Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1841 -Listening to Sonny's words, Grandma May smiled, "Yes, how could Sonny think of you while he was having fun?"

Kevin said to Sonny: "Sonny, you can coax the third uncle, you always tell the truth and make the third uncle uncomfortable."

Sonny's big eyes flashed, and said: "My mother and aunt have both taught me the value of telling the truth and not lying."

He was an obedient child, and he remembered what his mother and aunt taught him.

Serenity smiled and said: "Yes, Sonny is a truthful boy; a good boy simply cannot tell a lie."

Sonny slipped into his aunt's arms.

Serenity picked him up, let him sit on her lap, smiled and said to Kevin: "Kevin, you are very low on Sonny's list of priorities. He frequently asked the ninth uncle. If the ninth uncle was in front of him, he never mentioned you as the third uncle."

Because Kevin rarely interacted with Sonny, much less played with him.

Rowan had a lot of fun with Sonny, and the little guy remembered Uncle Rowan and would occasionally ask Serenity when he could play with Uncle Rowan..

Kevin got into the car, and he said while driving: "Sister-in-law, I will take Sonny to Wiltspoon Hotel for dinner often in the future, and Sonny will get to know me well."

Serenity smiled: "You may not have a long time at the Wiltspoon Hotel."

Kevin smiled and stopped talking.

Grandma and the others had given him a one-year period, and now more than half a year had passed. If he didn't work harder, the gate of Wildridge Manor might not be opened for him during the New Year this year.

Kevin sent the three of them to the airport, and he came back from the airport after Serenity boarded the plane.

Instead of going back to the hotel directly, he drove to Queen Enterprise.

Queen Enterprise was different from York Corporation. They didn't have weekends and only have Sundays off every week.

Kevin had never before visited Queen Enterprise. Although Kevin was well-known in Jensburg, he was unknown in Queen Enterprise. Even if he gave his name, the front desk would stop him.

After the front desk made an internal call to notify Hayden's secretary, and the secretary asked Hayden for instructions, The Third Young Master York could see Hayden.

Hayden was processing the documents, and Kevin, led by the secretary, knocked on the door and entered her office, and saw a lot of documents on her desk that needed her to review and sign.

Although Hayden was already in charge of the Queen Enterprise, Donald was still recognized as the company's chairman.

"Mr. Queen, Mr. York is here."

Kevin could see why Hayden employed a male secretary because he was a woman himself. She had always pretended to be a man, despite being a woman. She was concerned that because of her attractiveness—in the words of a female secretary—the female secretary would fall in love with her.

Now, she had many admirers, it could be said that she was the dream lover of many girls.

The male secretary stopped at Hayden's desk and said to Hayden respectfully.

"Mr. York, please sit down. And pour a glass of water for Mr. York." Hayden ordered in a low voice, her eyes still resting on the document, and after a while, she picked up a pen and signed her name on the document, then closed the document. After reading the document, she got up, walked around the half-moon-shaped desk, and walked towards Kevin.

The male secretary had already poured Kevin a glass of warm water.

"Mr. Queen." Kevin stood up, and when Hayden approached, he extended his right hand to shake Hayden's hand.

The male secretary went to the desk, helped Hayden bring a cup of coffee that she hadn't finished, gently put it in front of Hayden, and said respectfully: "Mr. Queen, I'll go out to do some work first."

Hayden nodded.

After the male secretary went out, Hayden looked at Kevin, and the two looked at each other, and they both caught the inquiry from each other's eyes.

"Mr. York, is your house ready?" Hayden asked proactively. She seemed to be concerned and asked, but her attitude was still distant and indifferent.

She didn't know why Kevin suddenly came to the company to find her. The two of them had no friendship. Strictly speaking, they were still business rivals.

Hayden couldn't figure out Kevin's reason for coming, so she didn't ask directly, but took the house as the topic, otherwise, it would be very embarrassing for the two of them to sit here, and look at each other's faces.

"Look at it." Kevin retracted his gaze, and stopped staring at Hayden.

He picked up the glass of warm water that her secretary had poured him, took a sip of it, put down the glass, and said to Hayden with a smile: "Mr. Queen, thank you for your help. I can now purchase a home in the Yuvinn Villa area. I would like to invite you to dinner. I wonder if you have time at noon."

"I didn't help you much either, Mr. York, you're too polite, I have a dinner at noon." Hayden declined Kevin invited her to dinner.

Kevin smiled and said: "It's okay, Mr. Queen. When you're free, I will treat you to dinner again. If you helped me, I owe you a favor. You must give me a chance to repay your favor; otherwise, I will miss you every day."

After thinking about it, Hayden said: "Our business will be closed tomorrow, so I will have some time to myself to make arrangements."

From Monday to Saturday, Hayden's schedule was full, and it was difficult to find time to return Kevin's favor.

Hayden didn't think that she helped Kevin by introducing Kevin to buy a house in Yuvinn villa area, but Kevin insisted that she helped, said he owed her a favor, and insisted on repaying her favor, so she could only give Kevin some time to return favors.

In case Kevin really thought about the favor he owed her every day.

Hayden didn't know why Kevin was so friendly and easy to talk to, and why getting along with her was so simple and fun, but Hayden didn't want to get close to Kevin.

Kevin was known as the smiling tiger in Wiltspoon.

Hayden never thought of Kevin as kind, even though he smiled at everyone and talked happily with everyone. His brother could trust him with a big job like running the catering business for the York Corporation, which showed that he was a very capable person.

How could someone who is good at business also be kind? All of them have a mean side.

Hayden didn't want to be Kevin's enemy, but she also didn't want to be his friend. So she tried to stay far away from him.

"Okay, I'll invite Mr. Queen to dinner tomorrow. Mr. Queen are you okay with dining at the Fortress Hotel? If that's the case, I'll come to your Greenrest Hotel."

Hayden said: "Mr. York, as you wish. I don't care, because I eat anywhere."

Kevin: "Mr. Queen, you probably haven't eaten at my Fortress Hotel yet."

After a moment of silence, Hayden said, "I've eaten a few times."

But she was very low-key and didn't let people recognize her identity. She went to Fortress Hotel to eat, mainly to see if the decoration, service, and food taste of her hotel was good.

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1843 -"It's not bad." Hayden admitted, "Before you took over Fortress Hotel, Fortress Hotel was inferior to my Queen's Greenrest Hotel in all aspects. After you took over your family's catering business, Fortress Hotel only took three months to become as famous as my Greenrest Hotel, and it was a tie.

I am the head of Queen's, and although I am not in charge of the catering business, as the head of Queens, I will also pay attention to what happens to all walks of life. A company that is not as good as Greenrest Hotel suddenly catches up with us; I have to find out why."

Knowing yourself and the enemy is the only way to win every battle.

That is, they knew everything about Fortress Hotel, but they couldn't suppress Fortress Hotel anymore.

The general manager in charge of the catering industry of the Queen Enterprise was also under a lot of pressure. Their Greenrest Hotel was an old brand in Jensburg. It had been established for decades. Fortress Hotel was a hotel invested and built by the York Corporation, half of the source hotel.

But now in Jensburg, the most famous, most powerful, and most popular hotel, the Fortress Hotel, has been on a par with the Greenrest Hotel.

After Hayden went to the Fortress Hotel to find out secretly, there was nothing special about the Fortress Hotel except that it was the best in terms of service and food. Understated luxury.

Hayden's affirmation of Fortress Hotel's status in Jensburg was equivalent to affirmation of Kevin's ability.

Kevin smiled, "When Mr. Queen went to my Fortress Hotel, he must have gone quietly. Tomorrow, I will go to you in person. I will pick you up at home and invite you to my Hotel in a high-profile manner. In the future, as long as Mr. Queen wants to change his taste, he can come directly, and I will give you a friendly price."

"I thought Mr. York would always say that he would give me free." Hayden made a rare joke about Kevin.

Kevin said with a smile: "When Mr. Queen goes to my Fortress Hotel, I can personally cover all of Mr. Queen's consumption in the hotel."

Hayden smiled, "Then I thank Mr. York first."

Then Hayden changed the subject, "Mr. York, How much did you pay for your house?"

Kevin: "It's lower than the price when I bought it."

Hayden was stunned for a moment, obviously not convinced, she said: "When I bought it, it was the first-hand house, and the price was the cheapest. Can you actually buy that villa at a lower price than when you bought it?"

She heard the housekeeper mention that the asking price of that villa was several million more than when she first bought it.

Kevin insisted on buying a house in the Yuvinn villa area, so she would help him match up. Although Kevin was not short of money, she thought that after seeing the house, Kevin might consider not buying it.

Unexpectedly, Kevin not only bought it, but also lowered the price when he bought it.

Kevin asked her: "Is Mr. Queen always very interested?"

Hayden: "I am very interested, Mr. York is very good at bargaining, right?"

"The men in our family are very good at bargaining, maybe my elder brother is because of his status To save face, don't bargain too much, but when he was living an ordinary life with my sister-in-law, he also worried about the daily necessities and killed the price. I'm probably the one who can bargain the most, after all, I'm in charge of the food. I always want to buy the best ingredients at the cheapest price and make the best meals." Kevin boasted, "When I went to see the house yesterday, I took my geomancy consultant there."

He also only said such a sentence, and didn't say any more. With Hayden's intelligence, she could understand his intentions.

Hayden: "Mr. York, you really believe in this?"

Kevin replied: "My grandma believes it very much, and we will inevitably believe it a little bit, and know a little more than others."

After a long time, Hayden said: "I didn't know it could be done like this. It will cost a few million more."

Kevin: "How much cheaper now?"

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1844 -Hayden: "Well, $10,000 is also cheap."

Kevin: "Mr. Queen, there is something else I would like to ask you to help with."

Kevin looked at her handsome face burningly, thinking in his heart that if he was a woman, he would also fall in love with Hayden.

He didn't know how alluring she will be when she puts on women's clothes, has long hair, and puts on makeup?

"Mr. York, please tell me, if I can help you, I will definitely help you." Hayden said politely.

In his heart, he felt that Kevin was a bit busy.

Although this was Jensburg, not the territory of the York family, the York Corporation also had a lot of business in Jensburg. Kevin had also worked in Jensburg for several years and had a lot of connections. Hayden didn't believe that he had no one to help.

Kevin: "I bought the house, but it still needs to be renovated, so I need to ask a design company to help with the design and then decorate. Can you arrange it for me? Your Queen Enterprise is also involved in real estate. I think, on this point, you can definitely help me; it's a trivial matter for you."

Hayden: "That's fine, I'll ask someone to arrange it for you, and then you can talk about it, what kind of decoration style you want, just tell them clearly."

Kevin thanked Hayden again, and after thanking Hayden, he said: "Mr. Queen, look, you helped me again, and I owe you a favor again. I just treat you to a meal, and I will pay you back I don't know how much I owe you."

The weather is so hot, and Jensburg is a coastal city, tomorrow I will invite you to go to the seaside for vacation, surfing, going out to sea, swimming, and having seafood dinner, how about it?"

Anyone who watches them swim together can tell if Hayden is a man or a woman.

"I appreciate it, Mr. York. I'm not helping you out. I'm not assisting Mr. York with the decorating for free; rather, I'm soliciting business. I usually sleep in at home when I only have one day of rest. I hardly ever go out to relax. I am unable to go with you to swim at the shore."

Hayden was very good at hiding who she was, but if she wanted to swim, she would take off her clothes and put on swimwear. How could she do such a thing?

Even if she went swimming, the place would be cleared in advance and no one would be allowed to get close to it. If so, she couldn't swim with confidence, at most she would get up quickly after entering the water for a while.

"Mr. Queen, all of the places we sit are under a lot of stress. When we get a rare chance to relax, we have to go for a walk. If you don't want to swim, what is your favorite way to work out? I'll come with you."

This woman must have a guilty conscience.

She declined his invitation to swim.

No matter how much Hayden pretended to be a man, whether she was a man or a woman, as soon as she took off her clothes, Kevin could see the truth. However, he was not in a hurry.

Since they didn't know each other well enough, he took his time. When he got to know her a little better, he attacked step by step, and would always see her.

Hayden: "Horse riding. When I'm under too much pressure, I like to go to my ranch to gallop."

Kevin smiled, "Coincidentally, my family also has a ranch, and our brothers usually like to go there Riding a horse, then, tomorrow I will accompany Mr. Queen to ride a horse, so it's settled. Mr. Queen, you're still busy, so I won't bother you, and I will pick you up tomorrow morning."

After Kevin finished speaking, he immediately got up and left.

Hayden was speechless.

She didn't agree to ride a horse.

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1845 -Hayden immediately took out her mobile phone and wanted to call Kevin, but after thinking about it, she gave up and put the phone on the table.

She hadn't gone out for a long time, and she was relieved. It would be nice if someone accompanied her to ride a horse.

After sitting quietly for a while, Hayden picked up the phone again and called Hugh. After Hugh answered the phone, she said, "Hugh, help me find out why Kevin came to Jensburg this time and for what purpose."

Hugh instinctively said: "What purpose does he have for coming to Jensburg? Their family also has business in Jensburg, isn't it normal for him to come here?"

"It seems normal, but I always feel that it is abnormal." Hayden felt that Kevin seemed to be approaching her.

"Why is it abnormal? Sister, is he plotting against us?" Hugh was still very convinced by her sister's words. They were twin siblings, and her sister was ten minutes older than him, but she seemed to be ten years older than him and she was much more considerate than him.

He occasionally wished that his sister became his brother so that he could be independent and pursue his interests without concern for the future.

Even though his sister could also take over, how could his sister manage the business if, in the future, she got married and lived far with her husband's family? It wasn't really about her taking over the family business in the end.

"I don't know, I just feel that he is not normal this time, so I asked you to inquire and investigate. He told me that he was urged to marry by the elders in the family. He was urged too hard. He only ran away to keep his ears quiet and came to take refuge in Jensburg."

Hugh chuckled, "Sister, what he said is 100% true. I've also heard that their old lady is staring at his brothers. She is indeed urging them to get married. Eldest Young Master York is married. Second Young Master York just got engaged, and Kevin is the third in line, only three months younger than second Young Master York, it's normal for him to be urged to get married."

Hayden was silent.

Hayden still felt that Kevin was harboring evil intentions, but it didn't seem like he was deliberately looking for opportunities to get along with her, let her introduce the house, and introduced him to the decoration team. He could do these small things himself.

He asked her to help.

She helped, but he said that he owed her a favor, that he wanted to invite her to dinner, to invite her to go swimming, would he suspect that she was a woman?

"Sister, from what aspect do you think Kevin's visit to Jensburg this time is an abnormal behavior? Will he visit our parents at our house as soon as you come here?"

Hugh was not at home, but Kevin's visit, He knew that his parents enthusiastically persuaded Kevin to stay at his house for dinner.

Hayden: "No, he came to visit. It was out of politeness. Our family has a little friendship with the Bucham family, but the York family and the Bucham family have an iron relationship. At Young master Bucham's wedding, we ate at the same table with him, and he would come to visit. I can't find anything wrong. I think he seems to be approaching me deliberately. Hugh, haven't you revealed any flaws recently?"

Hugh said: "No, there is absolutely no flaw. Sister, Even your fellow classmates are unaware that you are a woman because you have been hiding your gender from them for more than 20 years. Let's avoid discussing it. We are twins who shared the same mother. You are more like a man than I am every time I see you, so I can't help but call you my brother.

Kevin can count the number of times we've talked on five fingers, so how could he know that my sister is a woman? Don't worry about him too much. He can't do that, unless he has really sharp eyes."

Since more than 20 years ago, no one has found out about a woman who posed as a man. After seeing his sister a few times, Kevin started to wonder about her. Wouldn't that be like slapping everyone in Jensburg in the face?

No matter how smart Kevin was, he couldn't crush the entire Jensburg people, right?

After hearing what her younger brother said, Hayden couldn't refute for a while.

She had been pretending to be a man for more than 20 years, and she even had a fake Adam's apple. Except for the fact that her voice wasn't as deep as a real man's, anyone could say she was a perfect man.

Kevin's eyes weren't piercing, so he couldn't tell that she was a woman.
