Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1856 -Callum supported her, but she didn't need him.

Callum said: "You still let me be considerate of you. Come on, lest Trenton accuse me of not being considerate enough to take care of you, let you go. He is worried that you will bump into or fall if you are not familiar with the road."

Hearing what Callum said, Camryn let him leave to assist her once more. She said, "Trenton still cares about me."

Callum: "You are brothers and sisters, and blood is thicker than water. Naturally, Trenton cares about you."

Camryn said as he walked: "He is a good boy, and he has respected me as the eldest sister since he was a child, and his parents have protected him very well, and have not let him be polluted by their darkness."

In the past, Camryn had a very bad attitude towards his younger brother.

In the previous Newman family, the only one who really treated her as a family was this half-brother.

After entering the coffee shop, Trenton ordered a cup of coffee for each of the three of them.

After sitting down, Camryn reached out to touch his younger brother.

Trenton wanted to avoid it, but after meeting his sister's eyes, he gave up the idea of avoiding it.

His sister had beautiful eyes.

His second sister was very jealous of the beautiful eyes of the eldest sister. The second sister said that the three of them were born by the same mother. Why were he and the eldest sister's eyes beautiful, but the eyes of the second sister were not big enough, and they were not double eyelids. The double eyelids were cut out.

The second sister's eyes were not as attractive as the eldest sister's naturally large eyes, even after she had her double eyelids removed.

Such beautiful eyes had not been seen for almost 11 years.

Falling from the bright world to the dark abyss all of a sudden, how painful was the eldest sister's heart for so many years?

When those callused hands gently touched his face, Trenton couldn't hold back anymore. His face softened a little, and he let his sister touch his face all over.

Sensing the jealous look cast by the brother-in-law-to-be, Trenton said: "..."

His brother-in-law-to-be was probably too domineering.

She was his own sister.

In the eyes of her sister, he was still a child, under the age of 18, not yet an adult, and his sister always said he was still a child.

The brother-in-law-to-be was so jealous of his underage brother-in-law that he was actually jealous that his face was touched by the elder sister.

The elder sister couldn't see his face, she could touch it with her hands.

Did he want to keep the eldest sister's hand off of him? Then the eldest sister would become depressed once more, and it's possible that the prospective brother-in-law would accuse him of being uncaring and hurting the eldest sister's feelings.

Alas, it's hard to be a brother-in-law these days.

"Trenton, you've lost a lot of weight." Camryn withdrew her hand and said something distressed.

Trenton said angrily: "You think you have gained weight but have actually lost a lot of weight if you have a mouth to talk about me but not a mouth to talk about yourself. You have located a competent man. What do you do with so many things on your own? If there is anything you don't know, let him go ahead and do it. You are not required to exert yourself."

He didn't take over the company and knew that the company was very busy.

Fortunately, Brother Dalton helped his eldest sister.

Camryn touched her face, and said, "Am I thin? Callum always told me to eat more, I thought I would grow into a fat man. Callum is also very busy, so he can't do everything. Let him help."

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1857 -It's our business; if you want to assist, please assist your sister. Also keep in mind that you have a stake in Newman's family's assets.

Study hard once classes begin and don't worry about adult matters; they will be handled by adults. Don't be too frugal at school; if you run out of money, just let me know and I'll send you some."

Trenton looked at his eldest sister for a long while, and suddenly asked her: "Are you really willing to share the family property with me?"

They all told him that when his eldest sister took over Newman's company, she would absolutely monopolize the company and would not let him intervene, let alone distribute the family property to him, because his sister resented his parents.

Even his mother was the mother of his sister.

But the mother's attitude towards the elder sister was very bad. In the elder sister's heart, the real mother was probably more vicious than the stepmother.

"Ouch." Trenton was in pain because his elder sister slapped him hard on the face.

Trenton glared at the elder sister angrily, and said sarcastically: "Is it right? You are all hypocritical to me now. If I was not still studying, maybe you would try to get me in, so The entire Newmans is yours, and you have also avenged your father and made a fuss."

This time Camryn didn't pinch his younger brother's face, but slapped him directly.

Trenton didn't dodge either, and was slapped by his sister. After being slapped, he felt a burning pain on his face. Looking at his sister, his eyes were red, but he refused to cry stubbornly.

"Trenton, that's how you think of me, right? You believe everything they say, but you don't believe what I say?" Camryn was very angry with his younger brother.

Callum sighed secretly, held her hand, and comforted her: "Camryn, Trenton has no intentions, he is still young. He doesn't understand many things, and his understanding is different."

He said Trenton again : "Trenton, I know that you will never be able to face your sister. No matter how big a mistake your parents made, they are your parents to you. You have always respected your sister, but it was your sister who sent your parents to go in."

“However, if they hadn’t made mistakes and would be punished by the law, no matter how much your sister hated them, she wouldn’t be able to send them in. You are a kind-hearted child, and regardless of your kinship, you think your sister is at fault. Is it?”

Trenton’s eyes turned redder.

He looked away.

The two eldest aunts and those cousins always came to bother him, accusing the eldest sister of being ruthless and cold-blooded in front of him, and saying that after the eldest sister took over Newman’s enterprise, she became more and more shocked.

If he didn’t do anything and let his eldest sister go on like this, he would have nothing in the future. They also said that no matter how big his parents made a mistake, he should inherit their parents’ property, and it is not his turn to inherit his eldest sister. She’s a daughter, and she’s going to get married sooner or later.

They also said that if he didn’t take back the company, when the eldest sister married into the York family, Newman’s enterprise would follow the other owner and become the York family’s pocket.

Trenton didn’t believe that the elder sister was that kind of person, but he heard a lot. When facing the elder sister, he got hot-headed and impulsive, and said something that hurt the elder sister’s heart.

He also regretted the words he said, but the words he said were like water poured out and could never be taken back.

After Camryn finished beating her younger brother, she took a few deep breaths, then stood up, and said to Callum, “Callum, let’s go.”

She didn’t want to explain any more.

She was free to hold any opinion her brother desired.

Different viewpoints were held by siblings. The father was not the same father as the mother, but the mother still loved her dearly and yearned to kill her. The younger brother grew up in a loving environment and had always been surrounded by it.

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1858 -Callum stood up, assisted Camryn in picking up the blind man’s walking stick, handed it to her, and then walked away while supporting her.

Trenton stood up, and looked at the back of his sister who turned and left. He opened his mouth and called softly: "Elder Sister."

After a pause, when Camryn was about to walk out of the coffee shop, Trenton pulled out his chair, quickly chased after his sister, and shouted loudly: "Sister."

This time, Camryn stopped. But she still didn't turn around.

Everyone in the coffee shop looked at the siblings.

"Go buy anything you need, book your flight ticket in advance, and on the day of departure, your sister will arrange for a driver to pick you up. If you want, you can move back home. No matter what time it is, it will be your home." After Camryn finished speaking, she walked away again.

"Sister, I'm sorry." Trenton apologized loudly.

He shouldn't have satirized the eldest sister like that just now.

Yes, ever since he could remember, the eldest sister had always been indifferent to him. Sometimes it could be said to be indifferent, and she always looked like she didn't want to talk to him.

But under his care day after day, year after year, the eldest sister treated him like a younger brother, and her love for him was hidden under that indifferent expression.

But because he heard too many bad things about his sister, he questioned and satirized her in person, and was slapped by the elder sister. He felt that he deserved it.

His brother-in-law asked him, is everything the eldest sister did wrong?

Trenton dared not and couldn't say that the elder sister was wrong.

What the parents and the second sister did were against the law, and they could not escape the punishment of the law without the elder sister suing them.

Besides, both the mother and the second sister went in because they were targeting the eldest wife of the York family. Only his father went in because his sister submitted the evidence that his parents killed the second uncle.

He felt sorry for his father. But his father was still alive and waiting for the first trial to come.

His eldest sister would also feel sorry for her father. Her father had already returned to the underworld and died under the insidiousness of his parents. He heard that the eldest sister was only two years old when the second uncle died.

The two-year-old child lost his father's love before he knew anything, and his mother remarried immediately. After remarrying, she still regarded her as a thorn in her side and a thorn in her flesh...

Thinking of how her parents and second sister usually treat the eldest sister, Trenton's face turned red and then pale. The elder sister didn't criticize him because she was giving him face. What qualifications did he have and what position did he have to accuse the elder sister?

"Sister, I'm sorry, I was wrong, I shouldn't have said that to you, I'm sorry!" Trenton solemnly apologized to the eldest sister, and apologized repeatedly.

Camryn still didn't turn around, but just said lightly: "Sister is not angry; you don't have to feel guilty. I can understand what you think, but, Trenton, you are almost an adult; you have to have your own thoughts; you have to learn what is right from wrong; don't be led by the nose; don't be used by others.

When you can't even trust your own sister, can you trust your aunt and cousins? You are too young to take care of the company, I don't know what they did in our Newman family and how much blood they sucked from the Newman family."

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1859 -Camryn added: "Trenton, if you can't manage the company, they will volunteer to help you manage the company. Do you think that if you hand over the company to them, they will return the company to you? Even if it is returned to you, it will only be a shell company."

After Camryn finished speaking, he said to Callum again: "Callum, let's go."

"Okay."

Callum thoughtfully held his fiancée's hand and moved forward. They walked out of the coffee shop, and quickly left.

Trenton didn't catch up any more, he stood where he was, watching his sister leave guiltily.

After a long time, he withdrew his gaze, returned to his seat in frustration and sat down, silently picked up his own cup of coffee, took a sip, and then put down the cup. He doesn't like coffee very much.

Touching the face that was slapped by his sister, he felt a burning pain, and it was probably swollen.

His sister was so angry that she hit him.

Trenton was slapped, but instead of resenting his sister, he felt more guilty, feeling that he was an *sshole for saying so many hurtful things to his sister.

“Trenton, Trenton, so you are here. I went to your room and knocked on the door. you didn’t respond, so I went downstairs to look for you.” A familiar voice came, and Trenton immediately recited it when he heard it.

Standing up with his backpack, he pulled out the chair and left.

“Trenton.”

Mr. Chandler grabbed Trenton and said, “Trenton, where are you going? Come, come, cousin treats you to coffee.”

With that said, Mr. Chandler wanted to pull Trenton back to his original position and sit down.

Trenton tried his best to shake off his hand, and said coldly: “Brother, I don’t like coffee, I have to go out for a while.”

He wanted to leave again.

Mr. Chandler grabbed Trenton again and forcefully pulled him back to the table just now.

Mr. Chandler actually saw Callum helping Camryn out of the coffee shop, and guessed that Camryn was also looking for Trenton, so he avoided the two of them, and only came to Trenton after they walked out of the hotel.

Trenton was pushed back to his original position by Mr. Chandler, with a cold expression on his young face.

“Trenton, what’s wrong with your face? Who beat you? Tell me, I will help you teach him and vent your anger for you.”

After Mr. Chandler sat down, he saw Trenton’s face was red and swollen, asked with concern.

There was an answer in his heart.

It must have been that little b*tch Camryn who beat Trenton with her hands. It seems that the siblings had a fierce quarrel, otherwise with Camryn’s temperament, she would not have hit someone.

The one who beat Camryn was the only brother who treated her well.

“My eldest sister called. Brother, do you dare to go to my eldest sister to settle accounts? Dare to go to my eldest sister to vent my anger on me?”

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1860 -Trenton did not hide anything, he directly admitted that it was the elder sister who called him, and asked Mr. Chandler if he dared to go to Camryn.

Mr. Chandler choked, and said with a sneer: “Your elder sister beat you. Did your elder sister come to find you? What did she want you for? Why did she beat you? Tsk, your sister is really ruthless, half of your face is all swollen.

Trenton, you now understand the character of your eldest sister. Don't be fooled by her usual calm look; she is mean. Even when she doesn't realize it, she is so cruel. Wait for her to get better. When her eyes get better and her light comes back on, I'm afraid she will get even worse, and you won't be able to escape.

Don't forget, your parents have revenge for killing her father, so it's hard to guarantee that she won't. Because she hate your parents, she blame you.

Don't say that she is treating you well now and won't target you, It's just to let you relax your vigilance. When the time is right, she will hurt you, let you have nothing, and maybe induce you to do illegal things, and then report you and send you in.

If you even go in, everything in the Newman family will really belong to her.”

Although Mr. Newman and his wife had not been sentenced yet, and the first trial was coming soon. The Chandler family and the Joyner family were very nervous and anxious. They had all inquired about it. The result of the first trial for Mr. Newman and his wife would not be good.

It was impossible to expect them to come out to deal with Camryn.

Even if Carrie got out of prison after serving her time, she wasn't Camryn's opponent. Carrie had also been sent to prison for a long time.

When she came out, Camryn took Newmans into her own.

Now, neither the Chandler family nor the Joyner family could return to the Newmans and intervene in Newmans's business.

They also thought about using Newmans's business rivals to deal with Newmans's.

It's a pity that Camryn and Dalton were the ones who solved them all. The York Corporation still kept an eye out. The York Corporation wasn't looking at Newmans. Instead, they were looking at Newman's competitor. If the opponent sneaked up on Newmans again, York Corporation would come to a mantis to hunt, and the oriole would be behind.

Therefore, Newmans's opponents did not dare to act rashly now, they were not the opponents of the York Corporation.

Trenton: "I don't steal or rob, and I don't do anything illegal. How could she get me in? My sister is not in charge of this world."

Trenton couldn't help but refute Mr. Chandler. He stared at him said coldly: "Don't come in front of me again and talk about my eldest sister. No matter how bad my sister is in your mouth, she and I have the same surname!

People from my Newman family, my parents and my second sister have all gone in, and I still have to go to school. The company is entrusted to my eldest sister to take care of it, even if my eldest sister really wants to monopolize the family property as you said, it is also my Newman family's property! My eldest sister did not occupy your Chandler's family property, nor did she rob the Joyner family's money, you always target her for what?"

He just listened too much to these people, and just now, on impulse, he questioned and satirized Elder Sister, which made Elder Sister so angry that she beat him for the first time.

Mr. Chandler was also angry when he was accused by Trenton. He said: "Trenton, don't dismiss good people. We are assisting and reminding you. Despite the fact that your eldest sister shares your surname. If she wishes to marry, she is engaged to the York family's second young master. When she marries, she will bring Newmans into the Yorks, and Newmans will become Yorks members. That is belongs to your parents. It took more than ten years to develop the Newmans to the scale they are today; you are willing to watch Camryn bring the Newmans into the Yorks; we are not; it is not worth it for my uncle."

Trenton stood up and said: "Yes, I simply don't know any good people. It doesn't bother me. I don't have time to worry about it. I still need to study. My sister won't hand over the company to me after I graduate. I will start my own company and rely on my own abilities to build another company, which is also Newmans'. Brother, if you can't swallow this breath, go to my elder sister; don't come back to me; I'm not free, and if you don't care, you can say I'm useless, but I don't care."

After speaking, Trenton pulled away the chair again and left.
