Chapter 1841 Give It A Shot

As soon as Davin felt Evan's icy gaze on him, his heart lurched.

Why is he looking at me like that? He admitted it himself, so was I wrong to mention it?

"Evan, Juan is your son. You may not know who your wife is, but he knows very well who's his mother! Go ahead and ask him. Ask him whether his mother is Shermaine or that woman in front of him?"

"Daddy, Mommy is standing right behind you, giving you a massage! Shermaine is one of The Four Guardians of Daemonic Mount. How could she possibly be my mother? Daddy, what did Shermaine do to you? Why don't you remember Mommy?"

The dark expression on Evan's face was unfathomable.

Even Juan is saying that Nicole is my wife? But I can clearly hear the voice in my head saying that Shermaine is my wife. What's going on?

Noting Evan's silence, Nicole shot Juan a look that indicated he should stop talking.

Later, Juan found an opportunity to talk to Nicole about Evan's condition.

"Shermaine must've done something to Daddy to make him forget you, so don't get mad."

"Why would I get mad? I understand. It's just that I'm getting anxious because we still can't find a way to cure him."

A pained expression crossed her face as she explained that she had even taken Evan's pulse. She had not detected anything unusual in his pulse, and everything seemed normal.

"If I can't detect any symptoms, I won't know how to treat him."

"On our way back, Levant mentioned that he thinks Shermaine hypnotized Evan and somehow controlled him. That's why he doesn't remember you. Do you think that theory makes sense?" said Davin.

"Hypnosis?"

Nicole sank into deep thought.

“It does seem possible. However, I don’t know whether one can control another through hypnosis. It’d be better to ask someone who knows more about hypnosis.”

“Yes, I think we should look into that theory. If it turns out to be true, it’ll be easy for us to treat Evan. All we have to do is find a hypnotist to hypnotize him again so that we can dispel the false information she planted in his mind. He’ll be able to return to his usual self then!”

Nicole pondered his words. Hmm, that’s not a bad idea. After all, there’s no harm in giving it a shot.

Juan began asking Nicole impatiently whether she knew any hypnotists and whether she could get in touch with them.

In truth, Nicole had thought of someone. However, there was no phone signal at the cabin, so she had no way of contacting that person. The only solution was for her to make a trip into town.

“Juan, I’m going into town for a little while to try and ask about Daddy’s condition. If it’s indeed a result of hypnosis, I’ll get the hypnotist to come over as soon as possible to treat him.”

“Okay. I’ll go with you!”

“That’s sweet of you, but you should stay here and protect Daddy since his condition isn’t stable yet. Draven and Damien will go with me.”

Juan was a little disappointed, but he nodded after realizing what she said made sense.

Levant had also wanted to accompany Nicole, but Davin suggested that it would be better for him to stay behind too. After all, Nicole was merely going to make a phone call, so it would not be a dangerous trip. The most important thing they had to do was keep an eye out for Shermaine and protect Evan and Nicole’s relationship. They could not let Shermaine get any opportunities to get between the couple!

Nicole also asked Levant to stay and protect Evan, so he had no choice but to dismiss his initial plan.

Puzzled, Levant asked, “Why are you smiling?”

“I’m smiling because your plan to accompany Nicole got ruined. Evan may have forgotten about Nicole, but as his brother, I won’t let you have the chance to spend time with my sister-in-law.”

That response left Levant nonplussed.

He had merely offered to accompany Nicole because he was worried and wanted to protect her. He had no other motive, and he certainly had never thought of setting his cap on her.

I have my own little family now, and they are never far from my thoughts.

Mistaking the CEO for a Gigolo Chapter 1842

Chapter 1842 Zayden Possesses Girin Blood

Davin always thinks the worst of me. I can't believe he even thought that...

"Get your mind out of the gutter, will you?" Levant snapped, ticking Davin off.

However, Davin was not affected by his cutting remark at all. "You can say whatever you want. Regardless, your plans have gone down the drain. You must be feeling upset, so I won't mind even if you vent your frustrations on me. Go ahead and say all the nastiest things that come to your mind. I'll take it all quietly."

Levant ignored him.

If I continue to rant, it'll only reflect poorly on myself. It'll seem like I'm genuinely upset that I didn't get to go and am deliberately taking out my frustrations on Davin.

"You're full of cunning tricks, Davin. But alas, you haven't got much upstairs. Otherwise, you could've done your part and contributed your efforts to the Seet family's business. If you had been able to help, the company would surely grow further and rake in more profits."

"Evan is doing an excellent job managing the family's business. There's no need for me to interfere. I can focus on putting my cunning tricks to good use and live a happy and carefree life," Davin quipped.

Levant gazed at Davin thoughtfully, pondering the latter's strengths and how he could make use of them. There's no saying when they might come in handy.

As Juan watched the two men bicker, he debated whether to tell Davin about his speculation.

After some hesitation, he finally approached them.

"Uncle Davin..."

“Juan, what skills do you think your uncle has? I say we put them to good use after returning to Y City,” said Levant.

“I think... I think his greatest achievement is surely having a son like Zayden! He’s clever, talented, and unlike any other!”

Davin smiled when he heard that, but he was baffled as to why Juan was suddenly singing Zayden’s praises.

Meanwhile, Levant was indignant as he felt that Luke was much more intelligent than Zayden.

“Juan, don’t you think you’re going a little overboard with your praise? I think it’d be more suitable to use it on Joy. If you want to use it to describe Zayden... Well, I don’t think he’s that outstanding.”

That response irked Davin.

“How do you know that my son isn’t a talented genius like no other? Who knows? Maybe he’ll amaze everyone with his talent in the future and show that he’s a cut above the rest!”

Despite his bold statement, Davin did not believe in it wholeheartedly himself.

In his heart, he knew that Luke and Joy were much more intelligent than Zayden.

Before Levant could retort, Juan sang out, “Spot on, Uncle Davin! I didn’t expect you to think that way too!”

“Juan, are you agreeing with what I just said?”

“Of course!” Juan nodded firmly.

Davin chuckled. “All right, Juan. I get it. You think of Zayden as a brother and are protective of him. However, I have to admit that even I’m not that confident about my statement. You don’t have to flatter me.”

“I’m not! It’s the truth! Zayden is really gifted...” Juan paused, then continued, “Uncle Davin, I have something important to tell you. Zayden could very well be the person... who possesses Girin Blood!”

When Davin heard that, he fell into stunned silence, wondering whether his ears had deceived him.

Levant was similarly shocked. “What did you say?”

Juan looked at them and nodded earnestly.

“It’s true. Do you know why I’m so persistent about finding the hidden treasure? It’s because someone told me the treasure is somehow linked to the Seet family. Only someone from the Seet family can unlock the treasure! At first, I thought I was the chosen one. But now, I think that it’s Zayden. He seems to have the qualities of someone who possesses Girin Blood.”

Davin remained silent. Never in a million years did I ever think Zayden would have anything to do with the treasure!

Mistaking the CEO for a Gigolo Chapter 1843

Chapter 1843 Zayden Is The Chosen One

He felt very conflicted after receiving this sudden piece of news.

“Juan, are you sure you are not mistaken? Why would the treasure have anything to do with our family? Why would my son...”

He had thought that his mercenary uncle would be elated to receive this news. He did not expect him to look more worried than happy.

“Uncle Davin, I think the treasure is connected to our family because Zayden has Girin Blood. However, it could be just a complete coincidence that Zayden is the chosen one. Then again, this could actually be fated as well!”

Is that so? Would a twist of fate be a good or bad thing?

Levant looked at Davin, who appeared to be deep in thought. “Do you feel very proud now that your son holds the key to the treasure? Seems like the treasure is very much linked to you too. When you attain the treasure, don’t forget my slice of the pie!”

Davin was not proud. In fact, he was feeling very troubled.

He suddenly looked up to look at Juan and Levant. “My son owns Girin Blood. With so many people aiming for the treasure, they will be plotting to get their hands on him as well. No! I have to rush back to Y City to protect Zayden!”

Both Juan and Levant were quite taken aback by his reaction.

They had expected him to bring Zayden there immediately before devising a plan to obtain the key from Lucas. Then, he would obtain the treasure!

“Don’t you want the treasure, Davin?”

“I’ve never set my eyes on whatever treasure. All I want is to protect my son and have him grow up safely and in a carefree manner. No treasure in the world can measure up to my son!”

Davin’s answer made Levant admire him greatly.

It would seem even mercenary people had their Achilles’ heel.

To Davin, the bond between a father and son was still more important than treasure.

“Uncle Davin, if Zayden is fated to be connected to the treasure, he would never be able to escape this saga. Why don’t—”

“Why don’t we what? Juan, are you still eyeing the treasure and aiming for Zayden’s blood? You can’t do that! You are his cousin!”

“Do you have to be this anxious over three drops of blood?” Levant asked.

Davin stared at him seriously. “Of course, I have to! There are so many people out there who want to have access to the treasure. If each person asks for three drops of blood from my son, what will be left in the end? Moreover, he is so afraid of pain. I will definitely not allow anyone to set their sights on him!”

“Do you really think those who have their minds set on the treasure will not lay their hands on him just because you refuse to grant them your permission?”

At this juncture, Levant looked at Juan and continued, “Juan, didn’t you say that you just wanted Zayden to contribute that three drops of blood to settle this issue with the treasure? You mean that this was the only way to ensure Zayden’s safety as it would stop others from targeting him.”

Juan nodded.

He felt that there was no point in avoiding a matter that had already happened.

It would be better to face it and solve it as soon as possible.

When Davin heard that, he felt that it was a good idea as well.

If three drops of blood could be exchanged for future peace and serenity, it was definitely something that could be considered.

“Davin, I think Juan’s idea is reasonable. What do you think?”

Davin was silent for a while as he struggled to make a decision.

“I think it makes sense too, but my child is not just my own. Sheep is his mother. I have to discuss this with her first.”

With that, Juan and Levant did not pursue it further.

When Davin decided to return to Y City, they suggested that he make a swift decision. Otherwise, if Lucas, Steven, and the others found out about this, more trouble would be headed their way.

Mistaking the CEO for a Gigolo Chapter 1844

Chapter 1844 Our Son Is Zayden

“I got this! Take care of my brother and I’ll head back first.”

“Don’t worry, we will!”

The first sight that greeted Davin when he arrived at Seet Residence was of Zayden and Joy playing hide and seek in the courtyard. They looked extremely adorable as they hopped around.

Joy was hiding skillfully near the pond while Zayden shouted from behind the rock, “Ready or not, here I come!”

He stared at Zayden’s figure with mixed emotions.

What is so special about this child that he could actually possess Girin Blood?

When the maids saw him, they immediately came forward to help him with his luggage.

“You are back, Mr. Davin!”

Davin nodded and handed his luggage to the maids before rushing to the living room.

Zayden and Joy exchanged glances with each other when they spotted his back view. Joy then asked Zayden curiously, “Since Uncle Davin is back, are my parents and Juan back too?”

“I have no idea. Let’s go and ask my daddy to find out.”

The two little ones headed to the living room.

The moment they set foot into the living room, they saw Davin talking to Sheila and Sophia.

“So you are saying that you came back alone?”

“Yes, they still have to settle some matters over there, so they will come back after a few more days.”

“What matters?” Sophia asked.

Davin lied and said that Nicole was learning some advanced hypnotherapy methods from an experienced medical expert and would be back only after completing her course. He did not want Sophia to be worried, so he did not tell them about Evan being severely hypnotized.

“So will Juan come back with them as well?” Sophia asked again.

“Yes, they will come back together.”

A wave of realization washed over Sophia’s face. “So you came back early because you missed your wife and child?”

Sheila felt all fuzzy and loved inside. She looked affectionately toward Davin and waited for his response.

However, Davin looked rather troubled as he nodded after glancing at Sheila.

Sophia smiled as she stood up. “I knew that Davin must have missed you and the child when he was out there. You have not seen each other for a while so do spend some time together. I’ll head out for a while to run some errands.”

After Sophia left, Davin took a look around the living room and suggested that they head upstairs as he felt that it would not be safe to talk there.

Sheila followed him to the bedroom upstairs, thinking he wanted to do something.

Then, Davin locked the bedroom door for some reason.

Sheila immediately prepared his pajamas and told him that she would prepare his bath for him.

With all that she was doing, Davin knew that she had misunderstood his intentions.

“Do I need to take a bath before telling you something important?”

Sheila was stunned. “You brought me upstairs and locked the door just to tell me something important?”

Davin nodded earnestly. “Yes, because this is an important matter that no one can find out about.”

Slightly disappointed, Sheila placed his pajamas back into the closet and said, "Go ahead and say it."

"Sheila, do you know who our son is?"

Sheila did not understand why he would ask this question. She glanced at him and said, "Our son is Zayden, of course. Did you forget who our son was after this one trip?"

"No, what I meant was his other identity. It is something quite amazing!"

Sheila sized him up, thinking that he was being funny. "What other identities could he have? No matter what, he is still your son. It's not like he could suddenly become your father."

"Sheep, what are you talking about?" Davin glared at her.

Sheila burst out laughing and said, "Fine, go ahead and say what you want to say. If not, let's go and see him."

"Of course, I have something important to say. Let me tell you..."

Davin then told her all about Zayden being the possessor of Girin Blood.

Mistaking the CEO for a Gigolo Chapter 1845

Chapter 1845 Bring Joy Along

Sheila could hardly believe her ears.

How could something like this happen?

"Davin, is that the truth?"

"Juan told me, so it must be true. The treasure is linked to our family, and the owner of Girin Blood is a child who is full of spiritual energy. Only Zayden fits the description."

Everything had happened too quickly for Sheila to fully believe and comprehend what he had said.

"Sheila, Zayden is now in extreme danger. Should we bring him to Daemonic Mount as soon as possible, or should we hide him so that nobody can find him?"

Sheila thought for a while and asked, "Where do you intend to hide him? Also, would you be able to hide him for the rest of his life? I think it would be best to bring him to Daemonic Mount as soon as possible and open up the treasure so that this matter can be laid to rest. After that, Zayden can continue his life."

Davin had thought about this on his way back. This was Juan's suggestion, and he thought that this was the best solution as well.

Moreover, it was better to just contribute three drops of blood rather than to live in hiding for the rest of his life.

"In that case, let's prepare for our journey to set out to Daemonic Mount."

"Should we tell Mom?"

"No, it is best to keep it to as few people as possible. With that, Zayden will be in less danger!"

Sheila nodded before they came up with an excuse to bring Zayden to Daemonic Mount.

During lunch, Sheila brought up an excuse to bring Zayden for a holiday.

When Joy heard that, there was envy in her eyes. She then cautiously asked, "Uncle Davin and Aunt Sheila, could you bring me along?"

Sheila looked at Davin. He felt that Daemonic Mount was too treacherous to bring her to as they did not know what would happen on the journey. Hence, he wanted to leave Joy here.

Joy was rather unhappy, but she did not talk back either. She merely continued eating her food with her head hung low.

Zayden was unhappy to see that Joy was unhappy.

"Daddy, just let Joy come with us. I want to be with her."

Davin glared at Zayden for him to finish his food quickly. However, Zayden was unwilling to eat his lunch. He put down his utensils and began to pout and throw a mini tantrum.

Seeing that her grandchildren were not happy, where one was eating with her head hung low and the other was unwilling to eat, Sophia felt a tug at her heartstrings. She sighed and said, "Davin, just bring Joy along with you. She is a smart little cookie and won't give you trouble. She can play with Zayden too."

Davin felt quite conflicted. He was not afraid that Joy would bring trouble to him. He was worried that they would encounter danger and inflict it upon her instead.

"Daddy, if you don't bring Joy, I'm not going either. I'll go wherever Joy goes."

“Hey, how dare you negotiate with your father, you brat? I’ll be sure to teach you a lesson after lunch!”

Zayden grimaced at him but did not dare to voice a reply.

“You better not!” Sophia glared at Davin. “Bring Joy with you. You have to listen to me. If you don’t, I’ll teach you a lesson first.”

“But Mom…”

“Mom, we will bring Joy with us,” Sheila said before putting more food onto Joy and Zayden’s plates. “Eat up! After this, go and pack up your things, all right?”

The two little ones brightened up immediately and began gobbling down their food.

After eating, Davin felt that Sheila had agreed to it too hastily. Sheila looked at him and said woefully, “Was there any room for rejection there? If we did not agree to it, Mom and Joy would be unhappy. Zayden would not cooperate with us either. Thankfully, Evan, Nicole, Juan, and the rest are at Daemonic Mount as well. They will definitely take good care of Joy. Come on, don’t be too worried!”

Davin sighed silently. He had no choice but to bring Joy along too.

Mistaking the CEO for a Gigolo Chapter 1846

Chapter 1846 Going To The Cabin

After they packed up, they left for the airport in the evening.

On the way, Davin reminded them repeatedly that this was not a leisure trip. “Look, the place we are going to is not luxurious by any means, and you will not be waited on hand and foot as you were at Seet Residence,” he informed in an attempt to get them mentally prepared.

“Is it that bad? Where are we going to?”

“You’ll find out when we get there.”

A terrible scene appeared in Zayden’s mind. He had seen that scene in books before. It was a place where one could not find anything to eat, and there would be ferocious beasts there.

He then described that scene with his own adorable words and asked Davin if it were the same.

Davin thought of the cabin that they were about to live in. He also thought of those people hankering after the treasure and hunting for Zayden's blood. They are pretty much the same kind of beasts that Zayden is talking about. Hence he nodded and said, "Yeah, that's about right."

Zayden was completely taken aback.

Oh my gosh, is Daddy bringing me to some beasts' lair?

"Daddy, can we not go to the beasts' lair? Can we change to another destination? Somewhere more fun?"

Comparatively, Joy was rather quiet. Her bright eyes shone as she chimed in, "It's fine to be in the beasts' lair. We might be able to learn a skill or two from them! Wolves can be so capable!"

"Aren't you afraid that they would eat us?"

"They are animals, and we are human beings. We are more intelligent than they are. Don't be afraid; I believe that the wolves are not our equals at all!"

There was still lingering fear in Zayden's eyes.

Davin watched them from the sidelines and felt that Zayden was so far behind Joy when it came to their energy levels. Indeed, it was quite unfathomable that his son possessed Girin Blood based on his aptitude alone.

After that, he sighed and spoke his mind to Sheila. Sheila merely rolled her eyes at him and stated, "There are other more unbelievable things in this world. It might just be that we have not discovered Zayden's talents yet."

Davin observed further and felt that his son's talents were too obscure for him to notice.

They alighted at the airport and hired a car to Daemonic Mount. After that, they walked hurriedly to the cabin.

On the way, Sheila scrutinized their surroundings. Joy and Zayden looked around curiously as well.

"Daddy, are we about to go up the mountain? How many wolves are there up here?"

"We won't be going up to the summit right now. We will be going to the cabin first!" Davin said.

"What's a cabin?" Joy asked curiously.

“It’s a place where everyone used to live together. Once we get there, we will see your parents, together with Juan!”

Joy had not expected to see her parents at all. Her clear eyes brimmed with tears as she asked, “Uncle Davin, will I really get to see Daddy and Mommy?”

“Of course! Hang on for a little while longer, and we will arrive at the cabin soon!”

When Joy heard that, she was so motivated that she picked up her pace.

When the cabin began to appear in front of them, Davin pointed it out to them and said, “There it is! Right in front of us!”

Joy was so eager to see her parents that she ran toward the cabin with her arms open wide like a huge bird. Zayden followed her from behind.

Sheila stared at the rundown cabin as it was far from what she had imagined. “I really did not expect you all to stay in a place like this.”

“It’s already good enough that these cabins shelter us from the rain. If you are not used to this, you can stay in a hotel in the small town.”

“No need. Since everyone is here, I can stay here too!”

As they chatted, they walked toward the cabin. Meanwhile, Joy and Zayden had already pushed the door open.

Damien was incredibly surprised to see them. “How did the two of you get here?”

“Uncle Davin brought us here. Where are my daddy and mommy?”

“Mrs. Seet is inside while Mr. Evan has left with Levant. Just come in quickly. Mrs. Seet will be so happy to see you!”

“Who is that, Damien?” Nicole asked curiously.

Joy piped up, “Mommy, it’s us!”

Mistaking the CEO for a Gigolo Chapter 1847

Chapter 1847 Epitome Of Shamelessness

The two little ones ran up to her.

Nicole hurried toward them and looked at them with complete surprise.

“How did you two get here?”

“We brought them here, Nicole,” Sheila said as she had just arrived at the entrance.

“Sheila, you are here too?”

Sheila nodded and began chatting with Nicole as she walked into the cabin.

She did not reveal the reason for bringing the two children here until she signaled to Davin to bring them out to play.

Nicole was very shocked. Juan did not mention this incident to her at all. Hence, she did not know that Zayden was actually the possessor of Girin Blood.

She looked at the inquisitive Zayden, who was outside, with surprise in her eyes. Solemnly, she said to Sheila, “You must keep this a secret. Otherwise, it will be very dangerous for Zayden. Who knows how many people out there are after his blood!”

“We understand that, Nicole. I have already planned it out with Davin on our way here. The most important thing now is to get the key to the treasure from Lucas. After that, we should just quickly open up the treasure so that we can end this matter. It is only then that Zayden will be safe, and people will forget about getting his blood.”

“All right, when Juan and Levant are back, they can come up with a plan together with you.”

“Nicole, has Evan been hypnotized? Is there any way to get him to wake up?”

“We have already consulted a hypnosis expert, and he is not discounting that possibility. However, the consultant hesitates to make such a diagnosis without seeing the patient first. Anyway, the doctor is on his way and should reach here by tonight.”

“Nicole, I heard about everything from Davin. What kind of person is Shermaine? How could she be so shameless as to stoop to such tactics to snatch another person’s husband?”

Nicole thought about it for a moment.

What kind of person is Shermaine? The best description would be someone who is very clear about her emotions. There is no stopping her in her journey of love and hate.

Just when Nicole was about to answer her, a woman hurried toward them. Speak of the devil, indeed.

She glanced at Sheila as Sheila sized her up.

“Is that her?”

She looked pretty with fair skin and a curvaceous figure. Indeed, she was an attractive woman.

“She has every potential to be a vixen!” Sheila sighed.

When Shermaine came to the cabin and saw Sheila standing next to Nicole, she was taken aback too.

They sized each other up, and Sheila suddenly broke out with a smile.

Shermaine looked at her with confusion. “You are...?”

“You don’t have to know who I am, but I know who you are with just one look.”

Shermaine frowned as she did not know her at all.

“You don’t believe me? From the moment you walked in here, I could already sense that you were a vixen! I am really curious. Have you been here at Daemonic Mount for too long? Is that why you have such a shamelessly unique way to seduce men?”

Shermaine did not expect Sheila to be so harsh. She clenched her fists, but her face remained calm, and she deliberately looked nonchalant.

“I am in search of my own love. I don’t care what you say about me!”

Sheila looked at her and said, “Tsk, tsk, you are indeed the epitome of shamelessness! You’ve got the wrong idea in your head. Evan loves Nicole and Nicole only. You can do everything, and he will still not like you!”

Shermaine could not be bothered with Sheila, and she turned her gaze to Nicole. “You told her all these things? I don’t care what you say! Where is Evan? Is he coming out, or am I going in?”

Mistaking the CEO for a Gigolo Chapter 1848

Chapter 1848 Something Important

“He is not here!” Nicole said.

“Not here? Where is he then?” Shermaine asked worriedly.

“He is my husband, so why should I tell you about his whereabouts?”

"I'll find out anyway. Don't forget that this is my territory!" Shermaine said and turned to leave.

Suddenly, she saw two children playing, which piqued her curiosity. Why would there be children here at Daemonic Mount?

She stopped and scrutinized Zayden, who was running in front. The child was plump and looked very adorable.

Then, he looked at Joy. Joy stopped in her steps to size her up as well. The two of them exchanged glances, and suddenly, Shermaine's face fell.

It's... her? Is that her? Is she back?

Joy frowned when she saw Shermaine's shocked face. "Why are you looking at me like that?"

"I... I..." Shermaine could feel her heart beating wildly, and she clenched her fists but could not find the words to say.

Her gaze was locked on Joy's little bright face as if she had met someone from her past.

Then, she said with a pale face, "I'm leaving," before leaving hastily.

Joy watched her leave and felt that she was really strange.

She could sense fear in Shermaine's gaze. However, she did not understand why Shermaine would look at her like that.

She had only seen that kind of gaze when she beat up those who bullied her and Zayden in school.

"I can't keep up with you two now that you are running so fast. You can't just run everywhere here, you know?" Davin caught up with them and said.

Zayden nodded.

Joy was brought back to reality and nodded.

Then, the two of them followed Davin back to the cabin.

After walking away, Shermaine's chest was still tight, and her face was still pale.

At this moment, the only thing she had in her mind was to take Evan away as soon as possible.

Otherwise, she was worried that things would change before she could help it.

She asked the guard about Evan's whereabouts. When she found out that he was at the flower garden with Levant, she rushed there immediately.

Evan was already suspicious of his own memory because of what Juan said.

It was just that he did not understand why he would even be mistaken about who his wife was.

Is it really because Shermaine had done something to me after I was hypnotized?

"Evan, your memory is very problematic now. Hence, you better keep a distance from Shermaine before you do something that you will regret for the rest of your life. If you go to her, your wife will leave you!"

Levant did not know whether Evan heard him as Evan remained solemn and silent.

"Evan!" Suddenly, Shermaine's bright voice could be heard.

"Oh, speak of the devil! Are you coming with me, or will you be talking to her?" Levant asked.

Evan remained silent. His eyes were as inscrutable as the dark waves in the night sea.

Levant stood up and patted his shoulder. "Don't do something that you'll regret for the rest of your life!"

Shermaine walked up to them and looked at Levant. "I heard that Gale and Elias are hunting for those who know about the treasure. You'd better be careful."

"If I were to tell them that you told me where the treasure was, they probably won't kill me that easily out of their respect for you, right?"

Shermaine stared at him coldly before she rolled her eyes and said sneeringly, "Then you better watch out!"

After that, she walked to Evan and looked at him grimly. "Come with me, Evan. I have something important to tell you."

Evan narrowed his eyes and hesitated slightly before leaving with her.

Mistaking the CEO for a Gigolo Chapter 1849

Puzzlement welled up within Levant as he stared at Evan's back. He should know that Shermaine's a liar by now. Why is he still going with her? What is on his mind?

However, he was only lost in his thoughts for a brief moment before a meaningful grin touched his lips. Then, he made his way down the mountain while whistling a tune.

Shermaine brought Evan to a quiet spot and looked at him solemnly, asking, "I have something important to do. Can you come with me?"

After a moment of silence, Evan nodded. "All right."

Surprised by how easily he had agreed to it, she asked, "You're not going to ask me what it is?"

"You said it's important. You're my wife. I'll support you regardless of what you do."

Shermaine was overjoyed to hear that.

As long as she could bring Evan away, the massive event that was about to happen on Daemonic Mount would then have nothing to do with her.

"I'll pack up, and we'll leave right away."

Evan nodded. The look on his face was an unfathomable one as he watched her leave.

When Levant returned to the cabin, Nicole asked quizzically, "Where's Evan?"

"He's with Shermaine."

"What? Why didn't you drag him back here?" Davin asked.

Levant merely shrugged. "Why should I drag him back? He'll come back when it's time for him to return."

Davin did not understand what he meant, so he continued to grumble about it.

That had Levant shoot him a frustrated glare. "Enough. We don't need to worry about Evan's matter from now on. What's more important is your son right now. You've brought your son along because you want to get the treasure as quickly as possible, right? Well then, let's plan how we should get the key to the treasure from Lucas as quickly as possible."

At the mention of Zayden, Davin placed his focus back on the topic of the treasure and said, "Yes, let's formulate a plan."

With that, they began discussing the matter.

Meanwhile, Nicole seemed to have understood something from Levant's utterances. She turned to look out of the cabin, seemingly in a trance.

At the same time, she prayed that everything involving Daemonic Mount would end soon.

After Juan returned and told them Lucas' location, which he had successfully probed into, Davin and the others decided to make a move when night came.

They wanted to obtain the key from Lucas as soon as possible.

In the evening, Evan still had yet to show up. That made Nicole a little uneasy, so she suggested heading up the mountain to look for him. However, Levant told her to calm down and urged her to have faith in Evan's abilities and trust that Evan loved her and her only.

"I think the hypnotist will be reaching soon. I was just thinking of leading him to the town. What about this? Let's have Darius head there to help the doctor settle down first. Once Evan is back, we'll bring him there."

After a moment of contemplation, Nicole asked, "Are you sure Evan will be fine?"

Levant chuckled and said, "If he keeps getting tricked by Shermaine, then he wouldn't be Evan anymore. Don't worry. Although he currently has memory issues, his intelligence is still intact."

She thought about it for a while before replying, "All right. We'll do as you say, then."

Soon, the sun went down.

Utilizing the darkness as their cover, Davin, Levant, and Juan rushed to Lucas' place to steal the key, while Draven and Damien stayed behind to protect Nicole, Sheila, Zayden, and Joy.

Zayden and Joy were both rolling and playing on the bed while Nicole and Sheila watched them and chatted away about Y City.

More specifically, they were talking about Maya and Wilbur.

It had been a long time since Nicole contacted Maya and Nina, and she was curious about the matters between Wilbur and Maya. Upon hearing from Sheila that the couple had reconciled, Nicole wondered what had transpired.

Maya and Wilbur were still separated when Evan and I came to Daemonic Mount.

"Nicole, calm down. Let me tell you about it slowly."

Sheila then began recounting the tale from Wilbur's engagement party.

Chapter 1850 Engagement Party

The location of the engagement party had been decorated luxuriously.

The brilliant lights cast a light golden veil across the floor. Every decoration in the venue, be it the champagne, red carpet, and roses in every corner, seemed to sing in joy.

From the lavish decoration to the distinguished guests from all over the world, it was clear to everyone how much the Simpson family valued the engagement party.

Wanting to know what kind of things Wilbur would do, both Maya and Nina headed to the venue as promised.

The merry atmosphere of the engagement ceremony caused misery to seep into Maya's heart. She was jealous, and it was obvious from the gloomy look on her face. Nevertheless, she was certain that Wilbur had his own reason for inviting her there.

Hence, she had to be patient while waiting for the show to unfold.

Nina also exhorted her to hold on for a while longer, telling her that the party might not proceed smoothly and that a farce might even break out.

"Nina, I'm not sad. I'm sure Wilbur hasn't asked me to come and watch him get engaged to Janice."

"Mmh. Still, I'm curious as to what Wilbur is trying to do."

The two sisters patiently waited, but they saw no signs of the couple even after a long time. By then, the guests were starting to chatter among themselves about their absence.

Little did they know that tension was brewing between the Simpsons behind the curtains.

Wilbur's father, Rodney Simpson, had a terrible scowl on his face. At that moment, he looked like a lion about to fly into a rage. The aura he exuded was downright menacing.

As for Wilbur's stepmother, Mabel Quinn, she was staring at Wilbur in incredulity.

Previously, Wilbur had agreed to get engaged to Janice. He had been attentive to the arrangements of the engagement party and had been satisfied with its progress.

Her stepson had always been like her own son. To repay her kindness, he had been willing to be considerate of her feelings, shared her worries, and was even ready to do anything for her.

Yet, something like that had happened.

Considering that Emmanuel Baker revealed something as shocking as that at such a juncture, Wilbur was surely involved. After all, the two of them were as close as blood brothers. Therefore, the mastermind behind the incident was very likely to be Wilbur.

It seemed like he had lied when he agreed to be betrothed to Janice. Everything he told her about how he would heed her words to repay her kindness was all fake. He had long planned to reveal the truth through someone else.

Mabel had genuinely thought that she was the best deceiver in the Simpson family. Yet, the one who truly had an ace up their sleeve was Wilbur.

In the meantime, Nicholas was fearfully standing in front of Rodney. The color had completely drained from his face as his heart was in his mouth. He, too, never expected his relationship with Janice would be revealed during such a critical juncture.

“Dad, t-that’s not true. I have nothing to do with Janice. She…” he stammered out, not knowing what to say.

Rodney slammed his hand on the table before snapping, “It’s true when they say that people don’t fear death until they have one foot in the grave. Are you still refusing to admit to it when the photos are right here?”

He then grabbed the stack of photos on the table and threw them at him. “Open your eyes and take a good look. Are you the man inside the photos?”

“I…” Stumped for words, Nicholas turned to look at his mother, Mabel.

As everything had happened too suddenly, Mabel was caught off guard as well.

The first thing she did was put on an angry look and berated Nicholas. Afterward, she pushed all of the blame onto Janice, saying that the latter must have schemed against Nicholas and about how Janice, a woman pregnant with Wilbur’s child, was cheating with Nicholas.

However, she did not end there, voicing that a woman like Janice had no right to marry into the Simpson family, so it was best for them to cancel the engagement party at once.

Wilbur had predicted Mabel to make that move. Finding it a pity for the engagement party to be canceled just like that, he shot his cousin, Emmanuel, a look, and the latter instantly stood up to continue revealing more shocking matters.
