Novel Chapter 1723 -Zachary put on a pitiful look, and said: "Honey, I don't care, I belong to you. From now on, you have to cover me, and I can't be touched by others."

Serenity: "As long as you are entertaining, I will accompany you and declare my ownership to everyone. You are mine alone, and if anyone tries to steal my man, I will beat them until their teeth are broken."

Zachary: "Wife, You speak like you are coaxing a child."

Serenity: "Then what do you want me to say?"

Zachary stopped talking again.

Serenity put her arms around him, leaning his upper body on his chest, and said in a soft voice, "Husband, don't be angry, I will do what I say, and I will accompany you to socialize from now on, and won't let others touch you again.

Actually, I am under a lot of pressure. You are so good, and the reality between me and you is so different. In the eyes of many strong women, I am not worthy of you. They look down on me and always want to take my place.

After we got together, I didn't meet a rival in love, but when I have a rival in love, my rival in love must be very powerful, and I have to do my best to keep you."

If Serenity couldn't keep it, she gave up.

Zachary: "Are you thinking that if you can't keep it, you will hand me over to others?"

As expected of a husband and wife, Zachary knew exactly what her wife was thinking.

Serenity cursed in his heart: Can this guy read minds?

On the lips, Serenity repeatedly denied: "How is it possible? My man, how could I give it away? However, if you don't like me and like someone else, then there is no need to fight. Let's get together and get divorced. And we can still be friends."

There used to be good times, and she didn't want to become enemies after divorce.

Therefore, if Zachary had someone he liked outside of school like Hank and thought it was his true love, Serenity wouldn't want to make a fuss, would break up peacefully, and would fulfill him.

It's not that Serenity couldn't live without a man, she could still live happily without him.

Zachary bit her face, which hurt her a little.

Zachary: "Serenity, my heart is very small. I can only pretend to be you. In this life, I will never fall in love with a woman other than you. I happy when I am with you, fortunately? Marriage is like drinking water, knowing whether it is warm or not. Others think you are not good enough for me, but I think you are good enough."

Zachary stopped her while talking After entangled with her lips and tongue, he picked her up and went back to their room.

It was a night of passion.

The next day.

When Zachary woke up, he habitually touched his side, but didn't touch anyone, Serenity got up before him.

He sat up, looked at the pillow beside him, and muttered: "Last night, I was tired of shouting and begging for mercy, but today she got up earlier than me, and she lied to me again."

During the day, both husband and wife have their own things to be busy with.

He just spared her.

If it was a weekend, he would always have a full meal before letting her go.

Sliding off the bed, Zachary wanted to open the curtains, but saw an envelope on the bedside table, took the envelope, and took out a piece of paper from it.

"Love Letter" was written on the very top of the paper.

Zachary laughed immediately.

Serenity didn't know how to write love letters, her love letters were copied poems.

Regardless of whether it was suitable or not, she felt that the poems were related to love, so she copied them all, made them into a hodgepodge, and handed them to him.

However, this time the love letter did not copy poetry, but wrote: "Zachary, I love you, just like a mouse loves rice."

Just one sentence.

Novel Chapter 1724 -It was at least her most sincere feeling.

It was better than the beautiful poems she copied.

There were words on the back of the letter paper.

He turned over to look.

It said: "I'm running outside in the morning, we'll have breakfast together later."

Zachary happily folded the letter paper, stuffed it back into the envelope, then opened the drawer, and put the love letter in the drawer.

He got up, walked to the window, opened the heavy curtains, and the sun shone in in an instant.

In summer, the morning sun could make people feel dazzling.

After the hot summer, cool autumn would be ushered in, and it was also the day when he and Serenity hold their wedding.

What Zachary was looking forward to more was the arrival of the crystallization of love between him and Serenity.

The master told the young couple with certainty that the crystallization of their love would be reported in autumn, and before that time, no matter how loving the couple was, the child would not come.

Young-Johnson of FC & Co. now had a pair of sons and daughters, which made Zachary really envious.

When the child was full moon, he would take Jane to drink full moon wine.

They would also go to the Hundred Days Banquet.

Zachary thought, how about he mention it to Young-Johnson, he would be the godfather of the two children, so that he could enjoy Young-Johnson's joy, and see if he and Serenity could have a pair of twins?

If Serenity couldn't give birth to twins, it would be nice if she could give birth to a daughter.

This was the wish of their entire York family, and they just hoped that Serenity would have a daughter.

Of course, Zachary would not say these things in front of Serenity.

Every time children were mentioned, even other people's children, Serenity would think of herself. After being married for so long, she and Zachary were also very affectionate. The bed sheets had been rolled countless times, but she didn't find a child.

In particular, Jasmine was pregnant during the honeymoon, which made Serenity even more stressed.

No one dared to say a word about the child in front of her.

He's afraid she's going into a dead end again.

Zachary was worried that his wife would be so busy, that he would allow her to be so busy. When she was busy, she would not think about the children.

Zachary saw his beloved wife.

Wearing sportswear and sneakers, she ran in the yard, her long hair tied up fluttered left and right as she ran.

Zachary's eyes followed Serenity's figure. After a while, he turned away from the window.

After a while, he too changed into his tracksuit and went downstairs.

Serenity ran around twice, and was planning to go back to the house, but when she saw Zachary coming out, she smiled and waited for him to approach, "I wanted to go back to the house, why don't I run two more laps with you?"

Serenity added: "Has Sonny woke up?"

Zachary ran slowly side by side with her, asking about his nephew while running.

"Not yet, when I got up, he was still sleeping." Zachary hummed.

He asked her again: "Do you want to go to the hospital to see Duncan together later?"

Duncan didn't want to see them, and Zachary still had to go to the hospital every day.

Friends for many years, iron buddies.

Before Duncan fully recovered, Zachary wanted to visit him because he really cared about Duncan's injury and sincerely hoped that Duncan would get well soon.

Novel Chapter 1725 -Serenity: "Mrs. Lewis begged my sister."

Zachary didn't feel surprised, Mrs. Lewis's intestines turned green with regret for Duncan's current condition, she would be willing to make Duncan get better, even if she was asked to kneel down and beg Liberty.

"Is Duncan willing to see sister?" Zachary asked with concern.

Serenity: "I didn't ask, but if my sister decides to take care of Mr. Lewis, she will always have a way to enter the ward."

As expected of a real sister, Serenity knew her sister very well.

Zachary hummed, "I hope Duncan won't be so stubborn and recover soon."

Thinking of Duncan in the past, and comparing him with him now, Zachary could understand Duncan's mood. If it were him, he would probably find it difficult regain confidence.

Zachary: "He will be fine."

Serenity said to him, "Let's run around a couple more times. When Sonny gets up, we will have breakfast together and let Jim take him to class. Summer vacation will be soon, and my bookstore will be closed soon and it will be closed for two months. Husband, what do you think about the summer vacation?"

During her summer vacation in previous years, she would go out to travel to appreciate the great rivers and mountains of the motherland.

"Summer vacation is for students. I'm a working person, so I don't have summer vacation." Zachary smiled while jogging: "If you have a place you want to go, tell me, and I will start working overtime now. As soon as I arrive, I can accompany you to go out."

Serenity: "Yes, I am also very busy now, unlike before, when students are on vacation, I will also be on vacation."

Serenity was a little tired after running a few laps, so she switched to walking. She said, "Let's talk about it later, Sonny is three years old now, and I want to take him out to broaden his horizons. After the summer vacation, he will be in the middle class of kindergarten."

"Well, we'll arrange the time when you think it over, and we'll go to Annenburg a few times, the two children in the nightclub are full moon, we'll definitely go there, and we'll also go to the 100-day banquet Let's go a few more times to enjoy their joy."

Zachary felt that he and Young-Johnson had taken the same path, and now that Young-Johnson had a pair of twins, maybe he could have a pair of twins in the future.

"Don't worry, I'll remember. The presents are all ready, and the two children have been given golden locks."

Serenity added Jane's WhatsApp, and Jane sent her the photos of the two babies.

Although two babies were thin and small, they looked very cute.

babies were looking different every day, and every few days, she asked Jane to send her a photo to feast her eyes on.

Serenity: "I made an appointment with Jane. I'm the godmother of two children."

Zachary smiled. He knew she would do it.

The couple returned to the house after finishing their morning run. Sonny had awoken earlier. He removed his pajamas and dressed. He put on the disorganized clothes by himself.

He also wore the shoes himself, but they didn't wear them backwards.

Sonny had good hands-on ability.

"auntie, uncle." Seeing his aunt coming back, Sonny called out softly, walked up to Zachary, raised his head, stretched out his hand, and called softly: "Uncle, hug me."

Zachary bent down and hugged Sonny. Sonny immediately put his head on Zachary's shoulder.

"Seren, does Sonny have a fever? I hold him and feel that he is very hot."

Zachary gently pushed Sonny's small body away so that he could touch Sonny's forehead.

Touching Sonny's forehead, he felt that his body temperature was a little high.

When he said this, Serenity immediately touched Sonny's forehead, her body temperature was a little high, she asked her nephew: "Sonny, do you feel unwell?"
