

Hearing his brother's questioning, Wu Shuhang turned his head to look at him, sneered, and said, "Brother, my good brother, don't blame me for being cruel, I'm just following the orders of the British lord, to be honest, I'm your backup Selection."

"What?!" Wu Shutong was stunned.

He never thought that, as the governor of one of the five military governors' mansions, and as the most trusted confidant of the British Lord, he would have a candidate!

What's more, he couldn't even imagine that this candidate was actually the younger brother of his own sibling!

He blurted out and asked, "When did you become my candidate?!"

Wu Shuhang smiled, "I was already your candidate before you became the governor of the Youjun Commander's Mansion. I knew about the governor before you."

"Bastard!" Wu Shutong roared angrily, "You are my own brother! You are my own brother! You have become my candidate. You never told me for so many years?!"

Wu Shuhang asked back, "Why should I tell you? This is a top-secret mission given to me by the British lord. You and I are all loyal subjects to the British lord first, and brothers second. If it wasn't for your vain attempt Lie to the British Lord, the British Lord will not let me replace you, the fault is that you have selfish intentions for the British Lord!"

Wu Shutong was terrified in his heart, and quibbled, "I didn't! I will respect the British Lord all my life, The hero is like a god in my heart, how could I deceive the hero..."

"Still sophistry?" Wu Shuhang said coldly, "My dear brother, you were not the only one who heard the conversation of those people in the tent just now, I heard it too!"

"What?!" Wu Shutong felt like being struck by lightning, and blurted out, "You...you've been following me?!"

Wu Shuhang said lightly, "Stalking is not even a question, as your candidate, not only must be ready to replace you at all times, but also feed back all the information you come into contact with in real time to the hero, in order to prevent you from hiding anything from the hero."

After all, he looked at Wu Shutong and said with a cold expression, "Brother, if you honestly report to the British Lord and plead guilty to the British Lord about what happened today, the British Lord may still look at our Wu family and your hard work for so many years." In order to save your life, but you are confused, big brother! Have you forgotten the three iron laws of the Qing Dynasty? Those who disobey orders, beheaded! Those who bully the emperor, beheaded! Your crime!"

Wu Shutong looked at him, and asked through gritted teeth, "So you know that I lied to the British Lord, so you don't help my big brother hide it, but you report it to the British Lord?!" Wu Shuhang smiled contemptuously

. Laughing, he opened his mouth and said, "Brother, as I said just now, loyalty to the Lord is the most important thing. The foundation of the relationship between you and my brother is also based on the fact that you and I are dedicated to our duties and loyal to the Lord. If you betray Lord Ying, the brotherhood between you and me will naturally disappear, and you will no longer be my big brother, but the enemy of me and the entire Qing Dynasty!" Wu Shuhang sighed
