Chapter 1631 Melanie Tries To Explain

“Melanie, mind your words. You’re the one who knocked on my door and chatted with me for quite a while. After that, you insisted on entering my room and rekindling our romantic moments,” he mumbled subtly.

Melanie was at a loss for words to refute.

Next, the man flashed her a casual smile. “It doesn’t matter if you feel too awkward to admit that you were the one who made the first move last night. After all, we had gone through seven rounds last night. You’re mine now!”

The impact of his words was disastrous. Undeniably, facts could not be denied. The overwhelming fact was enough to give Stephen a blow, and he would not accept Melanie again.

“Stop bluffing! I’m not yours! I’m Stephen’s woman! I belong to him forever, dead or alive!” Melanie advanced toward Stephen and was about to grab hold of his arm, but he dodged swiftly.

She swallowed her pride and gazed at him pitifully. “Stephen, I’m your girlfriend. I vowed to be by your side for the rest of my life. No matter what, I won’t part with you! Even death can’t separate us!” No matter what, I can’t break up with Stephen! I love him so much! If I break up with him, the despicable vixen will surely stand to benefit! No way! I can’t let that happen!

Dead silence ensued the place.

Stephen’s grim face was devoid of expression. He did not even spare her any glance.

The man alongside her wore a look of indignance as he added fuel to the burning fire. “You said that to me as well when you were in bed last night!”

Blood drained from Melanie’s face instantaneously. D*mn it! He’s obviously spelling trouble for me!

“Stop talking nonsense and back off now!” She lashed out at him.

“D*mn it! How can you deny everything now? When we were indulged in our passionate moment last night, you couldn’t even let go of me and kept calling me darling! So you’re thinking of kicking me aside now, huh?”

Melanie’s mind turned blank, and she was unable to utter any words.

Her consciousness faded in and out after she had passed out the night before. Besides that, she was overcome by a sudden wave of lust. Despite feeling delirious, she was pretty sure that the man alongside her the previous night was Stephen. She was clueless about how she ended up spending the night with another man. By the time she came to her senses in the morning, only then did she realize that she had fallen into a trap.

As burning fury surged from within her, she picked up the pillow and hit the man with it. "Get out of my way now!"

The man was not infuriated but continued to grin frivolously. "Don't you know it's a way of displaying your affection to me when you're hitting and scolding me? Anyway, don't you think it's inappropriate to do so in the face of another man?"

Melanie picked up the pillow again and chased frantically after him to chase him out of the room.

Stephen was utterly speechless at the sight of the absurd scene. The next moment, he turned to pick up his luggage and left.

"Stephen! Wait! Don't leave! Stephen!" Melanie yelled out apprehensively.

The man stood in her way and raised his voice wittingly. "Take it easy. He won't pay any heed to you no matter how you're yelling at him. After all, you still have me. We already had seven rounds last night. Let's have more rounds tonight! I'll surely satisfy you then!"

After adding insult to injury with the ambiguous words, he was sure as hell that Stephen would not accept Melanie again. The lecherous smile on his face only faded away after Stephen was far away from them.

Looking at how he grabbed hold of her wrist, Melanie growled, "Let go of me!"

The man let go of her hand abruptly. His lips contorted into a disdainful smile as he scoffed, "Melanie, you have been drooling over men since you were in university. Hmph! You're seemingly still the same even after so many years!"

"B*stard! Undeniably, I had feelings toward you at that time, but..." Her voice gradually trailed off.

He snickered. "But what then? But you found out I was not from a prominent family, so you changed your mind, didn't you?"

Melanie gave no hoot to his words and did not feel like wasting time bickering with him about the trivial pasts. At the moment, she just wanted to win Stephen's heart again.

She snarled at him, "You'd better stay away from me. If not, I won't let you off!"

The man's heart skipped a beat, intimidated by the ferocity in her eyes. My goodness! This woman is ruthless indeed. She might commit any mind-boggling deed at any time. Anyway, there's nothing for me to fear! Let's see how things go then!

Chapter 1632 Nina Gives Nicole A Call

Melanie walked away hastily. She felt like double-checking with the front desk if Stephen had checked in to another room. Unexpectedly, she saw Rose sitting next to him the moment she reached the lobby. D*mn it! You're seducing my man again, and right after setting me up? What a rotten rose! You're really a vixen without any sense of shame! Don't ever think that your plot will turn out a success. I could even send the heiress of the Seet Group to h*ll. It's a piece of cake to send you there!

After heaving a sigh, she sank into deep thought. If I go over now, it will only exacerbate the situation. Anyway, Stephen is soft-hearted. I'd better work out how I can win his heart again! Vixen, I'll let you off just for this round!

The next moment, she turned and headed back to the room.

At the sight of Melanie's retreating figure, an unmissable delight flashed across Rose's eyes. Even if you're still able to cool your head off now, I bet you won't be able to take it when something unexpected occurs later. Well, you have to pay the price for your heinous deed!

In the meantime, Nicole was engaged in a pleasant conversation with Faye in Wicked Palace. Evan approached her and abruptly asked when they would be flying home.

She responded in bafflement. "Flying home? How can we go back without resolving Nina's matter?"

"Draven and the Hidden Masters are keeping an eye on Nina. Don't worry. Nothing will happen to her. Since we can't help with anything here, why not just go back earlier? Juan just called me a while ago and told me that Joy misses you!"

Nicole was silent for a while before she asked tactfully, "I wish to see Nina again before I breathe my last breath. Can I?"

After contemplating for a while, Evan replied, "All right. Draven had handed the necklace and earrings to her. We can confirm that she's Nina since she's keeping them. I'll let Draven arrange a time for us to meet her. After that, we'll fly home and wait for her to be home."

“Okay!” Nicole could barely wait to have a heart-to-heart chat with Nina. She wished to know what she had gone through. Moreover, she knew there must be a reason for Nina to seek vengeance in such disguise.

As instructed by Evan, Draven looked for Nina to discuss meeting her parents.

Draven thought for a while and agreed with her.

“Ms. Nina, Mr. Seet assigned the Hidden Masters and me to protect you twenty-four-seven. Don’t worry. We’ll be by your side all the time,” he uttered respectfully.

Nina was stunned and could not resist admiring inwardly. Daddy sure has taken everything into consideration!

“All right, you may leave now. Stay alert so nobody will find out,” she reminded Draven.

“Noted, Ms. Nina.” He nodded respectfully.

After Draven had left, Rose gave Nicole a call.

The latter was excited upon hearing Nina’s voice and asked her eagerly about what she went through all this while.

Nina intended to keep mum from her mother about those pathetic moments she went through. She made the long story short by telling Nicole that someone tried to set her up and finish her off, but she cheated death. Therefore, she wished to seek justice for herself.

As for the horrible moments whereby she was nearly defiled, she decided not to mention a single word to Nicole.

“Nina, I won’t stop you from seeking justice for yourself. You’re already an adult, and I believe that you can cope well with everything.” Nicole had confidence in her.

“Mommy, don’t worry about me. Go back with Daddy. I’ll go back once I’ve settled everything here,” Nina tried to reassure her.

“Okay. Kyle’s girlfriend is pregnant. As for Riley, who had set your daddy up previously, Juan is trying to track down his background. If you can manage on your own here, we’ll go back and settle the things over there.” Nicole sounded more relieved.

“Mommy, please congratulate Kyle on behalf of me. I miss him, Juan, and Maya a lot. How is Maya? Is she still having gamophobia? How’s her relationship with Wilbur?” Nina asked eagerly.

Nicole chuckled. "I can only say that lucky star is shining on Maya. Under your Uncle Davin and our arrangement, she happened to meet her boyfriend and started dating him. I heard she's getting along well with Wilbur. They'll be back after Wilbur settles everything for the branch companies of the Simpson family."

"Mommy, I should be back when Maya goes back later. Both you and Daddy have been bothered by my problems these years. But I promise you it won't happen again. After going through a lot all this while, I've really grown up!" Nina assured her.

"Yeah, your daddy and I have seen changes in you all this while. We strongly believe that you'll get better as time goes." Nicole felt touched by her words.

Nina took a deep breath after hanging up. It was as though she had experienced reincarnation after going through a lot. There'll be a brand new Nina after everything comes to an end!

Mistaking the CEO for a Gigolo Chapter 1633

Chapter 1633 Sophia Seems To Sense Something

Back at the Imperial Garden, Sophia scrutinized Sally's belly gently.

Ever since she was back from K Nation, she had been observing Sally's eating habits. Surprisingly, she discovered that there was not even a single bit of change in Sally's taste bud. Apart from that, her belly was flat as ever.

Sally, who was drinking milk on the arch-shaped sofa, sensed it and started to feel uneasy. She squeezed a smile and asked warily, "Grandma, what are you looking at?"

"I suddenly recall that when your mother-in-law and Aunt Sheila were pregnant last time, they both craved for certain types of food. I wonder why you don't seem to have changes in your taste buds, and you're still slim as ever. Could it be you lack nutrition? Should I find ways to increase your nutrients?" Sophia explained and continued to stare at her belly.

Sally felt a rush of restlessness. I'm not pregnant. Of course there won't be any changes to my taste buds and belly!

"Grandma, I've enough consumption of nutrients. Don't worry. I'm not lacking any." She tried to convince Sophia.

"Are you craving any food? I'll get the chef to prepare for you tomorrow," Sophia asked again in great concern.

Sally replied hesitantly, "I-I'm craving spicy fish stew."

Spicy? A saying came into Sophia's mind at once. If a pregnant woman was craving sour food, the baby would be a boy. If she craved spicy food, then it would be a girl. Does that imply that Sally's going to have a baby girl? Anyway, it doesn't matter since this is their first child. They'll have other babies again for sure. It's just a matter of time for them to have a baby boy!

"Okay, I'll ask the chef to prepare spicy fish stew for you tomorrow," she told Sally excitedly.

"Thanks, Grandma." Sally expressed her gratitude courteously.

"You don't have to thank me. I'm more than happy because you're bearing a child and thus building up the next generation for the Seet family. I'll be even happier if you take great care of your health," Sophia uttered gently.

A smile surfaced on Sally's face, but it was not genuine. Me bearing a child and building up the next generation? I'm faking my pregnancy!

Right that instant, she could not resist feeling guilty for faking her pregnancy. Oh my! Grandma is taking such great care of me, but I'm lying to her!

Kyle stared at her in amusement, as though he was watching a show. This woman is faking a pregnancy and troubling Grandma to take care of her. I wonder how she'll explain to Grandma if the secret is revealed one day!

Sensing Kyle's meaningful gaze, Sally lowered her head in embarrassment.

She let out a deep sigh when she suddenly remembered that Evan and Nicole would be home the following day. My goodness! There are going to be two more pairs of eyes staring at me with great concern. I bet my life will be even more challenging then. I wonder how long my fake pregnancy can last!

"It's quite late now. Kyle, accompany Sally to bed now. A pregnant woman must have proper rest," Sophia advised Kyle.

"All right. Grandma, you should go to bed earlier too." He stood up with Sally and headed back to their room.

Before Sophia was back, both of them used to stay in separate rooms. Nevertheless, she emphasized that Kyle should take great care of Sally in case the woman needed anything at night. Apart from that, she even mentioned that it did not matter for them to stay in the same room as Sally was already pregnant.

Juan also echoed by saying, "True indeed. Since you'll have a baby soon, there's no need to feel distant. What is there to be embarrassed about staying together in the same room?"

Furthermore, Skyler also advised Sally to stay together with Kyle for the sake of her status in the family. After all, she was Kyle's wife, the spouse of the eldest heir for the Seet family in the future. If she did not stay in the same room with Kyle, the maids would look down on her too.

After pondering for a while, Sally finally decided to take Sophia's advice and moved into Kyle's room.

Surprisingly, Kyle did not seem to be repulsed when she suddenly moved into his room. Even so, Sally was unaware of how he felt, as he was usually devoid of expression. Nonetheless, they had both set a rule to take turns in sleeping on the bed and floor.

After they were back in the room, Sally looked at Kyle solemnly. "It's my turn to sleep on the floor tonight. But do you mind letting me use the bathroom first? I'll sleep right after the shower, and I promise I won't take long in the bathroom."

Kyle nodded approvingly after thinking for a while.

"Thank you." Sally was over the moon and dashed toward the bathroom with her pajamas.

In the meantime, Kyle squinted as he recalled how Sally seemed to be bothered by her fake pregnancy and ended up mumbling every night. Apparently, she was worried sick about the consequence if anyone found out about it. This silly woman! There's actually a solution for this. But why doesn't she get the matter resolved in that way?

Mistaking the CEO for a Gigolo Chapter 1634

Chapter 1634 Kyle Decides To Help Sally

So she never realizes that I'm able to help her get pregnant? But it's just the two of us alone in the room. How is it possible that the idea never comes across her mind?

Kyle thought he might be able to give her a hint after she had taken her shower.

Meanwhile, the bathroom turned misty after being shrouded by hot steam. Under the showerhead, crystal-clear droplets were rolling along Sally's delicate skin.

Looking down at her flat belly, she could not resist but heave a sigh. How nice if I'm really pregnant...

Sally actually had an idea, but she was worried that Kyle would misunderstand her as a woman who led a promiscuous lifestyle. Hence, she did not dare to do so. If not, she was pretty sure that she would have the opportunity to turn her fake pregnancy into reality at any time!

She took a deep breath at the thought.

“Sally, men should be the ones to take the first move in this matter. Kyle is a virtuous man who is not easily lured by any seductions. If you take the first move and cling to him, you’ll only bring shame to yourself. Don’t forget that you’re Maupay’s daughter. You shouldn’t tarnish the reputation of the Maupay family. After all, Kyle might not have any interest in you. That’s why he’s not taking any moves. It will be a self-humiliation if you turn out to be the one to do so. What if he’s infuriated and kicks you out of the room? It’s not worth it then.” After mumbling to herself, she lay down in the bathtub after splashing her face with cold water.

By the time she stepped out from the bathroom after showering, Kyle had already changed into his pajamas. However, it was not well buttoned.

Under the dim light, his seductive figure and wheat-colored broad chest were gleaming with alluring radiance. Sally could barely take her eyes off him.

“Do I look good?” She only retracted her gaze when Kyle’s languorous voice sounded. By then, her dainty face was blushed crimson.

She turned away awkwardly. “I’ve taken my shower. It’s your turn now.”

After that, she started to flatten the bedsheets of the mattress on the floor and prepare for bedtime.

At the sight of her shyness, Kyle’s lips curved into a subtle smile as he walked toward the bathroom.

When he stepped out of the bathroom later, Sally was lying on the floor, watching Tik Tok jovially. I wonder what makes her grin ear to ear!

He uttered casually, “If you feel that the floor is too hard and causing you discomfort, you can sleep on the bed.”

Sleep on the bed? Sally was flabbergasted. Is he exuding a vibe as a gentleman by letting me sleep on the bed?

“But I’d feel bad for that,” she mumbled awkwardly.

Kyle replied indifferently, “There’s nothing to feel bad about. Anyway, it’s up to you!”

Sally was silent, astounded by his words. Since he is already offering it, why shouldn’t I sleep on the bed? I always end up sustaining pain in my waist after sleeping on the floor!

After making up her mind, she stood up and hopped onto the bed. When she was about to thank Kyle, she saw him lying on the other side of the bed.

The discovery stopped her in her tracks. So Kyle is not switching turns with me, but he's thinking of sleeping on the bed as well? Just the two of us in the room and sleeping together on the bed... Is he giving me a chance?

Gazing at Kyle, her face turned burning hot.

With his eyes closed, Kyle's long lashes fluttered. Under the dim light, his cold face appeared to be gentler. The usual indifferent vibe exuded by his body also seemed to have faded a lot.

Sally's heart pounded tremendously. If I manage to have a child with Kyle, I won't have to fake my pregnancy anymore. By then, there will be a solution to my biggest issue!

Earlier on, Evan mentioned that they would only talk to her about her wedding with Kyle after she gave birth. The baby's arrival will be able to eliminate many issues!

Thus, she felt she should muster up her courage for the sake of herself and her future with Kyle. Other than that, the Maupay family and the Seet family would be able to coexist peacefully.

She stretched out her hand and caressed Kyle's stunning face. He did not respond at all. It was as if he was already asleep.

Next, she pinched his face slightly again. However, there was still no response from him.

Mistaking the CEO for a Gigolo Chapter 1635

Chapter 1635 Carry My Baby

Has he really fallen asleep?

She gently touched his cheek. His face is so smooth.

Kyle could not help but wonder, Is she just gonna touch my face and do nothing else?

Sally gradually turned her attention to his sexy Adam's apple. She slowly ran her fingers down his chest and started drawing circles around it.

"What a tight, muscular body..." She then pinched his chest.

Kyle suppressed his voice but still let out a deep grunt. Where did this woman get her strength from?

Next, Sally unbuttoned his shirt, exposing his muscular chest and chiseled abdomen. Upon seeing his body in its full glory, Sally was flabbergasted.

Many socialites in Y City were crazy about Kyle and wanted to be with him.

I wonder what they'll do to him if they're given the opportunity to stare him up close!

Sally paused for a moment before massaging his body at an irregular pace.

As she was doing it, she mumbled, "It feels so good to touch a handsome man's body. Yes..."

"Really?" All of a sudden, Kyle opened his eyes and looked at her.

Sally froze for a bit, then quickly retracted her hands. "You're... You're awake?"

"Do you really think I can sleep in peace while you rub my chest as if you're abusing a dog?"

Abusing a dog?

I may be a little heavy-handed but am still a gentle person, okay...

She cleared her throat and said sheepishly, "I'm sorry. C-Continue with your sleep..."

Just when she was about to walk away after giving him an awkward smile, Kyle grabbed her by her wrist.

"Have you thought of the consequences of faking your pregnancy? Now, take this opportunity to make things right."

"What do you mean?"

Kyle gave her a stare as if he was looking at an idiot.

After taking a glance at his sensuous body, Sally understood what he had implied.

Does that mean he wants me to carry his baby?

"Are you sure?"

"I'm giving you a chance now. Don't let it slip."

Sally's heart hammered in her ears. She then stepped forth and leaned against Kyle's chest.

At that point, her heart was in his mouth, as it was her first time doing it.

Noticing her hesitation, Kyle instantly flipped her over and pinned her down. “Is this your first time? Clumsy!”

It might sound as if Kyle was reprimanding her, but he did it with love.

Sally was at a loss for words, and her cheeks began to blush.

Kyle carefully unbuttoned her shirt and planted a kiss on her luscious lips. Sally’s mind went blank. She shut her eyes and wrapped her arms around Kyle tightly.

“Don’t move. Be good.”

Sally felt as light as a feather as she swayed to the rhythm of Kyle’s body.

By the time they woke up the next day, it was already well into the day.

Sophia wanted Sally to get enough rest, so she did not wake her up for breakfast. Deep in her heart, she was curious if they had done it last night.

Is it safe for Sally to be physically intimate with Kyle when she’s pregnant?

Just when Sophia was deep in thought, Kyle and Sally were seen coming down the stairs.

“Grandma...” Sally felt embarrassed for waking up late.

Kyle, too, felt a little awkward. “Grandma, we woke up late because Sally wasn’t feeling well last night.”

“It’s okay. That’s normal for a pregnant woman. Go and grab something to eat in the kitchen. Kyle, you have to go to the office after this. Sally, let’s go and get you some health supplements and maternity wear later.”

Sally felt uneasy, but she still nodded and thanked Sophia.

Before they could finish their breakfast, Sheila had arrived with Zayden and Joy.

Chapter 1636 Be Careful With The Baby

Upon seeing Sophia from afar, the two little ones ran toward her and hugged her thighs.

“Did you miss me, my sweet darlings?”

“Yeah, Grandma. I missed you.” Zayden pouted.

“Me too. I missed you very much. Uncle Davin said he misses you too. Daddy and Mommy will return today, and Uncle Davin will visit during dinner later,” Joy said this on behalf of Davin.

“Really? That’s great. We’ll have a reunion dinner tonight.”

“Grandma, I want to eat crab and omelet.” Zayden then let out a sigh. “If only Maya is here. She makes the best omelet!”

“We’ll get Maya to make you omelet when she comes back, okay?”

“Yay!”

Sheila gently stroked Zayden’s head. “If your daddy is around, he will surely call you a glutton, just like Maya when she was young.”

“What’s wrong with that? I need to eat more to grow, okay? Grandpa said so.”

“Zayden is right! Go and look for Kyle and Sally in the kitchen. They’re having breakfast there. Perhaps you can grab something to eat too.”

Upon hearing that, the two kids instantly ran into the kitchen.

Sheila took a glance at the time and asked Sophia, “Breakfast at this hour? Shouldn’t Kyle be in office now?”

“They woke up late this morning.”

“Woke up late?”

Sheila read between the lines and knitted her brows. She then reminded Sophia, “Mom, did you come across the news about the Zieglers a few days ago?”

“What news?” Sophia asked.

“It’s about Leonard Ziegler. He had sex with his wife during her pregnancy, and they eventually lost their baby. The patriarch of the family, Moses, fell ill when he found out about it,” Sheila said.

Sophia gasped. “Really? Moses has pinned his hope on the baby as the heir to the family, and now the baby is gone?”

“Yeah. That’s the problem with young people. They don’t think of the consequences. You have to remind Kyle and Sally to be careful not to hurt the baby. I understand they love each other very much, but they have to control themselves.”

Sophia’s expression turned grim.

Is this why they chose to sleep separately before this? It’s my fault for pushing them to sleep in a room! I should have thought of the consequences!

Sophia regretted her action.

She took note of Sheila’s advice. “Got it. I know what to do.”

“Great. We just want to be safe. It will be too late if anything bad happens to the baby.”

Meanwhile, Zayden and Joy made their way to the kitchen. Kyle was excited to see the two little ones.

“Hey, you two. Don’t you have school today?”

“It’s a Saturday. We don’t go to school on Saturdays.”

“Yeah, and we don’t go to school on Sundays too.”

“Have you eaten breakfast? Come and see if there’s anything you want to eat. I’ll get you some forks and spoons, okay?”

Joy took a glance at the food and shook her head. “No thanks. I’m full.”

On the contrary, Zayden’s eyes brightened when he saw the food on the table. “Yes, please! I didn’t really eat much during breakfast. Grandma said I can eat more here.”

“All right, then. Join us.”

Kyle instructed the maid to bring Zayden the utensils. Zayden could not wait to get his hands on the food.

After picking his favorite dishes and putting them on his plate, he started savoring them as if he was famished.

Sally could not help but giggle upon seeing the glutton in action. She advised him to slow down and gave him some vegetables.

“Fish, please. I want more fish.”

“Okay.”

“Thank you, Sally.”

“Do you know Sally is going to be Kyle’s wife soon? She’s going to be our sister-in-law. Nina, Maya, and Juan will have to call her their sister-in-law too,” Joy said.

Mistaking the CEO for a Gigolo Chapter 1637

Chapter 1637 Love Cannot Be Forced

Zayden nodded. “Thanks, Sally, my beloved sister-in-law.”

Sally took a glance at Kyle and blushed. “You’re welcome. Enjoy your food.”

After finishing the fish, Zayden had another bowl of soup. He then hopped down from his seat and rubbed his belly. “Look at my stomach. It’s so full. I can’t eat anymore.”

“You can continue during lunch.”

Kyle looked at his belly and could not help but think of Maya. Zayden looked just like her when she was little.

“Okay.”

“Let’s go and play! Luke is going to be here any minute.”

“Okay!”

The two children held their hands and left for the living hall.

Half an hour later, Tiffany brought Luke to the house. The three little ones were excited to meet with each other, and they started running all over the living hall.

While Sophia had gone out with Sally to buy maternity essentials, Sheila and Tiffany stayed home to catch up with each other.

“Do you miss Levant?” Sheila asked.

Tiffany grinned. “I don’t know. I’ve been occupied with the company and the winery, so I don’t really have much time to think about him.”

“You’re only busy during the day, but how about at night? Do you think of him?”

Tiffany kept mum.

Upon noticing Tiffany's reaction, Sheila smiled. "You must have missed him. Evan and Nicole will be coming over tonight. Levant will be here too, I suppose? You should be able to see him tonight."

"Really? I'm not sure."

"Not sure about what?"

"I'm not sure if he's coming back. He didn't call."

Sheila was left speechless. "Can't you give him a call? Stop being so passive and don't act like you don't care. You need to take the initiative to win the man's heart!"

"I used to be the one who made the first move, but he didn't seem to show any interest in me."

Sheila sighed but continued to encourage her, "Perhaps you need to try a little harder. That's how I got married to Davin. I've been trying to get his attention since preschool, and it took me twenty years to win him over. I'm sure you can do it too."

"I can't just force someone to fall in love with me, and I don't want to put pressure on him. I'm fine with how we treat each other now."

Sheila let out another sigh. "Don't you know love has no logic? The same goes for our feelings. Who says love can't be forced? Look how happy Davin and I are."

"It's different. Davin was not deeply in love with someone else, so it's easier for you to win his love. Levant is different..."

"You mean Levant is still in love with Nicole?"

Tiffany responded with a smile. "Only he knows where his heart belongs. I'm happy to give Luke a place he could call home and have a career of my own. That's all I could hope for."

Sheila began to think of what Tiffany had said. She's right. She may not have a relationship, but at least she's a successful businesswoman. We can't have it all, can we?

Evan and Nicole finally returned to Imperial Garden in the evening. Joy ran up to her and hugged her thigh. "Mommy, you're home! I missed you."

"I missed you too. You've grown taller." Nicole gently stroked the back of Joy's head.

"Sleep with me tonight, okay, Mommy?"

Nicole nodded. "Sure."

Upon hearing that, Zayden tilted his head to look at Evan. "I want to sleep with all of you too!"

Joy turned around and looked at him. "Hey, they're my daddy and mommy. Why should they sleep with you?"

Zayden pouted. "But you slept with my daddy and mommy too. My mommy hugged you last night, and when you woke up in the middle of the night, my daddy carried you! They even tossed me aside and forgot about me. Why can't I sleep with your daddy and mommy tonight?"

Chapter 1638 To Or Not To Have A Second Child

Zayden widened his eyes and tried to reason with Joy. Evan could not help but burst into laughter. "All right. You can sleep with me tonight."

Nicole rubbed his head and said, "You sound just like your daddy!"

"Me?" Davin's loud voice suddenly caught everyone's attention.

He walked toward Evan and greeted him. Just when he was about to bend down to carry Zayden, Zayden took a step back and clung onto Evan's thigh.

"Hey, why are you avoiding me? Have you forgotten that I'm your daddy?"

"Why would you want to carry me since you don't like baby boys?"

"What are you talking about? What do you mean I don't like baby boys? You're my only son. Of course I love you!"

Zayden pointed at Joy and said, "You like baby girls. I heard your conversation with Mommy that day. You all wanted another baby girl."

Davin froze for a moment. "Don't you want an obedient and adorable little sister?"

"No! I want a baby brother!"

"Davin, are you planning on having another child with Sheila?" Sophia was pleased to see the family grow.

Davin pulled Sophia aside and explained, "We only said that to agitate him because he was throwing a tantrum the other day. It was just a threat."

“Do you think it’s appropriate to threaten a child like this? Why don’t you and Sheila try to get another child?”

“Mom, I can’t do this if Sheila disagrees with the idea, can I? Besides, Sheila is not young anymore. What if something bad happens during the pregnancy?”

Davin continued, “Sally’s pregnant, right? You can count on her to grow the Seet family. And there’s also Juan! So please don’t put the pressure on me anymore.”

Sophia took a glance at him. “Sheila is not that old. I’m sure she can still give birth if she wants to.”

“If that’s your wish, go ahead and persuade her. I’m willing to give it a shot if she’s keen.”

Sophia stared at him from the corner of her eye. “Let me think about it. I have to respect Sheila’s decision too.”

“That’s right, Mom. Look around you; you have so many grandchildren, and soon, you’ll have great-grandchildren too. You should just let nature take its course and enjoy your life.”

“Are you saying that I’m being a little too busybody?” A line formed between Sophia’s brows.

“Oh, no, no, no. What I meant was, you should enjoy life and the company of your children and grandchildren at your age!”

Sophia sighed. “I guess you’re right. Once Sally delivers the baby, your dad and I should not meddle in all your affairs anymore. We should spend the rest of our day taking care of the children...”

After a short pause, Sophia shook her head. “Nope. I can’t just ignore Juan. It’s time for him to get married anyway...”

Davin let out a sigh. Give yourself a break, Mom!

Suddenly, Juan asked, “What would you like to eat for dinner, Uncle Davin?”

Davin paused for a moment and wondered, “All this while I just ate whatever you all serve, and all of a sudden, you ask for my preference? Have I done something right to deserve this kind of treatment? Let me think about it...”

Davin thought for a while and started telling Juan what he had in mind.

“Hold on!” Juan stopped him. “I think you should tell the chef yourself, Uncle Davin. I can’t remember all the names you mentioned. The chef might need an extra pair of hands, so please help!”

Davin nodded and walked to the kitchen. After taking a few steps, he stopped and turned around to look at Juan. “Well, asking me what I want to eat isn’t your only intention. Instead, you want me to lend a hand in the kitchen, right?”

Juan replied smilingly, “Uncle Davin, you’re a kind person and would always be willing to help others.”

Well, it’s true that I’m a kind person.

Davin thought he deserved Juan’s compliment.

“I know it’s my virtue, but that doesn’t mean I have to help you. How can you ask for help without giving something in return?”

“Uncle Davin, what do you mean?”

“What’s in it for me?”

“Uncle Davin, what do you want?”

Davin took a sideways glance at Juan and said, “Do you even need to ask? What’s the most straightforward way to express your gratitude?”

“Hmm, should I say thank you?”

“Wrong! You should pay me!”

“Uncle Davin, why do you need money? Besides, how much money do you expect to get by helping out in the kitchen?”

“Well, I’m worth at least ten thousand! I think I deserve that much as the appearance fee.”

As Davin was talking, Juan looked upstairs for a while and gave him a look.

Davin frowned and looked in the same direction. The next moment, he saw Sheila standing upstairs and was startled.

I'm doomed. Judging from what I said, Sheep must suspect that I'm secretly keeping some money.

Will she punish me after we go home? What should I do?

As soon as a thought flashed through Davin's mind, he cleared his throat and began to put on a show.

"Juan, please don't feel unhappy because I asked for the appearance fee. I wish to buy Aunt Sheila's favorite necklace with ten thousand as Valentine's Day gift to surprise her. I'm sure she will be overjoyed once she receives the gift."

He paused for a while and continued, "You know, it's not easy for me. I only wish to make Aunt Sheila happy. As long as she is happy, I'll feel that my life is full of purposes and meanings..."

Meanwhile, Juan was amazed by how Davin could talk nonsense righteously.

Uncle Davin is so good at acting accordingly and coaxing a girl! I'm sure Aunt Sheila loved hearing it.

When Juan looked up, Sheila was already walking down the stairs. Then, she came up to Davin, gazing at him lovingly.

"Davin, is that true? Are you going to give me a surprise during Valentine's Day?"

It's not true! I purposely said so for you to hear it!

Forcing a smile, Davin responded, "Sheep, did you hear what I said? My goodness. I wouldn't have said it if I knew you were around."

Feeling touched, Sheila said, "I understand that you don't want me to know it in advance, for it's supposed to be a surprise. Anyway, it's my fault for being so strict with your spending. I'm giving this card worth three million to you. From now on, you can spend all you want and don't have to worry when you want to buy me a gift!"

Davin felt touched as he stared at the card.

Sheila said this card is worth three million. Besides, I have saved quite a lot from the three hundred million that I got from Desmond. At that moment, Davin couldn't help but feel that he was still wealthy.

"Is this really for me?"

"It's for you. Take it!"

After Sheila put the card on Davin's hands generously, he scanned her from head to toe and asked, "Are you sure you won't regret it?"

"I won't! From now on, I'll give you money regularly. However, you must promise me that you won't recklessly spend the money."

"I understand. Anyway, no worries. I'll keep the money that you gave me to buy gifts for you."

Sheila was satisfied with his reply.

After keeping the card in his pocket, Davin gave Juan a look and walked to the kitchen arrogantly. It was as if Davin had unexpectedly received a huge chunk of money.

Meanwhile, Juan had learned that one ought not to reason with women but make them feel touched.

After all, women are emotional. They are willing to give us everything if they feel touched. That includes their precious money and jewelry. I have to remember the rule once I have a girlfriend.

Half an hour later, a feast was laid out on the table, and everyone was already seated.

Meanwhile, the two foodies, Joy and Zayden, kept staring at their favorite food with their rolling eyes.

"Zayden, come and sit beside me! I'll pick any food you want for you."

Unexpectedly, Zayden turned around and said insistently, "No! I want Uncle Evan to pick the food for me!"

"Have you looked at everyone at the table? Uncle Evan looks the fiercest! Why do you want him?" Davin glanced at his beloved son curiously.

"Didn't you say I ought to learn from Kyle? Besides, Kyle has inherited Uncle Evan's good qualities. In that case, I can learn from Uncle Evan straight away instead of learning from a middle man. Who knows if I'll become the next Kyle soon?" Zayden rebutted in a childish voice.

Juan interrupted jokingly, "Uncle Davin, Zayden has learned to be eloquent from you."

“Of course, my son has inherited my good qualities.” Davin felt proud upon hearing it from Juan.

“I’ve also inherited all of Mommy and Daddy’s good qualities. Hence, I want to become a superstar when I’ve grown up!” Joy blinked her eyes excitedly.

“Well, you’re pretty and smart. I support you to chase your dream, for I believe you will be a well-known superstar in the future,” Davin replied.

“I support you too!” Juan added.

“Feel free to do what you like. I’ll support you too.” Kyle chimed in.

“I support you as well,” Sally said.

With that, they lifted their glasses to propose a toast. At that moment, Sophia looked at Sally and said, “Sally, you can’t drink because you’re pregnant.”

Sally only remembered that she was supposed to be pregnant upon hearing it. As such, she put down her glass immediately and changed it to a glass of milk. “I was too excited just now. Anyway, allow me to use milk to replace beer.”

“You have to remember it, or else your baby might get affected.”

“Alright, Grandma. I won’t do it again next time.”

“Kyle, you have to remember it and remind her often.”

“I know it, Grandma. Don’t worry.”

After that, they proposed a toast and gulped down their drinks.

Sophia recalled what Sheila said about the Zieglers back then. Since Kyle and Sally seemed careless, Sophia thought she had to take some preventive measures.

Meanwhile, Evan glanced at Juan and asked about Riley.

“Daddy, we’ve figured out who Riley is. He is not the real Riley!” said Juan.

“The real Riley was killed by the impostor as soon as he returned. After that, Riley’s father, Ulric, was severely ill and passed away overseas. Also, Ulric’s illness was related to the impostor.”

Evan’s expression turned grim upon hearing it. “In that case, who is the impostor? What does he have to do with Steven?”

“Well, the impostor isn’t an outsider. Instead, he is Steven’s half-brother, given birth by the mistress of Steven’s father.”

Juan continued to explain. “His real name is Lucas. He lived with the Maupay family until he was ten years old. After that, his mother had an affair and was caught red-handed by Steven’s father. Hence, he and his mother were driven out.”

He then paused for a while to let Evan process the information before continuing. “After that, he was informed that Steven’s mother framed her mother for it. As such, he held a deep grudge against Steven’s mother and always wished to take revenge against her.”

Evan quietly listened as Juan continued. “However, God didn’t offer him the chance. He was only thirteen when Steven’s mother passed away. Although his enemy was gone, his hatred kept growing day by day. After all, her mother had depression and eventually passed away after they were driven out. Hence, he decided to punish Steven to avenge his mother!”

Then, Juan continued, “He planted some spies around Steven to wait for an opportunity. Finally, he heard that Riley, who lived abroad, wished to come back and develop his career. Also, Steven replied to Riley’s letter, saying that he wanted Riley to help him. Therefore, he thought of the plan to replace Riley with himself.”

“It looks like Lucas sure is a sly one! However, why did he want to impersonate your dad?”
