

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1812

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1812 -“Grandma thinks that the cultivation of you is very successful. You are all young talents with good character, strong ability, and a sense of responsibility. You can’t do that kind of thing. If you really do it, grandma hasn’t practiced for a long time. You have worked hard, and your actions are not as agile as when you were young, but you still have the strength to draw you.”

Kevin: “...Grandma, can you wait for me to finish talking?”

“Say it, obviously it was you who said half and kept the other half, and didn’t finish the sentence at once. you’re ashamed to blame grandma, that is, your own grandma can accommodate you like this.”

“Grandma, I will go to see the house tomorrow, and I need a famous geomancer. Is there a real one?”

The old lady didn’t understand, and said, “You need a geomancer to see the house. Grandma understands that buying a house is a lifelong event. Living in a house with bad layout will not be smooth, and the most feared thing is to buy a house with the worst layout. If it doesn’t go well, the family may be ruined.

But you said you want a geomancer who can deceive people, do you think grandma can’t invite a good geomancer to show you the house?”

Grandma May was already old, and she had seen many outsiders.

The elderly believe in geomancy.

The most powerful geomancer went to the old house of their York family, and they were set up by the geomancer so that their York family could always have a happy family. Their business kept growing, and they got richer and safer. They had the most money for a long time.

The only thing that surprised them was when the geomancer said to York family’s ancestors that it was harder to have a daughter.

The York family’s ancestors thought that the pattern of wealth and happiness was what most people wanted. If it was harder to have a daughter, then it was harder. It was just hard, but that didn’t mean they didn’t have any daughters.

In the end, it wasn’t harder, it was just very hard!

Since many generations ago, the York family hadn’t had a daughter.

Grandpa's generation did have a daughter, but she didn't grow up to be an adult. Grandpa's generation counted up to three generations, and there was no daughter.

Grandma was looking forward to her granddaughter until her neck was longer than that of a giraffe, and she didn't expect a granddaughter, so she took her family out of the old house left by the ancestors of the York family and lived in Wildridge Manor.

She wanted to see if she could spell a great-granddaughter.

After seeing the power of geomancy, Grandma May was very convinced of geomancy. There must, of course, be real skills to learn it. Just that not many people learned this profession in this day and age, and even fewer people were really good at it.

Regarding Kevin's request, no one as smart as Grandma May. She could understand the grandson's intention in doing so.

"Grandma, I just need a good geomancer. Anyway, grandma help me with this, I'm going to use the master tomorrow, grandma, you can help me arrange it."

Grandma May: "... Alas, your request really embarrasses grandma, your grandma has made friends with all masters. Don't worry."

Kevin hung up the phone.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-