

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1745

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1745 -Zachary kissed Serenity on the face, and said softly: "Honey, don't worry, your husband, I will always love you, and I am tired after taking care of Sonny for half a day, let's take a rest first."

Considering that Zachary was very busy in the afternoon, Serenity accompanied him for a lunch break.

Only half an hour after she fell asleep, Zachary got up to work.

With his beloved wife around, Zachary was in a good mood and was very dedicated to work.

Compared to the quietness of the president's office, Callum was entertaining Kevin in the vice president's office.

After Kevin accompanied his elder brother to socialize, he also returned to the company headquarters. His reason was that he hadn't returned to the headquarters for a long time to make a fuss. If he didn't make a fuss, no one would remember him as the third young master of the York family.

"Kevin, you've been sitting here for an hour, what's the matter? You just say it's defenseless, there's nothing you can't say between us brothers." Callum kept checking the time, then sat down across from Kevin and talked for an hour.

Not long ago, Callum made a phone call to Spring Blossoms, ordered a bunch of flowers, and asked Camryn to deliver them to him by name. He also told the clerk that he had no appetite at noon and couldn't eat, but he was still hungry now.

He believed the clerk would tell Camryn these words.

He waited for Camryn to bring him flowers and some food.

Camryn obviously cared about him, Serenity told him that after he went to Annenburg, Camryn asked him where he was going, and she missed him a lot, that is, she had feelings for him.

But when Callum came back and went to find Camryn, she was either busy and avoided seeing him, or she didn't pay much attention to him when she saw her.

Stubborn girl!

Sometimes, Callum really wanted to hold Camryn in his arms and punish her hard mouth severely.

Kevin stayed in his office for an hour, Callum didn't want Kevin to become a light bulb.

Kevin: "It's nothing, but I haven't chatted with brother Zachary for a long time. I want to chat with brother Zachary. I just have nothing to do in the afternoon. I will spend an afternoon with brother Zachary and have dinner together in the evening. How about we go back to the villa together?"

Callum laughed: "Do you dare to go back? Are you afraid that grandma will urge you?"

Kevin: "...Grandma has given me goals, why is she urging me? Now she is focusing on the other half of the fifth brother."

Grandma set a goal for the her fourth grandson, but the fourth grandson had always been taciturn and didn't talk much, even more silent than his elder brother before marriage. If he didn't say it, they didn't know which woman his grandma was targeting, but seeing the fourth grandson, there was no abnormality action.

Kevin's heart was itchy, and he really wanted to know what grandma's goal was for the fourth grandson. He had eaten and drank wine with the fourth brother a few times, but he didn't get a word.

He was so eloquent that the person who was the most eloquent couldn't get the words of the fourth brother. That guy was probably the one with the deepest city and the tightest mouth among the nine brothers.

Callum: "You also know that grandma gave you a goal. It's been half a year, and you haven't seen any moves. You should act like me, and act quickly. Even if you act, you may not be able to win the opponent."

Kevin said: "Brother, if you hadn't fallen in love with Ms. Newman, I would have exchanged with you. Although Ms. Newman's eyes have not been cured, she is a woman anyway, and anyone can tell at a glance that she is a woman. But who dares to say Hayden is a woman? If my grandma didn't let me pursue her, I wouldn't even know she was a woman. She is more manly than me. If I were with her, I always feel like I'm gay."

Before grandma handed him the photo, Kevin and Hayden had nothing to do with each other, so naturally he wouldn't investigate her, so he didn't know that she was actually a woman.

Like everyone else, he thought that Hayden was the young master of the Queen family and the successor of the Queen Enterprise, but he never thought that Hayden was a woman.

In Annenburg, Hayden was distinct from Miss Stoll. Casey Stoll frequently wore short hair and was wearing a unisex dress. Although Casey Stoll had never stated that she was a man, it was simple for people to assume that she was.

Everyone also knew that the Stoll family had only two daughters and no sons.

Kevin dared to say that Hayden's parents regarded her as a real man.

Callum burst out laughing.

Callum smiled and said, "Kevin, don't you think it's very satisfying for you to gradually dismantle Hayden as a woman? The day the truth is revealed, the entire Jensburg will be shocked."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-