Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1804 -My great-grandfather and four concubines, although my great-grandmother was the first, she had suffered a lot. In order to keep her marriage and protect the interests of her children, she sacrificed a lot.

My grandfather and the others also saw their mother's wronged life when they were young. Therefore, after my great-grandfather passed away and my great-grandmother took charge of the house. She established that family rule, and my grandparents followed that family rule. No one messes with men and women outside. Once married, it is a lifetime A couple for a lifetime.

My brother and I will do the same. If we get married in the future, we will be absolutely loyal to our marriage. Marriage is a lifelong event, so we must be cautious, don't be impulsive, and think twice."

Kevin admired it as he walked. Although the scenery of Queen's courtyard was not as good as that of his Wildridge Manor, it was still beautiful and occupies a large area. Maybe because he was used to the beauty of his own garden, Kevin still preferred his own villa.

Kevin said: "Other than having a good family style, Mr. Queen, you have no other requirements for the other half. I'll see if there are any girls who meet the requirements, introduce them to you, and see if I can get your matchmaker money."

Hayden was amused by Kevin. She smiled and said, "Mr. York, You should solve your problem first. You have been urged to marry by your elders so you have to go to Jensburg to take refuge.

Mr. York, you're not even 30 yet, right?"

"This exact year is I'm 29, so it looks like I'm a year older than you. I don't think it's too late for us men to get married at 35, especially since we have successful careers.

But the elders in my family are urging me desperately. In the past, my elder brother was in the way. If my mother urged me to find a girlfriend, I could pull my elder brother out to block me. Now the elder brother has a wife, and the second brother has also a wife, so my mother is in a hurry."

Hayden laughed again.

Kevin's words were very funny, no wonder he could always make her parents laugh.

"Do you think my parents are in a hurry, Mr. Queen? We haven't turned 30 yet. We are not very old. Do we really need to be told? No one doesn't want me, but I haven't met the right person yet. It's just an individual.

Marriage is a lifelong event. I need to find the right person, a girl who will make me want to stop being single on my own. Who knows if I listen to my parents and pick a woman at random to marry if I want to be happy?

If I'm not happy, I should split up. So I'll break another family rule. The men in our York family can't get divorced."

Kevin looked helpless.

Hayden smiled and said: "Mr. York, you're right, don't worry, look slowly. You didn't find a girl you like in Wiltspoon, if you meet someone you like here in Jensburg, you can tell me, I'll help you lead the red line.

I know a lot of famous daughters, as long as Mr. York is willing, I can help you arrange blind dates every day, and make sure that the blind date is different every day."

Kevin said: "Then I thank you first, The woman in Wiltspoon, I have seen them all, and there is no spark, maybe my other half is not in Wiltspoon.

Perhaps I can meet my other half in another place. Mr. Queen, please pay attention to me. If there is a good girl, please lead me. If I meet a good girl in Wiltspoon, who is suitable for you, I will also introduce it to you.

Mr. Queen, In your's words, you saw a lot of beauties in Jensburg, and if I replace them with those from Wiltspoon, maybe you will like them."

After finishing speaking, Kevin suddenly approached Hayden, and whispered in her ear: "Mr. Queen, If you like men, you can tell me, and I will introduce you to a good man, or... You can think about me."
