suppose we can make it in time."

If possible, he wanted to have a child within one year. In that respect, his life would be perfect.

Worried that Camryn would drive him out, Callum did not dare express that intention.

The girl could garner an explosive temper when she got angry.

Never in Camryn's wildest dreams did she think that Callum's sudden appearance in her life was Old Mrs York's order

More unbelievably Old Mrs York had asked Callum to pursue Camryn and marry her

Eve brought the evening gown, which is in my car I'll bring it to the shop and you can change it

With that, Callum leaped to his feet and walked away.

Before Camryn could recover from her musings, he had already walked out of the flower shop. Soon, an evening gown was placed in front of Camryn.

Callum looked at Camryn with a burning gaze and said, "When you attended the Marshalls' banquet the other day, you looked stunning in the evening gown. But that night, you didn't wear the gown for my sake.

"Tonight, I hope you'll do it for me and accompany me to attend Josh's engagement party.

"Although it's an engagement party, it's a grand one. Besides the big shots in Wiltspoon who'll bring their wives along, big shots from other cities will be attending the party as well. The Newmans' business is mostly outside the city. You'll need to socialize after you take over Newman Enterprise."

Callum's last sentence was meant to lure her.

After Callum heard that Camryn could handle Newman Enterprise's business through phone calls, he understood her underlying motive for her decade long forbearance. Not only did she want to find out the actual cause of her father's death, but she also wanted to take control of Newman Enterprise.

He had no idea when Camryn started to have a hand in Newman Enterprise. Given that she was a blind florist, how could she get the people in Newman Enterprise to trust and obey her?

There were too many secrets and stories about her.

He had been under the impression that there was something wrong with Nana's taste.

There was nothing wrong with Nana's taste. In fact, he was too superficial and did not know Camryn well enough.

"You're good friends with my eldest sister-in-law. Ms. Sox is her best friend. Considering that you're Ms. Sox's acquaintance, don't you want to send your regards to Ms. Sox?"

Camryn stayed quiet for a long time. At last, she stretched out her hand, which landed on the evening gown in front of her.

Chapter 1449

At the Buchams, Zachary's exclusive cars came early.

Zachary was Josh's good buddy and boss. He was also Josh and Jasmine's matchmaker. Of course, Zachary and his wife arrived early.

The Bucham and Sox elders were present.

Seeing Liam and Tania get out of the car, the Bucham and Sox elders went to greet them first, followed by Josh and Jasmine.

As Liam and Tania did not know Jasmine's parents, Josh's parents introduced Jasmine's parents to Tania.

After shaking each other's hands and making small talk, Mrs Sox stared at Tania and said with a smile, "Mrs. York looks like Zachary's sister. She has such a youthful appearance"

After getting out of the car, Serenity walked over and overheard Mrs Sox's words. She laughed and added, "Exactly. When I shopped around with my mom, other people thought we were sisters."

Tania grinned and replied, "Both of you know how to make me happy"

Mrs. Sox said, "Mrs. York, we're not trying to make you happy. We're telling the truth. As someone who watched Serenity grow up, I know she's an honest person. What she's saying is true"

Serenity and Jasmine were best friends. Mrs. Sox usually took good care of Serenity. Whenever there was good food in the house, Mrs. Sox would ask Serenity to come over for a meal or get Jasmine to take the food to the shop for Serenity.

With this mere point, Tania was ready to show respect for Mrs. Sox.

She had a hearty conversation with Mrs. Sox.

Mrs. Bucham welcomed everyone into the house.

Serenity finally found time to have a private conversation with her best friend.

"Is Liberty getting better?"

Jasmine first asked about Liberty's condition.

She had been busy with her engagement. All she did was call Liberty to ask about her condition in the past two days. She did not visit Liberty in the hospital.

“She’s recovering well. She’ll be discharged after a week to rest at home. My sister asked me to bring you this engagement gift. She hopes that you and Mr. Bucham stay sweet and live happily ever after till a ripe old age.”

Jasmine smiled and said, “Help me thank Liberty. Josh and I will stay sweet until we’re old. Why didn’t you bring Sonny over?”

“I was thinking about bringing Sonny over, but my sister didn’t allow it. She said Sonny would be like a mobile third wheel Sonny was angry about it, saying that he was Sonny, not a third wheel

At the mention of her cute nephew, Serenity could not stop laughing.

That kid hated being called a third wheel the most.

When Zachary called Sonny a third wheel last time, Sonny was mad. Sonny emphasized that he was not a third wheel but Sonny Brown!

Jasmine was amused.

Zachary and Josh walked over.

“Honey.”

The two men addressed their wives as ‘honey’.

Since Josh and her engagement party was already being held, Jasmine did not mind being called ‘honey’.

“Seren, I’ll serve the guests first.” As the main character tonight, Jasmine needed to attend to every guest.

“Alright, go ahead. We’ll continue with our talk next time.”

Jasmine walked toward Josh. She hooked her hand around his arm and walked out of the villa to welcome the guests.

Zachary walked up to Serenity and said softly, “Let me stroll around the Buchams’ villa with you. Once all the guests show up, we’ll have to speak on stage since we’re the matchmakers.”

Serenity asked, “Both of us have to speak on stage, huh?”

“We’re both their matchmakers.”

Serenity hooked her hand around Zachary's arm. "Okay. This will be the chance for me to express my wishes for my best friend."

Chapter 1450

*Josh and Ms. Sox will live happily just like we do."

The elders of the two families were extremely grateful to Zachary and his wife

The Buchams felt that even though Zachary was married, he even helped his good buddy by introducing Jasmine to Josh. He had such a strong sense of honor toward Josh.

The Soxes felt the same.

The Bucham elders were content with Jasmine Now that the Sox elders had their son-in-law, Drake had to get out of the way, let alone Jasmine If Jasmine criticized Josh in front of her parents, her parents would glare at her Jasmine always grumbled about it in front of Josh. Ever since she got together with Josh, her parents seemed to have become his parents.

Josh was smug about it

The guests who came to attend the engagement party drove here However, a few guests were an exception as they came by private jet The private jet landed on the ramp that belonged to the head of the Bucham household.

Out of curiosity, Serenity asked the man beside her, "Do you know the guests who came by private jet?"

"If I'm not mistaken, it should be the Queens from Jensburg. All the other guests the Buchams invited have arrived regardless of whether they're from Wiltspoon or other cities. The Queens from Jensburg are the only ones who haven't turned up

The Queens were wealthy, so it was unsurprising that they had a private jet

Zachary had his own private jet and luxury yacht as well.

"The Queens from Jensburg? Is it Hayden Queen's family?"

To Serenity, it was a regret that Old Mrs. York did not bring her along to Jensburg. Therefore, Serenity did not get to watch any good shows. She did not expect the Queens from Jensburg to send some people to attend Josh's engagement party and convey their wishes.

It was undeniable that the Buchams were well-connected.

Many guests from other regions were big shots who were rich and powerful.

No wonder Josh could manage any task that Zachary assigned to him no matter how difficult it was. It was all because of the Buchams' powerful connections.

"Yes"

Zachary gently tapped his wife's pretty nose and said with an indulgent smile, "Later, I'll introduce Mr Queen to you so that both of you can get along and bond with each other.

"Hayden has been pretending to be a man for over 20 years She's cold and distant, so she might not be nice to get along with."

Serenity said with confidence, "I firmly believe that I can socialize well. I can make friends with anyone. Since Callum has started to pursue Camryn, what I'm most interested in now is Kevin and Hayden's relationship."

In Jensburg, very few people knew that Mr. Queen was a woman.

If someone suspected that Mr. Queen was not a man, Hayden would ask her twin brother, Hugh, to make an appearance. They both looked very much alike. Those who did not know them would not be able to distinguish between the two. They would think that Hugh was Hayden.

Serenity wanted to know how Kevin would make Hayden admit that she was a woman.

"But babe, if Hayden shows up as a man, will other people misunderstand us when I approach. her?"

Serenity was aware that Hayden was a woman, but the rest was not

If she made small talk with Hayden, other people would gossip about them.

Zachary was speechless.

He neglected this point.

"Babe, will you be jealous if others gossip about Hayden and me?"

Zachary darted a deep glance at her and asked, "What do you think?"

Serenity chuckled. She quickly hooked her arm around his and said gently, "I love you most No. one treats me better than you do."

Zachary often succumbed to the green-eyed monster. As long as Hayden continued pretending to be a man, Serenity had to keep a distance from her. Otherwise, she would be gossiped about and Zachary would become jealous.

Even though Zachary knew that Hayden was a woman, she looked exactly like a man. Thus, he could not guarantee that he would not feel jealous.

As Serenity and Jasmine were good friends, Zachary would sometimes blame Jasmine for distracting Serenity's attention from him.
