I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1837-Roald ignored Koen's loud questions.

The Lightfoot and Fellowes family had almost the same strength.

Even if the Fellowes family was at the end of their era, they were still not there yet.

Therefore, how dare the Lightfoot family question them?

If Koen spoke nicely, Roald might answer him.

Since Roald was ignoring him, Koen roared again, "Roald, say something! What is the meaning of this? Huh? If you want to start a fight, then we will fight you to the end! Let's go to the void and have a fight now!"

Koen was seething.

This was initially something trivial.

The deaths of two heirs were nothing to the Saints.

After all, were geniuses that had not grown even qualified to be called geniuses?

Luck was also a kind of strength.

Cornelius and Archimedes were destined to not have that fate.

As long as Koen found the murderer, defended the Lightfoot family's prestige, and gave the entire Star Kingdom an explanation, this matter would cost nothing more than some resources and time to cultivate two new heirs.

The Lightfoot family had countless direct descendants, and they controlled Splendor, one of the top five trading companies. Thus, they faced no shortage of people or resources.

However, since the Fellowes family was protecting David, they resulted in the Lightfoot family not being able to find the murderer and causing the current uncontrollable situation.

How could Koen not be angry?

Now, he could not wait for the Palmore family to take action as soon as possible and completely annihilate the Fellowes family.

“Let’s fight then! I’m not scared of you!” Roald replied forcefully.

“Okay! Roald, let’s go now! I want to see how much progress you have made since I haven’t seen you for so many years!” Koen barked.

“Let’s go! I also want to see what right you have to be arrogant in front of me?”

Seeing that the two are about to engage in a battle, Moby hurriedly smoothed things over and said, “Guys, calm down! Calm down! Don’t be impulsive!”

“Moby, I can’t calm down when it comes to this matter. His family took in a wanted criminal my family is pursuing and kept him under strict protection Now, my family has become the laughingstock of Star Kingdom and two of our heirs have died We couldn’t find the murderer after so long and it’s all because of them that things have developed to such an uncontrollable point. How do you expect me to calm down? Koen asked angrily.

“To tell you the truth, Koen, my family is protecting you Otherwise, your family would have been razed to the ground by now Do you think you could still talk to me here safely by then? You really can’t tell what’s good for you,” Roald replied loudly.

“Roald, aren’t you ashamed when you tell such obvious lies? My family would have been razed to the ground? This is the biggest joke I have ever heard in my life! Who can raze my family to the ground? Your family? How ridiculous,” Koen mocked.

“Koen, I know you won’t believe me. But don’t worry, you will soon understand that you were only one step away from genocide!” Roald said with a sneer.

“What are you talking about? Who can exterminate my family?”

“There were so many strong people around Archimedes, and there were two late Sovereign Rankers as well. How did they die so silently without even leaving a trace? Aren’t you curious?”

“I checked the place where Archimedes died, and there is indeed a trace of a Saint’s energy, but so what? It’s just a weak Pre-Saint. My family can kill him with one finger.”

“Hehe... How are you sure that the Saint who attacked was acting alone? Can’t he have a backer behind him?” Roald smiled.

Koen stopped talking, staring closely at Roald.

He was quickly thinking about the authenticity of the other party’s words.

David undoubtedly played a significant role in Archimedes' death.

If he could get the Fellowes family to do their best to protect him and even offend the Lightfoot family in process, it meant that the power behind this kid was not weak.

However, Koen would never believe that the forces behind David could destroy the Lightfoot family just like Roald said.

Among all known forces in the entire Star Kingdom, there were only six forces with Sacred Saint that had this ability to destroy the Lightfoot family. Meanwhile, the others would end up in a lose-lose situation.
