Married at First Sight Chapter 1591—Liberty was busy until after nine o'clock in the morning. As the number of people eating breakfast reduced, she was able to relax.

Lily chose to enter the diner when Liberty was free.

Seeing her come in, Liberty froze for a moment before she showed a polite smile. "Ms. Harmon."

"Ms. Hunt, you're not busy anymore, right?"

"I'm not busy now, but I'm ready to pack up and close the store. Ms. Harmon, what can I do for you?" Liberty and Lily did not interact much.

Seeing Lily, Liberty thought that it must be because of Duncan.

"Nothing much. I went to Lewis & Co. to sign a contract with Duncan and happened to pass by, so I came in to have a look. How's your business going?"

Liberty smiled. "It's alright. I can still earn some after paying off the rent and workers' wages."

"You make a really good breakfast. Duncan said that he likes to come over for breakfast. Take your time. You'll get better and start earning more in the future."

Making breakfast was hard work because one had to get up early.

Liberty asked Lily to sit down.

She poured Lily a glass of warm water.

Liberty was dressed in ordinary clothes and an apron. She looked like a housewife. Meanwhile, Lily was wearing a women's suit that made her look smart and capable. Liberty could tell at a glance that Lily was a woman with a successful career. This was in stark contrast with her.

Liberty almost felt inferior to Lily.

"Thanks."

When Liberty put the cup of warm water in front of Lily, Lily thanked her with a smile.

After Liberty sat down, Lily looked at her.

Liberty did not put on makeup, but her skin was great.

After all, Liberty's younger sister married into a wealthy family. Liberty also had an aunt who was the matron of a wealthy family, so Liberty would not be short of good skin care products.

Moreover, Liberty was not too old and was one or two years older than Lily.

Lily felt that Liberty had an honest look that made people feel at ease.

Her smile was also soothing.

Duncan said that he wanted to have a wife and a cozy home. He did not need a business partner.

Perhaps, this was why Duncan liked Liberty.

"I'm leaving Wiltspoon soon."

Lily spoke first

Liberty asked her, "Ms. Harmon, you're going back?"

"Yeah. In fact, I've already left Wiltspoon. I only came back yesterday because I have to re-sign a contract with Duncan today. After signing the contract, I'll have to go back. I have too many things to deal with."

Liberty said, "Oh."

Lily was the vice president of Harmon Corporation. She relied on her own capabilities to climb up the corporate ladder to take this position.

She was a strong and independent career woman.

During her time in Wiltspoon, apart from accompanying Mrs. Lewis and seemingly pursuing Duncan, Lily did not neglect her job. She negotiated a lot of business deals in Wiltspoon, and almost all of them were successful. Her company signed with many big businesses and cooperated with many powerful companies in Wiltspoon.

"Duncan is sincere about you," Lily said suddenly.

Liberty looked at her and did not speak.

She knew that Duncan was sincere with her because a man like him would not fool around with women.

Not to mention, Liberty was Zachary's sister-in-law. Duncan and Zachary were best friends, so Duncan would not dare fool around with Liberty either.

“Mrs. Lewis can’t accept you not because you’re not good enough. She’s just... But Duncan is very persistent. Liberty, you’re a good woman. Although you’ve had a failed marriage, not all men are sc* mbags. You ought to consider Duncan.

“I’m a proud person, and I think that he’s a good man. But unfortunately, he only has eyes for you.”

Married at First Sight Chapter 1592—Liberty listened to Lily’s words and suspected that Duncan used the contract with Lily as leverage to make Lily come to her and put in a good word for him.

Lily seemed to have read Liberty’s thoughts and smiled. “Duncan didn’t ask me to come here to persuade you. I just found out that Duncan kept getting rejected by you, so I couldn’t help but put in a good word for him.”

“Ms. Harmon, I only consider Mr. Lewis as a friend.”

“Is it because Mrs. Lewis doesn’t accept you?”

“It has nothing to do with Mrs. Lewis. I truly only regard Mr. Lewis as a friend and have no other intentions.”

Mrs. Lewis was one of the reasons, but she was not the main reason.

Liberty did not accept Duncan because she did not love Duncan.

She only regarded him as a friend and did not have any feelings for him.

After Liberty divorced Hank, she vowed that she would not remarry in the short term.

After Lily thought about it, she said, “Right. If you don’t have feelings for him, it’s hard to accept their love. We shouldn’t just settle for anyone.”

This was especially true for Liberty because she had been emotionally hurt.

“Ms. Harmon, you and Mr. Lewis are a good match.”

They had similar backgrounds, and Mrs. Lewis adored Lily.

Liberty felt that Lily was the best match for Duncan.

Lily smiled and said, "Duncan and I seem to be a good match, but Duncan doesn't like me, and I have dignity. Since Duncan rejected me, I gave up on him. I don't want to be one of those pestering women."

Lily wanted to take her time to find a partner. Hopefully, she would be able to meet a man who only had eyes for her.

Liberty did not know how to respond.

She admired Lily and thought that she was just like Elisa.

They would try their best to pursue their crush, and when they find out that their crush liked someone else, they would immediately let go.

Elisa also said that she had dignity.

There was no need to compete with other women for a man.

Elisa let go of Zachary and finally found the love that really belonged to her.

Remy started to pursue Elisa passionately.

Regardless of the Stones' attitude, Remy never gave up on Elisa.

"Are you fully recovered?"

Lily changed the subject.

Liberty thanked her and replied. "I'm recovering very well, but my arms will get sore after working for a while, and the wound will start to hurt a little. When that happens, I won't be able to exert much strength on my arm."

"Ms. Hunt, you shouldn't overwork yourself. Health is more important than anything."

Liberty said, "I won't overwork myself. I'll stop and rest when I feel any discomfort."

Fortunately, Liberty only did breakfast, so she only had to work in the morning and could rest for the remainder of the day.

The two ladies chatted for a while. Lily took out a business card, handed it to Liberty, and said, "I have to rush to the airport, so I can't stay and chat. This is my business card. If you need help with anything in the future, you can contact me."

Liberty took Lily's business card with both hands and thanked her.

She got up and sent Lily out.

Lily's car was parked outside. It was not Lily's. Mrs. Lewis had lent it to her temporarily, and a driver was waiting there.

"Ms. Hunt, you don't have to send me off."

Liberty stopped in front of the car and watched Lily get into the car.

The driver started the car engine and drove Lily to the airport.

Married at First Sight Chapter 1593—Meanwhile at Wiltspoon School, Elisa parked the car, took the car keys, and walked into Serenity's bookstore.

Serenity manned the store by herself and occasionally weaved some handicrafts when she was bored.

When Elisa came in, Serenity had just finished making a bicycle.

"Why are you making these things again? Didn't you outsource it to others? You shouldn't do so much work. If you fall sick from exhaustion, Zachary will get mad and ban you from doing anything. He'll make you stay at home every day as a rich housewife. When the time comes, don't come complaining to us."

Elisa put the car keys on the cash register and sat on the stool.

She took the bicycle that Serenity just made and praised her. "Seren, I have to say that you're ingenious! You can make a model of anything!"

"I learned it before. What do you like? I'll make one for you when I'm free."

"You'd better not. I'm afraid Zachary will stare at me with those cold eyes when he finds out. If I like something, I can just buy it in your store. It'll contribute to your revenue."

After that, she put down the craft bicycle.

When Elisa came, Serenity stopped making the handicrafts and put away all the tools.

Then, she poured a cup of warm water for Elisa, washed some fruit, and brought them out.

"Seren, I want to discuss something with you," Elisa said while eating the fruit.

"What's up?"

“The vegetable farm we invested in is getting on the right track. I think we should set up a company. We should have our own offices and hire a few experienced farm supervisors to operate all the farms.

“We also need to hire a few professional managers to help us negotiate some business deals. We’ll manage the big business by ourselves and leave the small business to the professional managers.”

Serenity thought about it for a while and said, “That’s a good suggestion. We need to set up an office in my hometown. After all, our vegetable farms are all there. If it’s too far, it’ll be difficult for the staff to manage them.”

“Okay I’ll leave it to you to hire the farm supervisors. I’m completely inexperienced in farming. I’ve already asked a recruitment firm to hire a few professional managers.”

Serenity had no objections.

She said, “The team leads we have now are doing a good job. Let’s see their performance first. If they can hold a bigger responsibility, we can promote them to supervisors.

“Also, have you considered expanding further? My hometown manages a lot of small towns. We have only taken up the fields of a few towns to grow vegetables. If we want to expand our business, we can visit a few more towns and get more land”

Since they wanted to set up an agricultural company, the vegetable farms they had now were not big enough

Elise smiled and said, “Great minds think alike!”

The two ladies made a small profit

They had many partners, and the vegetables on the farm were planted in batches so that they could be shipped every day without worrying about sales.

Elisa had always lived a good life without worrying about having enough to eat, but she had never earned a penny. Now that she could make money by herself, she felt energized.

“Let’s go back to my hometown next week and rent a space for our office there.”

“I saw a lot of empty plots of land in your hometown. Let’s see if we can buy a plot of land and build a place by ourselves. Although the capital is high, it’ll be worth it in the long run. If we rent a space, the rental will keep increasing, and we’ll spend the same amount overall.”

Elisa had a lot of money, so she did not want to rent an office space.

Married at First Sight Chapter 1594—Serenity said, “It takes time to buy land and build a house. Let’s rent an office space first. Then we can buy a plot of land and build one when we find one to our liking.”

“Sure.”

Elisa then asked, “We should inform Jasmine about this too. Do you want to send her a message, or should I?”

Before Serenity could answer, Elisa laughed and said, “You should tell her. You and Jasmine have been friends for more than ten years. Even if you interrupt her honeymoon with Josh, Josh wouldn’t dare do anything to you.”

Serenity also laughed. “Okay. I’ll call and talk to her tonight.”

“I see Jasmine’s posts every day and feel so envious,” Elisa said.

“I’m also envious. Zachary said that he’ll also take me somewhere for our honeymoon after our wedding.”

“I’m so tired of feeling envious. I get stabbed every day being friends with you and Jasmine.”

Serenity laughed. “You’re not that far from happiness. Remy sends you flowers every day. He even sent you a love letter. My husband didn’t even leave me a note, let alone a love letter.”

At the mention of Remy, Elisa’s smile deepened a little. However, she thought about something and became dispirited again.

“My family doesn’t agree with me dating Remy. Seren, I don’t want to hide in front of you. I do have feelings for Remy. We get along very well, and being with him makes me happier than ever.

“But whenever my mother sees Remy, she looks so displeased. It’s obvious that she dislikes him. Only Remy would still keep a good attitude whereas other men might not dare approach me anymore.”

Elisa sighed. “Because of my family’s attitude, I’m confused and don’t know whether to reciprocate Remy’s feelings.”

Serenity looked at her and said, "Aunt Audrey only disagrees because Remy's hometown is too far away. She likes Remy as a person. She also likes the Johnsons."

"I know it's far away, but Remy has been working in Wiltspoon for a long time. If I'm with him, I'll stay in Wiltspoon more often. My mother said that she'll only agree to us being together if Remy marries into my family and becomes a permanent resident in Wiltspoon."

"Remy is willing, but I don't want him to marry into my family. I already have two older brothers. If Remy marries into my family, we'll be criticized."

Elisa had feelings for Remy. If he considered what was best for her, she had to think for him too.

She did not want him to sacrifice so much for her.

"Oh, well. We'll just take our time. My mother will agree to it one day. If she doesn't, Remy and I will just continue to date forever and not get married. That way, she'll start to panic."

Serenity comforted her "Aunt Audrey will agree. After all, Remy's a good man, and he's a good match for you. Many ladies want to marry the sons of the Johnson family in Annenburg."

"I know That's why I cherish him, and I don't want to give up easily."

Back when Elisa used to like Zachary, no one supported her, and she persisted for several years.

Now, she and Remy liked each other. It was rare for people like them to have a similar background and love each other. Elisa would also not give up because of her family's objections.

She had to fight for her own happiness.

"All the best! I'm waiting for your wedding invitation!"

"Mine won't be so soon, but yours is!"

Serenity laughed.

Her wedding was coming soon.

"Are you free later? Let's have lunch together."

"Remy didn't ask you out for lunch?" Serenity jokingly asked.
